

The Quincy Patriot

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, JULY 3, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 27.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1837.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 1424 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone: Quincy 425.
Quincy 1910.

Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1888.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE
BRAintree OBSERVER
Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN
AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust
LAND FOR SALE
AT MERRYMOUNT
Mt. Wollaston Farm
Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
Tel. 847-W
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street.
Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1899 by
W. PORTER
Insurance effected in reliable and safe
Stock and Mutual offices.

By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 20 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy.

ETNA INSURANCE CO.

HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1819. Charter Perpetual.
Losses Paid in 94 Years, $13,981,553.48

Cash Capital,	$5,000,000.00
Surplus,	6,299,289.80
Reserve for Policyholders,	$11,969,289.80
Reserve for Re-insurance,	9,669,289.80
Reserve for Unpaid Losses,	222,228.94
Reserve for Other Claims,	778,523.74
Total Assets,	$27,481,250.34

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.

AGENTS FOR QUINCY.
Incorporated 1837
Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk,	$9,291,221.18
Cash Assets,	156,000.00
Total Assets (including re-insurance),	156,000.00
Amount of Cash Surplus,	$101,946.98
Contingent Assets,	141,821.32
Total Available Assets,	243,768.30

Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies, 40 per cent; on three-year policies, 30 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, President.
THEODORE T. MAHSE, Secretary and Treasurer.

DIRECTORS:—Treston R. Mansfield, Dedham; Frederick D. Ely, Dedham; Samuel Gannett, Milton; Charles M. Fawcett, Boston; James V. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Soliday, Dedham; Samuel H. Capen, Dedham; Andrew H. Roughton, Dedham; George L. Estey, Weymouth.

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.
Amount at Risk, $25,651,972.27
Cash Assets, $64,229.07
Total Liabilities, including re-insurance, $26,086.61
Amount of Cash Surplus, $438,654.00
Contingent Assets, $24,067.53
Total Available Assets, $462,721.53
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies, 40 per cent; on three-year policies, 30 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.
THEODORE T. MAHSE, Secretary

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company

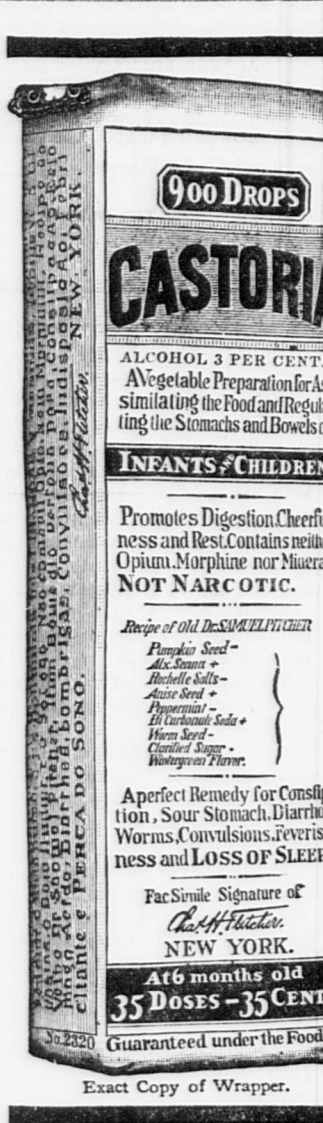

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.
INCORPORATED 1855

HOME OFFICE, 18 CENTRAL STREET

Telephone, Main 1040.

William A. Muller, President
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
Edward C. Mason, Secretary
William A. Muller, Treasurer

DIRECTORS:
Paul R. Blackmar, Attorney
Charles H. Birge, Treas. Quincy Savings Bank
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
T. J. Falvey, Pres. Mass. Bonding and
Ins. Co.
Henry Hornblower, Hornblower &
Weeks
Louis E. Leggett, Pres. United Drug
Company
Wm. J. McGaffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas
G. Plant Co.
Edward C. Mason, Secretary and Solicitor
William A. Muller, William A. Muller
& Company
Henry J. Nichols, Secy. Interests
P. F. Sullivan, Pres. Day State Street
Railway Co.
John P. Squire, John P. Squire & Sons
James J. Wild, Pres. Wellington-
Wild Coat Co.
Sarel J. Willis, Blue Hill National Bank
We reduce your insurance rate one-fifth.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Wm. A. Foster
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO
GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

Lay our 3/4 inch floor over your old one and see what an improvement it is. We have quartered oak, plain oak, birch, maple and hard pine.

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Offices:
Neponset, Boston, Tel. 1040 Dorchester
166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main
1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

HESS SANITARY LOCKER

The Best Yet!
Enameled Steel Medicine Cabinets
With Beveled Plate Mirror and Plate Glass or Enameled Steel Shelves
A Real Necessity
Can Be Attached
By Anyone

To Recess into Wall
With Plate Glass Shelves $10.50
With Enameled Shelves $8.00

To Screw onto Wall
With Plate Glass Shelves $10.50
With Enameled Shelves $8.00

A NECESSARY LUXURY

Built To Fit the Poor Man's Pocketbook

These Cabinets are made in the most substantial manner, the corners of the doors and frames being solidly welded. They are perfectly sanitary, easy to keep clean, and will last a lifetime.

We will gladly deliver one of these cabinets at your residence for inspection. If not entirely satisfactory we will cheerfully call and collect same without any expense to you.

FOR SALE BY
The Wm. A. Bradford Co.

Sanitary Plumbing GAS FITTING Heating
FURNACE & SHEET METAL WORK

No. 5 Maple St., Quincy, Massachusetts

GOD SAVE AMERICA.

W. G. Ballantine.

God save America. New World of glory.

New-born to freedom and knowledge and power.

Lifting the towers of her lightning-lit cities.

Where the flood tides of humanity roar!

God save America! Here may all races

Mingle together as children of God, founding an empire on brotherly kindness.

Equal in liberty, made of one blood!

God save America! Brotherhood banish

Wall of the worker and curse of the crushed;

Joy break in songs from her jubilant millions.

Hailing the day when all discords are hushed!

God save America! Bearing the olive, Here be the blessing the peacemakers

Calling the nations to glad fellowship, Leading the world in the triumph of love!

God save America! Mid all her splendors,

Save her from pride and from luxury;

Throne in her heart the unseen and eternal;

Right be her might and the truth, make her free!

THE FOURTH AT RUSTVAL.

Columbia was her name—Columbia

Alpin. "I know it's queer," she used to explain, "for strangers when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

But patriotism was at a discount in Rustval, or Rustville, as it was called, for "strangers" when they're introduced, always start at me and say I'm some sort of foreigner. But I'm not, thank goodness! But it's the name I've got, and I'm going to try to live up to it."

So Columbia was nothing if not patriotic, and her name, however odd, didn't seem inappropriate. She had little need to deck herself with the national colors which she so persistently flaunted, for nature had printed the red, white and blue in dawn stars on her glowing face, and bright stars shone there, too, right out of the blue, to make all absolutely perfect. She was herself our country's fairest, truest emblem.

QUINCY BOYS GRADUATE.

In the graduating class at Harvard last week were three Quincy young men, Paul Blackmar, the Hamilton

R. Hardwick and Edward C. Park were given the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

The first and last received their preparatory education in the public schools of this city, both being graduates of the High School of 1911.

Paul Blackmar delivered the valedictory oration to the seniors on class day.

He was a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society.

He was also a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society.

He was also a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society.

He was also a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society.

He was also a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society.

He was also a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society.

He was also a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society.

He was also a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society.

He was also a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JULY 3, 1915

DAY NURSERY BENEFIT.

The cool southerly breeze that was wafted across the broad piazzas of the Quincy Yacht club house Wednesday evening, was delightfully refreshing after a sweltering hot day, to the large number that had gathered to attend the cabaret show, given under the auspices of and in aid of the Quincy Day Nursery association. While the attendance perhaps was not as large as that of a year ago, there were enough comfortably to fill the hall. It was an enthusiastic gathering that were seated in groups of four at the tables, which had been arranged about the hall of the club house and the numbers by the several artists who appeared were freely applauded.

The merry-makers began to gather in the early evening, and while they circulated about enjoying the breeze, bewitching young women passed among them selling bouquets while others encouraged the gentlemen to purchase a pound of chocolates for their ladies. These young women while not smilingly persistent had a winning way about them and few of the gentlemen escaped.

By 8:30 most of the party were seated at the tables in the hall. The menu while not an elaborate one contained about all one desired on an occasion of this kind. For cooling refreshments there was lemon cake and lemon soda by the bottle. On the bottom of the menu card was the gentle reminder: "Please tip the waiter."

Early in the evening Delevare King passed song sheets among the merry-makers, these he informed them were free, "but that was all that was free." Between the several numbers on the program, with Sam Sears at the piano, the audience joined in singing these popular songs.

Mr. King was the leader of the singing and he informed them that while he could not sing much he could make a lot of noise. To vary matters a little Mr. King arranged it so that some of the lines of the song were sung by the women led by Miss Lacey and the men led by Mr. King.

The program, a very pleasing one, opened with a lachrymose sketch entitled, "Only Amateurs" by Bruce Saville and Miss Beatrice Morrison, which secured the usual success of these talented young amateurs.

Then while Mr. J. Harry Slade sang "Maria" a Neapolitan song, Miss Geraldine Vaudreuil sang "I love you" in a Spanish costume, passed among the tables with a tambourine into which she invited the merry-makers to drop coin. So pleasing was this number that an encore was demanded and for this Mr. Slade sang "Cas-tallano."

The next number was a vocal duet by Miss Charlie Doble and Miss Katherine Johnson, and was one of the hits of the evening. Both of these young ladies have unusually pleasing voices and their number was greatly enjoyed.

For their first solo they sang "I love you" and a voice is calling" and for an encore "Mother Macdore." The latter selection made a great hit, and at the urgent request of the audience it was repeated.

Mr. King then announced that Paul Blackman had just arrived and upon his introduction he sang "I love you" truly and of course he was obliged to respond to an encore. Messrs. Brown and Connors were to have given a musical sketch, but this was omitted and instead they sang "a duet."

The last number on the program was a duet by Mr. J. Harry Slade and Paul Blackman, entitled "A Musical Dialogue." It was enthusiastically received.

Much of the success of the several numbers was due to Mrs. Paul Blackman, Miss Johnson, and Messrs. Brown and Connors were to have given a musical sketch, but this was omitted and instead they sang "a duet."

The tables and chairs were removed from the hall and exhibition of modern dancing given by Herbert Barker and Miss Florence Barker, music being furnished by the Quincy Quintette, composed of R. A. Sears, Sam Sears, A. P. Schenckelberger, Edward Simmons and Miss Nimon Lacey. They also furnished the accompaniment for the dancing which continued until 11:30, at which time special cars left for Quincy.

The cabaret was for the benefit of the Quincy Day Nursery association and was in charge of Mrs. Eugene C. Hultman and Mrs. John H. Johnson.

RECREATION ROOMS OPEN.

Miss Huston who had charge of the opening night of the Adams Academy building for the girls' club, reports that although there were several social affairs Wednesday evening, which interfered with many attending, there were a goodly number present and all seemed delighted at the opening of the building as a girls' club.

Many of the girls present were those employed during the day as clerks in Quincy and Boston, and the opportunity for the enjoyment of these recreation rooms was gladly welcomed. There was no set program for the opening night, but it afforded Miss Huston an opportunity to get better acquainted with the young girls. Music was furnished throughout the evening by a victrola and there were several spirited games of basket ball.

It is hoped before next Wednesday evening to have a tennis court laid out on the grounds, also a large corps of well known and experienced teachers.

Every possible incentive is afforded for personal safety, rapid progress, with cheerful and healthful surroundings. This school does not employ agents, solicitors, canvassers or runners. Persons who cannot call for personal interview may have printed information of terms and conditions by mail. Will open September 7th.

H. E. HIBBARD, Principal, 334 Boylston Street, Boston.

FLOATING HOSPITAL.

The Floating Hospital made its first trip of the season Wednesday and mothers of many nations with sick babies in their arms went to the North End Park where they boarded the Hospital ship. They spent the day down the harbor, the physicians and nurses on board giving their attention to be sick children.

BRIEFS

Charles H. Johnson, attendance officer of the School Department, is having a two weeks vacation.

Miss Edith Fox, a teacher in New Jersey has returned to her home on Butler road for the vacation season.

Major Campbell has been elected a director of the newly organized Randolph Trust Co. of Randolph.

Arthur G. Skinner of Quincy avenue is staying for a week's vacation at Northfield Camp.

Miss Anna Thayer of West street is enjoying a two week's vacation. Miss Thayer is employed at the Boston office of the N. E. T. & Co.

Officer James W. Murray who has been confined to his home by rheumatism, resumed his beat in City square, Sunday.

Mrs. Alexander W. Russell and son Donald of Gilmore street have gone to Barre, Vt., for a few weeks visit.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ellsworth of New York were guests of Dr. and Mrs. S. W. Ellsworth of Presidents' bill for over the Faxon-Bannister wedding.

Miss Esther Dasha has gone to Seattle, Washington, where she will be the guest for a few weeks of her school classmate, Miss Katherine Smith.

William Schatzel of Willard street, an employee of the New England Tel. and Tel. Company at its Mill Street office is enjoying his annual vacation.

Miss Nellie Collins of Brackett street leaves Friday for a tour of Canada, returning via Buffalo, N. Y., where she will be the guest of her brother, Frank Collins.

Harry W. French, head of the commercial department at Quincy High school, left Thursday for Rochester, N. Y., where he will pass the summer playing base ball. French will pitch for one of the teams of the city league.

He closed a most successful season there last year.

John Hildebrand, past exalted ruler of Quincy lodge of Elks, will be in the party of New England Elks who leave today by special train for Los Angeles, Cal. The party after attending the convention of the supreme lodge will visit many places on the homeward trip and will be gone from Boston fully a month.

Ten children from a Catholic home in Boston were placed in homes for the summer months Sunday morning at the masses at St. Mary's church. The children ranged from about three to ten years old. They will return to the home in the fall unless the people who took them for the summer decide to give them a permanent home.

The civic committee of the Quincy Women's Club has voted to appropriate a portion of the year's receipts to sending Joseph K. Barlow of Elm avenue to the Massachusetts Agricultural college at Amherst for the summer. This is a reward for the boy's work in his summer garden the last few years.

People near vicinity of Granite and Hancock street Tuesday opened their eyes when they saw a Jersey cow hitched to an automobile. Inquiry developed that a man leading a cow had stopped at the Granite Store and before entering had hitched his animal to the rear wheel of the auto of Elmer Ricker which was standing in front of his office opposite.

Charles P. Brooks, attendance officer of the Boston schools, and Miss Abbie O. Dolan, secretary to the superintendent of schools of that city, visited Miss Susan E. David, a clerk in the superintendent's office on Friday.

Miss David has been ill at her home on Atlantic avenue Houghs Neck, and is rapidly recovering from the illness.

The Mayor has received from the Metropolitan Park Commission notice that band concerts will be held in the Quincy Shore Reservation near Beach street on Thursday evening, July 8th, Thursday evening, July 22nd, and Saturday evening, August 21st. The concerts will be held at 7:30 P. M. Also on the Furnace Brook Parkway on Thursday evening, August 12th, and Tuesday evening, August 24th.

Nearly a dozen members of the Luther league of the Swedish Lutheran church of Quincy were unable to take the sail to Plymouth Saturday because the steamer "Rose Standish" was crowded. The outing was under the direction of the Boston district Lutheran league.

About 150 from Quincy were able to secure sailing accommodations. It is estimated that 1600 took the trip.

But one clerk at the Quincy Post Office is affected by the automatic increases in salaries of clerks and carriers of the Boston Post Office which went into effect today. The increase in yearly salary is $100. In the case of the Quincy office all of the clerks and carriers were receiving the maximum salary of $1,200 but one clerk, and he will receive that amount hereafter.

Charles F. Wrisley, a life long resident of Quincy, passed away Monday morning at his home, 22 School street, being presented to him by Miss Louise Johnson of Adams shore Wednesday afternoon for Pearl Richmond Johnson, one of the daughters. The affair was given by the parents in honor of the little girl's 11th birthday anniversary and nearly a score of children at the shore were the guests of the party.

The new schedule of wages of the carpenters of the Greater Boston district goes into effect Friday. By this schedule carpenters will be paid 57 cents an hour instead of 55 cents as now. The working hours will be 44 hours a week. The carpenters demanded 40 hours a week with no work on Saturdays.

William Provost, a well known orchestra man, today admitted he had taken Miss Minnie Mosier of 51 Dorchester street on his boat on Thursday evening when questioned by friends but beyond that would give little information. Further questioning brought the information that his brother George was best man and Mrs. Edna Mosier, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and that he was to make his home at 5 Cottage avenue. He then dismissed the subject with a smile.

The members of the Women's Club of Christ church were entertained Thursday by Mrs. John Emery and Mrs. Myron B. Turner at the Quincy Yacht clubhouse. There were 21 in the party and although the weather was stormy it did not prevent them from having a good time. At noon dinner was served in the restaurant dining room at the clubhouse, after which the women gathered on the piazzas away from the storm where the afternoon hours passed very quickly.

BRIEFS

Miss Mildred Martin left Wednesday for an extended visit to Nantasket.

Miss Dorothy M. Johnson of Maple street is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Howe of Savin Hill.

Miss Ruth Kemp, a teacher at the Lincoln school, is at the White Mountains for a two weeks' stay.

Miss Catherine Morse of Dedham is visiting her aunt, Miss Jane Reay of Maple street.

Miss Genevieve Hunter, who recently resigned as a teacher in this city, has accepted a position at Alexandria, North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse P. Curtis of Upland road returned Tuesday from a trip to Washington, D. C. and other points.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Hewson and granddaughter, Madeline of Newcomb place, have been at Planting Island, Scituate, the past week.

Master Theodore Whitton of Buckingham road, is at a boys' camp near Bangor, Me., where he will spend the rest of the summer.

The annual Sunday school picnic of the Universalist church will be held at Highland park on Wednesday, July 14.

Miss Georgiana C. Lane returned from Marblehead Monday after a week end visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weeks on the yacht "Scud."

Miss Ruth Keating left Wednesday for a tour of the coast, where she will have charge of the orchestra at the Oak Grove hotel for the season.

Miss Charlotte Kingman, a teacher in a Newton school, has returned to her home on Maple street for the summer vacation.

Mrs. A. Doyle and son Arthur of Quincy avenue are visiting Mrs. Doyle's mother in New York. Mr. Doyle will join them within a short time.

The annual picnic of the Bethany church Sunday school will be held sometime the last of July, the exact time to be announced within a short time.

Dr. Fred E. Jones of Hancock street returned Monday from Philadelphia, where he has been attending the church conducted by the regular army for militia officers.

Rev. A. L. Hudson of the First Parish church has been enjoying a few days on the Cape this week and later goes to the mountains for the summer.

David Dackery, order clerk at the telephone exchange in Quincy and Mrs. Dackery are receiving congratulations on the birth Friday morning of a daughter.

Miss Beatrice Johnson of Maple street leaves Tuesday for Bridgeport where she will be the guest for a few days of Miss Elizabeth Wheeler formerly of Quincy.

Mr. J. F. Welch of Hancock street returned to Plymouth Tuesday where she and her daughter Miss Marjorie are staying. Mrs. Welch came up for the Bannister-Faxon wedding Monday evening.

Miss Thompson of Aberdeen, Scotland has gone to San Francisco Exposition, after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Farquhar of Arthur street. She is to make her home at Waymanale, Oahu, Hawaiian Islands.

Mrs. James Savin of Quincy was one of the readers at the strawberry festival held under the auspices of Sunset Lodge, N. E. O. P., in Odd Fellows Hall, Braintree, Thursday evening.

Mrs. Emma F. wife of Thomas J. Cain, a well known resident of Braintree, died at her home, 12 Randall avenue, South Braintree, Tuesday morning at her home. Mrs. Cain was quite well known in Quincy where she was a frequent visitor to relatives.

Misses Edith A. Mirick and Juliette C. Bostwick of the Prescott apartments on Spear street are leaving today for Miss Bostwick's home in Wisconsin. Mrs. Bostwick is to spend the summer and Miss Mirick to be her guest for a month.

Elester R. Sullivan, a five year old Gloucester girl, was drowned in a quarry pit at Gloucester Monday when she slipped from a plank on which she was crossing. The father of the little girl, John L. Sullivan is employed in Quincy at one of the local granite yards.

Samuel Anderson and Dr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Ellsworth of Presidents hill and Rev. A. L. Hudson of the First Parish church are to be guests over the week end and holiday of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Stetson at their summer home in West Harwich on the Cape.

May Campbell Thursday morning awarded the contract for the auto, chemical and hose combination and the auto hook and ladder truck to the White Automobile Co. the net price being $10,150. The appropriation made for the purchase of the two pieces of apparatus was $11,000.

There was a birthday party at the bungalow of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Johnson of Adams shore Wednesday afternoon for Pearl Richmond Johnson, one of the daughters. The affair was given by the parents in honor of the little girl's 11th birthday anniversary and nearly a score of children at the shore were the guests of the party.

The new schedule of wages of the carpenters of the Greater Boston district goes into effect Friday. By this schedule carpenters will be paid 57 cents an hour instead of 55 cents as now. The working hours will be 44 hours a week. The carpenters demanded 40 hours a week with no work on Saturdays.

William Provost, a well known orchestra man, today admitted he had taken Miss Minnie Mosier of 51 Dorchester street on his boat on Thursday evening when questioned by friends but beyond that would give little information. Further questioning brought the information that his brother George was best man and Mrs. Edna Mosier, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and that he was to make his home at 5 Cottage avenue. He then dismissed the subject with a smile.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Warren B. Stetson of Middleboro has been visiting Mrs. H. O. Studley the past few days.

An executive meeting of the officers of the Young Women's club was held Thursday evening with Miss Minnie Packard.

At 7:15 Thursday night the apparatus of the Central Station was called to City square to extinguish an awning fire in front of the store of R. E. Fay & Co. The awning was destroyed but no other damage was done.

Helen Day McGrath of 24 Field street, who has been a patient at the hospital in Westfield, died Thursday. The little girl was in her 10th year and the daughter of Michael and Catherine McGrath, both of whom are deceased.

Ernest McConnell of Germantown, well known in City square through his connection with the fruit store conducted by his father, is at the Quincy City Hospital with a broken leg. On Thursday evening he was kicked by a horse at Germantown. Friday morning he was taken to the hospital.

Mayor Campbell is thinking strongly of leaving Wednesday with a small party of Boston business men for California to attend the exposition in order that he may be there at same time as Gov. Walsh and the state party. The main party of the Real Estate Exchange who are to visit the exposition will not leave until the first part of next week.

Stanley Sherman, son of Dr. C. T. Sherman of Greenleaf street, who was graduated this year from the Hartford, Ct., Theological seminary, will preach at the Bethany Congregational church Sunday. At the morning service there will be communion, at which Rev. Edward Norton, pastor emeritus of the church will officiate.

A school for learning the Swedish language will be opened next Tuesday at 10 A. M. The school will be held in the Sunday school room of the Swedish M. E. church and the pastor will be in charge. All the Scandinavian people of Quincy are invited to send their children to this school. The tuition will be free. Sessions will be held from 9 A. M. to 12 M. four days of the week beginning with Tuesday.

The Fire Prevention Commissioner appeals to the clergy of all denominations to speak a word of caution to the people in their churches on Saturday and Sunday, against the careless use of fire or explosives on the coming Fourth of July. "What clergyman can say that his wise words will not avert a conflagration, or protect some home from sorrow and suffering," exclaims Mr. O'Keefe.

Reliance Rebekah lodge held a strawberry festival in Old Fellows hall Thursday evening. Taking part in the program were many members. Tableaux, vocal and instrumental solo and duets, selections by kitchen orchestras and other novelties made up the program. Ice cream and cake was served at the close of the evening. The net proceeds of the affair were 10 men and women participated.

QUINCY POINT

Miss Catherine Moynihan, formerly of Maine street, Quincy Point, returned to her home at 12 Randall street after a week's visit with friends in Quincy and Weymouth.

A whist social in aid of St. Joseph's church was held Monday evening at Mrs. Smith's, 563 Washington street which attracted $200.00 raised. Found tables were in play and an enjoyable evening was spent. Light refreshments were served.

The Quincy Women's Riverside club held its last winter party of the season Wednesday afternoon at the clubhouse, foot of Edison street. Six tables were in play and the afternoon was one of enjoyment.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Whipple of Stewart street Quincy Point have gone to their summer home at South Bristol, Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Pollard of Edison street have gone to Round Pond, Maine, for the summer.

SOUTH QUINCY

William Martin of South Quincy left Wednesday for Nantasket, where he has accepted a position as floor walker in the Seaboard Hotel.

Rev. C. C. Tilley, who has resigned as pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, left Monday for Maine, where he will make his future home.

Miss Ruth Smith who has been the guest of Mrs. Robert Cantley of Kennebec street, is to be guest over the week end and holiday of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Stetson at their summer home in West Harwich on the Cape.

May Campbell Thursday morning awarded the contract for the auto, chemical and hose combination and the auto hook and ladder truck to the White Automobile Co. the net price being $10,150. The appropriation made for the purchase of the two pieces of apparatus was $11,000.

There was a birthday party at the bungalow of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Johnson of Adams shore Wednesday afternoon for Pearl Richmond Johnson, one of the daughters. The affair was given by the parents in honor of the little girl's 11th birthday anniversary and nearly a score of children at the shore were the guests of the party.

The new schedule of wages of the carpenters of the Greater Boston district goes into effect Friday. By this schedule carpenters will be paid 57 cents an hour instead of 55 cents as now. The working hours will be 44 hours a week. The carpenters demanded 40 hours a week with no work on Saturdays.

William Provost, a well known orchestra man, today admitted he had taken Miss Minnie Mosier of 51 Dorchester street on his boat on Thursday evening when questioned by friends but beyond that would give little information. Further questioning brought the information that his brother George was best man and Mrs. Edna Mosier, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and that he was to make his home at 5 Cottage avenue. He then dismissed the subject with a smile.

The members of the Women's Club of Christ church were entertained Thursday by Mrs. John Emery and Mrs. Myron B. Turner at the Quincy Yacht clubhouse. There were 21 in the party and although the weather was stormy it did not prevent them from having a good time. At noon dinner was served in the restaurant dining room at the clubhouse, after which the women gathered on the piazzas away from the storm where the afternoon hours passed very quickly.

The Floating Hospital made its first trip of the season Wednesday and mothers of many nations with sick babies in their arms went to the North End Park where they boarded the Hospital ship. They spent the day down the harbor, the physicians and nurses on board giving their attention to be sick children.

WEST QUINCY

Miss Mabel DeCoste, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey DeCoste of Willard street, and Joseph H. Gillis, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gillis of Willard street, will be married on Sunday evening, July 4th. The ceremony will be performed at the St. Mary's parish house. The couple are well known throughout the city. Miss DeCoste is employed at the South Braintree factory of the Rice and Hutchins Co. and the groom at the Boston Gear works.

Twenty members of the Hall Place M. E. Sunday school completed the first year in the "cross and crown" pin system and next Sunday they will receive a gold pin. It was also promotion day in the Sunday school and each member of the five young classes was presented with a promotion pin.

Admirers of roses, and their number is legion, should visit the home of William H. Teasdale at West Quincy. He has one of the finest rose gardens in the city. Mr. Teasdale has sixty rose bushes and up to the present has been successful in growing them. Some of the roses he has given to his friends. Some of the handsomest of his roses are the "Jack," the "Fair Carl Duchie," a white rose, "American Beauty," a pink rose, "Eldrich," a pink rose, and the "Mascara," a pink rose.

Miss A. M. Nichols of Station street returned Monday to the N. E. Deaconess hospital, Boston, where she will resume her duties at student nurse.

Rees Walter of 100 Copeland street, West Quincy, Mass., where he will spend the summer.

Miss Amy L. Fuge of Crest street has gone to Maine, to visit friends.

The Misses Grace and Lora Lamb of Crescent street are leaving this week for California. They will be gone all summer and will visit the Exposition at San Francisco.

James Dillon, father of James Dillon of the fire department and one of the best known residents of West Quincy, collapsed while at work in the blacksmith shop of the McNamee Granite Co. on Quarry street on Monday.

Miss Christina Booth and Miss Ethel Pierce are the guests of Mrs. G. B. Boutelle at Wilton, N. H. Mr. and Mrs. D. H. McNeill of Barry street returned this week from a pleasant two week's trip to Niagara and other places in Canada.

A four foot rattlesnake with 12 rattles was captured in the Blue Hill Reservation Wednesday by two young boys who were berrying. John Fruth and Joseph Kegier were suddenly startled when they heard a rattle at their feet. They were berrying in the field about to spring for them. Fruth picked up a stone and let it fly and wounded the snake. The boys carried the trophy home with them but did not pick any berries after the scare.

Joseph Bertrand of Hilbert street suffered a severe cut on his forehead Wednesday morning at the Fitchburg Quarry where he is employed. He was climbing up from the quarry and was stepping over a large stone when his foot slipped and threw him on the ground. He put out his hand to protect himself from falling back into the quarry and struck a sharp bone inflicting a deep cut. It was necessary to take two stitches in the wound.

The several Finnish families who occupy the two and a half story house on Copeland street near Brewer's corner, owned by S. F. Nutting, received quite a scare Wednesday Wednesday morning at the Fitchburg Quarry where he is employed. He was climbing up from the quarry and was stepping over a large stone when his foot slipped and threw him on the ground. He put out his hand to protect himself from falling back into the quarry and struck a sharp bone inflicting a deep cut. It was necessary to take two stitches in the wound.

The several Finnish families who occupy the two and a half story house on Copeland street near Brewer's corner, owned by S. F. Nutting, received quite a scare Wednesday Wednesday morning at the Fitchburg Quarry where he is employed. He was climbing up from the quarry and was stepping over a large stone when his foot slipped and threw him on the ground. He put out his hand to protect himself from falling back into the quarry and struck a sharp bone inflicting a deep cut. It was necessary to take two stitches in the wound.

Miss Violet Johnson of Hillis avenue is home from Radcliffe college enjoying her vacation.

Among the patents granted last week by the U. S. Patent Office was one to Frank Burgess of Wollaston for a gear cutting machine. The Congressional Sunday school held its festival Sunday. Primary department under the direction of Mrs. C. P. Hutchins sang several selections. Mrs. Charles E. Hathaway read several appropriate poems. Remarks were made by Sup. Charles G. Horst, Rev. Carl G. Horst and family will spend their vacation at "The Nestle-down" Ossipee, N. H. Mr. Horst will be glad to respond to any call where his services are needed, but requests that he be notified by telegram.

Miss Jessie French of Brooks street has purchased a large estate at Bristol, N. H.

Miss Viola Johnson of Hillis avenue is home from Radcliffe college enjoying her vacation.

Among the patents granted last week by the U. S. Patent Office was one to Frank Burgess of Wollaston for a gear cutting machine. The Congressional Sunday school held its festival Sunday. Primary department under the direction of Mrs. C. P. Hutchins sang several selections. Mrs. Charles E. Hathaway read several appropriate poems. Remarks were made by Sup. Charles G. Horst, Rev. Carl G. Horst and family will spend their vacation at "The Nestle-down" Ossipee, N. H. Mr. Horst will be glad to respond to any call where his services are needed, but requests that he be notified by telegram.

Miss Jessie French of Brooks street has purchased a large estate at Bristol, N. H.

Miss Viola Johnson of Hillis avenue is home from Radcliffe college enjoying her vacation.

Among the patents granted last week by the U. S. Patent Office was one to Frank Burgess of Wollaston for a gear cutting machine. The Congressional Sunday school held its festival Sunday. Primary department under the direction of Mrs. C. P. Hutchins sang several selections. Mrs. Charles E. Hathaway read several appropriate poems. Remarks were made by Sup. Charles G. Horst, Rev. Carl G. Horst and family will spend their vacation at "The Nestle-down" Ossipee, N. H. Mr. Horst will be glad to respond to any call where his services are needed, but requests that he be notified by telegram.

Miss Jessie French of Brooks street has purchased a large estate at Bristol, N. H.

Miss Viola Johnson of Hillis avenue is home from Radcliffe college enjoying her vacation.

Among the patents granted last week by the U. S. Patent Office was one to Frank Burgess of Wollaston for a gear cutting machine. The Congressional Sunday school held its festival Sunday. Primary department under the direction of Mrs. C. P. Hutchins sang several selections. Mrs. Charles E. Hathaway read several appropriate poems. Remarks were made by Sup. Charles G. Horst, Rev. Carl G. Horst and family will spend their vacation at "The Nestle-down" Ossipee, N. H. Mr. Horst will be glad to respond to any call where his services are needed, but requests that he be notified by telegram.

Miss Jessie French of Brooks street has purchased a large estate at Bristol, N. H.

Miss Viola Johnson of Hillis avenue is home from Radcliffe college enjoying her vacation.

WOLLASTON

A pianoforte recital was given by the pupils of Mrs. Belle Marks Curran Monday evening at her residence 239 South Central avenue. About twenty-five members of a large class took part and without a single exception reflected great credit upon their teacher. After the exercises, ice cream, cake and fruit were served.

Miss Elsie Whitehead has returned from Vineyard Haven where she has been spending two weeks very pleasantly.

Daniel N. Handy of Standish avenue returned Thursday from Maine where he was called Saturday on account of the serious illness of his mother Mrs. Tracy of South West Harbor, Maine who was taken to the Harbor hospital but did not survive the operation.

Mrs. Alf Svensen of Oakland avenue entertained four little ones and their mothers Tuesday afternoon in honor of the second anniversary of the birth of her daughter Dorothy. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. Those at the party were Gordon Blair, Frances Gould Penley, Jean Thomas and Leone Prouty.

Mr. and Mrs. David L. Jewell of Grand View avenue are leaving July 7th for California. They plan to stop over at Denver, Salt Lake City and Yellowstone park. From there they will go to San Diego, then to Del Monte and Santa Barbara. After visiting the Panama-Pacific exposition they are going up the coast to first part of next week.

Guests of Mrs. Jewell's nephew Lewis D. Sumner and Mrs. Sumner, returning they will visit Seattle, Vancouver, Banff, Minneapolis, Chicago and Niagara Falls.

Miss Louise F. Thacher of Farringford street leaves today for California, where by the way of the Canadian Rockies she will visit the exposition and then spend the rest of the summer with relatives in Oakland, returning in September by the way of New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. George G. Roberts, Miss Eleanor S. Roberts and George G. Roberts, Jr. went to Marblehead today in the motor boat "M. L. B." where Mrs. Roberts and Miss Roberts will be registered at the Rockmore for July. They plan to take several short cruises during their stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bailey of

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JULY 3, 1915

WEEKLY	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thurs	Fri	Sat
ALMANAC	1.00	1.00	1.00	1.00	1.00	1.00	1.00
Sunday July 3	4.11	2.25	4.40	5.15	11.04
Sunday July 4	4.11	2.25	4.40	5.15	11.04
Tuesday	6.43	7.25	6.45	6.15	11.04
Wednesday	7.43	7.25	6.45	6.15	11.04
Thursday	8.43	7.25	6.45	6.15	11.04
Friday	9.43	7.25	6.45	6.15	11.04

Last Quincey, July 24, 12:54 A. M.

If the Boston Licensing Board granted those Neponset licenses as it is reported to have done the members of the delegation from this city which opposed the petitions have nothing with which to reproach themselves. They did all they could do. The board must have realized that the speakers represented the opinion of the great majority of Quincy's citizens. The granting of the licenses simply means that the board does not care particularly whether Quincy approves or not.

In view of the talk about the United States going to war with Germany it will be interesting to know how large a contingent Quincy could be called upon to supply in the defense of the country. Under the law every male, unless exempt, between the ages of 18 and 45 years can be called upon if necessary to serve in the army. This list is made up by the Assessors and this year totals 3,755. Number one, 750; Ward Two, 481; Ward Three, 643; Ward Four, 564; Ward Five, 707; Ward Six, 610.

THE SCHOOLHOUSE PLANS. Something of a surprise was created when Tuesday's Ledger announced that the School Committee has laid on the table the plans for new school buildings submitted by four architects. We do not intend to know what further disposition will be made of these plans by the School Committee but if the plans submitted are not taken from the table at some future date it is obvious that the four firms concerned have wasted their time and labor.

This does not seem hardly satisfactory. The submitting of bids for various public requirements in general is a good principle and usually it works out to the benefit of the community. It can not be so readily applied to school buildings, however. Architects hesitate about entering a competition for school buildings. It is only one likely to be successful. In fact, many architects will not participate in such a competition, for the chance of wasting many hours of work is too great.

It has been the usual custom here to select an architect from among a group of those who have submitted rough sketches, and then direct him to work out the finished plan. This has usually worked well and there seems to be no good reason for changing. Let an architect of ability be selected after a reasonable preliminary requirement has been satisfied and let him proceed to make the plans with the assurance that his time and labor will not be thrown away.

We are pleased to see that the School Committee has insisted upon the most up to date ventilating system because surely need to safety this is one of the most important requirements for a schoolhouse.

MAY HAVE DOUBLE RESULT.

In some places it is announced that owing to demand for powder in the war, fireworks in this country are to go up in price very materially. Inasmuch as this is not a good year for throwing away money needlessly, another result will probably be that the demand for the fireworks will be materially less than in other years. Perhaps that is not altogether a sorrow. It may mean fewer hospital cases and less burning of buildings, for the "Sane Fourth" is not wholly so even yet. It may mean that fewer children will be crippled, and that horses will run away with less violence. The students of fireworks have adopted a method that will aid in a great reform, and that may make their output less popular not only this year but in years to come. Burning fireworks is not by any means a necessity of the time.—Framingham News.

MAPLE LODGE OTING.

The annual outing of Maple Lodge, Knights and Ladies of Honor, at Nantasket Tuesday was held with fine weather as the accompanist. Over 200 members left City Square at 11 o'clock to participate in the up-to-the-minute program.

The bungalow of Mrs. Martha E. Jones was the rendezvous of the party and shortly after their arrival a short service, which closed with the "Old Style" was the main dish was served. The toast to the lodge was given by Mrs. Sarah C. Williams, past protector. Long may it wave, our hoast and pride.

And join in live together, And may the thrice, shamrock and rose Entwine the Maple Leaf forever. Maple Leaf our emblem fair, God keep our lodge and Heaven bless The Maple Leaf forever.

The sports were greatly enjoyed, practically all who were able to compete being entered. Several spills were recorded but nothing is to be said about that, say the members, and hence the secrecy. The summary: Pat Womans Race—By Annie T. Morrison, Annie G. Grignon, second. Lean woman's race—Won by Martha A. Jones, Mary A. Fox, second. Potato race—Won by Sarah Keenley, Katherine Decker, second.

Wheel barrow race—Won by Sarah C. Williams, Annie L. Smith, third. Three-legged race—Won by Rose A. Reed and Lizzie Murray.

Swimming race—Won by Mrs. T. L. Berman, Mrs. Sophie A. Taber second. Story telling race—Won by E. E. Field, Annie C. Wright, second.

Prize and spoon race—Won by Laura F. Tirrell, Frances G. Swetten second and Mrs. Elizabeth M. Merrill.

50 yard dash—Won by Agnes G. Fletcher, Christina Tirrell, second.

Auto race—Won by Calvin G. Fletcher, Alfred LaBrecque, second.

Relay race—Won by H. W. Tirrell, Christine Fletcher, second.

Whist party—Won by M. Lizzie Farnald, L. Amy Totman, second.

With the close of the afternoon's program all wended towards Paragon park where they took in the sights, some of them dancing and some applauding. Auto rides, Prizes by Calvin G. Fletcher, Alfred LaBrecque. The return was made at a late hour.

It's not merely a long way to Tipperary, but it's a long way until the hurdygurdy men stop playing Tipperary.

Q. H. S. GRADUATION.

One hundred and thirty-one young men and women Wednesday evening in the High School hall received their diplomas and some good, sound advice. The diplomas were awarded for the completion of the four years' course at the school, and the advice was to prepare them for their future, both for those entering college, and those about to start out in the business world.

The honor pupils were: Miss Margaret Lucy Park, Miss Beatrice Allen Rogers, Miss Annie Ames Schenker, William K. MacMahon, Thomas Tilson Harlow.

The honor pupils are those attaining an average of over 90 per cent for the entire four years.

Of these 131 pupils, 79 were girls and 52 boys. The girls were all in white, and the boys in black suits and all wearing a class flower, a Jack rose. The hall was prettily decorated with the class colors, yellow and green. The balcony was hung with festoons of the two colors, and the pillars were also entwined with yellow and green paper. Across the platform in gold letters on a green banner hung the class motto: "To be true to the world."

On the platform were seated the speakers, Lewis Perry, John D. Mackay and Mr. Barbour and Mr. Collins. First the seniors marched in to the strains of an inspiring march played by the High School orchestra, led by Miss S. Maud Amisen. Their accompanists were Miss Rosalie May Du Temple and James Hilton Marr.

After the graduating class were seated, a selected chorus of the orchestra gave Costa's "With Sheathed Swords" from "Naaman." This was admirably sung. This chorus perfectly accompanied by the orchestra, gave three other selections during the evening: "Blow, Blow, Thou Winter Wind" by Whittier; "The Coward Song" by Williams, and Strang's "Beautiful Blue Danube."

Without question they sang the latter the best. It was perfectly rendered. It was a rare treat to hear so many sweet voices so well trained that each part sounded like a separate voice. No one voice dominated any part, and all were wonderfully balanced.

The members of the orchestra are: Edward H. Fuller, Viola H. Jones, Marie B. Simmons, Marion C. Hardy, Alice B. Burns, Esther V. Bagg, Cecelia A. Andrews, Arthur Lewis, Ruth E. Leach, David D. Sheehy, David Weinhouse, Royal S. Weymouth.

Three of the honor pupils gave addresses on the Centenary in History, Science and Arts.

Thomas Tilson Harlow told about history. He said that ten years ago Napoleon's army was in the city, and wheat fields to find out whether Napoleon's despotism or Peace should rule France. He then clearly gave a resume of subsequent events, bringing history down through to the Treaty of Ghent following the War of 1812. He explained the treaty in forcible words of the 2500 miles of Canadian border "without a fort nor even one gun pointed either way" and its resulting 100 years of peace. "Fidelity and no fortification is far better than infidelity and miles of forts and soldiers," he exclaimed. He ended his scholarly remarks by saying: "May our country have continued peace! May she continue to increase the benefits of all mankind. May she conquer the world, but in the larger sense by peace and greatness!"

The next speaker, William K. MacMahon, told of the discovery of the uses of the stethoscope, the microscope, the kaleidoscope, and the miner's lamp. He gave interesting facts and his address showed careful study and a clear understanding of his subject.

Miss Margaret Lucy Park told about the Arts in a very clever and original way.

Mr. Collins introduced the speaker of the evening, Lewis Perry, principal of Phillips Exeter academy.

Speaker gave some good straight from the shoulder advice as if you were about to enter college, particularly emphasizing the importance of college activities as a moulder of character.

John D. Mackay, Esq., chairman of the school committee gave some good words to those going into business. He said:

"Members of the graduating class: It may be fairly assumed that you begin a post-graduate course tonight regardless of the fact that most of you will not continue the student life hereafter, and on that assumption I wish to congratulate you on the fact that you have received the initial lesson of that course from the lips of the scholar who has preceded me. And if you are alive to your opportunity and your duty you will endeavor to make an address with you and remember it as faithfully as if you were expected to be examined upon its subject matter a little later. Rest assured that you will be examined and tried, and tested before you get far in life not only in respect to what you have heard tonight but also on everything else worth knowing that is heard within these walls during the last four years; and you will find these things will stand you in good stead in times of need if you do but translate them into your lives and characters."

After the address members of the class marched in single file across the platform and were presented their diplomas by Chairman Mackay.

After singing the class song the seniors for the last time marched out of the assembly hall. The words of the song were composed by Miss Rosalie May Du Temple and the music by Miss Rosalie Du Temple. Miss Brogan led the singing.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Misses Alice and Louise Pinel of Franklin street gave a birthday handkerchief shower to Edwin A. Holmes at the home of their sister, Mrs. James S. Whyte on Standish avenue, Wednesday evening. It was a complete surprise to Mr. Holmes. Piano solos and victrola music with dancing was enjoyed.

Mrs. Whyte's charming hospitality made a pleasant evening which the guests much appreciated. The hostess served sandwiches, punch, ice cream and a large cake which was decorated with 21 red candles. Those at the party were Misses Gertrude A. and Helen G. Burckett, Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Holmes, Jas. S. Whyte, Alice White, Mr. Lovell of Dorchester, Mr. Evans, Mr. Alfred C. Holmes, Dr. Joseph Hoy and the Misses Pinel.

MISS LANE'S BIRDS.

The four bluejays and two robins which owe their lives to Miss Georgiana C. Lane have attained almost full growth and within a few days will be liberated from the room of her Goffe street home, the scene of their early days.

The boys were found abandoned in a nest of a tree cut down near the Lane home. The robins were cared for because boys had disturbed their nest, leaving them exposed to wind and weather.

The plight of the feathered trio gained the sympathy of Miss Lane and without any hesitation she essayed to become a bird raiser. Lacking experience and despite the discouragement of her many friends she took up the task nobly and today the six little feathery creatures are among her best friends.

When seen by a Patriot reporter Tuesday afternoon Miss Lane was sitting in the room with the birds, two of them perched on a small tree set in a corner, two others on her hands, a female robin dancing away in front of her and the male robin flying about the room at lightning speed, alarmed by the appearance of a stranger.

On the settee was a plate of corn meal, and in a saucer nearby was a mixture of hard boiled eggs and raisins, made up in almost a dry paste, the food on which the birds were raised.

The experiment of Miss Lane has been watched by bird lovers of the city and as far as the reporter has been able to find no one hereabouts who attempted before to raise such little birds almost from their egg days.

Bright and early mornings, between four and 4:30, the jays commence to shriek and that means food and like babies the chatter will continue until the end of the group. From sunrise to sunset they are fed. They are hardly wakened to search out their own way, but from the various dishes about the room and the occupants of the Lane home are awakened bright and early since Miss Georgiana started to raise the birds.

Throughout the day, the program must continue and at night after the feeding for the last time they are placed on the boughs of the tree, side by side. Entrance into the room at night does not disturb them. In the darkness, pierced by the rays from a lighted candle, they only blink their eyes, but no welcome is extended to the intruder. It is after hours.

And as for the names—the diplomatic jay is named after William Jennings Bryan, former secretary of state. His brothers are named William Randolph Hearst, (the noisiest of the group) and Joseph Daniels, in recognition of the secretary of the navy. Little Judy is friendly with all three but as yet has exhibited no choice for a mate.

Miss Lane declined to give her reasons as to why she named the jays as she did but said she is a well known anti-suffragist and a wearer of the red rose when the occasion requires it, and is known to have some quite positive and resourceful ideas on government, it is believed that the naming of the jays after the men prominent in national affairs interests her.

FREE DISPENSARY.

The rooms in the Durgin & Merrill block secured by the Board of Health for the free dispensary for infectious diseases were opened for public inspection Tuesday evening and the opportunity to learn just what the city proposed to do toward checking the so called white plague. The rooms are two in number and are situated on the first floor above the street. The dispensary is a well lighted general waiting room and leading from this is the examination room, a sound proof partition separating the two rooms.

The dispensary will be open every week day between the hours of 1 and 2 o'clock, at which time the nurse on duty will also attend to the cases following up the cases about the city looking after patients and seeing to it that the regulations as to diet, etc., laid down by the physician in charge are carried out.

Not only is it intended to look after those that are in the first stages of the disease but the nurse will also follow up the patients that have been discharged from the state institutions to see that they are living up to the requirements.

The examination room has been fitted with a physician's couch, weighing machine, machine for measuring the height of patients and other instruments necessary to making a thorough examination. A record of patients will be kept in a filing case, arranged not only alphabetically but by streets and in this way it will be able to determine in just what fraction tuberculosis is most prevalent.

Dr. W. J. McCausland has been appointed physician in charge of the dispensary. At the present time, however, he is in California and the work of the dispensary will be looked after by Dr. Deihl of the Board of Health until he returns.

Miss Gertrude McKenize has been appointed nurse but she also will be unable to assume charge until the middle of August. In the mean time Miss Andrews will be the nurse in charge. The state law under which the dispensary was established provides that it shall be in operation the first of July and it might be said that the Quincy dispensary began business today.

Among the visitors to the rooms Tuesday evening were a number of city officials and members of the City Council as well as a number of members from the several Women's clubs of the city. Dr. Deihl stated that although the first regular office hours would not be until this afternoon that there were already a number who had signified their intention to come and be examined.

Late perhaps it may be necessary to have the office open for examination at other times. For the present however it is believed that the office hours established will be sufficient.

It is proposed in addition to other things to keep on hand for distribution a supply of literature relative to the prevention of tuberculosis and the care of patients.

NEW BUILDINGS.

New building continues to be active in this city. The new building at 1512 Broadway, the marriage of Miss Jennie Harding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthias Harding of 50 Old Colony street, and Herbert Henry Barnard of Cambridge, which took place Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, was one of the prettiest and most attractive home-weddings of the season.

The ceremony was performed at seven o'clock in the presence of a few relatives, but at the reception, the house was filled with a gathering representing guests from all over the city. The bride, Miss Jennie Harding, was given away by her father, who was charming in an exquisite gown of white satin, embroidered with lace and trimmed with pearls. Her long tulle veil was arranged in cap effect and caught in place at the forehead with a coronet of orange blossoms and white ribbons.

The bridegroom, Mr. Barnard, was dressed in a tuxedo and carried a sword of honor. The wedding party consisted of the bride, groom, bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearer, and ushers.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom were surrounded by friends and relatives who wished them well.

The wedding party was photographed by a local photographer. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride and groom were married by Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor of the Memorial Congregational church of Atlantic.

The bride's father, Mr. Matthias Harding, was a prominent citizen of Cambridge. The groom, Mr. Barnard, is a well-known architect.

The wedding party was composed of the bride, groom, bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearer, and ushers. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride and groom were married by Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor of the Memorial Congregational church of Atlantic. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride's father, Mr. Matthias Harding, was a prominent citizen of Cambridge. The groom, Mr. Barnard, is a well-known architect. The wedding party was composed of the bride, groom, bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearer, and ushers.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom were surrounded by friends and relatives who wished them well.

The wedding party was photographed by a local photographer. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride and groom were married by Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor of the Memorial Congregational church of Atlantic. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride's father, Mr. Matthias Harding, was a prominent citizen of Cambridge. The groom, Mr. Barnard, is a well-known architect. The wedding party was composed of the bride, groom, bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearer, and ushers.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom were surrounded by friends and relatives who wished them well.

The wedding party was photographed by a local photographer. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride and groom were married by Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor of the Memorial Congregational church of Atlantic. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride's father, Mr. Matthias Harding, was a prominent citizen of Cambridge. The groom, Mr. Barnard, is a well-known architect. The wedding party was composed of the bride, groom, bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearer, and ushers.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom were surrounded by friends and relatives who wished them well.

The wedding party was photographed by a local photographer. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride and groom were married by Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor of the Memorial Congregational church of Atlantic. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride's father, Mr. Matthias Harding, was a prominent citizen of Cambridge. The groom, Mr. Barnard, is a well-known architect. The wedding party was composed of the bride, groom, bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearer, and ushers.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom were surrounded by friends and relatives who wished them well.

The wedding party was photographed by a local photographer. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride and groom were married by Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor of the Memorial Congregational church of Atlantic. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride's father, Mr. Matthias Harding, was a prominent citizen of Cambridge. The groom, Mr. Barnard, is a well-known architect. The wedding party was composed of the bride, groom, bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearer, and ushers.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom were surrounded by friends and relatives who wished them well.

The wedding party was photographed by a local photographer. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride and groom were married by Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor of the Memorial Congregational church of Atlantic. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride's father, Mr. Matthias Harding, was a prominent citizen of Cambridge. The groom, Mr. Barnard, is a well-known architect. The wedding party was composed of the bride, groom, bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearer, and ushers.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom were surrounded by friends and relatives who wished them well.

The wedding party was photographed by a local photographer. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride and groom were married by Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor of the Memorial Congregational church of Atlantic. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

BARNARD-HARDING.

Closing the list of the June 1915 wedding of Miss Jennie Harding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthias Harding of 50 Old Colony street, and Herbert Henry Barnard of Cambridge, which took place Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, was one of the prettiest and most attractive home-weddings of the season.

The ceremony was performed at seven o'clock in the presence of a few relatives, but at the reception, the house was filled with a gathering representing guests from all over the city. The bride, Miss Jennie Harding, was given away by her father, who was charming in an exquisite gown of white satin, embroidered with lace and trimmed with pearls. Her long tulle veil was arranged in cap effect and caught in place at the forehead with a coronet of orange blossoms and white ribbons.

The bridegroom, Mr. Barnard, was dressed in a tuxedo and carried a sword of honor. The wedding party consisted of the bride, groom, bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearer, and ushers.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom were surrounded by friends and relatives who wished them well.

The wedding party was photographed by a local photographer. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride and groom were married by Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor of the Memorial Congregational church of Atlantic. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride's father, Mr. Matthias Harding, was a prominent citizen of Cambridge. The groom, Mr. Barnard, is a well-known architect. The wedding party was composed of the bride, groom, bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearer, and ushers.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom were surrounded by friends and relatives who wished them well.

The wedding party was photographed by a local photographer. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride and groom were married by Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor of the Memorial Congregational church of Atlantic. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride's father, Mr. Matthias Harding, was a prominent citizen of Cambridge. The groom, Mr. Barnard, is a well-known architect. The wedding party was composed of the bride, groom, bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearer, and ushers.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom were surrounded by friends and relatives who wished them well.

The wedding party was photographed by a local photographer. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride and groom were married by Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor of the Memorial Congregational church of Atlantic. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride's father, Mr. Matthias Harding, was a prominent citizen of Cambridge. The groom, Mr. Barnard, is a well-known architect. The wedding party was composed of the bride, groom, bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearer, and ushers.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom were surrounded by friends and relatives who wished them well.

The wedding party was photographed by a local photographer. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride and groom were married by Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor of the Memorial Congregational church of Atlantic. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride's father, Mr. Matthias Harding, was a prominent citizen of Cambridge. The groom, Mr. Barnard, is a well-known architect. The wedding party was composed of the bride, groom, bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearer, and ushers.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom were surrounded by friends and relatives who wished them well.

The wedding party was photographed by a local photographer. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride and groom were married by Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor of the Memorial Congregational church of Atlantic. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride's father, Mr. Matthias Harding, was a prominent citizen of Cambridge. The groom, Mr. Barnard, is a well-known architect. The wedding party was composed of the bride, groom, bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearer, and ushers.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom were surrounded by friends and relatives who wished them well.

The wedding party was photographed by a local photographer. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride and groom were married by Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor of the Memorial Congregational church of Atlantic. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride's father, Mr. Matthias Harding, was a prominent citizen of Cambridge. The groom, Mr. Barnard, is a well-known architect. The wedding party was composed of the bride, groom, bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearer, and ushers.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom were surrounded by friends and relatives who wished them well.

The wedding party was photographed by a local photographer. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride and groom were married by Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor of the Memorial Congregational church of Atlantic. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

The bride's father, Mr. Matthias Harding, was a prominent citizen of Cambridge. The groom, Mr. Barnard, is a well-known architect. The wedding party was composed of the bride, groom, bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearer, and ushers.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom were surrounded by friends and relatives who wished them well.

The wedding party was photographed by a local photographer. The ceremony was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

COLOR COMBINATIONS.

Much of what is called "good taste" in dressing consists in the correct combinations of colors. A dress of suit may have color, cut and revers of a color that gives just the required touch of style and dash. On the other hand, the color used may be harmonious but lack that peculiar tone that is needed to bring out the best effect. A chart prepared by R. H. Parry, in structure of designing with the American Fashion Company of Chicago, and published recently in Women's Wear, gives a list of combinations that will aid in the attractive blending of colors. The original aim of the chart was to assist designers of women's garments, but it will be helpful to every woman who has her clothes made by the dressmaker or is her own seamstress. The color of the garment is given first and the three or four colors that follow are the suitable colors for trimmings, as:

Amber—Pale blue, pale green, buff, clear brown.

Brown (reddish)—Lemon, cream, white, sage.

Cream—Silver, lavender, violet, magenta.

Green (dark)—Old rose, red, gold, green (emerald)—Crimson, black, orange, claret.

Green (sage)—Copper, cream, white.

Mauve—Cream, cerise, black and white.

Cerise and Lilac—Silver gray, pale lavender, gold.

Plum and White—Lavender, lemon, cream, gold.

Gray (dark)—Buff, amber, pale green, dark green, cream and white.

Black—White, black, gold, blue, red (crimson)—White, blue and gold.

Red (scarlet)—Black, gold, buff, white.

Red (brick)—Olive green, pearl gray, dark blue, black.

White—Chocolate, French gray, purple.

White—White, silver, gold.

Purple—White, rose, cream, gold.

Blue (dark)—Orange, crimson, old rose, white.

Blue (light)—Olive green, pink, ivory, white.

Pink—Violet, maroon, silver, silver gray.

Pawn—Light green, pearl blue, lemon, fawn.

Khaki—Pale green, scarlet, orange, silver—Marblehead Messenger.

Quincy Patriot

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, JULY 10, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 28.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1827.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 142 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone, Quincy 425.
Quincy 10.0.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1888.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE
BRAINTREE OBSERVER
Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust
LAND FOR SALE
—AT—
MERRYMOUNT
Mt. Wollaston Farm
Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
Tel. 847-W
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street
Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1859 by
W. PORTER
Insurance effected in reliable and safe
Stock and Mutual offices.
By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 70 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy

ÆTNA INSURANCE CO.

HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1819, Charter Perpetual
Losses Paid in 94 Years, $132,981,553.48

JANUARY 1, 1914.

Cash Capital	$5,000,000.00
Net Surplus	6,989,289.89
Surplus for Policy Holders	$11,989,289.89
Reserve for Re-insurance	$10,000,000.00
Reserve for Unpaid Losses	$22,508,941.22
Reserve for Other Claims	298,533.14
Total Assets	$22,541,250.14

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.

AGENTS FOR QUINCY.
Incorporated 1827
Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk	$9,201,722.10
Cash Assets	176,000.00
Total Assets (including re-insurance)	9,377,722.10
Amount of Cash Surplus	$10,949,981.98
Contingent Assets	143,931.32
Total Available Assets	$11,093,913.30
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies, 60 per cent.; on three-year policies, 50 per cent.; on one-year policies, 30 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, President.

THORODRE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer

DIRECTORS:—Pres. R. Mansfield, Dedham; Frederick D. Ely, Dedham; Samuel Gannett, Milton; Charles M. Faxon, Boston; James V. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Soladay, Dedham; Samuel R. Capen, Dedham; Andrew H. Roddick, Dedham; George L. Barker, Weymouth.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

Incorporated 1825

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk	$28,061,917.27
Cash Assets	644,230.02
Total Assets (including re-insurance)	28,706,147.29
Amount of Cash Surplus	$48,054,046.00
Contingent Assets	304,007.70
Total Available Assets	$48,358,053.70
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies, 60 per cent.; on three-year policies, 50 per cent.; on one-year policies, 30 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.

THORODRE T. MARSH, Secretary

DIRECTORS:—Pres. Samuel Gannett, Milton; Stephen M. Weld, Dedham; Thomas H. Draper, Canton; William E. Lincoln, Salem; James V. Noyes, Dedham; George W. Wight, Franklin; Asa F. French, Randolph; Herbert M. Plimpton, Norwood; Clifton P. Baker, Dedham.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.
INCORPORATED 1855

HOME OFFICE, 11 CENTRAL STREET

Telephone, Main 1040.

—William A. Muller, President—
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
Edward C. Mason, Secretary
William A. Muller, Treasurer

DIRECTORS:

Paul R. Blackmar, Attorney
Clarence Briggs, Treas. Quincy Savings Bank
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
T. J. Falvey, Pres. Mass. Bonding and
Ins. Co.
Henry Hornblower, Hornblower &
Weeks
Louis K. Liggett, Pres. United Drug
Company
Wm. J. McGaffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas
G. Plant Co.
Edward C. Mason, Secretary and Solicitor
William A. Muller, William A. Muller
& Company
Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests
P. F. Sullivan, Pres. Bay State Street
Railway Co.
John P. Squire, John P. Squire & Sons
Benjamin F. Wild, Pres. Wellington
Wild Coat Co.
Sarell J. Willis, Blue Hill National Bank
We reduce your Insurance Rate One-
Fifth.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhea. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO

GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

A New Floor

"Adds A Lot" to The Home

Lay our 3/8 inch floor over your old one and see what an improvement it is. We have quartered oak, plain oak, birch, maple and hard pine.

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Offices: Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester
166 Devonshire St. " 3164 Main
1 Sudbury St. " 578 Haymarket

HESS SANITARY LOCKER

The Best Yet!

Enameled Steel Medicine Cabinets With Beveled Plate Mirror and Plate Glass or Enameled Steel Shelves

A Real Necessity Can Be Attached By Anyone

To Recess into Wall With Plate Glass Shelves $10.50
With Enameled Shelves $8.00

To Screw onto Wall With Plate Glass Shelves $10.50
With Enameled Shelves $8.00

A NECESSARY LUXURY

Built To Fit the Poor Man's Pocketbook

These Cabinets are made in the most substantial manner, the corners of the doors and frames being solidly welded. They are perfectly sanitary, easy to keep clean, and will last a lifetime.

We will gladly deliver one of these cabinets at your residence for inspection. If not entirely satisfactory we will cheerfully call and collect same without any expense to you.

FOR SALE BY

The Wm. A. Bradford Co.

Sanitary Plumbing Heating

GAS FITTING FURNACE & SHEET METAL WORK

No. 5 Maple St., Quincy, Massachusetts

A WISH.

Lew W. Smith.

Just to lie there in the sun, all day.

Where the sea gulls go and come, at their play.

Just to watch the islands fair.

Wave tossed islands lung in air.

Mid the flashing breakers there

On the bay.

Just to hear the drowsy murmur of the breeze.

Or to watch the sunlight flicker thro the trees.

Just to look as in a dream.

Where the whirled winged vessels gleam.

Till like fairy ships they seem?

On the seas.

That is all the boon I ask, just to lie there

Where the little foam built clouds go drifting by.

Just to watch them fade from view.

For a lazy hour or two.

Where the ocean meets the blue

Of the sky.

KIM'S LAST WHIPPING.

There was once a wretched little unpunished schoolhouse that stood in a sand-bank all summer and a snow-bank all winter, waiting for a strong northerly wind to blow it over.

"Say, what will you sell that schoolhouse for?" asked a traveler of a little boy who stood on one foot on the rickety door-step.

"For a bunch of matches," answered the little boy as quick as thought. The man laughed and rode on.

The boy was Kimball Price, the rogue of the town of Skodac, District Number Three, and the tyranny of all his teachers. He was a handsome lad, 10 years old. I do not mean he was always 10, but that was his age when Miss Pentecost whipped him and that is where our story begins.

Now Miss Pentecost taught the school that summer at District Number Three. She liked Kim; everybody liked him; but that was no reason why he should be allowed to tie the girls by the hair,—they were long braids in those days,—or fire paper balls, or eat choke-cherries, or stick pins in the benches to make the a, b, c scholars cry "O!" when they were not saying their letters. Miss

Pentecost never winked at naughtiness, and, as whippings were fashionable at that period, she whipped

Kim regularly three times a week.

It was considered the most direct way of reaching the conscience.

But Kim never could remember a whipping more than a day and a half, or at the longest three days; and Miss

Pentecost began to grow discouraged.

Most Kim always go on doing mischief and neglecting his lessons, a boy who could learn so well if he chose!

She knew his mother, a poor widow with a large family of children, and she was sure Mrs. Price could not afford to send Kim to school merely to play.

"What can I say or do to make an impression on that child?" thought

Miss Pentecost one day as she tied

MYSTERY SOLVED.

The mystery surrounding the ownership of the aeroplane found in the hangar of the Squantum Women's club on the Squantum Field cleared up Sunday when a man who said he was Ashworth, a Providence, R. I., aviator, directed the loading of the machine on an auto truck so that it could be taken out of the city. Several members of the club witnessed his preparation for departure.

One prominent club member called at police headquarters and requested a warrant, charging Ashworth with breaking and entering, because he had to force the doors of the hangar to put the machine inside. The court official to whom she told her story said he thought that under the circumstances the act was hardly criminal but suggested two other charges—trespass or working on Sunday.

The woman left without securing a warrant.

The presence of the biplane in the club hangar has been an exciting mystery for Squantum. Pres. Mrs. H. A.

Morse of the club discovered it when showing the hangar to a prospective purchaser. No one knew who owned it or how it got there. The mystery grew as the days passed and the members consulted attorneys to learn their rights in the matter.

An investigation was made by the members but Mrs. Morse declined to be interviewed.

Patrolman Duffy of Atlantic said that the machine was brought to Squantum last Wednesday morning in an auto truck and that the truck reached the field about three o'clock.

Ashworth, it is understood changed his plans to fly at Squantum after he learned the state had made no provision to issue licenses to aviators. It is believed he will conduct his school at Rocky Point, R. I.

KEPT OPEN HOUSE.

In accordance with its time honored custom the Granite City club

Society's well known business men's social club, kept open house at its rooms in the Savings Bank Building

Saturday evening, and the rooms were thronged all the evening with members and guests. An orchestra was present and gave a concert, and a buffet lunch was served in the dining room.

At eleven o'clock the members were invited to Colonial hall where hot boiled chicken lobsters were served.

The lobsters were brought from Boston allies and boiled in the clubrooms.

Monday morning the women and children were opened to the women and children and again there was a large attendance. Ice cream and cake was served and there was a concert by a violinist.

As a little side issue a handsome five pound basket of candy was given to the young people.

The evening was in charge of the

FIRE AT ATLANTIC.

The alarm from Box 67 at 4:55 P.M.

July 24 was for a fire in two tenement houses at 49 Walker street.

Atlantic, owned by Walter Burrell and occupied on the second floor by Mr. Burrell and on the first floor by

G. L. Mosnar.

The fire started from some unknown cause in the kitchen of the tenement of Mr. Burrell. He says that he heard an explosion in the kitchen and going to the door found a blaze in progress. Closing the door he called the Atlantic fire station by telephone. Chief Billings was also notified by telephone and responded with the Central Station Auto Chemical.

As soon as the Atlantic apparatus arrived on the scene and it was seen that the fire gave promise of being a serious one a bell alarm was sounded. The fire worked up through the walls and ceiling of the kitchen to a blind attic, which was stored full of furniture. The fire was confined to this attic and did not break through at any time, although it required nearly an hour's work to get the blaze under control.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JULY 10, 1915

THE CITY SQUARE FOUNTAIN.

Editor of Patriot

I saw in the Ledger of Tuesday that the city appropriated two hundred dollars for the removal of the fountain in the square, a sum so small as to indicate that the fountain was only to be taken up and carted away.

Besides being a monument to the city the fountain represents one ideal of human sympathy for the horse which should not be discarded, and I trust it will not be ruthlessly consigned to the scrap heap without careful consideration by the inhabitants who so generously consented to the city and who fully expected the city would faithfully maintain the trust. They should certainly be granted a hearing by the council before the act of vandalism is carried out.

Up to 1891 there were no facilities for watering horses in Quincy except the old Town Pump, opposite the present Greenleaf Block. Hundreds of thirsty animals passed through the city every day suffering from want of water. Under the influence of the humane sentiment, developed by Dr. Angell in his wide world propaganda for the prevention of cruelty to animals, the Quincy Village Improvement society, which flourished from 1884 to 1892, undertook to supply the need. By the remarkable persistence of Mrs. Annie E. Paxson the sum of seven thousand dollars was raised for the people of Quincy for the purpose. Henry H. Paxson, Miss Nancy Brackett and Charles Francis Adams were large contributors. Mr. Adams also presented the bronze plate with the inscription:

THE FOUNTAIN
Gift of Inhabitants of Quincy
1891

By the advice of Mr. Olmstead, the noted landscape artist, Mr. Williams, architect of Boston, if I recall the name correctly, was selected to draw plans and specifications. His design was enthusiastically accepted as it thoroughly fulfilled the requirements of a public fountain for man and beast. It was simple, majestic and artistic and harmoniously adapted to the surroundings. It was built by Gordon McKenzie in his usual thorough manner and the plumbing was done by Patrick Gavin.

The fountain was placed in the square twenty-five feet from the bottom was placed a large copper tank through which the water is cooled before rising to the drinking faucet. The fountain was placed in a triangle of the church green in a beautiful setting by the side of a small elm tree, probably a hundred years old, with wide spreading branches. But, alas! to our great consternation and dismay the beautiful old elm was cut down one summer morning before the people were out of bed, and later the church green was leveled and a public fountain for man and beast. The street railway between the fountain and the church. The loop of railway was never built but the relative beauty of the fountain was destroyed forever.

It was hoped that some generous individual or society would regenerate the fountain with the statue of some celebrated Quincy citizen. Instead of that however the City Fathers surmounted it with a triangular sign board pointing the way to Weymouth Landing, North Weymouth and Hingham.

Although the automobile has largely supplanted horses and the Board of Health has prohibited the use of a common drinking trough for horses and cattle I do not consider that the fountain has entirely lost its usefulness. Every day scores of people and numerous people and horses there drinking its cool waters. This will be more in evidence during the hot, dry season.

It is said that the position of the fountain interferes with the straightening of the street railway as it enters the square. I would suggest that the street railway be first straightened, as it certainly should be, and then if the position of the fountain proves it to be a nuisance its removal can be considered. I feel assured it will be found not to be the case. If necessary it can be moved a few feet to the east and south where it will be out of the way of traffic or it could be removed to some other suitable place where its usefulness would be maintained. If such a change is not feasible and no suitable site can be found then it will be time enough to consider the alleged recommendation of the Planning Board to place it in the cemetery.

I believe a certain amount of sentiment is valuable and necessary in planning and maintaining a City Beautiful.

J. A. Gordon.

MONTECLAIR CELEBRATION.

The various committees which steered the celebration at Montclair, steeled a successful conclusion were as follows:

Harry G. Clark, general chairman and John F. Clark, treasurer, reception committee, John F. McCabe, Blair Taylor, Frank Sherman, James Ross, John F. Cody, Mr. Maybury, L. Arthur, Mr. Luther, Mr. Frank Sherman, Arthur Goodwin, Harry G. Clark, Edward F. Parlee, Theodore L. Parlee, Mr. Zottoli, James Paul, Mr. Downey, Mr. Dillon, George Hamlin, Mr. Lindberg, Charles Mossman, Finance Committee: Frank Sherman, Mr. Maybury, Theodore Parlee, Blair Taylor, Mr. Downey, Mr. Dillon, Edward F. Parlee, Refreshment Committee: Blair Taylor, Mr. Gilbert, George Horne, Theodore Parlee, George Hamlin, Arthur Jordan, Harry G. Clark, Mr. Downey, Mr. Dillon, James Paul, Mr. Zottoli, Charles Mossman, James Ross, Music Committee: Mr. Luther, chairman, Joseph F. McCabe, John F. Cody, John Sangster, James Paul, Decoration Committee: Mr. Zottoli, chairman; Mr. Gilbert, Mr. Downey, Athletic Committee: A. Sangster, chairman; Mr. Zottoli, James Paul, Mr. Lindberg, John F. Cody, Frank Sherman, James Ross, Arthur Goodwin, L. Parlee, Harry G. Clark, Starters: Blair Taylor and Mr. Zottoli, Judges: Arthur Goodwin, A. Sangster, Frank Sherman and Mr. Maybury. Prize Cup Committee: Charles Mossman, chairman; Mr. Lindberg, Mr. Maybury, House and Ground Committee: Edward F. Parlee, chairman; George Hamlin, James Ross, Mr. Lindberg, Mr. Luther, Records and timekeepers, James Paul, Charles Mossman, John F. Cody, and Charles Mossman.

BRIEFS

Harry L. Jordan of Bridgewater is visiting relatives in Quincy.

The City Council committee on licenses will meet Monday evening.

The alarm from Box 614 at 10:53 Wednesday night was a false alarm.

John Witter of Hartford, Ct., is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ryder of Dysart street.

Charles H. Shriver and family of Dedham have opened their summer home at Post Island.

Dexter E. Fisher and family of Quincy street are moving to Washington street, Braintree.

Miss Eleanor Whittemore of Bigelow street spent the holiday season at Lake Boone.

James Norrie of Elm street left Thursday for Thornton Cove, N.H., Hampshire for a few days.

Robert W. Davis of Edgemore road spent the holiday with Gay Shaw at the Shaw's farm in Norwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lovell of Edgemore road, are entertaining their nephew from Lynn.

Miss Mildred Dewhurst of Maple street is the guest of her grandmother at Lowell.

Miss Louise Deady returned Sunday from Kennerly where she has been spending her vacation.

Lawrence E. Donovan of Perkins street is enjoying his annual vacation at Nantasket.

Miss Lillian L. Eaton of Newcomb Place left Saturday for Woods Hole for the rest of the summer.

Mrs. Ernest Stork and family of New York spent the holidays with Mrs. E. B. Dunn of Whitwell street.

Miss Ella M. Darling of Upland road and Miss Madeline Coarse of Melrose left Sunday for a two weeks' vacation at Nantawick, N. B.

Elmo Novelli, manager of the Polson Tea Co. store in Quincy, and Mrs. Lovell, are receiving congratulations on the birth, July 2, of a son.

Michael J. Saville of Dayton street is enjoying his annual vacation. He is spending this week at the "Harvard Lawn" cottage at Nantasket.

Mrs. Frank Mackell of Florida is spending a short vacation in this city as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Michael T. Sullivan of Bridge street.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan A. Eaton of Newcomb place enjoyed a trip to Portland and Old Orchard over the holidays.

Miss Lillian Peterson of Glendale road left Saturday for West Chelsea where she will spend her annual vacation with her relatives.

Miss Phillis Collins one of the linotype operators at the Patriot office, is enjoying her annual vacation.

Thomas C. Hardwick came over from New York Sunday to attend the wedding of his brother, Huntington, at Marion, Thursday.

Allen Connor of South Walnut street, running for the North Dorchester A. A. at Clinton Monday, took fourth place in a six mile run. Jimmie Hennigan, scratch, was the winner.

Master Willis Wardwell of 25 Miller Stile road is spending the summer with his grandmother, Mrs. L. A. Gedling at Lisbon, Me., while his mother is at Carney Hospital for surgical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Crain and children have been visiting friends in Quincy over the holiday. They came up from Connecticut in their automobile. They formerly lived on Edgemore road, this city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Shaw of this city entertained over the week end and holiday at their country residence in Norwell a number of their Quincy friends. On the 5th the neighbors were invited to witness a large and varied display of fireworks, after which dancing was enjoyed.

Robert Phinckhamaged 7 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Phinckham of Charles street, Houghs Neck received injuries to his head Saturday afternoon when the tail board of an ice wagon on which he was riding dropped suddenly, throwing him to the ground. He was attended by Dr. W. H. Ferris. His injuries are not considered serious.

John Hildebrand, past exalted ruler of the Quincy lodge of Elks, was aboard the James R. Nicholson special which left Saturday for the convention of the Grand lodge of Elks at Los Angeles, Cal. The train has been named in honor of Mr. Nicholson, who is from Springfield and a likely candidate for grand exalted ruler of the order.

Mrs. Rosella Wardwell has returned from a week's visit to Brunswick, Me., where she attended the marriage of her sister, Miss Leola Cedez. The wedding took place at the summer home of the bride's mother on the New Meadows river. The bride is well known in Wollaston, having graduated from the grammar school here a few years ago after which she took a business course in the West. For the last few years has been with the Brunswick and Bath branches of the N. E. T. & T. Co.

Brainard T. Dyer of Skowhegan, Me. formerly proprietor of the Granite Shoe Store was in town this week receiving acquaintances with friends. His former business associates, Mr. Dyer came over the road from Maine in his automobile and he started back Tuesday afternoon, taking with him Elzabeta Porter of the Hardware Supply Co. who will spend his vacation on Mr. Dyer's farm.

Edward Apps, aged 31 years, of 288 Somerville avenue, Somerville, had both legs broken below the knee Sunday evening when he lost control of the motorcycle which he was riding, and crashed into a tree on Adams street. The young man had been to Nantasket beach during the day and was on his way home. Just how the accident happened is not known but he probably lost control of his machine.

Two automobiles came together head on about 10:15 Monday night on Adams street near the Robertson estate. One of the cars was driven by A. Cowan of 8 Grace street, Dorchester, and was going toward Boston. The other car was owned by B. L. Hall of Whitman, who had come from Maine. The Hall machine was badly smashed but fortunately the occupants of both cars escaped with a shaken up.

Two automobiles came together head on about 10:15 Monday night on Adams street near the Robertson estate. One of the cars was driven by A. Cowan of 8 Grace street, Dorchester, and was going toward Boston. The other car was owned by B. L. Hall of Whitman, who had come from Maine. The Hall machine was badly smashed but fortunately the occupants of both cars escaped with a shaken up.

Two automobiles came together head on about 10:15 Monday night on Adams street near the Robertson estate. One of the cars was driven by A. Cowan of 8 Grace street, Dorchester, and was going toward Boston. The other car was owned by B. L. Hall of Whitman, who had come from Maine. The Hall machine was badly smashed but fortunately the occupants of both cars escaped with a shaken up.

Two automobiles came together head on about 10:15 Monday night on Adams street near the Robertson estate. One of the cars was driven by A. Cowan of 8 Grace street, Dorchester, and was going toward Boston. The other car was owned by B. L. Hall of Whitman, who had come from Maine. The Hall machine was badly smashed but fortunately the occupants of both cars escaped with a shaken up.

Two automobiles came together head on about 10:15 Monday night on Adams street near the Robertson estate. One of the cars was driven by A. Cowan of 8 Grace street, Dorchester, and was going toward Boston. The other car was owned by B. L. Hall of Whitman, who had come from Maine. The Hall machine was badly smashed but fortunately the occupants of both cars escaped with a shaken up.

Two automobiles came together head on about 10:15 Monday night on Adams street near the Robertson estate. One of the cars was driven by A. Cowan of 8 Grace street, Dorchester, and was going toward Boston. The other car was owned by B. L. Hall of Whitman, who had come from Maine. The Hall machine was badly smashed but fortunately the occupants of both cars escaped with a shaken up.

Two automobiles came together head on about 10:15 Monday night on Adams street near the Robertson estate. One of the cars was driven by A. Cowan of 8 Grace street, Dorchester, and was going toward Boston. The other car was owned by B. L. Hall of Whitman, who had come from Maine. The Hall machine was badly smashed but fortunately the occupants of both cars escaped with a shaken up.

Two automobiles came together head on about 10:15 Monday night on Adams street near the Robertson estate. One of the cars was driven by A. Cowan of 8 Grace street, Dorchester, and was going toward Boston. The other car was owned by B. L. Hall of Whitman, who had come from Maine. The Hall machine was badly smashed but fortunately the occupants of both cars escaped with a shaken up.

Two automobiles came together head on about 10:15 Monday night on Adams street near the Robertson estate. One of the cars was driven by A. Cowan of 8 Grace street, Dorchester, and was going toward Boston. The other car was owned by B. L. Hall of Whitman, who had come from Maine. The Hall machine was badly smashed but fortunately the occupants of both cars escaped with a shaken up.

Two automobiles came together head on about 10:15 Monday night on Adams street near the Robertson estate. One of the cars was driven by A. Cowan of 8 Grace street, Dorchester, and was going toward Boston. The other car was owned by B. L. Hall of Whitman, who had come from Maine. The Hall machine was badly smashed but fortunately the occupants of both cars escaped with a shaken up.

Two automobiles came together head on about 10:15 Monday night on Adams street near the Robertson estate. One of the cars was driven by A. Cowan of 8 Grace street, Dorchester, and was going toward Boston. The other car was owned by B. L. Hall of Whitman, who had come from Maine. The Hall machine was badly smashed but fortunately the occupants of both cars escaped with a shaken up.

BRIEFS

Miss Eva Reed has accepted a position as assistant clerk in the office of the Board of Trade.

George E. Rice of Brockton is occupying his summer home at Rock Island.

Mrs. Henry R. Holden of Adams street and sons John and "Billie" are at Sagamore beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jacobson of North Easton are guests of friends in Quincy.

Miss Ruth Wright, who has been visiting friends in Quincy has returned to her home in Waltham.

Park Officer Bernard M. O'Neill is enjoying his annual three weeks vacation.

Miss Mary Mead of Hyde Park was the guest of Miss Julia Coyle over the holiday.

Randolph Osmond of Hollis avenue has gone to Vermont for a two weeks vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin P. Curtis of Washington, D. C., formerly of Quincy were in town this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence H. Sturtevant of Adams street are spending a few weeks in Virginia.

Deleavere King of Adams street is in Atlantic City attending the Prohibition conference, there.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Burke and family of Adams street are at Squirrel Island, Maine for a few weeks stay.

Mrs. W. G. A. Pattee and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, left Tuesday for the Panama-Pacific Exposition. They expect to be away until September.

Miss Helen Bishop of Elm street has gone to Newport to spend a week with the Misses Ruth and Josephine Sprout.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Faxon and family of Adams street left Friday for Sausalito, California where they will spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Doble and family of South street are at their summer home at West Harwich on the Cape for the season.

Miss Ellen F. Barrie of Whitwell street has returned after three weeks spent at the Mt. Pleasant house, Jefferson, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Crapon and daughter Doris of Allyn Terrace are at the Ames farm, Lake Winnepesaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Wright and son, Livingston, of President's Hill are at their summer home in Marshfield Hills for the summer.

Superintendent of Schools Albert L. Barbour and family are at West Georgetown, Me., for the summer months.

John Hicks of Robertson street has been in Montreal for six months returned home to spend the holidays.

The alarm from Box 58 at 9:20 Tuesday night was a false alarm. There have been a number of false alarms from this box recently and it looks as though someone in that vicinity had contracted the mania.

Ensign Foster Bumpus, son of Judge and Mrs. E. C. Bumpus of Goffe street came down from Portsmouth, N. H., where he is stationed, to attend the Hardwick-Stone wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Woodbury, nee Louise Mandigo of 51 Edison Green, Dorchester, welcomed a little daughter to their home on Saturday July 3d. The baby will be called Eleanor.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Smith of 4 Carleton street, Brockton are the parents of an 8 pound girl, Jeanette Woodbury, born July 5. Both formerly lived here being graduates of the Quincy High school. Mrs. Smith's maiden name was Mabelle A. Damon.

Mrs. B. Golbranson and Mr. and Mrs. E. Kolshet and daughter Marion of Brookline, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Golbranson of Bellevue Road, Squantum, over the holidays.

Mrs. D. Upping and son Joseph, left last week by automobile for Maine where they will spend four weeks with her sister Mrs. E. Le Vasseur at her pretty summer residence. They expect to return the first week in August.

Mr. and Mrs. Theophilus King of Adams street who went down to Marion Thursday for the Hardwick-Stone wedding, registered for a few days at the Sippican hotel, while Mr. King revisited the haunts of his boyhood days.

Oscar Schell, the young man who was injured Saturday when his motorcycle collided with an electric car on the corner of Washington and Foster streets is reported as doing nicely and no serious results are anticipated. He is now at his home on Hillside street, East Braintree.

The second annual field day of the clerks of R. E. Foy & Co. will be held Wednesday July 21st at Echo Lake. This outing was inaugurated by Mr. Foy last summer and proved to be very successful. Games and sports of all kinds including a base ball game have been arranged.

(There was a good attendance Tuesday evening at the weekly whist parties at the Quincy Yacht club. The weekly whist parties at the club house will begin Thursday evening and will continue every Thursday evening until September 2.

The annual picnic of the Sunday school and parish of the Swedish M. E. church will be held today at Merrymount park. The children will go to the park in the morning, probably in auto trucks and the older people of the parish later in the day. A basket lunch will be served at noon and a short religious service will be held in the afternoon.

The annual picnic of the Loyal Order lodges of the state in celebration of the 225th anniversary of the "Battle of the Boyne" is to be held Monday at Rossons grove, Wakefield, on the shores of Lake Quannapowitt.

The Quincy lodges which will participate in the picnic will leave City square in special cars at 7:15 for Chelsea where the morning parade will be held.

Frank Earnest, director of music at the North Park college, Chicago, who is the guest for a few days of Rev. A. G. Sporrang of the Swedish Congregational church, gave a piano recital at the church Wednesday evening. There was a large attendance. Mr. Earnest is certainly an accomplished musician and his playing was greatly enjoyed. In addition to the piano selections, Rev. Mr. Sporrang sang several solos.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hardwick of Louisville, Kentucky are parents of a young son, their first child, and have named the little one Stoddard Wallace. Mr. Hardwick is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hardwick of Spear street.

Mr. and Mrs. John O. Hall, Jr., of Yarmouth, Maine, are in Quincy for a few days stay with her mother, Mrs. E. H. C. Burns of Granite street, coming for the Hardwick-Stone wedding at Marion on Thursday. They expect to return to Quincy later for a more extended visit.

Quite a few Unitarians from Quincy left today for the Isles of Shoals, N. H., to attend the Unitarian conference. Among those going were: Eugene R. Pfaffman, Mrs. Eugene R. Atwood, Miss Ruth and Mrs. Atwood, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. W. G. A. Pattee and daughter, Mrs. W. G. A. Pattee and daughter, Mrs. W. G. A. Pattee and daughter.

A despatch from London announces the safe arrival of the Harvard Unit, with whom are Dr. N. S. Huntington, Dr. H. Beardon and a number of Quincy nurses. The despatch says that all of the party are well and in good spirits, and are waiting for the British authorities to send them forward to the hospital base.

Reliance Rebekah lodge, I. O. O. F., after its meeting in Odd Fellows hall, Thursday evening, spending the night until September. Two applications were received and Mrs. Manie Johnston was appointed chairman of the committee in charge of the picnic at Merrymount park Saturday. George E. A. is completing arrangements for a trolley ride in August for the members.

Many of the yachts of the three Quincy yacht clubs will participate in the annual open race under the auspices of the Weymouth Yacht club this afternoon off the club house at Weymouth. A race for all classes is also scheduled to be held by the Quincy Yacht club Saturday. It is doubtful however if this is held on account of the Weymouth race.

The weekly whist parties at the Quincy yacht club house began Thursday evening and although the weather was against the club house at Weymouth. A race for all classes is also scheduled to be held by the Quincy Yacht club Saturday. It is doubtful however if this is held on account of the Weymouth race.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Bannister, (May Faxon) who were married June 28th are spending a few weeks in Asheville, North Carolina. They expect to spend a week or ten days with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Faxon at their summer home on Squirrel Island, Maine before starting home to Quincy. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon from his late home. Services will be held at St. Mary's church at 2 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Reed of Cross street, one of the best known French families in the section, are receiving congratulations on the birth of two husky twins. The father, Dr. A. J. Reed, coincidentally is the fact that a niece of Mr. Reed in the next house gave birth just four months ago to a boy and girl. Dr. Blanchard who was in attendance states that the children are in excellent health.

Mr. Austin L. Johnson of Hall place left Thursday for a three month visit to her birthplace at Prince Edwards Island. This is her first visit home since she left 20 years ago.

John Murphy of Rustic place has returned from Montreal, where he went to meet his brother James from St. Louis. The two brothers parted twenty five years ago and this is the first meeting since that time.

William C. Caldwell attempted to open a window at the Town River Yacht club the night before the Fourth when his hand slipped and went through the glass making a bad cut. He was attended by Dr. W. J. Middleton, who took three stitches.

Mrs. George E. Pfaffman has sold the Shaw estate, corner of Hill and Mount streets, Quincy Point, to George A. Williams, who will occupy. Sale was made through the real estate office of E. M. Freeman & Co.

BRIEFS

Friends of William Howe of Bigelow street will be sorry to learn that he is confined to the house with trouble with his knee.

Souvenir posts have been received from Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson of the First Parish church who is spending his vacation in the White Mountains.

Frank Bruce, the local Italian runner, who was thought to have received a fracture of the spine when he fell from a staging while painting a house on Canal street, is able to be out.

Miss Marguerite Davis is spending a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. George Angier, at their summer home in Marion. Mr. Angier's brother Edward H. Angier, Mrs. Angier and children of Framingham, formerly of Quincy are also their guests.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hardwick of Louisville, Kentucky are parents of a young son, their first child, and have named the little one Stoddard Wallace. Mr. Hardwick is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hardwick of Spear street.

Mr. and Mrs. John O. Hall, Jr., of Yarmouth, Maine, are in Quincy for a few days stay with her mother, Mrs. E. H. C. Burns of Granite street, coming for the Hardwick-Stone wedding at Marion on Thursday. They expect to return to Quincy later for a more extended visit.

Quite a few Unitarians from Quincy left today for the Isles of Shoals, N. H., to attend the Unitarian conference. Among those going were: Eugene R. Pfaffman, Mrs. Eugene R. Atwood, Miss Ruth and Mrs. Atwood, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. W. G. A. Pattee and daughter, Mrs. W. G. A. Pattee and daughter.

A despatch from London announces the safe arrival of the Harvard Unit, with whom are Dr. N. S. Huntington, Dr. H. Beardon and a number of Quincy nurses. The despatch says that all of the party are well and in good spirits, and are waiting for the British authorities to send them forward to the hospital base.

Reliance Rebekah lodge, I. O. O. F., after its meeting in Odd Fellows hall, Thursday evening, spending the night until September. Two applications were received and Mrs. Manie Johnston was appointed chairman of the committee in charge of the picnic at Merrymount park Saturday. George E. A. is completing arrangements for a trolley ride in August for the members.

Many of the yachts of the three Quincy yacht clubs will participate in the annual open race under the auspices of the Weymouth Yacht club this afternoon off the club house at Weymouth. A race for all classes is also scheduled to be held by the Quincy Yacht club Saturday. It is doubtful however if this is held on account of the Weymouth race.

The weekly whist parties at the Quincy yacht club house began Thursday evening and although the weather was against the club house at Weymouth. A race for all classes is also scheduled to be held by the Quincy Yacht club Saturday. It is doubtful however if this is held on account of the Weymouth race.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Bannister, (May Faxon) who were married June 28th are spending a few weeks in Asheville, North Carolina. They expect to spend a week or ten days with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Faxon at their summer home on Squirrel Island, Maine before starting home to Quincy. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon from his late home. Services will be held at St. Mary's church at 2 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Reed of Cross street, one of the best known French families in the section, are receiving congratulations on the birth of two husky twins. The father, Dr. A. J. Reed, coincidentally is the fact that a niece of Mr. Reed in the next house gave birth just four months ago to a boy and girl. Dr. Blanchard who was in attendance states that the children are in excellent health.

Mr. Austin L. Johnson of Hall place left Thursday for a three month visit to her birthplace at Prince Edwards Island. This is her first visit home since she left 20 years ago.

John Murphy of Rustic place has returned from Montreal, where he went to meet his brother James from St. Louis. The two brothers parted twenty five years ago and this is the first meeting since that time.

William C. Caldwell attempted to open a window at the Town River Yacht club the night before the Fourth when his hand slipped and went through the glass making a bad cut. He was attended by Dr. W. J. Middleton, who took three stitches.

Mrs. George E. Pfaffman has sold the Shaw estate, corner of Hill and Mount streets, Quincy Point, to George A. Williams, who will occupy. Sale was made through the real estate office of E. M. Freeman & Co.

Miss Isabelle Donahue of Pearl street is enjoying a few days in Holbrook.

William Martin of Water street is spending a few weeks at Nantasket. Miss Mildred Martin of South Quincy is enjoying an extended visit to Nantasket.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. August V. Johnson of Kendrick avenue fell Saturday afternoon and was painfully injured.

Miss Hazel Strathead and Dorothy Johnson of South Braintree are the guests for this week of Misses Lillian Mae and Hazel Bisset of Californian avenue.

The Misses Gertrude and Sadie O'Connor of Lynn are guests of the Misses Kathleen F. and Ellen Cahill, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Cahill of Phillips street.

The engagement is announced of Miss Eva Caroline Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Quincy S. Abbott of Whitman, formerly of Marsh street, Quincy, to James M. Smith of Quincy. Miss Abbott removed to Whitman a short time ago with her parents and has been making her home with her grandparents, Charles W. Porter.

Mr. George Oster and Daniel McLeod of South Quincy returned Friday from the Hotel Belmont, North Harwich, Mass.

Cards have been received from Miss Margaret I. Shirley of Quincy street who is touring the west, accompanied by Miss Pearl Sheldon, Ph. D. of Ithaca, N. Y. Last week they spent five days in Yellowstone Park, and will spend ten days in Alaska. They will also visit Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, Grand Canyon and other cities enroute and will arrive in Kansas city about August eighth. The return trip will be by way of Chicago, Ithaca and New York City. Before returning to Quincy Miss Shirley will be the guest for a week of Misses Lillian Mae and Hazel Bisset of Californian avenue.

The Misses Gertrude and Sadie O'Connor of Lynn are guests of the Misses Kathleen F. and Ellen Cahill, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Cahill of Phillips street.

The engagement is announced of Miss Eva Caroline Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Quincy S. Abbott of Whitman, formerly of Marsh street, Quincy, to James M. Smith of Quincy. Miss Abbott removed to Whitman a short time ago with her parents and has been making her home with her grandparents, Charles W. Porter.

Mr. George Oster and Daniel McLeod of South Quincy returned Friday from the Hotel Belmont, North Harwich, Mass.

Cards have been received from Miss Margaret I. Shirley of Quincy street who is touring the west, accompanied by Miss Pearl Sheldon, Ph. D. of Ithaca, N. Y. Last week they spent five days in Yellowstone Park, and will spend ten days in Alaska. They will also visit Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, Grand Canyon and other cities enroute and will arrive in Kansas city about August eighth. The return trip will be by way of Chicago, Ithaca and New York City. Before returning to Quincy Miss Shirley will be the guest for a week of Misses Lillian Mae and Hazel Bisset of Californian avenue.

The Misses Gertrude and Sadie O'Connor of Lynn are guests of the Misses Kathleen F. and Ellen Cahill, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JULY 10, 1915

WEEKLY	Sun	Full	Sea	Moon
ALMANAC	Rises	Sets	Moon	Eve.
Sat July 10	4:16	7:21	10:00	2:16
Sunday	4:16	7:21	10:00	2:16
Monday	4:17	7:22	11:30	3:20
Tuesday	4:18	7:23	12:15	4:25
Wednesday	4:19	7:24	1:00	5:30
Thursday	4:20	7:25	1:45	6:35
Friday	4:21	7:26	2:30	7:40
New Moon	July 12th	4:31 A. M.

The new water rates appear to be based upon common sense and if they are, as they appear, just and equitable, we should not protest over the slight increases.

Although admitting the value of books of non-fiction upon topics of the day and recognizing that the most of the fiction turned out is not worth the paper it's printed on, yet we suppose the Thomas Crane Public Library ought to have some of the stuff. After all, in these days of circulating libraries and similar institutions a public library has to be up to date. It is rather an unfortunate state of affairs when our public library has bought little or no fiction for the last three or four months. Is the city niggardly or the trustees over-intellectual?

WALKING AND THE WORKER.

The recent United States health bulletin warning the public of the dangers of sedentary lives and urging every one to walk, has led many newspapers to comment very justly on the danger of inactivity. Many women who do housework or work in stores, and men who work in factories, say their daily labor leaves them weary, and they have no energy left for outdoor exercise. Yet many of these tasks require no little physical development. The organs of the body may degenerate almost as much as in the case of the business man who sits in a swivel chair all day.

DANGER OF CHILDREN.

The celebration of Independence Day brought the usual number of false alarms, pulled in by benighted individuals who thus wished to show their independence of all demands of decency, humanity and common sense. There were no accidents in connection with the activity of these brainless maniacs, which is fortunate, but neither were there any arrests in the same connection, which is unfortunate. The police may not be ways in which to enjoy the Fourth without resorting to no dangerous pastime as ringing fire alarms, summoning apparatus whose passage through the streets is always attended with more or less danger to the firemen and bystanders.

Fortunately the apparatus is now motor driven but if the heavy trucks had been drawn through the streets by exhausted horses it would not have dampened the ardor of the false alarm maniacs. Thoughts for others, be it many or few, never enter the craniums of these childish beings. There is only one advantage in the large number of false alarms pulled: it increases the possibility of discovering the identity of the guilty parties and may be hoped that the police will leave no stone unturned to discover and prosecute the offenders and good citizens throughout the city, who chance to know any of the guilty parties should feel it their duty to notify the authorities.

THE NEW LAW.

During the short debate before the City Council Tuesday evening on the order appropriating $4,500 to purchase land for an addition to Houghs Neck school lot, it was stated that under a new law the city may not pay for land for municipal purposes a price that was more than 25 percent in excess of the average assessed valuation for three years previous.

The law in question is known as General Act No. 262 and was signed by the Governor. It is a law which provides in brief that whenever a city takes land for municipal purposes, not already used for public uses, if the price is more than 25 percent higher than the average assessed valuation during the previous three years, land shall not be taken by purchase but by right of eminent domain, shall be paid for in the same manner as land taken for public streets. The act also provides that no land shall be taken until an appropriation for the same has been passed by a two-thirds vote of the city.

The act is an important one and will doubtless mean the saving of thousands of dollars to the City of Quincy in the future. It is a well known fact that the city has been overcharged several times when it has purchased land for school lots. When land was taken for a new school building at Montclair the land assessed at 3 cents and the same was also true in the case of the original lot of land purchased for the school lot at Houghs Neck. Again when land was purchased at South Quincy for the new Adams school building the city paid $8,000 for a lot that was assessed for a sum considerably less than that figure.

In case of the land which the city proposed to take by the order pending before the Council, the price for the $30,000 feet was fifteen cents a foot, although if the city had taken the 60,000 feet as first proposed the price would have been 12 cents a foot.

According to the assessors' books of 1914 this land, owned by John T. Cavanaugh, is assessed in a lump. That is it is assessed as 24 1/2-acre, the valuation being placed at $45,000. It will be readily seen therefore, that the fifteen cents per acre, it is proposed to pay in the future, is considerably more than 25 percent in excess of the average valuation for three years.

CITY COUNCIL.

The dead-lock in the City Council street matters is no nearer solution after the meeting of Tuesday night than it was before. It now looks as though but little if any money would be appropriated this year for street rebuilding. The Mayor returned without his approval of the order passed two weeks ago for street rebuilding and these the Council laid on the table without further action. Later in the evening a recess was taken and there was an informal joint meeting between the finance and street committees to see if the two committees could not get together on street matters, and it was apparent when the council was again called to order that an understanding had been reached.

This idea was borne out when Councilman O'Dowd, chairman of the committee on streets, offered an order calling for an appropriation of $20,000 for building a tar macadam pavement on Independence avenue, Liberty street, Rock Island road, Common street and Willard street. These streets were included in the lunch break by the Mayor and this order was evidently in the nature of a compromise.

Before the order could be accepted it was necessary to suspend Rule 28, which provides that all orders for street rebuilding, etc., involving an appropriation of money received after May 15, shall be referred to the next City Council. After offering the order Councilman O'Dowd moved to suspend the rules.

Councilman Thompson started to argue the order but was called to order by a point of order raised by Councilman Smith that the question was not on the merit of the order but on suspension of the rules. The chair ruled that the order was in appeal from the ruling of the chair. The chair was sustained by a vote of 10 yeas and 8 nays.

Councilman Thompson then said that he had not changed his opinion from the last meeting. He was opposed to the order and would not support it. He said that it should be put in the budget as a matter of principle. Councilman Beeman asked of what use were the rules of the council if they could be amended for every little matter that came up.

The Council then by a vote of 10 yeas and 8 nays refused to suspend the rules and admit the order. It was then referred to the next City Council.

Councilman Smith then had the loan order for $23,700 taken from the table and referred to the joint committee on finance and streets.

The only other matters that created any debate were those in the calendar. The first of these was an order calling for an appropriation of $3,000 for a sea wall at Houghs Neck.

Councilman McGrath spoke at length against the order. He said that it was a precedent to start building a sea wall at this point. The old wall is going to pieces. If it had not been for the wall the embankment would have washed away. It was not necessary to expend $3,000 for a wall. A little more money would have protected the end of Bell street, especially as the city is up against a proposition to harness the water. If the water was allowed full play there would be no wash. If $1,000 of ground was dumped in it would be all that was necessary.

Councilman Beeman replied. "The gentleman evidently forgot that the city owns the piece of land at this point. He also claims a less amount of money. I would not attempt to put my opinion against that of the City Engineer."

Councilman Griffin said "If we are going to do anything let us do it right. If we do not do something we will lose taxable property. A permanent job cannot be done for less money. It would be foolish to dump $1,000 in ground there."

Councilman Craig asked the City Engineer how far $1,000 would go and that gentleman replied about 100 feet. Councilman Craig continuing said that he had visited the place and seen how the street had been washed away and it was up to the city to build a sea wall.

Councilman Slade said that the order was only doing what was also necessary. The street had been washed away and it was up to the city to build a sea wall.

Councilman McGrath claimed that it was because of the wall built on private property that the embankment was washed away. A permanent job cannot be done for less money. It would be foolish to dump $1,000 in ground there."

Councilman Bolster said that he had looked at the place and it was necessary that a wall should be built to protect the property.

Councilman McGrath's amendment to make the amount $1,000 was lost. The date of the bonds was then changed to July 1, and the order passed.

The next order to be debated was that calling for an appropriation of $4,500 for the purchase of land at Houghs Neck school lot.

Councilman McGrath said that there was no hurry about this matter and he moved it be laid on the table. "There are so many matters in sight calling for money it is time to stop. This matter is in no way pressing."

Councilman Ross: "This order has gone through its regular stages and there is no reason why it should be held up now. If the order has no money behind it, it is a waste of time." Councilman Smith: "There is no urgent need of passing the order at this meeting."

Councilman Craig also favored laying on the table.

The motion to lay on the table was voted down. Later this motion was reconsidered and the order was laid on the table.

The business of the council in detail was as follows: Communications were received from the Mayor requesting the transfer of $200 to remove the fountain in City Square and $200 to provide a covering for a part of Sackem brook. Referred to finance committee.

From the Mayor appointing Thomas P. Ferguson a special commissioner to investigate the public water supply. Confirmed.

From the Mayor in reference to a public hearing before the Directors of the Port of Boston on petition of the Port of Boston to dredge Ben's creek. Placed on file.

Applications for minor licenses were referred to the license committee and petitions for pole attachments and re-locations were granted.

Communications were received from the Mayor returning the following orders without his approval:

Tar macadam, Independence avenue. Tar macadam, Liberty street. Tar macadam, Atlantic street. Tar macadam, Rock Island road. Tar macadam, Hall place.

Tar macadam.

Common street. Tar macadam, Willard street. Tar macadam, Badgers lane. Tar macadam, Beale street. His reasons for returning the orders without his approval were as follows: "I herewith return to you order No. 1 without my approval, for the reason that no provision has been made for obtaining the money required for the same."

The question came then on passing the orders notwithstanding the objection of the Mayor.

On motion of Councilman Smith all were laid on the table.

The street committee reported orders establishing a building line on School street, widening School street at the easterly end, widening East Howard street, and changing the line of Howard avenue. All referred to the finance committee.

The Electric Light Co. a location for poles on Coffey street. Ordered to a second reading.

The license committee reported orders granting minor licenses and gasoline licenses. Adopted.

The order requesting the Mayor to forward a supplement budget to provide suitable quarters for the Grand Army was passed.

The order granting the Electric Light Co. a location for poles was passed.

The order appropriating $5,000 for a sea wall at Houghs Neck was passed.

The order appropriating $4,500 for additional land at the Atherton Hough school was laid on the table.

Adjourned at 9:51.

$100,000 BUILDING.

A permit was issued by Inspector of Buildings Thomas Thursday to the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation for the erection of the largest as yet constructed building in Quincy, a building in Quincy for a long time. The proposed building will be erected on East Howard street. Its estimated cost being $400,000. The building will be built of steel, brick and concrete. It will be used as a ship tool and storage shop.

The building will be two stories high and will have a frontage East on Howard street of 779 feet and a depth of 185 feet. The contract for the erection of the building has been awarded to the Abernethy Construction Co., which will commence work immediately.

The fee for a permit for a building of this cost under the present ordinance is but $5. If however the ordinance had been amended in accordance with recommendations of the Inspector of buildings the city would have received a fee of $250.50 for the permit. In justice to the City Council, however, it is but fair to say that this recommendation did not reach the committee on ordinances until just before the Council meeting last Tuesday evening. Under the ordinance as it now stands the fee for a permit for a first class building is $5. The recommendation of the Inspector of buildings is that the fee for a permit for a first class building up to $5,000 be $5 and anything over that shall pay the rate of fifty cents per one thousand dollars cost.

INJURED BY FALL.

Frank Lynch, one of the time keepers at the Fore River shipyard, has a peculiar fall while visiting the Charlestown Navy Yard Wednesday and is now in the Quincy City Hospital suffering from a broken leg. Lynch is having a vacation and while at the Navy yard met Frank J. Duffy, former councilman, who is employed there. While both were walking toward the gate on their way to a car Lynch stepped on a loose stone in the street. The stone rolled from under his shoe and he was thrown to the ground. He made a violent attempt to maintain his balance but was unsuccessful.

On being assisted to his feet he complained of a pain in his back. It became more severe when he reached his home at 12 Franklin place. Dr. J. T. Reynolds was called and ordered his removal to the Quincy City Hospital, in the police ambulance. Lynch is now lying in bed.

Lynch is a well known young man in the neighborhood. He is a prominent member of John Adams aerle, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and at the last meeting was elected vice president to succeed Fred Steinbrener who resigned because he was going out of town for some time.

QUINCY FIRE LOSS.

The statistics as to fire alarms, loss by fire and the per capita loss of all the cities of the Commonwealth which has just been issued, for the year ending May 1915, shows that Quincy stands 10th in the list of 29 cities with a per capita loss of $8.89. Pittsfield heading the list with a per capita loss of $5.93, Salem $4.60, Lynn $4.13 and Boston $4.05. Cities with a smaller per capita loss than Quincy are New Bedford, Everett, Northampton, Cambridge, Malden, Newton, Taunton, Waltham and Lawrence.

Quincy is credited with having had 289 fires during this period and a total loss of $67,950.

Of the total number of fires outside of the City of Boston 497 were in Quincy. The loss by fire in Quincy was $1,181,000, and 181 other than building fires. Of the total number 126 or 25.5 percent were incendiary and 655 were of unknown cause. The largest single cause of all the fires was careless smoking, while the careless use of matches was a close second.

Of the grand total in all of the cities the loss by fire during the period mentioned was $26,194,207.57 and the loss of value of property damaged $21,678,456 with an insurance on the same of $19,582,660. Insurance was paid amounting to $22,362,375.35.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A pretty surprise party was tendered to Mrs. Walter Anderson, a bride of a month, at the home of Miss Mildred Byron, Quincy Avenue, Wednesday evening.

While the young woman was recovering from her surprise Miss Byron presented her with a handsome parlor lamp. A highland fling was given by Misses M. Robertson and Isabelle Main, two well known Scottish dancers. Vocal solos were rendered by Misses Catherine Barrett, Katherine Hurley, Helen Delano, accompanied by Miss Mildred Byron.

Among those present were Misses Catherine Barrett, Isabelle Main, Helen Delano, Katherine Hurley, Nellie Murphy, Lillian Cross, Maud Soutley, Essie Grange, Mae Robertson, Annie Cotter, Hazel Grant, Mary Corcoran and Elizabeth Carney.

Guests from Quincy were: Mr. and Mrs. Eben W. Sheppard, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Drake, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore King, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Prattmann, Fred B. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Doble, Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Faxon, Hon. Russell A. Sears and Mrs. Sears, Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Davis.

HARDWICK-STONE.

Mr. and Mrs. Huntington Reed Hardwick are now on a five days honeymoon trip, after which they will spend a day at Marion, and will then start for the Pacific coast. Mr. and Mrs. Hardwick were married Thursday noon in the magnificent Stone mansion at Marion.

A private train with seven coaches filled with happy guests left Boston at 9:15 A. M. stopping at Quincy, and arriving at Marion's little station soon after eleven. From there the guests were conveyed to Great Hill, four and a half miles away by numerous automobiles.

Several hundred of the guests had already arrived by automobile from Boston, Brookline, the bride's winter home, and various places along the South Shore and Cape.

Although pouring in Boston when the party left, the drop had left at 9:15 A. M. at Marion, but about noon it settled down for a good hard rain. All American guests, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alden, Misses Barbara, Constance, and Eleanor Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edwards, Henry H. Faxon, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, and Miss Nason Lacey, Miss Grace Burke, J. D. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Moirist Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Ellisworth, Mrs. J. F. Welch, Mrs. F. Amherst Welch, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. George G. Saville, Miss Catherine Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Doble, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Rachael Hardwick, Miss Annie and Etta Prescott, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick and Miss Charles H. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JULY 10, 1915

Single Copies 5 Cents.
For Sale at
The Patriot Office, Quincy, City Square.
Brown & Co., Quincy, City Square.
H. P. O'Brien, Quincy, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, Quincy, City Square.
L. A. Cook, Quincy, City Square.
L. H. Smith, Quincy, City Square.
Sprague & Holart, Quincy, City Square.
Shunk's Periodical Store, Wollaston.
Thomas Gurney, Wollaston.
Bransfield & Martens, Wollaston.
Bransfield & Martens, Norfolk Downs.
L. L. Littlefield, Quincy, City Square.
E. H. Doble & Co., West Quincy.
Edward F. Dohan, West Quincy.
Mrs. Lark's Store, Brewer's Corner.
J. J. Hammers, East Milton.
South Terminal Station, Boston.

ST. JOHN'S FIELD DAY.

The annual field day and reunion of St. John's parish opened with a shower but closed in a blaze of glory. A heavy downpour caused an interruption of an hour in the final preparations of the committees, soaked the grass and decorations and rendered the outlook for a while. Old Sol came to the rescue however and by two o'clock the grounds were dry, the decorations reset and the happy gathering entered into the spirit of the occasion. The affair continued until after 10 o'clock.

Fr. M. J. Owens, the pastor, was given a hearty reception by the parishioners and Fr. John J. Casey, who had charge of the general committee, and Fr. Walter A. Quinn, athletic adviser, came in for their share of praise.

The booths were in charge of the various societies of the parish and presided over by their members. Real novelties, fancy and useful articles were sold and persons of all ages qualified for the militia at the shooting gallery. The tables were ranged about the lawn near the parish house and the school yard was turned into an athletic field. There was plenty of entertainment for the people between both fields, including a dancing board, vaudeville through the courtesy of Capt. Geo. A. Wardwell of the Kincaid theatre, truck rides through the courtesy of Burgess and O'Brien, and a play by Frowst's six piece orchestra.

July 20 children participated in the athletic program, in charge of Timothy S. Ford. Many heats were required and it was a case of the survival of the fittest. There were three ball games.

Each of the feature was the game between the Sanctuary Girls of the mission station of St. Joseph's of Quincy Point and the Sodality of the mother parish. The former, through better team work and an inside knowledge of the game were winners by a score of 20 to 2. Only three innings were played, approaching darkness bringing the contest to a sudden close. Marion and Amy Fallon were the winning battery. On their team were Evelyn Moriarty, Eva and Mary Shea, Emma Kelly, Edith Dorley, Lillian and Lucy McCarthy. The Sodality players were Frances Curran, Nellie Desmond, Louise Ford, Mary Foley, Gertrude Mahoney, Mary Crimmins, Clara and Stella Brown, Margaret Sullivan. Several substitutes were also used by the latter.

GIRLS MAKE DOUBLE PLAY.
The star of the game was Marion Fallon, the winning pitcher. She made a brilliant catch in the last inning, relayed the ball to Eva Shea who threw to Mary Shea, which as pretty a double play as the fans could wish.

The St. Johns beat the hitherto undefeated Bigbows 8 to 0. The St. Johns juniors also won, beating the Bigbows of Medford, 10 to 7. The best showing was made by Barry who tripled and cleared the bases for the locals in the third inning. John Kane of Medford umpired and Fr. John J. McMahon, spiritual director of the visitors, coached. The score by innings was: 4 0 2 4 0 0 10 6 11. St. Johns 0 0 4 0 2 7 6 2.

Batteries—Booley and Malloy; B. Costello and McCarthy.

With the evening came the illumination of the grounds. From some points they appeared like a miniature Panama Park. The crowd increased in size and many sales were recorded.

ATHLETIC SUMMARIES.

The committees who had charge of the affair and who were big factors in its success were published in Saturday's Ledger. The athletic summaries follow:

Girls Events.
Three-legged race for 6th grade girls: Bertha Connolly and Cecilia Cronins.

Three-legged race for 7th grade girls: Helen Mattie and Margaret Kane. First grade, Marian Gallagher, Phyllis Donohoe, second.

Second grade, Lillian Waterman, Margaret Murphy, second.

Third grade, Anna Holland.

Fourth and fifth grade, Mary Scully, Margaret DiSeno, second.

Sixth and seventh grade, Cecilia Cronins, Louise Hartley, second.

840 yard dash for girls, Edith Cardelli, Esther Peterson, second.

220 yard dash for girls, Agnes Morrison, Edith Cardelli, second.

Special race for 7 and 8 year old girls, Anna Stevens, Catherine Flaherty, second.

Peasant race for girls, Lillian Beaton, Mabel Beaton, second.

THE NIGHT BEFORE.

Saturday night, the real "Night before the Fourth" was an unusually quiet one in and about the city. Young America evidently saving its enthusiasm for Sunday night. During the evening there were large crowds in front of City square but everything was quiet and orderly. Some youth would now and then let out a blast loud and long from a horn and there was an occasional explosion of firecrackers. As a rule however things were very quiet.

The various clubs in City Square were out on duty in the city kept open house and entertained their members and friends, but midnight saw most of them closed for the night. It was an easy night for the fire department for not a bell alarm was sounded. All of the men of the department were kept on duty in the city, the regular officers being assigned in charge of squads of specials.

Occasionally during Sunday evening there was an outbreak of cannon crackers but it was not until after midnight that the real thing began. Tens of thousands of young men and women marched through the streets blowing horns and exploding firecrackers but they did little damage.

It was 9:45 Sunday night when the first bell alarm of fire was sounded from box 58 situated at the corner of Adams and Beale streets and the recall followed in a few minutes. Again at 9:50 an alarm was sounded from box 41 and this also followed by a recall in a few minutes. From then on until Monday morning there was almost a constant ringing of the fire alarm bells.

First one alarm would sound from the north part of the city, only to be followed by an alarm from the south part of the city, then came an alarm from Squantum, and a little later one from South Quincy. All of these alarms were followed in a few minutes after sounding by the recall. Chief Higgins and the Central Station Auto chemical answered all bell alarms and they were kept on the jump.

It is fortunate indeed that it was not in the old days when all apparatus was drawn by horses for it would have been a hard night for them. The last bell alarm of the night sounded at 1:10 Monday morning. This was the only fire of the night and was confined to a mattress in a house on Bell street, Houghs Neck, the damage being very slight.

The bell alarm of Sunday July 5, Monday July 5.

JULY FOURTH.
Box 11, 9:59 P. M. False Alarm.
Box 41, 9:59 P. M. False Alarm.

JULY FIFTH.
Box 67, 12:05 A. M. False Alarm.
Box 82, 2:05 A. M. False Alarm.
Box 67, 2:25 A. M. False Alarm.
Box 615, 2:45 A. M. False Alarm.
Box 17, 3 A. M. False Alarm.

Box 82, 3:47 A. M. False Alarm.
Box 16, 4:10 A. M. Mattress, Bell street, Houghs Neck.

The members of the fire department were given a rest Monday after a strenuous night of answering false alarms, for but one alarm was sounded during the day. This alarm was sounded from box 67 at 7:57 Monday evening and was a false alarm.

The last child call was sounded from box 116 at 6:42 Monday afternoon to summon help to search for Carl Bausald, a 4-year old Boston boy who was missing from 115 River street where he had been visiting during the day. The lad was found shortly after the alarm, on Great Hill.

BIG CELEBRATION AT POINT.
A crowd numbering several thousands gathered at the foot of the street shortly before midnight Sunday night to see the Town River Yacht club start its July Fourth celebration with a huge bonfire. The immense pile of old boxes, barrels and other inflammable material was built up into a pyramid about 20 feet high. It was intended to have the bonfire located on an island in the Town river but owing to the high tides this was changed and the mass of all material which Young America had been collecting for weeks was piled on what is known as the old Edwards wharf at the foot of the river.

Mayor Campbell arrived on the scene shortly before midnight and about the same time the club house of the Town River yacht club, which had been thronged with members and guests all of the evening, became deserted as the members and guests left the crowd which had gathered an every vantage point.

It was only a few minutes after midnight when Mayor Campbell applied the match and a few minutes later a flame shot heavenward. About the same time the sound of exploding cannon crackers rent the air and the bells and whistles of the fire alarm system began to strike out for 45 minutes.

Chief Higgins, who was on hand to see the bonfire, made a hastily exit, but the crowd had more interest in the bonfire at that time than any possible race in the Atlantic section. The Yacht club house remained open all night.

MONTCLAIR CELEBRATION.

The Montclair and Bellevue sections of the city observed the Fourth of July by holding a community picnic. The day opened at quarter to eight o'clock by the Call to Colors given on the barge by E. W. McGlen, of Ashmont after which a large new American flag was raised over the club house. Joseph McCabe, president of the Montclair Improvement society, was the orator of the day.

There were two base ball games in Hollbrook's field, opposite the Montclair school. The first game was between the Montclair and the Wollaston teams, the Old Timers vs. Yesterdays. The score was 12 to 4 in favor of the Old Timers. The boy's game between the Superbas and the Nonpareils was played with much snap and finished with a score of 11 to 2. Henry Whalen, playing for the Superbas, was unusually good.

The 50 yard dash for boys under eight was won by Edward Hooley. The winner of the 100 feet dash for girls under eight was won by Christine Ross. Edward Shannon won the 50 yard dash for boys under twelve. Elizabeth Melanson 50 yard dash for girls under twelve, Kenneth Briggs for the 100 yards dash for boys over twelve.

An amusing pie eating contest took place in which the boys with their hands tied behind their backs were required to eat a blueberry pie. A good part of the pies were left on the faces of the contestants. Hilton Horne was the winner of this contest.

AT THE POINT.

A ball game between the Wasecas and the Bigelows opened the land sports program on the Ward Two playground. In the fourth inning a violent rain storm burst into the schedule. The game will be replayed today.

Councilman Bert Williams was official umpire. All respected his size and he was able to keep back everything but the rain. Several close decisions were made, all base decisions being made on the spot, not from the box.

In the afternoon there were both land and water sports. Hundreds saw the contests. The fireworks in the evening drew several thousands. The display while not expensive was a treat. They were set off from a float in the river. One of the set pieces, an American flag was a beauty. Music during the celebration was by the Starline.

The key of the club house, thrown into the river when the bon fire was lighted, was fished out at midnight, after the orchestra which furnished the music for dancing had gone home. Open house was observed throughout the night. Fully 50,000 people were carried out in the 24 hours. Program carried out in the 24 hours. There were no accidents and but one arrest.

Moving pictures of the sports were taken by Capt. Wardwell of the Kincaid theatre. The feature event was the pie eating contest with 20 boys, having for the prize, digits into the halves of blue berry pies, and getting smeared in the process. The result of the sports follows:

50 yard dash for boys—Ralph Barclay, Joseph Ryan, second.
50 yard dash for girls—Marion Peterson, Mildred Jones second.

Half mile run for boys—John Gallagher, Sidney White second.
220 yards dash for girls—Marion Peterson, Mildred Jones second.

Three-legged race for boys—James Murdock, Fred Gibb and Edward Bar second.
Potato race for girls—Mildred Jones, Jessie Marr and Marion Dunn for second.

Pie-eating contest—Won by Gustav Westa, George Haley second.
Following these sports there was a series of water sports in Town River off the yacht club house.

The banks of the river were lined with interested spectators and the event proved to be among the best of the day. The various sports resulted as follows:

Canoes race, doubles—Harold Hayden and Walter Mead. Misses Erna Schlenker and Edith McCredy second.
Ladies' rowing race—Miss Catherine Leung, Miss Ruth Hass second.

Boys' rowing race (using shoals for oars)—Austin Souther, H. N. McKenzie second.
100 yards swim for men—Walter Rehn, William Moore second. Harold Hayden third.

Boys' rowing race—George Bass, Henry Goodwin second, Floyd McDonald third.
Tub race—Robert Barrows, Floyd McDonald second.

Half mile swimming race for men—Walter Rehn, Robert Greer second.
Girls' swimming race—Ruth Hass, Nina Sherriff second.

Boys' swimming race—John Lyons, Edwin Anderson second.
Greased pole contest—Won by Paul Johnson.

Tilting match—Miss Edith McCredy, Henry Leff second.
There was also a series of power boat races as follows:

BANG AND GO BACK.
Name and Owner El Time
Venus, William Irvine 0 45.19
Sadie, W. H. Packard 0 20.15

SPECIAL RACE.
Onward, J. Wrightson, 1 10.00
K. T. F. Artis, 1 11.14
Sadie, Allan McGeechie, 1 12.15

There was also a race for the Melton cup but because of some misunderstanding about the start, it was agreed to resell the race Saturday.

The arrangements were in charge of a committee consisting of Joseph Caruthers president, W. C. Luther secretary, George H. Jacques treasurer, H. R. Holmes, Allan McGeechie, W. C. Newcomb and William Caldwell, who were new subcommittees were headed as follows: Athletic committee, William H. Flynn; regatta committee, Thompson B. Crane; bonfire, Joseph W. Pined; program, Councilman Charles B. Sullivan; children's committee, Rev. Stephen C. Lang and members of the Quincy Women's Riverside club; fireworks committee, George H. Jacques; water sports, James Brooks; reception, Joseph Caruthers; house committee, W. C. Caldwell assisted by Joseph Foster and Mrs. Arnold and Mrs. McGilvray of the Women's Riverside club.

COUNTY TENNIS MATCH.
A tennis match for the Norfolk County Championship in doubles was held under the auspices of the Wollaston Tennis club July Fourth at the courts of the club on Beale street. The summary:

FIRST ROUND.
R. M. Currier and Page, beat Dearborn and Underwood, 6-1, 6-4.
Davenport and Lawton, beat Cheney and Martin, 6-3, 6-1.

Albee and Simpson, beat Seagley and Field, 3-6, 10-8, 6-4.
Gray and Wales, beat Bates and Emmitt, 6-3, 6-1.

Chase and Johnson beat Litchfield and Geddis by default.

SECOND ROUND.
Barker and Brown beat Currier and Page, 6-4, 8-10, 9-7.
Davenport and Lawton beat Albee and Simpson, 6-1, 6-3.

Gray and Wales, beat Chase and Johnson, 6-3, 6-2, 6-1.
Davis and Taylor beat Hall and Moore, 7-5, 6-3.

SEMI FINALS.
Davenport and Lawton beat Barker and Brown, 6-1, 6-3.
Gray and Wales beat Davis and Taylor, 6-1, 6-3.

The finals will be played later in the month.

MUST HAVE LICENSE.
Letters have been sent from Commissioner O'Keefe to the heads of fire departments and oil companies in the Metropolitan Fire District, calling attention to the regulation that after Aug. 1, gasoline, naphtha and benzene can not be sold except for domestic use to any person who has not received a license to keep and use such oils. It is reported that the rule will be strictly enforced.

AT SQUAMTUM.

Squamtum had its greatest celebration of the Fourth of July and enjoyed every minute of the day in spite of intermittent showers. Fully 2000 people took part in the day's events that began with a fire at 2 A. M. and did not wind up until close to midnight.

The affair was in charge of the Squantum Improvement association and the excellent way the events were conducted was a fine testimonial to the activity of this live organization.

Former President William N. Kenyon and an able committee saw that there was not a dull moment for man, woman or child. It was "open house" with the raising of the bonfire, the fireworks in the evening drew several thousands. The display while not expensive was a treat. They were set off from a float in the river. One of the set pieces, an American flag was a beauty. Music during the celebration was by the Starline.

Twice during the early hours of the morning the Quincy firemen made the long run to Squantum. The first was a fire in the new boat shed, which was ordered near the beach. It was a needless alarm and the firemen hurried back to their stations. At 4 A. M. came a second call and this proved a false alarm the box being rung by some out-of-town celebrators.

A full list of those in the parade will be printed Wednesday.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The start was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

The parade was made at half past five and the parade was a big feature of the day. It was scheduled to start at 5:15 but was held up waiting for the late ones.

WOLLASTON YACHT RACE.

It was an ideal day for yacht racing Saturday and as a result the annual open race under the auspices of the Wollaston Yacht club was a great success. A fleet of fifty boats participated and the race was sailed without a protest or accident of any kind.

The race was under the rules of the Yacht Racing Union of Massachusetts in an easterly breeze that at times was light but which freshened toward the end giving the boats a chance to carry full sail in comfort. The course was a triangular one and the first leg had hardly been covered when the breeze freshened so that unusually good time was made over the last two legs.

In class A the Taro secured the gun while the fast Areyeto of Eleanor P. Drew of the Squantum club secured second position.

In class 1 the Louise of A. E. Whittemore of the Quincy club carried off the honors. In the sander class the old Quincy cup defender Harpoon could not do any better than fourth position.

The Taro finished first in class N, Sinterin, in class B, Winona in class H, Wavenock in class S and Vixen in the Winthrop and Hingham one design class.

Class D was made up entirely of yachts of the Quincy yacht club. The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

The three old rivals, Dartwell, Clara and Amdur, finished in that order. In Saturday's race however the Dolly 111, was the first to finish and she also won on corrected time with the Iris of ex-Commodore Frank Fessenden. Clara a good second.

WATER RATES.

The result of the work of the special committee of the City Council, appointed Jan. 18, to act with the Mayor in investigating the water department of the city will be made apparent to consumers when they receive their bills and the first leg had hardly been covered when the breeze freshened so that unusually good time was made over the last two legs.

The result of the work of the special committee of the City Council, appointed Jan. 18, to act with the Mayor in investigating the water department of the city will be made apparent to consumers when they receive their bills and the first leg had hardly been covered when the breeze freshened so that unusually good time was made over the last two legs.

The result of the work of the special committee of the City Council, appointed Jan. 18, to act with the Mayor in investigating the water department of the city will be made apparent to consumers

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JULY 17, 1915

NARROW ESCAPE.

Donald and George Carmichael, summer residents at Racoon Island, narrowly escaped serious injury Tuesday evening when they were thrown from a motorcycle which was in collision with an automobile driven by Jacob Grossman.

The accident occurred shortly before six o'clock at Coddington and Newcomb streets. The Carmichaels were travelling in the direction of Hough Neck and Grossman was about to cross Coddington street and continue along to Woodward avenue. A grain train owned by C. H. and G. W. Nightingale and driven by James McNaughton was coming up Coddington street, toward City square.

The Carmichaels and Grossman, because of the open corner saw each other. The former turned to the left to pass in front of the auto, the latter turned to the right to give them as much room as possible. The motorcycle was driven a short distance when it was turned to avoid the train and the collision took place.

The Carmichaels were thrown, Donald under the team and George to the street. He was under the auto when it was stopped. The machine was carried across the street by its momentum, although the brakes were applied. It was stopped when it struck the curb on the northerly side of Coddington street.

The crash when the machines came together was plainly heard throughout the vicinity and over a score of residents were drawn to the scene. Several went to the assistance of the Carmichaels, among them Patrolman Jeremiah Connolly who was passing.

He accepted the offer of an autoist and took both men to the Quincy City Hospital where it was found they suffered no broken bones but had multiple bruises about the body.

The police ambulance, which had been summoned by telephone, was an exceptionally quick run. They arrived just after the injured men had been taken away. Among the doctors who were on the scene just after the accident was Dr. H. E. Diehl of the Board of Health.

The motorcycle was damaged, and was taken to police headquarters. In the ambulance, The Grossman machine was not damaged but the air was forced out of one of the front tires when it struck the curb. Nightingale's horse was cut about the legs where it was struck by the motorcycle.

Mrs. Herbert Pratt and Miss Jessie Pratt, who live on Coddington street were in the yard and saw the accident, and other neighbors also saw the affair. All agreed that both machines had been operated in an attempt to avoid the horse and that the team had not been in the way.

ROBBERIES SPREAD DISEASE.

That the migratory habits of rodents have a bearing upon the spread of disease is not generally known, but the United States Public Health Service, as a result of experiments conducted in plague epidemic work at New Orleans, asserts that such is the case. This is but another illustration that the field of preventive medicine is especially broad, and that there is more to be thoroughly familiar with the life history and habits of flies, mosquitoes, ticks, and even rodents.

Several hundred captured rats were marked for purposes of identification by having their ears punched, care being taken to render them conspicuous, as fellow rodents were relentless warfare upon those which appear different from their kind. They were then released in the heart of the city, and allowed to shift for themselves. Trapping was carried on in all sections, and each rat was labeled as to the locality caught. Every quarter of the rats made widespread excursions, that is they were recaptured at points from one to four miles from where they were liberated.

The hot evening Tuesday resulted in a large attendance at the weekly hop of the Quincy Yacht club. It was held on the lawn at the rear of the club house, a welcome change from the hot air which prevailed in the city proper. The evening was an unusually enjoyable one to the participants.

Quincy men were arraigned in the Dorchester district court Wednesday on a visit to relatives in Biddeford. The case against John Smith of 28 Newbury street was placed on file. Gustave E. Carlson of 125 Huckle street was fined $5 for auto speeding.

The Board of Trade has issued a notice to its members stating that the excursion will take place July 28. A special steamer will leave the Yacht club floats at 2:15 sharp and a short run taken to the lower harbor where fishing will be tried. Prizes will be given to the most successful fishermen. A landing will then be made at Bass Point for dinner.

A despatch from Biddeford, Me., reports that Omer LeClair of Quincy, while driving a small runabout on Main street, Wednesday, came into collision with an electric car. The auto was damaged somewhat but LeClair escaped injury. Mr. LeClair lives at 102 Copeland street.

Miss Lottie Benson of Quincy Point and Myles Haves of West Quincy are to be married within a few weeks. Miss Benson has been one of the waitresses at the Thompson Cafe for some time and is popular with its patrons. A few days ago her associate, who was Miss Pearl Graham, became the bride of Joseph Curtis Gonzales who is connected with the Argentine commission at the Fore River shipyard.

Mr. Haves is a motorman on the Quincy State street railway and has a large circle of friends.

Ex-Mayor Russell A. Sears, general attorney of the Boston Elevated Railway, entertained some 80 employees of his department as well as a number of the officials of the railway company Thursday afternoon at his home on Glendale road. Gen. William A. Bancroft, president of the company and Mrs. Bancroft, were among the guests. During the afternoon there were various sports on the lawn including a tennis match. One of the most interesting features of the afternoon was a watermelon eating contest, between two colored porters of the company. The prize was left for home dinner was served on the lawn.

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

More than one hundred business men have now enrolled for the military training camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., to be conducted by the United States Army from Aug. 10 to Sept. 4. These business and professional men will qualify themselves for commissions in case the country's needs call for the raising of a volunteer army. Among the latest to be enrolled are the following: Robert Haylock, Harvard '10, Carleton R. Richmond, Harvard '09.

BRIEFS

Deputy Sheriff George H. Field is in Maine for a few days trout fishing. C. H. Banner of Chestnut street is ill at his home.

Perley Belcher and family of Abington are visiting friends in Quincy. Mr. and Mrs. Max Cutler and John Berman are at Nantasket beach for the summer.

There was a good attendance Thursday evening at the weekly whist party of the Quincy Yacht club.

Miss M. Lizzie Fernald of Washington street entertained guests from Wellesey the past week.

Mrs. Charles A. French and family of Washington street are spending the week at Monponsett.

Miss Bertha Bell of Upland road has returned from a delightful visit at Biddeford, Me.

The Edward E. Millers of Bigelow street are spending the month of July at Marion.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Schulze of Park lane have gone to Cincinnati for a visit to their former home.

Misses Gertrude and Oliver Rogers of Hancock street have been in Lynn for a few days visit with relatives.

City Clerk Crane is busy revising the voting lists from the assessors' poll list for 1915.

Mrs. F. Ambler Welch of 1662 Hancock street is spending Thursday for the Mrs. of Shoals, where the Unitarian conference is in progress.

Stephen Riley of 111 Cranich street was taken to the Quincy City Hospital Thursday, suffering from an acute attack of appendicitis.

Miss Elizabeth Wheeler of Bridgeport, formerly of Quincy, is visiting Miss Beatrice M. Johnson of Maple street.

Mrs. Leonard C. Hewson of Newcomb place is entertaining her mother Mrs. Sarah White of Hanover Four Corners.

George W. Warren, a salesman at Remick Bros. store, is about to pay his folks a two weeks visit at the home in Livermore Falls, Maine.

"The Pyramids" of Dorchester will entertain Representative Joseph McGath and a party of friends at their cottage in Hough Neck Sunday.

Friends of Joseph Otis of Rawson road were glad this week to notice that he was able to be out again after an illness which has confined him for a number of weeks to the house.

Miss Althea Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Gould of Adams street, is at New Haven, Conn., for the summer, the guest of her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gould.

Mrs. Thomas C. Hewson of Newcomb place is at the hospital in Plantin Island, Scituate, where she is recovering from injuries recently suffered.

Eleanor Rich, grand-daughter of Mrs. Effie L. Rhines met with a painful accident. In a fall caused by the slipping of a rug little Eleanor suffered a fracture of the left arm, above the elbow.

Wednesday evening the Thistle club Miss Florence Williams, president, to the number of fifty went to Nantasket by special car. Dinner was served at the park after which the party enjoyed the show returning home in the late evening.

Mrs. Rose A. Reid, district deputy grand protector, and suite of Maple lodge, accompanied by several members, will be the special guests of Silsby lodge of Brockton on Tuesday evening. They will be accompanied by many of the lodge members.

Mary, the five year old daughter of Mrs. Mary Cryder of Dyer street, was bitten by a dog owned by Capt. Nils Olsen of Dyer street Wednesday evening. The dog is a handsome collie. The child screamed with fright when bitten. She was treated by Dr. C. J. Lynch.

The hot evening Tuesday resulted in a large attendance at the weekly hop of the Quincy Yacht club. It was held on the lawn at the rear of the club house, a welcome change from the hot air which prevailed in the city proper. The evening was an unusually enjoyable one to the participants.

Quincy men were arraigned in the Dorchester district court Wednesday on a visit to relatives in Biddeford. The case against John Smith of 28 Newbury street was placed on file. Gustave E. Carlson of 125 Huckle street was fined $5 for auto speeding.

The Board of Trade has issued a notice to its members stating that the excursion will take place July 28. A special steamer will leave the Yacht club floats at 2:15 sharp and a short run taken to the lower harbor where fishing will be tried. Prizes will be given to the most successful fishermen. A landing will then be made at Bass Point for dinner.

A despatch from Biddeford, Me., reports that Omer LeClair of Quincy, while driving a small runabout on Main street, Wednesday, came into collision with an electric car. The auto was damaged somewhat but LeClair escaped injury. Mr. LeClair lives at 102 Copeland street.

Miss Lottie Benson of Quincy Point and Myles Haves of West Quincy are to be married within a few weeks. Miss Benson has been one of the waitresses at the Thompson Cafe for some time and is popular with its patrons. A few days ago her associate, who was Miss Pearl Graham, became the bride of Joseph Curtis Gonzales who is connected with the Argentine commission at the Fore River shipyard.

Mr. Haves is a motorman on the Quincy State street railway and has a large circle of friends.

Ex-Mayor Russell A. Sears, general attorney of the Boston Elevated Railway, entertained some 80 employees of his department as well as a number of the officials of the railway company Thursday afternoon at his home on Glendale road. Gen. William A. Bancroft, president of the company and Mrs. Bancroft, were among the guests. During the afternoon there were various sports on the lawn including a tennis match. One of the most interesting features of the afternoon was a watermelon eating contest, between two colored porters of the company. The prize was left for home dinner was served on the lawn.

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

More than one hundred business men have now enrolled for the military training camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., to be conducted by the United States Army from Aug. 10 to Sept. 4. These business and professional men will qualify themselves for commissions in case the country's needs call for the raising of a volunteer army. Among the latest to be enrolled are the following: Robert Haylock, Harvard '10, Carleton R. Richmond, Harvard '09.

BRIEFS

Major F. E. Jones of the 5th regiment, who has been at West Point with the officers of the state militia, returned Monday morning.

President Whitton of the City Council and family go to Chatham the first of August for the month.

Mrs. Woodward of Elm avenue on Friday entertained the Current Events club of Wollaston at whist.

The Industrial Accident Board will hold a hearing at City Hall July 20, in the matter of Joseph Lemieux and the Birnie & Diack granite company.

Misses Margaret C. Mack, Julia Fitzgerald, May Driscoll and Edith Barry, operators at the local telephone exchange, are enjoying their vacations.

Harold Smith is entertaining his mother, Mrs. W. A. Smith of North Easton, at his cottage at Hough Neck.

Mrs. Joseph L. Whiton, mother of President Whitton of the City Council, moved this week from Lincoln place to the Buckingham house on Whitney road.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Schulze of Park lane have gone to Cincinnati for a visit to their former home.

Misses Gertrude and Oliver Rogers of Hancock street have been in Lynn for a few days visit with relatives.

City Clerk Crane is busy revising the voting lists from the assessors' poll list for 1915.

Mrs. F. Ambler Welch of 1662 Hancock street is spending Thursday for the Mrs. of Shoals, where the Unitarian conference is in progress.

Stephen Riley of 111 Cranich street was taken to the Quincy City Hospital Thursday, suffering from an acute attack of appendicitis.

Miss Elizabeth Wheeler of Bridgeport, formerly of Quincy, is visiting Miss Beatrice M. Johnson of Maple street.

Mrs. Leonard C. Hewson of Newcomb place is entertaining her mother Mrs. Sarah White of Hanover Four Corners.

George W. Warren, a salesman at Remick Bros. store, is about to pay his folks a two weeks visit at the home in Livermore Falls, Maine.

"The Pyramids" of Dorchester will entertain Representative Joseph McGath and a party of friends at their cottage in Hough Neck Sunday.

Friends of Joseph Otis of Rawson road were glad this week to notice that he was able to be out again after an illness which has confined him for a number of weeks to the house.

Miss Althea Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Gould of Adams street, is at New Haven, Conn., for the summer, the guest of her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gould.

Mrs. Thomas C. Hewson of Newcomb place is at the hospital in Plantin Island, Scituate, where she is recovering from injuries recently suffered.

Eleanor Rich, grand-daughter of Mrs. Effie L. Rhines met with a painful accident. In a fall caused by the slipping of a rug little Eleanor suffered a fracture of the left arm, above the elbow.

Wednesday evening the Thistle club Miss Florence Williams, president, to the number of fifty went to Nantasket by special car. Dinner was served at the park after which the party enjoyed the show returning home in the late evening.

Mrs. Rose A. Reid, district deputy grand protector, and suite of Maple lodge, accompanied by several members, will be the special guests of Silsby lodge of Brockton on Tuesday evening. They will be accompanied by many of the lodge members.

Mary, the five year old daughter of Mrs. Mary Cryder of Dyer street, was bitten by a dog owned by Capt. Nils Olsen of Dyer street Wednesday evening. The dog is a handsome collie. The child screamed with fright when bitten. She was treated by Dr. C. J. Lynch.

The hot evening Tuesday resulted in a large attendance at the weekly hop of the Quincy Yacht club. It was held on the lawn at the rear of the club house, a welcome change from the hot air which prevailed in the city proper. The evening was an unusually enjoyable one to the participants.

Quincy men were arraigned in the Dorchester district court Wednesday on a visit to relatives in Biddeford. The case against John Smith of 28 Newbury street was placed on file. Gustave E. Carlson of 125 Huckle street was fined $5 for auto speeding.

The Board of Trade has issued a notice to its members stating that the excursion will take place July 28. A special steamer will leave the Yacht club floats at 2:15 sharp and a short run taken to the lower harbor where fishing will be tried. Prizes will be given to the most successful fishermen. A landing will then be made at Bass Point for dinner.

A despatch from Biddeford, Me., reports that Omer LeClair of Quincy, while driving a small runabout on Main street, Wednesday, came into collision with an electric car. The auto was damaged somewhat but LeClair escaped injury. Mr. LeClair lives at 102 Copeland street.

Miss Lottie Benson of Quincy Point and Myles Haves of West Quincy are to be married within a few weeks. Miss Benson has been one of the waitresses at the Thompson Cafe for some time and is popular with its patrons. A few days ago her associate, who was Miss Pearl Graham, became the bride of Joseph Curtis Gonzales who is connected with the Argentine commission at the Fore River shipyard.

Mr. Haves is a motorman on the Quincy State street railway and has a large circle of friends.

Ex-Mayor Russell A. Sears, general attorney of the Boston Elevated Railway, entertained some 80 employees of his department as well as a number of the officials of the railway company Thursday afternoon at his home on Glendale road. Gen. William A. Bancroft, president of the company and Mrs. Bancroft, were among the guests. During the afternoon there were various sports on the lawn including a tennis match. One of the most interesting features of the afternoon was a watermelon eating contest, between two colored porters of the company. The prize was left for home dinner was served on the lawn.

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

More than one hundred business men have now enrolled for the military training camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., to be conducted by the United States Army from Aug. 10 to Sept. 4. These business and professional men will qualify themselves for commissions in case the country's needs call for the raising of a volunteer army. Among the latest to be enrolled are the following: Robert Haylock, Harvard '10, Carleton R. Richmond, Harvard '09.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Dr. and Mrs. Dawes of Beach street together with a party of six left today on a two weeks yachting cruise in Dr. Dawes new yacht.

Vice Commodore Quincy Lathrop of the Wollaston Yacht club and Mrs. Lathrop are enjoying a vacation at Bristol, New Hampshire.

Mrs. Charles Chapin of Bromfield, and Miss Eleanor Campbell of New Rochelle, New York, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Sanford of Rawson road.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hall of Mulholland street have returned from a visit at Chatham.

Mrs. Charles Stearns and Miss Emma Stearns of Greenwood have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. William D. MacKenzie of Rawson road.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gorham and family of Green street are at North Weymouth where they are occupying a cottage on Parnell street, Fort Point, for the season.

Lester Peabody of Manchester, N. H., is the guest of Mrs. F. W. Loring and Lawrence Loring of Willow street for a few days.

Mrs. L. C. Moody of Waterbury, Vermont who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chapin of Bromfield, returned to her home Thursday.

Miss Louise Slocum of Morrisville, Vermont is to be the guest of her sister Mrs. Charles Chapin for several weeks.

Mrs. Mary Britton of Keene, New Hampshire, and daughter Dorothy have been recent guests of the Misses Crough of Arnold street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Reinhalter of Newton are guests of their son Emil Reinhalter of Sachem street.

Mrs. Samuel Blaisdell of Boston, Justin McCarthy, Algonquin McCarthy and Arthur McCarthy of Newton have been visiting Mrs. Warren L. Stanton of the "Sandwich."

Miss May Smith of Roxbury has been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shay at their summer cottage at Wollaston beach.

Mrs. Charles Richardson, Mrs. Irving, Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. Weeks are to entertain the ladies of the Wollaston Guild of the Park and Downs church on Tuesday at the Wollaston Yacht club.

The next ceremonial meeting of the Sachem Campfire girls will be held Tuesday afternoon at the home of the guardian Mrs. James Christie of Bromfield street. The girls recently enjoyed a pleasant like to the Blue hills. Because of so many of the girls being away during August there will be only social gatherings at the home of Mrs. Christie.

Miss May Smith of Roxbury has been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shay at their summer cottage at Wollaston beach.

Mrs. Charles Richardson, Mrs. Irving, Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. Weeks are to entertain the ladies of the Wollaston Guild of the Park and Downs church on Tuesday at the Wollaston Yacht club.

The next ceremonial meeting of the Sachem Campfire girls will be held Tuesday afternoon at the home of the guardian Mrs. James Christie of Bromfield street. The girls recently enjoyed a pleasant like to the Blue hills. Because of so many of the girls being away during August there will be only social gatherings at the home of Mrs. Christie.

Miss May Smith of Roxbury has been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shay at their summer cottage at Wollaston beach.

Mrs. Charles Richardson, Mrs. Irving, Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. Weeks are to entertain the ladies of the Wollaston Guild of the Park and Downs church on Tuesday at the Wollaston Yacht club.

The next ceremonial meeting of the Sachem Campfire girls will be held Tuesday afternoon at the home of the guardian Mrs. James Christie of Bromfield street. The girls recently enjoyed a pleasant like to the Blue hills. Because of so many of the girls being away during August there will be only social gatherings at the home of Mrs. Christie.

Miss May Smith of Roxbury has been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shay at their summer cottage at Wollaston beach.

Mrs. Charles Richardson, Mrs. Irving, Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. Weeks are to entertain the ladies of the Wollaston Guild of the Park and Downs church on Tuesday at the Wollaston Yacht club.

The next ceremonial meeting of the Sachem Campfire girls will be held Tuesday afternoon at the home of the guardian Mrs. James Christie of Bromfield street. The girls recently enjoyed a pleasant like to the Blue hills. Because of so many of the girls being away during August there will be only social gatherings at the home of Mrs. Christie.

Miss May Smith of Roxbury has been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shay at their summer cottage at Wollaston beach.

Mrs. Charles Richardson, Mrs. Irving, Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. Weeks are to entertain the ladies of the Wollaston Guild of the Park and Downs church on Tuesday at the Wollaston Yacht club.

The next ceremonial meeting of the Sachem Campfire girls will be held Tuesday afternoon at the home of the guardian Mrs. James Christie of Bromfield street. The girls recently enjoyed a pleasant like to the Blue hills. Because of so many of the girls being away during August there will be only social gatherings at the home of Mrs. Christie.

Miss May Smith of Roxbury has been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shay at their summer cottage at Wollaston beach.

Mrs. Charles Richardson, Mrs. Irving, Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. Weeks are to entertain the ladies of the Wollaston Guild of the Park and Downs church on Tuesday at the Wollaston Yacht club.

The next ceremonial meeting of the Sachem Campfire girls will be held Tuesday afternoon at the home of the guardian Mrs. James Christie of Bromfield street. The girls recently enjoyed a pleasant like to the Blue hills. Because of so many of the girls being away during August there will be only social gatherings at the home of Mrs. Christie.

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

More than one hundred business men have now enrolled for the military training camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., to be conducted by the United States Army from Aug. 10 to Sept. 4. These business and professional men will qualify themselves for commissions in case the country's needs call for the raising of a volunteer army. Among the latest to be enrolled are the following: Robert Haylock, Harvard '10, Carleton R. Richmond, Harvard '09.

WEST QUINCY

Frank Zenl, the Austrian who was before the district court a month ago charged with sending black hand letters to his Italian father-in-law, John Corolla of West Quincy, was sent to police headquarters Saturday evening and was immediately taken to the Charles Insane Hospital for observation. He was taken over by auto and his custodians said he appeared to have enjoyed the ride as much as anyone.

Frank Collins of Larry place has returned from a short vacation at Nantasket.

Nicholas Reinhalter of Bunker Hill avenue is enjoying his vacation at Monponsett.

Joseph Hart and family of Boston have taken up their residence in the Hart homestead on Willard street.

Wendell Haines of Rockdale is spending his annual vacation with his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Owens of Willard street.

Miss Augusta E. Doll, of Willard street, a teacher at the Gridley Bryant school, spent the week end at the Rockland House, Nantasket.

Charles Stearns and McNeil of New York are enjoying a short vacation as the guests of their grandmother, Mrs. James Donovan of West street.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis H. Germany of Hall place entertained Mrs. L. M. Kenison, Mrs. Helen Bonham, Mrs. H. H. Parmenter and Mrs. Lester Pratt of Rockland, over the week end.

More than four hundred members of the St. Mary's Holy Name society attended the regular quarterly communion of the society at the eight o'clock mass at St. Mary's church.

The spiritual director of the society, during the services hymns were sung by the entire body of the society.

The granite drinking fountain for several years located at the junction of Granite and Copeland streets, near the corner, was removed Monday and now ornaments the grounds about the city stables. There was a time when these public drinking fountains were much in use by man and beast.

The cattle commission have forbidden the use of fountains for animals. The fountain of health has been found in human beings to quench their thirst at public fountains. The big fountain in City square will probably be the next to go.

Plans are under way for a lawn party to be held by the Hall Place M. E. church some time in August. Each organization of the church will be represented.

John Mcintosh and John McCormick of West Quincy are leaving this week for Provincetown where they will spend a month.

Miss Ada Smith of Melrose is spending a ten days vacation with Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Stewart of Cross street, after which she will go to Maine.

Miss Annie E. Rose and the Misses Ethel and Helen Schools of 72 Centre street have gone to Chocomaque Island, Me., where they will spend their vacation.

Misses Margaret C. Mack, Julia Fitzgerald, May Driscoll and Edith Barry, operators at the local telephone exchange, are enjoying their vacations.

Miss Josephine Donovan is spending the week with her parents on Perkins road Lyons of Barry street is enjoying a short vacation.

The Misses Margaret and Esther Knight of Quarry street, West Quincy are summering at York Harbor, Me.

Mrs. Nicholas Timmerman of Jamaica Plain is the guest of Mrs. Caroline Smith of Willard street.

Cards have been received from Richard and Ash of Copeland street and Mitchell Martin of Rustic place who are enjoying a two weeks' vacation at Portland, Maine.

Bernard Shaw of Tampa, Florida has been a guest for a few days of Mrs. Carl E. Holmes of Kendrick avenue.

Miss Perrie L. Titus of New Britain is the guest of her sisters-in-law Mrs. Mary W. Titus and Mrs. Horace G. Titus of Kendrick avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. William Pratt of 57 Quincy street have gone to New London, Connecticut, to spend a few weeks with their son, William Pratt, Jr.

Miss Jessie O. Shirley of Quincy street is the guest of Miss Sarah P. Haves at her home in East Dennis on the Cape.

Mr. Elmon R. Johnson with Mrs. Johnson and sons Elmon Jr. and Charles and daughter Marjorie returned the first of the week from Pittsfield where they were guests of relatives for two weeks.

Rev. M. O. Quinn, rector of Emmanuel church, Braintree, will be minister in charge of St. Chrysostom church while the rector, Mr. Steenstra is away for six weeks.

Mrs. H. M. Dickerson, Mrs. Bessie D. Incey and daughter Hildegard, of Arlington street, Miss Francis Crothers of Lakeville, Mass., and Mrs. G. M. Quinn of New York City, are enjoying a rest at Durant Gymnasium camp, Riverhurst, Mass.

The annual field day of the Monarch Club of Plymouth will be held on the James S. Whiting place at Monmouth. The event will be held on the Point road field, which contains about seven acres of level land suitable for the purpose of the great tests, boath and the plank foot race.

Besides the usual sports there will be a clam bake and music by a band. In the evening the grounds will be lighted by electricity. Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra rector of St. Chrysostom church, Mrs. Steenstra and sons Edward F. and Walter L. left the first of the week for Robinson, Maine where they go each year to the ancestral home of Mr. Steenstra. The first of August they will have as guests Mrs. Steenstra's parents Rev. and Mrs. Walter C. Roberts of Mauch Chunk, Penna. Mr. Steenstra will be back for the first Sunday in September.

Miss Mary Gahan of Grand View avenue returned today from Hampton, New Hampshire.

Miss Maria E. Packard of Waban street, Roxbury is visiting her brother Herbert L. Packard and Mrs. Packard of Standish avenue for a month.

Among those granted patents last week was Herbert F. Miller of Wollaston, for a lamp burner. Edwin N. Chamberlin of Braintree was granted a patent for an electrically heated steaming machine.

Miss Gertrude M. Butt of Chelsea is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George C. of Farrington street, Wollaston. Miss Butt will make an extended visit to her mother and sister at Wollaston.

Mrs. Brown and daughter, Miss Marion Brown of Phillips street entertained a number of Wollaston park ladies Thursday afternoon at a picnic party.

WOLLASTON

Miss Evelyn MacFarland of Arlington street, accompanied her mother to her home in Margareville, Nova Scotia to spend the summer.

Mrs. Janet F. Whalen and daughter Janet of Safford street are visiting Mrs. Barnard of Malden for two weeks.

Master Karl T. Kelley of Standish avenue went to Franklin today to spend a week with Mrs. Rudolph A. Messeri.

Numerous messages have gone to Wollaston, Delaware to Rev. and Mrs. Albert Edwin Clattenburg on the birth of a son born July first.

Miss Ella B. Barstow of Clay street came from a two weeks stay at Edgartown, Martha's Vineyard.

Mrs. Richard R. Freeman and Miss Elizabeth Freeman of Grand View avenue are at Intervale, New Hampshire for six weeks.

Mrs. Orta A. Kelley of Arlington street is the guest of Mr. Albert S. Kelley of West Somerville.

Mrs. Frank A. Aulbach and son George of Hancock street, Wollaston are guests for three weeks of her mother and sister at New Bedford.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bryant of Highland avenue have been spending a few days with their son Thomas who is at Wollaston, New Hampshire.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JULY 17, 1915

Single Copies 5 Cents.

For Sale at

The Patriot Office, Quincy, Mass.
Brown & Co., Quincy, Mass.
H. P. Kittredge, Quincy, Mass.
J. P. O'Brien, Quincy, Mass.
C. P. Jackson, Quincy, Mass.
L. Cook, Quincy, Mass.
H. H. Smith, Quincy, Mass.
Sprague & Hobart, Quincy, Mass.
Shunk's Periodical Store, Wollaston, Mass.
Thomas Gurney, Wollaston, Mass.
Branchell & Martens, Wollaston, Mass.
Branchell & Martens, Quincy, Mass.
Peter L. Litchfield, Quincy, Mass.
E. H. Doble & Co., West Quincy, Mass.
Edward F. Drohan, West Quincy, Mass.
Mrs. Lark's Store, Brewer's Corner, Quincy, Mass.
J. J. Hammers, East Milton, Mass.
South Terminal Station, Boston, Mass.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

The tournament for singles under the auspices of the Quincy Tennis club started July 5, but postponed on account of the stormy weather. The tournament brought out the largest number of players seen on the Quincy club courts. The tournament was played down to semi-finals, with the finals will be played next Saturday, the players in the semi-finals being Davis, Simpson, Rasmussen and P. Blackmur.

PRELIMINARY ROUND.

Morrison beat Doble, 6-2, 6-3.
P. Blackmur beat Bradford, 6-0, 6-0.

FIRST ROUND.

Thompson beat Barker, 1-6, 6-1, 6-2.
Davis beat Slade, 8-6, 2-6, 6-0.
Hall beat G. Pfaffmann, 6-2, 6-4.
Simpson beat Bumpus, 7-5, 7-5.
Keyes beat Sheppard, 6-3, 8-6.
Elmer beat Crocker, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4.
Sturtevant beat Lawton by default.
Atwood beat Breslin, 6-2, 6-4.
Eggleston beat R. Blackmur by default.
Burgin beat Walsh, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5.
Rasmussen beat Morrison, 7-9, 6-4, 6-3.

SECOND ROUND.

Thompson beat Prouty, 6-4, 8-6.
Davis beat Hall, 6-2, 6-3.
Simpson beat Keyes, 6-3, 6-1.
Elmer beat Sturtevant by default.
Atwood beat Eggleston, 6-3, 3-6, 8-6.
Rasmussen beat Burgin, 6-3, 3-6, 8-6.
P. Blackmur beat Holden by default.
Edwards beat Ogden, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2.

THIRD ROUND.

Davis beat Thompson, 6-8, 6-1, 7-5.
Simpson beat Elmer, 7-5, 6-0.
Rasmussen beat Atwood, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3.
P. Blackmur beat Edwards, 6-2, 6-1.

SQUANTUM YACHT CLUB.

The fourth race in the series under the auspices of the Squantum Yacht club for the Hayes cup as well as a regular club race was held Sunday by the club. Both races were called in the morning. The first race was the club race which was sailed in a fluky wind over a triangular course of 7.12 miles. Six yachts participated in the race and the "Sinbad" was an easy winner on both actual and corrected time.

Immediately following this was a race of 15-furlongs for the Hayes cup which was held. The race was easily won by the "Cheroot" with the "Reina" second. The "Dorothy" and "Miladi II" crossed the line neck and neck. The summary of the two races.

Name and owner Act time
Cheroot, Ralph Hendrie 1:29.44
Reina W. Carsick 1:34.20
Dorothy, Paul Hogan 1:41.59
Miladi II, Clarence O'Neill 1:41.59

OBJECT TO BLASTING.

Flying rock which crashed through the roof of the house here around the Isabella and Albertina streets residents and some declare they will apply for an injunction to prevent blasting in the quarries in the neighborhood.

The heavy missile which went through the roof of the Albertina street house knocked the laths and plaster from the paring ceiling, filling the place with broken joints and scattering utensils on the floor. No one was injured.

The plaster was knocked from the ceilings of the Tangherlini house during the absence of the family. Other houses are said to have been in the path of the falling rocks.

The residents claim the danger could be removed by covering the blasts with heavy timbers and say they have asked that this be done.

One of the officials of the company interested in the quarries said that every care and precaution had been taken and that the damage is not as heavy as claimed. He said residents have started a court action.

BETHANY CHURCH.

In these times when so many people think that churches should close during the summer months it is worth while to note that Bethany church finds it worth while to keep open so that its own members as well as the stranger or visitor in our city on Sunday may have a place to worship and to attend the Bible school.

Both the morning and evening services of Bethany church are well supported and the attendance at the Bible school is breaking all summer records as to numbers, and a few figures are of interest. The average attendance for the past six months was 515. The average attendance for the four Sundays in June was 419. The attendance Sunday, July 4th, was 249, and last Sunday it was 568, showing that many are pleased to avail themselves of the privileges and enjoy the benefits of Bible study in Bethany Bible school.

RECEPTION TO PASTOR.

An ordinary evening, containing a reception to the Rev. Mr. Owens, presented to Fr. Mark E. Madden, pastor of the new parish of the Most Blessed Sacrament of Houghs Neck, at a reception tendered to him by over 600 members of his parish in the Taylor hall, Monday evening. The money has been contributed within a few days by the summer and permanent Catholic residents of that section. Additional contributions were made at the reception and given him Tuesday.

Fr. Michael J. Owens, pastor of St. John's parish to which Houghs Neck was attached as a mission station since the church was erected, made the presentation. All knew it was to be made but the amount proved to be a welcome surprise.

The reception gathering numbered distinguished people of Boston, Quincy and the South Shore. The committee comprised well known Houghs Neck people and the program included a high class entertainment. Entrance to the affair was complimentary and the hall was used through the courtesy of the management. Dancing, with Wilson's orchestra, brought the evening to a close.

The guests of honor were Monsignor Peter Ronald of St. Peter's parish of Dorchester, Fr. Michael J. Owens of St. John's parish, Fr. John A. Kellher of Campello, Fr. Henry P. Madden of Houghs Neck. The clergy arrived early in the evening and as each entered he was roundly applauded.

Father Madden introduced to his seat immediately on his arrival. The handclapping was thunderous, the people standing as they tendered their tribute.

The presentation followed the entertainment program. Father Owens in making the presentation spoke highly of Father Madden. He said their friendship had extended over a period of years and that Fr. Madden's future was a bright one. He said he was an exemplary priest and congratulated the people of Houghs Neck on the good fortune that came to their parish through his appointment.

Father Madden made a short speech of acceptance. In it he spoke earnestly of his appreciation of the warm welcome given him since he assumed the pastorate. He said if he was a zealous and respected priest as Father Owens said it was in part due to the fine example set by the speaker and other clergymen in the diocese when they were seniors at Brighton seminary and he one of the younger students.

He said the gift was only one of the many kindnesses extended to him since he was appointed.

Mr. Ronan, one of the most revered clergymen in the diocese and a former resident of Houghs Neck for many years, spoke highly of Father Madden. He said he was one of the most highly respected priests of the diocese and congratulated the people of Houghs Neck on the good fortune they would enjoy under his direction.

In addition to the presentation of the purse a handsome bouquet of roses was presented Father Madden by Miss Veronica Gierrier.

The evening program included vocal solos by Joseph Maguire of Boston, William McDevitt, a deputy sheriff of Suffolk county, Miss Anna Walsh of Quincy, William Healey of Roxbury, and the choir of St. John's parish.

There were readings by Miss Katherine Hanney and Sidney Straghan and violin solos by Miss R. Murphy.

A pretty feature was the offering of three children, pupils of Bernadette Masterson. Ruth Totien danced the Highland Fling. Helen Tobin danced the Waltz of P. O'Brien. Matthew Kearns sang a solo and gave solo of dancing to "Teasing." The accompanist of the evening was Miss Corinne LaBreaque.

Father Madden received the best wishes of all before leaving the hall and more appropriate than any he could have given as he stepped into the auto to be whisked away to the parish house.

The committee of arrangements was Fr. J. Coughlin, chairman, Walter H. Buchanan, secretary; George Thompson, Miss Corinne LaBreaque, Mrs. Stagg, James J. Jones, and James P. Wall.

The reception committee was James E. Wall, chairman; Mrs. Walter H. Buchanan, Miss McDonnell, Miss Margaret Leary, Mrs. J. J. Guley, Mrs. J. Murphy, Senator James P. Timilty, John Countie, Dr. John Ash, Patrick J. O'Brien, Matthew Kearns, Daniel J. Maloney, Michael P. Curran, Patrick A. Cleary, Frank Leonard, Eugene O'Connell, S. J. Gierrier, Achilles LaBreaque, John Monahan, A. C. Helfrich, J. Hallahan, Bernard A. Wemmers, Dennis J. Driscoll, Charles Shea, William McGinty, Neil Regan.

The committee of arrangements was Fr. J. Coughlin, chairman, Walter H. Buchanan, secretary; George Thompson, Miss Corinne LaBreaque, Mrs. Stagg, James J. Jones, and James P. Wall.

The reception committee was James E. Wall, chairman; Mrs. Walter H. Buchanan, Miss McDonnell, Miss Margaret Leary, Mrs. J. J. Guley, Mrs. J. Murphy, Senator James P. Timilty, John Countie, Dr. John Ash, Patrick J. O'Brien, Matthew Kearns, Daniel J. Maloney, Michael P. Curran, Patrick A. Cleary, Frank Leonard, Eugene O'Connell, S. J. Gierrier, Achilles LaBreaque, John Monahan, A. C. Helfrich, J. Hallahan, Bernard A. Wemmers, Dennis J. Driscoll, Charles Shea, William McGinty, Neil Regan.

The committee of arrangements was Fr. J. Coughlin, chairman, Walter H. Buchanan, secretary; George Thompson, Miss Corinne LaBreaque, Mrs. Stagg, James J. Jones, and James P. Wall.

The reception committee was James E. Wall, chairman; Mrs. Walter H. Buchanan, Miss McDonnell, Miss Margaret Leary, Mrs. J. J. Guley, Mrs. J. Murphy, Senator James P. Timilty, John Countie, Dr. John Ash, Patrick J. O'Brien, Matthew Kearns, Daniel J. Maloney, Michael P. Curran, Patrick A. Cleary, Frank Leonard, Eugene O'Connell, S. J. Gierrier, Achilles LaBreaque, John Monahan, A. C. Helfrich, J. Hallahan, Bernard A. Wemmers, Dennis J. Driscoll, Charles Shea, William McGinty, Neil Regan.

The committee of arrangements was Fr. J. Coughlin, chairman, Walter H. Buchanan, secretary; George Thompson, Miss Corinne LaBreaque, Mrs. Stagg, James J. Jones, and James P. Wall.

The reception committee was James E. Wall, chairman; Mrs. Walter H. Buchanan, Miss McDonnell, Miss Margaret Leary, Mrs. J. J. Guley, Mrs. J. Murphy, Senator James P. Timilty, John Countie, Dr. John Ash, Patrick J. O'Brien, Matthew Kearns, Daniel J. Maloney, Michael P. Curran, Patrick A. Cleary, Frank Leonard, Eugene O'Connell, S. J. Gierrier, Achilles LaBreaque, John Monahan, A. C. Helfrich, J. Hallahan, Bernard A. Wemmers, Dennis J. Driscoll, Charles Shea, William McGinty, Neil Regan.

The committee of arrangements was Fr. J. Coughlin, chairman, Walter H. Buchanan, secretary; George Thompson, Miss Corinne LaBreaque, Mrs. Stagg, James J. Jones, and James P. Wall.

The reception committee was James E. Wall, chairman; Mrs. Walter H. Buchanan, Miss McDonnell, Miss Margaret Leary, Mrs. J. J. Guley, Mrs. J. Murphy, Senator James P. Timilty, John Countie, Dr. John Ash, Patrick J. O'Brien, Matthew Kearns, Daniel J. Maloney, Michael P. Curran, Patrick A. Cleary, Frank Leonard, Eugene O'Connell, S. J. Gierrier, Achilles LaBreaque, John Monahan, A. C. Helfrich, J. Hallahan, Bernard A. Wemmers, Dennis J. Driscoll, Charles Shea, William McGinty, Neil Regan.

The committee of arrangements was Fr. J. Coughlin, chairman, Walter H. Buchanan, secretary; George Thompson, Miss Corinne LaBreaque, Mrs. Stagg, James J. Jones, and James P. Wall.

The reception committee was James E. Wall, chairman; Mrs. Walter H. Buchanan, Miss McDonnell, Miss Margaret Leary, Mrs. J. J. Guley, Mrs. J. Murphy, Senator James P. Timilty, John Countie, Dr. John Ash, Patrick J. O'Brien, Matthew Kearns, Daniel J. Maloney, Michael P. Curran, Patrick A. Cleary, Frank Leonard, Eugene O'Connell, S. J. Gierrier, Achilles LaBreaque, John Monahan, A. C. Helfrich, J. Hallahan, Bernard A. Wemmers, Dennis J. Driscoll, Charles Shea, William McGinty, Neil Regan.

The committee of arrangements was Fr. J. Coughlin, chairman, Walter H. Buchanan, secretary; George Thompson, Miss Corinne LaBreaque, Mrs. Stagg, James J. Jones, and James P. Wall.

The reception committee was James E. Wall, chairman; Mrs. Walter H. Buchanan, Miss McDonnell, Miss Margaret Leary, Mrs. J. J. Guley, Mrs. J. Murphy, Senator James P. Timilty, John Countie, Dr. John Ash, Patrick J. O'Brien, Matthew Kearns, Daniel J. Maloney, Michael P. Curran, Patrick A. Cleary, Frank Leonard, Eugene O'Connell, S. J. Gierrier, Achilles LaBreaque, John Monahan, A. C. Helfrich, J. Hallahan, Bernard A. Wemmers, Dennis J. Driscoll, Charles Shea, William McGinty, Neil Regan.

The committee of arrangements was Fr. J. Coughlin, chairman, Walter H. Buchanan, secretary; George Thompson, Miss Corinne LaBreaque, Mrs. Stagg, James J. Jones, and James P. Wall.

The reception committee was James E. Wall, chairman; Mrs. Walter H. Buchanan, Miss McDonnell, Miss Margaret Leary, Mrs. J. J. Guley, Mrs. J. Murphy, Senator James P. Timilty, John Countie, Dr. John Ash, Patrick J. O'Brien, Matthew Kearns, Daniel J. Maloney, Michael P. Curran, Patrick A. Cleary, Frank Leonard, Eugene O'Connell, S. J. Gierrier, Achilles LaBreaque, John Monahan, A. C. Helfrich, J. Hallahan, Bernard A. Wemmers, Dennis J. Driscoll, Charles Shea, William McGinty, Neil Regan.

MAD DOGS.

A news story in Monday's Ledger regarding a small pet dog named "Oracle" of late at the Moon Island Sewer station among employees who feared he was mad. The dog was driven into a room and shot. While that particular dog probably was afflicted with rabies as he was killed by Dog Catcher David Gordon yet there are innumerable occasions when dogs supposed to be mad are not nearly so mad as the persons whom they frighten. There are comparatively few mad dogs; there are many dogs which to the ignorant bear all the symptoms of madness.

In the Letter Box of the Boston Herald Monday appeared an illuminating letter along these lines. The letter read:

It was a fortunate circumstance for one falsely accused dog which led John Rowlinson kennel master of the Animal Rescue league, by a drug store on Dudley street last Sunday. Mr. Rowlinson noticed an excited crowd about the door and naturally stopped to see what had happened.

"There's a mad dog in the store," some one said. Indeed, two police officers were waiting, revolvers in hand, to shoot the "mad dog," which had taken refuge in the stock room. Mr. Rowlinson had some experience in handling so-called mad dogs, so he entered the stock room. It was very hot and in total darkness, no one daring to step in for fear of the building. The dog was then taken into one corner of the room. Mr. Rowlinson with difficulty got a rope on the collar, but the struggles of the dog broke both the collar and the rope. He then telephoned to the league for assistance. Another Agent came, went into the room, took the dog in his arms and carried him out of the building. The dog was then taken to a kennel and kept there for a week to walk, so the agent hired a carriage and brought him to the league. A brief examination disclosed the fact that some practical joker had given the dog a large piece of sticky candy and the dog's jaws were stuck together so closely that he could not open his mouth. The dog was fit and to foam at the mouth. The practical joker probably ran away when he saw what he had done and left the dog to be shot at and clubbed to death, as dogs supposed to be mad usually are. The dog was a mongrel cocker spaniel is now at the league, waiting for a good home.—Mrs. Huntington Smith.

It has been years since I dared face a camera, and now I doubt if there is any photographer in the city who has the moral courage to try to transfer my face to a coated glass plate, unless it be Sue Rice, who mugs the criminal for the police. I have even thought when the good old citizens of Quincy never dreamed that the time would come when Quincy would be one of the leading cities of the Commonwealth. Not in Quincy, however, but in a good old town of the Commonwealth which derives its nickname from an article that was at one time manufactured in large quantities within its borders.

At a tender age I came to Quincy and for the greater part of the time since then I have watched the trend of events in the town and city. Julia Underwood taught me A. B. C's. Underwood and later I sat for a few days under "Lon" Keith in the old building on High school avenue. As I grew up I listened carefully to the words that flowed from the old wisdom corner in the town hall, and thought sometimes I, too, might be given a place in that corner. But Quincy progressed and from the town government with its committee of fifteen to study financial questions came a City Council of 23. I sometimes wonder if the change has been for the better.

I believe that the office should seek the man and that is probably the reason why I have never been asked to "electrify" the halls of the Council chamber, the halls of the building on Beacon hill, Boston, or the halls of Congress. My light has been hidden under a bushel. I have ears however and have often sat in the Council Chamber and listened to the debates of the local law makers. Sorry am I to say that many times I have not been carried away with the wisdom displayed. They have state about after the meetings and have listened with open ears to the scolding and backbiting, indulged in by some of the members.

Thus by keeping my eyes open and my ears close to the ground I am able to hear things which the general public are interested in but which they are not in position to hear. Some of these things I have endeavored in the past to put before the public in the Ledger, and which I shall doubtless continue to do from time to time in the future. We are fast approaching another political campaign, both state and municipal and there are many things like this to develop in which the citizens are voters should be informed.

"This, then, is my word picture. I have no axe to grind. Simply to place before the citizens some of the things in which perhaps they may be interested.

The "Oracle"

THE ORACLE FLATTERED.

Many inquiries have been received by the editor as to who the correspondent is who signs himself "Oracle." There have also been requests that the Ledger should at least publish his picture. The request was put up to the "Oracle" which brought the following reply: Dear Mr. Editor:

It was with feeling of pride that I received your request for a photograph so that my picture might be published for the edification of the politicians of the city. Not for a minute can you imagine how I swelled up with exultation at the thoughts that I had reached a stage where my picture was sought to ornament the page of a daily newspaper. Alas, how sorry I am that I can not comply with this simple request.

It has been years since I dared face a camera, and now I doubt if there is any photographer in the city who has the moral courage to try to transfer my face to a coated glass plate, unless it be Sue Rice, who mugs the criminal for the police. I have even thought when the good old citizens of Quincy never dreamed that the time would come when Quincy would be one of the leading cities of the Commonwealth. Not in Quincy, however, but in a good old town of the Commonwealth which derives its nickname from an article that was at one time manufactured in large quantities within its borders.

At a tender age I came to Quincy and for the greater part of the time since then I have watched the trend of events in the town and city. Julia Underwood taught me A. B. C's. Underwood and later I sat for a few days under "Lon" Keith in the old building on High school avenue. As I grew up I listened carefully to the words that flowed from the old wisdom corner in the town hall, and thought sometimes I, too, might be given a place in that corner. But Quincy progressed and from the town government with its committee of fifteen to study financial questions came a City Council of 23. I sometimes wonder if the change has been for the better.

I believe that the office should seek the man and that is probably the reason why I have never been asked to "electrify" the halls of the Council chamber, the halls of the building on Beacon hill, Boston, or the halls of Congress. My light has been hidden under a bushel. I have ears however and have often sat in the Council Chamber and listened to the debates of the local law makers. Sorry am I to say that many times I have not been carried away with the wisdom displayed. They have state about after the meetings and have listened with open ears to the scolding and backbiting, indulged in by some of the members.

Thus by keeping my eyes open and my ears close to the ground I am able to hear things which the general public are interested in but which they are not in position to hear. Some of these things I have endeavored in the past to put before the public in the Ledger, and which I shall doubtless continue to do from time to time in the future. We are fast approaching another political campaign, both state and municipal and there are many things like this to develop in which the citizens are voters should be informed.

"This, then, is my word picture. I have no axe to grind. Simply to place before the citizens some of the things in which perhaps they may be interested.

The "Oracle"

THE ORACLE FLATTERED.

Many inquiries have been received by the editor as to who the correspondent is who signs himself "Oracle." There have also been requests that the Ledger should at least publish his picture. The request was put up to the "Oracle" which brought the following reply: Dear Mr. Editor:

It was with feeling of pride that I received your request for a photograph so that my picture might be published for the edification of the politicians of the city. Not for a minute can you imagine how I swelled up with exultation at the thoughts that I had reached a stage where my picture was sought to ornament the page of a daily newspaper. Alas, how sorry I am that I can not comply with this simple request.

It has been years since I dared face a camera, and now I doubt if there is any photographer in the city who has the moral courage to try to transfer my face to a coated glass plate, unless it be Sue Rice, who mugs the criminal for the police. I have even thought when the good old citizens of Quincy never dreamed that the time would come when Quincy would be one of the leading cities of the Commonwealth. Not in Quincy, however, but in a good old town of the Commonwealth which derives its nickname from an article that was at one time manufactured in large quantities within its borders.

At a tender age I came to Quincy and for the greater part of the time since then I have watched the trend of events in the town and city. Julia Underwood taught me A. B. C's. Underwood and later I sat for a few days under "Lon" Keith in the old building on High school avenue. As I grew up I listened carefully to the words that flowed from the old wisdom corner in the town hall, and thought sometimes I, too, might be given a place in that corner. But Quincy progressed and from the town government with its committee of fifteen to study financial questions came a City Council of 23. I sometimes wonder if the change has been for the better.

I believe that the office should seek the man and that is probably the reason why I have never been asked to "electrify" the halls of the Council chamber, the halls of the building on Beacon hill, Boston, or the halls of Congress. My light has been hidden under a bushel. I have ears however and have often sat in the Council Chamber and listened to the debates of the local law makers. Sorry am I to say that many times I have not been carried away with the wisdom displayed. They have state about after the meetings and have listened with open ears to the scolding and backbiting, indulged in by some of the members.

Thus by keeping my eyes open and my ears close to the ground I am able to hear things which the general public are interested in but which they are not in position to hear. Some of these things I have endeavored in the past to put before the public in the Ledger, and which I shall doubtless continue to do from time to time in the future. We are fast approaching another political campaign, both state and municipal and there are many things like this to develop in which the citizens are voters should be informed.

"This, then, is my word picture. I have no axe to grind. Simply to place before the citizens some of the things in which perhaps they may be interested.

The "Oracle"

THE ORACLE FLATTERED.

Many inquiries have been received by the editor as to who the correspondent is who signs himself "Oracle." There have also been requests that the Ledger should at least publish his picture. The request was put up to the "Oracle" which brought the following reply: Dear Mr. Editor:

THE ORACLE FLATTERED.

Many inquiries have been received by the editor as to who the correspondent is who signs himself "Oracle." There have also been requests that the Ledger should at least publish his picture. The request was put up to the "Oracle" which brought the following reply: Dear Mr. Editor:

It was with feeling of pride that I received your request for a photograph so that my picture might be published for the edification of the politicians of the city. Not for a minute can you imagine how I swelled up with exultation at the thoughts that I had reached a stage where my picture was sought to ornament the page of a daily newspaper. Alas, how sorry I am that I can not comply with this simple request.

It has been years since I dared face a camera, and now I doubt if there is any photographer in the city who has the moral courage to try to transfer my face to a coated glass plate, unless it be Sue Rice, who mugs the criminal for the police. I have even thought when the good old citizens of Quincy never dreamed that the time would come when Quincy would be one of the leading cities of the Commonwealth. Not in Quincy, however, but in a good old town of the Commonwealth which derives its nickname from an article that was at one time manufactured in large quantities within its borders.

At a tender age I came to Quincy and for the greater part of the time since then I have watched the trend of events in the town and city. Julia Underwood taught me A. B. C's. Underwood and later I sat for a few days under "Lon" Keith in the old building on High school avenue. As I grew up I listened carefully to the words that flowed from the old wisdom corner in the town hall, and thought sometimes I, too, might be given a place in that corner. But Quincy progressed and from the town government with its committee of fifteen to study financial questions came a City Council of 23. I sometimes wonder if the change has been for the better.

I believe that the office should seek the man and that is probably the reason why I have never been asked to "electrify" the halls of the Council chamber, the halls of the building on Beacon hill, Boston, or the halls of Congress. My light has been hidden under a bushel. I have ears however and have often sat in the Council Chamber and listened to the debates of the local law makers. Sorry am I to say that many times I have not been carried away with the wisdom displayed. They have state about after the meetings and have listened with open ears to the scolding and backbiting, indulged in by some of the members.

Thus by keeping my eyes open and my ears close to the ground I am able to hear things which the general public are interested in but which they are not in position to hear. Some of these things I have endeavored in the past to put before the public in the Ledger, and which I shall doubtless continue to do from time to time in the future. We are fast approaching another political campaign, both state and municipal and there are many things like this to develop in which the citizens are voters should be informed.

"This, then, is my word picture. I have no axe to grind. Simply to place before the citizens some of the things in which perhaps they may be interested.

The "Oracle"

THE ORACLE FLATTERED.

Many inquiries have been received by the editor as to who the correspondent is who signs himself "Oracle." There have also been requests that the Ledger should at least publish his picture. The request was put up to the "Oracle" which brought the following reply: Dear Mr. Editor:

It was with feeling of pride that I received your request for a photograph so that my picture might be published for the edification of the politicians of the city. Not for a minute can you imagine how I swelled up with exultation at the thoughts that I had reached a stage where my picture was sought to ornament the page of a daily newspaper. Alas, how sorry I am that I can not comply with this simple request.

It has been years since I dared face a camera, and now I doubt if there is any photographer in the city who has the moral courage to try to transfer my face to a coated glass plate, unless it be Sue Rice, who mugs the criminal for the police. I have even thought when the good old citizens of Quincy never dreamed that the time would come when Quincy would be one of the leading cities of the Commonwealth. Not in Quincy, however, but in a good old town of the Commonwealth which derives its nickname from an article that was at one time manufactured in large quantities within its borders.

At a tender age I came to Quincy and for the greater part of the time since then I have watched the trend of events in the town and city. Julia Underwood taught me A. B. C's. Underwood and later I sat for a few days under "Lon" Keith in the old building on High school avenue. As I grew up I listened carefully to the words that flowed from the old wisdom corner in the town hall, and thought sometimes I, too, might be given a place in that corner. But Quincy progressed and from the town government with its committee of fifteen to study financial questions came a City Council of 23. I sometimes wonder if the change has been for the better.

I believe that the office should seek the man and that is probably the reason why I have never been asked to "electrify" the halls of the Council chamber, the halls of the building on Beacon hill, Boston, or the halls of Congress. My light has been hidden under a bushel. I have ears however and have often sat in the Council Chamber and listened to the debates of the local law makers. Sorry am I to say that many times I have not been carried away with the wisdom displayed. They have state about after the meetings and have listened with open ears to the scolding and backbiting, indulged in by some of the members.

Thus by keeping my eyes open and my ears close to the ground I am able to hear things which the general public are interested in but which they are not in position to hear. Some of these things I have endeavored in the past to put before the public in the Ledger, and which I shall doubtless continue to do from time to time in the future. We are fast approaching another political campaign, both state and municipal and there are many things like this to develop in which the citizens are voters should be informed.

"This, then, is my word picture. I have no axe to grind. Simply to place before the citizens some of the things in which perhaps they may be interested.

The "Oracle"

THE ORACLE FLATTERED.

Many inquiries have been received by the editor as to who the correspondent is who signs himself "Oracle." There have also been requests that the Ledger should at least publish his picture. The request was put up to the "Oracle" which brought the following reply: Dear Mr. Editor:

It was with feeling of pride that I received your request for a photograph so that my picture might be published for the edification of the politicians of the city. Not for a minute can you imagine how I swelled up with exultation at the thoughts that I had reached a stage where my picture was sought to ornament the page of a daily newspaper. Alas, how sorry I am that I can not comply with this simple request.

It has been years since I dared face a camera, and now I doubt if there is any photographer in the city who has the moral courage to try to transfer my face to a coated glass plate, unless it be Sue Rice, who mugs the criminal for the police. I have even thought when the good old citizens of Quincy never dreamed that the time would come when Quincy would be one of the leading cities of the Commonwealth. Not in Quincy, however, but in a good old town of the Commonwealth which derives its nickname from an article that was at one time manufactured in large quantities within its borders.

At a tender age I came to Quincy and for the greater part of the time since then I have watched the trend of events in the town and city. Julia Underwood taught me A. B. C's. Underwood and later I sat for a few days under "Lon" Keith in the old building on High school avenue. As I grew up I listened carefully to the words that flowed from the old wisdom corner in the town hall, and thought sometimes I, too, might be given a place in that corner. But Quincy progressed and from the town government with its committee of fifteen to study financial questions came a City Council of 23. I sometimes wonder if the change has been for the better.

I believe that the office should seek the man and that is probably the reason why I have never been asked to "electrify" the halls of the Council chamber, the halls of the building on Beacon hill, Boston, or the halls of Congress. My light has been hidden under a bushel. I have ears however and have often sat in the Council Chamber and listened to the debates of the local law makers. Sorry am I to say that many times I have not been carried away with the wisdom displayed. They have state about after the meetings and have listened with open ears to the scolding and backbiting, indulged in by some of the members.

Thus by keeping my eyes open and my ears close to the ground I am able to hear things which the general public are interested in but which they are not in position to hear. Some of these things I have endeavored in the past to put before the public in the Ledger, and which I shall doubtless continue to do from time to time in the future. We are fast approaching another political campaign, both state and municipal and there are many things like this to develop in which the citizens are voters should be informed.

"This, then, is my word picture. I have no axe to grind. Simply to place before the citizens some of the things in which perhaps they may be interested.

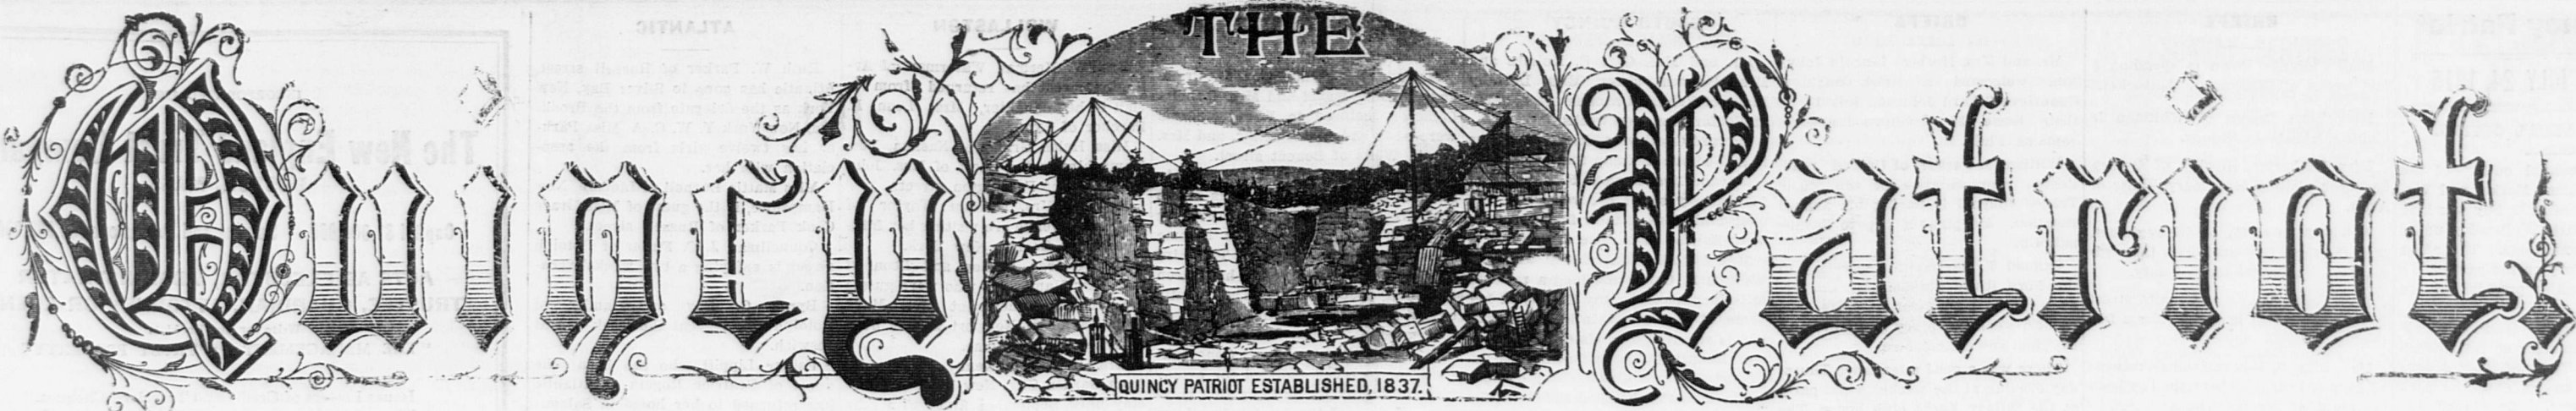

The "Oracle"

THE ORACLE FLATTERED.

Many inquiries have been received by the editor as to who the correspondent is who signs himself "Oracle." There have also been requests that the Ledger should at least publish his picture. The request was put up to the "Oracle" which brought the following reply: Dear Mr. Editor:

It was with feeling of pride that I received your request for a photograph so that my picture might be published for the edification of the politicians of the city. Not for a minute can you imagine how I swelled up with exultation at the thoughts that I had reached a stage where my picture was sought to ornament the page of a daily newspaper. Alas, how sorry I am that I can not comply with this simple request.

It has been

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, JULY 24, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 30.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1827.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBL. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 1421 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone, Quincy 425.
Quincy 710-0.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1889.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE BRAINTREE OBSERVER

Weekly Established in 1852.

H. T. WHITMAN AGENT FOR THE Adams Real Estate Trust LAND FOR SALE

AT
MERRYMOUNT
Mt. Wollaston Farm
Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street.
Tel. Fort Hill 591.

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1850 by

W. PORTER

Insurance effected in reliable and safe
Stock and Mutual offices.

By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 20 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy.

ATNA INSURANCE CO.

HARTFORD, CONN. Charter Perpetual
Incorporated 1818.

Losses Paid in 94 Years, $132,981,553.48

JANUARY 1, 1914.

Cash Capital, $5,000,000.
Net Surplus, 6,000,389.89.
Surplus for Policy Holders, $11,000,389.89.
Reserve for Re-Insurance, 9,950,727.57.
Reserve for Unpaid Losses, 22,288.94.
Reserve for Other Claims, 78,653.74.
Total Assets, $22,481,250.34.

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.
AGENTS FOR QUINCY.

Incorporated 1827

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $9,201,927.16.
Cash Assets, 12,000.00.
Total Assets, 12,000.00.
Total Liabilities, including re-insurance, 74,605.05.
Amount of Cash Surplus, $19,846.28.
Contingent Assets, 141,551.33.
Total Available Assets, 161,397.61.
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies, 40 per cent; on three-year policies, 40 per cent; on one-year policies, 30 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, President.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer.

DIRECTORS:—Frederic H. Mansfield, Dedham; Frederick H. Mansfield, Dedham; Samuel Gannett, Milton; Charles H. Farnsworth, Boston; James V. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Sullivan, Dedham; Samuel D. Cagen, Dedham; Andrew H. Houlton, Dedham; George L. Barnes, Weymouth.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy.

Incorporated 1825

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $28,651,927.16.
Cash Assets, 64,250.00.
Total Assets, 64,250.00.
Total Liabilities, including re-insurance, 265,651.05.
Amount of Cash Surplus, $28,651.93.
Contingent Assets, 28,651.93.
Total Available Assets, 57,303.86.
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies, 40 per cent; on three-year policies, 40 per cent; on one-year policies, 30 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, President.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer.

DIRECTORS:—Frederic H. Mansfield, Dedham; Frederick H. Mansfield, Dedham; Samuel Gannett, Milton; Charles H. Farnsworth, Boston; James V. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Sullivan, Dedham; Samuel D. Cagen, Dedham; Andrew H. Houlton, Dedham; George L. Barnes, Weymouth.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy.

Incorporated 1825

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.

INCORPORATED 1855

HOME OFFICE, 15 CENTRAL STREET

Telephone, Main 1040.

William A. Miller, President.

W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President.

Edward C. Mason, Secretary.

William A. Miller, Treasurer.

DIRECTORS:—Paul R. Blackburn, Attorney.

Clarence Burgh, Trustee.

Henry J. Nichols, Vice-President.

T. J. Falvey, Pres. Mass. Bonding and Ins. Co.

Henry Hornblower, Hornblower & Weeks.

Louis K. Liggett, Pres. United Trust Company.

W. J. McGaffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas G. Plant Co.

Edward C. Mason, Secretary and Solicitor.

William A. Miller, William A. Miller & Company.

Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests.

P. P. Sullivan, Pres. Bay State Trust Railway Co.

John P. Squire, John P. Squire & Sons.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhoea. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, gives healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO

GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

Lay our 3/4 inch floor over your old one and see what an improvement it is. We have quartered oak, plain oak, birch, maple and hard pine.

A New Floor "Adds A Lot" to The Home

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Offices: Neponset, Boston, Tel. 1040 Dorchester

166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

HESS LOCKER

The Best Yet!

Enameled Steel Medicine Cabinets

With Beveled Plate Mirror and Plate Glass or Enamelled Steel Shelves

A Real Necessity Can Be Attached By Anyone

To Recess into Wall With Plate Glass Shelves $10.50 With Enamelled Shelves $8.00

To Screw onto Wall With Plate Glass Shelves $10.50 With Enamelled Shelves $8.00

A NECESSARY LUXURY

Built To Fit the Poor Man's Pocketbook

These Cabinets are made in the most substantial manner, the corners of the doors and frames being solidly welded. They are perfectly sanitary, easy to keep clean, and will last a lifetime.

We will gladly deliver one of these cabinets at your residence for inspection. If not entirely satisfactory we will cheerfully call and collect same without any expense to you.

FOR SALE BY

The Wm. A. Bradford Co.

Sanitary Plumbing STEAM AND HOT WATER

GAS FITTING

FURNACE & SHEET METAL WORK

No. 5 Maple St., Quincy, Massachusetts

THE GLIDING STAR.

Stephen Chalmers.

There is a sea—a quiet sea, Beyond the farthest line, Where all my ships that went astray Where all my dreams of yesterday, And all the things that were to be— Are mine!

There is a land—a quiet land, Beyond the setting sun, Where every task in which I quailed And all wherein my courage failed, Where all the good my spirit planned Is done!

There is a hope—a quiet hope, Within my heart instilled, That if, undaunted, on I sail, This gliding star shall never pale, But shine within my labor's scope, Fulfilled!

And there is a tide—a quiet tide Flowing toward a goal— That sweeps by every human shore And at its fullest ebbs no more; And on that final shell shall rest— My soul!

AT 19 AND 27.

Esther Lindsay was nineteen when her first story was published. It was not the first one she had written by any means. Ever since she had been able to form the alphabetical characters and join them legibly her fertile brain had been weaving all sorts of possible and impossible romances, many of which she had forwarded to publishers in various parts of the country, believing with all the fervor of her youthful egotism that her crude sentiments, still more crudely wrought, would inspire in some editor's soul the same faith in her greatness which she herself already possessed.

But somehow her contributions always fell short of the mark of excellence necessary to insure them a favorable consideration, and manuscript after manuscript was returned to her and was securely locked away in her old-fashioned bureau which had been dedicated, with a good many tears of disappointment, as a repository for all rejected offerings at the shrine of literature. By the time she was nineteen there were probably a hundred or more of those hapless productions laid away either to be ignominiously forgotten or resurrected and revised when her mind should have sufficiently matured to sift out whatever meritorious material there might be in them and use it to good advantage.

She worked steadily for more than three months on her "Story of the Steamer Kendrick." One night she finished rewriting it for the twenty-first time, and the next day she sent it to Jesse Arnold, editor of the Iron Inland Weekly, with a five line note asking him to read carefully, and even if he could not use it to let her know what he thought of it.

All the editors in the land she seemed to have chosen him as her most favored target; why, she could not have told, for she had no personal acquaintance with him and his letters accompanying returned manuscript had been even more curt and forbidding than those of his brother publishers. But for all that each happily ending venture only added fresh fuel to her zeal to secure a foothold among the ranks of the Iron Weekly's contributors and compel his chief to not use it to let her know what he thought of it.

Her "Story of the Steamer Kendrick" was not a work of genius, but there were phases of the plot that were strong and passages that were unusually well conceived and executed, and after reading it he, Jesse Arnold, who was a conscientious editor, decided to keep it. He accepted it with that feeling of uncertainty with which an insurance man issues a policy on an extra hazard risk, and congratulated himself on his shrewdness, with equal delight when it turned out to be preferred. The public liked the story, and several critics who condescended to review the Iron Weekly praised it. Perhaps Editor Arnold himself was more fully aware of the glaring absurdities in the piece, he had bought out than were any of his readers, and each favorable comment that came to his notice only made them all the more apparent. At last he concluded to write to his unknown literary protégé and warn her against certain errors which might be pardoned in a young author's first story, but which, if often repeated, would be a serious drawback to her advancement in her art. Before he did so, however, she sent him another hastily written story and a letter telling him of her bringing her first story to the public, thankfulness that she had been so well received, and unstinted expressions of a steadfast belief that she was fairly launched on a sea of success where wrecks and disasters were an impossibility. In conclusion she hinted that he ought to be eternally grateful to her for allowing him to print a story which would, in all probability, shed luster around his own reputation as well as her own.

Evening he wrote the completed letter and it was duly mailed. "You are in danger of being spoiled," he said, in part. "You need advice and I feel that I have the right to address you in the capacity of censor. Remember you are in an up-to-date world, and the literature that you will live with is the very essence, the embodiment of that world. Visionary, idealistic sketches, such as yours, make very good reading, but they are not the true stuff. You have unquestioned ability, but if you wish to succeed you must turn it to the portrayal of living men and women, not the imaginary puppets that you have manipulated for the most part in your 'Story of the Steamer Kendrick.' Take your hero, for instance. It may be quite comforting for a time to come in contact, through the medium of printer's ink and paper, with an

THE GLIDING STAR.

Stephen Chalmers.

There is a sea—a quiet sea, Beyond the farthest line, Where all my ships that went astray Where all my dreams of yesterday, And all the things that were to be— Are mine!

There is a land—a quiet land, Beyond the setting sun, Where every task in which I quailed And all wherein my courage failed, Where all the good my spirit planned Is done!

There is a hope—a quiet hope, Within my heart instilled, That if, undaunted, on I sail, This gliding star shall never pale, But shine within my labor's scope, Fulfilled!

And there is a tide—a quiet tide Flowing toward a goal— That sweeps by every human shore And at its fullest ebbs no more; And on that final shell shall rest— My soul!

AT 19 AND 27.

Esther Lindsay was nineteen when her first story was published. It was not the first one she had written by any means. Ever since she had been able to form the alphabetical characters and join them legibly her fertile brain had been weaving all sorts of possible and impossible romances, many of which she had forwarded to publishers in various parts of the country, believing with all the fervor of her youthful egotism that her crude sentiments, still more crudely wrought, would inspire in some editor's soul the same faith in her greatness which she herself already possessed.

But somehow her contributions always fell short of the mark of excellence necessary to insure them a favorable consideration, and manuscript after manuscript was returned to her and was securely locked away in her old-fashioned bureau which had been dedicated, with a good many tears of disappointment, as a repository for all rejected offerings at the shrine of literature. By the time she was nineteen there were probably a hundred or more of those hapless productions laid away either to be ignominiously forgotten or resurrected and revised when her mind should have sufficiently matured to sift out whatever meritorious material there might be in them and use it to good advantage.

She worked steadily for more than three months on her "Story of the Steamer Kendrick." One night she finished rewriting it for the twenty-first time, and the next day she sent it to Jesse Arnold, editor of the Iron Inland Weekly, with a five line note asking him to read carefully, and even if he could not use it to let her know what he thought of it.

All the editors in the land she seemed to have chosen him as her most favored target; why, she could not have told, for she had no personal acquaintance with him and his letters accompanying returned manuscript had been even more curt and forbidding than those of his brother publishers. But for all that each happily ending venture only added fresh fuel to her zeal to secure a foothold among the ranks of the Iron Weekly's contributors and compel his chief to not use it to let her know what he thought of it.

Her "Story of the Steamer Kendrick" was not a work of genius, but there were phases of the plot that were strong and passages that were unusually well conceived and executed, and after reading it he, Jesse Arnold, who was a conscientious editor, decided to keep it. He accepted it with that feeling of uncertainty with which an insurance man issues a policy on an extra hazard risk, and congratulated himself on his shrewdness, with equal delight when it turned out to be preferred. The public liked the story, and several critics who condescended to review the Iron Weekly praised it. Perhaps Editor Arnold himself was more fully aware of the glaring absurdities in the piece, he had bought out than were any of his readers, and each favorable comment that came to his notice only made them all the more apparent. At last he concluded to write to his unknown literary protégé and warn her against certain errors which might be pardoned in a young author's first story, but which, if often repeated, would be a serious drawback to her advancement in her art. Before he did so, however, she sent him another hastily written story and a letter telling him of her bringing her first story to the public, thankfulness that she had been so well received, and unstinted expressions of a steadfast belief that she was fairly launched on a sea of success where wrecks and disasters were an impossibility. In conclusion she hinted that he ought to be eternally grateful to her for allowing him to print a story which would, in all probability, shed luster around his own reputation as well as her own.

Evening he wrote the completed letter and it was duly mailed. "You are in danger of being spoiled," he said, in part. "You need advice and I feel that I have the right to address you in the capacity of censor. Remember you are in an up-to-date world, and the literature that you will live with is the very essence, the embodiment of that world. Visionary, idealistic sketches, such as yours, make very good reading, but they are not the true stuff. You have unquestioned ability, but if you wish to succeed you must turn it to the portrayal of living men and women, not the imaginary puppets that you have manipulated for the most part in your 'Story of the Steamer Kendrick.' Take your hero, for instance. It may be quite comforting for a time to come in contact, through the medium of printer's ink and paper, with an

THE GLIDING STAR.

Stephen Chalmers.

There is a sea—a quiet sea, Beyond the farthest line, Where all my ships that went astray Where all my dreams of yesterday, And all the things that were to be— Are mine!

There is a land—a quiet land, Beyond the setting sun, Where every task in which I quailed And all wherein my courage failed, Where all the good my spirit planned Is done!

There is a hope—a quiet hope, Within my heart instilled, That if, undaunted, on I sail, This gliding star shall never pale, But shine within my labor's scope, Fulfilled!

And there is a tide—a quiet tide Flowing toward a goal— That sweeps by every human shore And at its fullest ebbs no more; And on that final shell shall rest— My soul!

AT 19 AND 27.

Esther Lindsay was nineteen when her first story was published. It was not the first one she had written by any means. Ever since she had been able to form the alphabetical characters and join them legibly her fertile brain had been weaving all sorts of possible and impossible romances, many of which she had forwarded to publishers in various parts of the country, believing with all the fervor of her youthful egotism that her crude sentiments, still more crudely wrought, would inspire in some editor's soul the same faith in her greatness which she herself already possessed.

But somehow her contributions always fell short of the mark of excellence necessary to insure them a favorable consideration, and manuscript after manuscript was returned to her and was securely locked away in her old-fashioned bureau which had been dedicated, with a good many tears of disappointment, as a repository for all rejected offerings at the shrine of literature. By the time she was nineteen there were probably a hundred or more of those hapless productions laid away either to be ignominiously forgotten or resurrected and revised when her mind should have sufficiently matured to sift out whatever meritorious material there might be in them and use it to good advantage.

She worked steadily for more than three months on her "Story of the Steamer Kendrick." One night she finished rewriting it for the twenty-first time, and the next day she sent it to Jesse Arnold, editor of the Iron Inland Weekly, with a five line note asking him to read carefully, and even if he could not use it to let her know what he thought of it.

All the editors in the land she seemed to have chosen him as her most favored target; why, she could not have told, for she had no personal acquaintance with him and his letters accompanying returned manuscript had been even more curt and forbidding than those of his brother publishers. But for all that each happily ending venture only added fresh fuel to her zeal to secure a foothold among the ranks of the Iron Weekly's contributors and compel his chief to not use it to let her know what he thought of it.

Her "Story of the Steamer Kendrick" was not a work of genius, but there were phases of the plot that were strong and passages that were unusually well conceived and executed, and after reading it he, Jesse Arnold, who was a conscientious editor, decided to keep it. He accepted it with that feeling of uncertainty with which an insurance man issues a policy on an extra hazard risk, and congratulated himself on his shrewdness, with equal delight when it turned out to be preferred. The public liked the story, and several critics who condescended to review the Iron Weekly praised it. Perhaps Editor Arnold himself was more fully aware of the glaring absurdities in the piece, he had bought out than were any of his readers, and each favorable comment that came to his notice only made them all the more apparent. At last he concluded to write to his unknown literary protégé and warn her against certain errors which might be pardoned in a young author's first story, but which, if often repeated, would be a serious drawback to her advancement in her art. Before he did so, however, she sent him another hastily written story and a letter telling him of her bringing her first story to the public, thankfulness that she had been so well received, and unstinted expressions of a steadfast belief that she was fairly launched on a sea of success where wrecks and disasters were an impossibility. In conclusion she hinted that he ought to be eternally grateful to her for allowing him to print a story which would, in all probability, shed luster around his own reputation as well as her own.

Evening he wrote the completed letter and it was duly mailed. "You are in danger of being spoiled," he said, in part. "You need advice and I feel that I have the right to address you in the capacity of censor. Remember you are in an up-to-date world, and the literature that you will live with is the very essence, the embodiment of that world. Visionary, idealistic sketches, such as yours, make very good reading, but they are not the true stuff. You have unquestioned ability, but if you wish to succeed you must turn it to the portrayal of living men and women, not the imaginary puppets that you have manipulated for the most part in your 'Story of the Steamer Kendrick.' Take your hero, for instance. It may be quite comforting for a time to come in contact, through the medium of printer's ink and paper, with an

THE GLIDING STAR.

Stephen Chalmers.

There is a sea—a quiet sea, Beyond the farthest line, Where all my ships that went astray Where all my dreams of yesterday, And all the things that were to be— Are mine!

There is a land—a quiet land, Beyond the setting sun, Where every task in which I quailed And all wherein my courage failed, Where all the good my spirit planned Is done!

There is a hope—a quiet hope, Within my heart instilled, That if, undaunted, on I sail, This gliding star shall never pale, But shine within my labor's scope, Fulfilled!

And there is a tide—a quiet tide Flowing toward a goal— That sweeps by every human shore And at its fullest ebbs no more; And on that final shell shall rest— My soul!

AT 19 AND 27.

Esther Lindsay was nineteen when her first story was published. It was not the first one she had written by any means. Ever since she had been able to form the alphabetical characters and join them legibly her fertile brain had been weaving all sorts of possible and impossible romances, many of which she had forwarded to publishers in various parts of the country, believing with all the fervor of her youthful egotism that her crude sentiments, still more crudely wrought, would inspire in some editor's soul the same faith in her greatness which she herself already possessed.

But somehow her contributions always fell short of the mark of excellence necessary to insure them a favorable consideration, and manuscript after manuscript was returned to her and was securely locked away in her old-fashioned bureau which had been dedicated, with a good many tears of disappointment, as a repository for all rejected offerings at the shrine of literature. By the time she was nineteen there were probably a hundred or more of those hapless productions laid away either to be ignominiously forgotten or resurrected and revised when her mind should have sufficiently matured to sift out whatever meritorious material there might be in them and use it to good advantage.

She worked steadily for more than three months on her "Story of the Steamer Kendrick." One night she finished rewriting it for the twenty-first time, and the next day she sent it to Jesse Arnold, editor of the Iron Inland Weekly, with a five line note asking him to read carefully, and even if he could not use it to let her know what he thought of it.

All the editors in the land she seemed to have chosen him as her most favored target; why, she could not have told, for she had no personal acquaintance with him and his letters accompanying returned manuscript had been even more curt and forbidding than those of his brother publishers. But for all that each happily ending venture only added fresh fuel to her zeal to secure a foothold among the ranks of the Iron Weekly's contributors and compel his chief to not use it to let her know what he thought of it.

Her "Story of the Steamer Kendrick" was not a work of genius, but there were phases of the plot that were strong and passages that were unusually well conceived and executed, and after reading it he, Jesse Arnold, who was a conscientious editor, decided to keep it. He accepted it with that feeling of uncertainty with which an insurance man issues a policy on an extra hazard risk, and congratulated himself on his shrewdness, with equal delight when it turned out to be preferred. The public liked the story, and several critics who condescended to review the Iron Weekly praised it. Perhaps Editor Arnold himself was more fully aware of the glaring absurdities in the piece, he had bought out than were any of his readers, and each favorable comment that came to his notice only made them all the more apparent. At last he concluded to write to his unknown literary protégé and warn her against certain errors which might be pardoned in a young author's first story, but which, if often repeated, would be a serious drawback to her advancement in her art. Before he did so, however, she sent him another hastily written story and a letter telling him of her bringing her first story to the public, thankfulness that she had been so well received, and unstinted expressions of a steadfast belief that she was fairly launched on a sea of success where wrecks and disasters were an impossibility. In conclusion she hinted that he ought to be eternally grateful to her for allowing him to print a story which would, in all probability, shed luster around his own reputation as well as her own.

Evening he wrote the completed letter and it was duly mailed. "You are in danger of being spoiled," he said, in part. "You need advice and I feel that I have the right to address you in the capacity of censor. Remember you are in an up-to-date world, and the literature that you will live with is the very essence, the embodiment of that world. Visionary, idealistic sketches, such as yours, make very good reading, but they are not the true stuff. You have unquestioned ability, but if you wish to succeed you must turn it to the portrayal of living men and women, not the imaginary puppets that you have manipulated for the most part in your 'Story of the Steamer Kendrick.' Take your hero, for instance. It may be quite comforting for a time to come in contact, through the medium of printer's ink and paper, with an

THE GLIDING STAR.

Stephen Chalmers.

There is a sea—a quiet sea, Beyond the farthest line, Where all my ships that went astray Where all my dreams of yesterday, And all the things that were to be— Are mine!

There is a land—a quiet land, Beyond the setting sun, Where every task in which I quailed And all wherein my courage failed, Where all the good my spirit planned Is done!

There is a hope—a quiet hope, Within my heart instilled, That if, undaunted, on I sail, This gliding star shall never pale, But shine within my labor's scope, Fulfilled!

And there is a tide—a quiet tide Flowing toward a goal— That sweeps by every human shore And at its fullest ebbs no more; And on that final shell shall rest— My soul!

AT 19 AND 27.

Esther Lindsay was nineteen when her first story was published. It was not the first one she had written by any means. Ever since she had been able to form the alphabetical characters and join them legibly her fertile brain had been weaving all sorts of possible and impossible romances, many of which she had forwarded to publishers in various parts of the country, believing with all the fervor of her youthful egotism that her crude sentiments, still more crudely wrought, would inspire in some editor's soul the same faith in her greatness which she herself already possessed.

But somehow her contributions always fell short of the mark of excellence necessary to insure them a favorable consideration, and manuscript after manuscript was returned to her and was securely locked away in her old-fashioned bureau which had been dedicated, with a good many tears of disappointment, as a repository for all rejected offerings at the shrine of literature. By the time she was nineteen there were probably a hundred or more of those hapless productions laid away either to be ignominiously forgotten or resurrected and revised when her mind should have sufficiently matured to sift out whatever meritorious material there might be in them and use it to good advantage.

She worked steadily for more than three months on her "Story of the Steamer Kendrick." One night she finished rewriting it for the twenty-first time, and the next day she sent it to Jesse Arnold, editor of the Iron Inland Weekly, with a five line note asking him to read carefully, and even if he could not use it to let her know what he thought of it.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JULY 24, 1915

SECOND ANNUAL OUTING.

The second annual outing of the clerks at the Adams Market and Water street stores of R. E. Foy was held at Glen Echo park Wednesday under ideal weather conditions. The affair was complimentary on the part of Mr. Foy who personally presided at the affair.

Employees, their families and friends, to the number of 175, attended the outing. They left City Square in special cars and reached the park shortly after noon. The dinner was served immediately under the direction of George Welch, assisted by a committee which included George Guston, Richard M. Tinsley, Frank H. Foy, Miss Eliza O. Ross, Llewellyn Tinsley, Leo Hurley, David Littlewood and Miss Lillian Johnson.

More than ten gallons of ice cream was served at the picnic, the repast, with cake, tonic and coffee. At 1:30 the centre field of the base ball diamond where the dinner had been served, was cleared for the ball game between the married and single men. Eighteen picked players from both stores took the field and their families and friends crowded the side lines.

The game opened with sharp, snappy play which continued during the six innings. Both teams were tied with seven runs each at the end of the fifth inning. The marriage men, led by T. Guston, sending Hollis home on a pretty single with the deciding tally. The feature of the game was the remarkable catch by Eddie Wolf. H. B. Caddy and Hollis also started.

The winning combination played Hollis, catcher; Charlie, pitcher; George Guston, first base; Richard M. Tinsley, second base; W. Kain, short stop; George Mills, third base; Eddie Wolf, left field; Leo Hurley, center field; Smith, right field. On the single men's team were Donald Hurley, catcher; Edward Martin, first base; Edward Foy, second base; Taylor, short stop; Frank Foy, third base; Lindquist, left field; Caddy, center field; McEachern, right field. Edward McDonald, manager of the Quincy Beef Co., was umpire.

A series of land and water sports were then carried out. The feature was the men's open race, won by Frank Foy in an exciting finish. The summary of the land sports:

100 yard race—won by Hollis. George Guston, second; Taylor, third. Ladies race for employees—by Miss Elizabeth Ross, Miss Helen Ball, second.

Sack race—won by Edward Martin. Bert Smith, second, Frank Foy, third. Ladies race, open to all—won by Miss Mary Morrison. Miss Ethel Littlewood, second.

Men's race, open to all—won by Frank Foy, W. Caddy, second, Ted Littlewood, third.

Three-legged race—won by Gus Ackerson and Ted Littlewood. Charles Martin and Richard M. Tinsley, second. Frank Foy and Edward Martin, third.

Boys race, under 16 years—won by Philip Wolf, A. Almut, second, Joseph Messier, third.

Race for girls, under 16 years—won by Miss Doris Totman, Miss Irene Totman, second, Miss Marion Foy, third.

Ladies three-legged race—won by Misses Elizabeth Ross and Mary Morrison, Misses E. Morrison and Margaret M. Smith, second.

The water events were held on the lake and the results were as follows: Swimming race—won by Hollis. Frank Foy, second, P. Kollier, third.

Men's single oared race—won by Edward Wolf, Gus Ackerson, second. Men's double oared race—won by Wolf and Messier. Edward Foy and C. Fancie, diving contest—won by Frank Foy, Hollis, second, Bert Smith, third.

Light refreshments were served at the close of the sports and the gathering adjourned to the hotel where refreshments were served for their use. Dancing was also enjoyed, music being furnished by an orchestra.

About seven o'clock the guests thronged the special cars for their homeward journey. The trip was made without any hitch. The signal for the car was the signal for cheer and time and again Mr. Foy was given three hurrahs and a cheer.

WON BY THE GIRLS.
The judges appointed by the Epworth league three months ago awarded the prize for the best essay, following the entertainment given by the girls at the close of the business session this week.

The plan outlined by the fourth vice president was that the boys should give an entertainment in return to the girls and the girls should give an entertainment to the boys in July. After the judges decision the boys should give another entertainment in August.

The boys gave a mock wedding ceremony which was well taken off. The girls gave a musical entertainment. They were dressed in old fashioned dresses and bonnets and sang out of date songs. Miss Mary Williams, dressed in heavy winter wraps sang "The Last Rose of Summer." Mrs. D. H. McNeill and Mrs. Germany gave remarks appropriate to "other dates." Each girl on the program, recited with all the pomp and vain glory of the days gone by, one of Mother Goose's Nursery rhymes.

Refreshments were served by the young women. The judges are Mr. and Mrs. Steward and Mrs. W. H. Germany. According to the decision the boys will have to give another entertainment in August.

THE FOX FARM.
Holbrook just south of Braintree, has a 50-acre fox ranch, one of the first in this country. There is nearly $100,000 worth of the animals, including the famous silver species whose pelts are sometimes worth $1,000 or more each, are there. Marten and mink are to be added. Russell Shaw, one of the proprietors, is a grandson of Robert T. Oulton, of Prince Edward Island, who originated what is said to be the first successful plan for breeding black foxes. The whole ranch is a maze of wire enclosures, and it is conducted on a strictly scientific basis. Each Sunday sees a swarm of interested visitors—Hingham Journal.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

BRIEFS

Miss Florence Brown is spending a few weeks at Siasconnet, Nantucket.

Miss Lena Brown of Whitman is visiting friends in Quincy.

Miss Katherine Howley of Quincy has been visiting Mrs. Mary White of Avon.

Abbott John of Co. K, 5th regiment, is at the Cape this week with the regiment on its annual tour of duty.

Miss Sarah Veazie of Granite street is visiting friends in Maine for a few weeks.

Mrs. John R. Kemmair has returned from Greenfield where she has been the guest of her brother.

Mrs. H. D. Cole wife of the local optician is paying her folks a visit at their home in Newport, Maine.

Granville Gould of Brockton, who has been ill for some time, has moved into his cottage at Post Island.

Miss Jessie Hutchinson of Whitman is spending the week with friends in Quincy.

Miss Josephine L. Kelley, one of the teachers at the Quincy school, is on a visit to Toledo, O. She is to return to Quincy by automobile.

Ernest Kelly of Spear street, left Tuesday for Nova Scotia, to join his family who have been there the past week.

Miss Cora and Alice Sterling of Kittery, Me., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Rogers of Hancock street.

Clarence Burgin and family of Goffe street are at their summer home, the Overlook cottage on Rose Cliff, North Weymouth. Henry C. Rogers is with them.

Miss Corine J. Pitar of Merrymount road is enjoying York beach with the Blunts of Nashua, N. H., and also their bungalow at Ogunquit, Maine.

Miss Laura Myatt of 40 Baxter street and Miss Loretta Coyle of Weymouth are enjoying their vacation at Twin Mountains, N. H. They will remain two weeks.

Quincy commandery of the Golden Cross received a visitation from state officers and members of other commanderies in Electric hall Monday evening. A social hour followed the meeting. Lady Mary Cook presided.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Mackie and two little sons of Atlanta, Georgia, and Mrs. John J. O'Hara of Butler road, Quincy are registered at the "Beach House," Siasconnet, Nantucket Island.

Avard Stolt, of Euclid avenue returned Tuesday from a visit to relatives in Lewiston and Auburn, Maine.

James Mitchell and family of Euclid avenue are enjoying two weeks vacation at Thomaston, Maine.

Dock and Water Front Commissioners Frank Fessenden Crane and Mrs. Crane are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Sydney J. Roy and Miss Roy of Hamilton, Mo. Mr. Roy is one of the five sons of Hamilton and is east with his family on a vacation trip.

The Misses Doris and Bradford Johnson of 50 Delford street aged respectively 8 and 9 years, are enjoying a vacation with their uncle and aunt at Ansonia, Conn. They will return about the first of September.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Bradford and daughter Dorothy are guests of Mrs. Clarence R. Underwood at her cottage at Nantucket. Mr. Bradford returned two weeks but Mrs. Bradford will spend a month with her mother.

Mrs. Rose A. Reid, district deputy grand protector, and suite of Maple lodge, K. L. of an official visitation by members, made an official reception of Silby lodge at Brockton Tuesday evening. They were given a royal reception and were delightfully entertained during the evening.

Master Russell Haddon Keene, son of Dr. and Mrs. Haddon Keene, celebrated his second birthday on Monday afternoon by entertaining sixteen of his playmates at the home of his parents on Francis court. The youngsters had a grand time playing games. During the afternoon refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davenport, of Chicago, are the parents of a baby boy, born Tuesday at the Quincy City Hospital. The baby is the second born to the family, the oldest being a girl, Mr. and Mrs. Davenport have been visiting Mr. Davenport's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Davenport of Greenfield street.

A. Fenton Sproule of 68 Granite street left Thursday for a few months' sojourn to La Fleche Sask, Can., where he will combine business with pleasure by looking after his farm which he has there and which needs his attention for a while at this season of the year. He will also visit his parents and brothers who live in La Fleche.

Mrs. Gomez of 9 Edward street, is entertaining her nieces Mrs. F. P. Brown and daughter Greta, of Brookline, N. Y., and Mrs. M. L. Bernard and daughter, Maudie, of Uxbridge, and they formerly lived at Quincy Point and attended the Washington school. They will be remembered as the Misses Grace and Emma Whitman.

Miss Eva M. Brown and Mrs. F. A. Skinner of Uxbridge road have just returned from West Warwick where they were the guests of the A. M. T. of "Shoreham" for several days. They motored over a large portion of the Cape, visiting Yarmouth, Hyannis port, Brewster, Nantucket, Chatham and many other points.

The large old colonial house on Granite street known as the Southworth estate and later as the Anderson estate is to be opened about August 1 as an inn. The property is situated on the corner of Granite and Goffe streets, well back from the street. The rooms of the house are large and high studded and ideal for inn purposes.

Miss Harriet L. Pierce, Mrs. E. R. Atwood, Miss Margaret Atwood and Mrs. G. Saville, who have been attending the midsummer Unitarian conference meetings at the Isles of Shoals, returned Sunday. Monday many others of the party returned including Mr. and Mrs. William B. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Groce, Mrs. Woodruff, Miss Harriet Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Marsh, Miss Miriam Marsh, Bruce Saville, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Pfaffman, Mrs. James H. Slade, Miss Angelina McCarthy, Miss Dorothea Morrison, Mrs. F. Ambler Welch and William P. Thompson.

Miss Minnie Packard will remain through this week in order to attend the sessions of the Sunday school.

BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lincoln Johnson, welcomed a little daughter, Genevieve Gifford Johnson, July 18, at their home 32 Robinson avenue, Jamaica Plain.

William J. Parker, of Uxbridge road, Boston representative of the Music Trades Journal is having his annual vacation. He plans a trip to Savannah, Ga.

Samuel T. MacQuarrie, secretary of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation, is on his vacation. He has spent a week in Quincy and leaves today for New Hampshire.

There was a good attendance Thursday evening at the weekly whist party at the Quincy Yacht club house. The fact that the day before had been ladies day of the club in no way interfered with the attendance. It was a pleasant evening for all.

A woman who said she was Carrie L. Stiles attempted to leave a moving car in City square at noon Monday and was thrown to the ground. She was badly shaken up. Dr. Seymour of 282 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, who was passing, treated her.

The second of the union services of the Swedish Congregational Methodist and Baptist churches was held Sunday afternoon at Merrymount Park and was largely attended. Rev. Mr. Sundstrom of the Methodist church was the leader of the service and the sermon was given by Rev. A. G. Sporrang of the Congregational church. During the service, there was singing by the male choir of the Congregational church.

Negotiations have been under way for the purchase of the Col. Packard property on Hancock street. The plan was to move the house of all the rear of the lot and erect a large apartment house between the new brick block and the building occupied by Sanborn & Damon. It is understood that the deal to transfer the property was about consummated, but fell through because the title to the apartment to Cottage avenue, was not clear.

Fifty members of Mt. Wollaston lodge and about 70 of John Hancock lodge I. O. O. F., participated in the fraternal visit to Wiley lodge of South Weymouth Thursday evening. On the arrival of the Quincy brethren, members of the Quincy lodge were met by Wiley lodge and headed by a band paraded through the principal streets of the village. After the parade Old Fellows hall was visited where there was an open meeting which was addressed by a prominent member of South Weymouth. At the close of the meeting a banquet was served.

Thomas Burns, 35, and James Mulligan, 28, narrowly escaped death at 9:45 Thursday when a cartridge bomb exploded in the melting pot in the 13th floor of the Packard building in the rear of the building on Hancock street. The force of the explosion shattered the men with metal and carried away the sheet metal hood covering the melting pot, and sent cartridges and hot metal flying in all directions. The bullets punctured the steel metal roof and aged the foundation in 30 places.

The bomb is thought to have been concealed in dress metal being fed into the metal pot by Burns and Mulligan. Both were tossing the dress metal from a pile on the floor to the melting pot when the explosion occurred. Purely through chance the men were not injured by the explosion. The hot metal was showered all over the back of their heads, necks and backs.

The sound of the explosion aroused people living in neighboring houses and Walter Packard, the proprietor, was the first to reach the scene. He arrived at the foundry and Burns staggered into the open air. The men were on the verge of a collapse but walked to the flower conservatory nearby.

There Burns attempted to lift his clothing from his back to see how seriously he was burned but the cloth had been pinned on by hot metal. It was removed to the home of Mrs. John Galvin on Chestnut street. Mulligan was more fortunate and was able to remove his clothing.

The dress was a new lot purchased in Boston Tuesday and delivered at the foundry Wednesday. The pile weighed 1500 pounds. A ton of red hot metal was in the melting pot when the bomb exploded.

The hood which covered the melting pot and carried the smoke into the chimney was bent like paper. The melting pot was not jarred from its foundation. The entire interior of the foundry from the floor to the roof was shattered.

Walter Packard said beyond any question the explosion was caused by a bomb. He said minor explosions were frequently caused through cur formations formed in hot metal but that the metal could not have cooled soon enough to have formed pellets hard enough to have punctured the hood and roof.

The holes are of various sizes, the largest being two inches. Mr. Packard believed the bomb consisted of a small piece of pipe, loaded with powder and cartridges. A close examination of the surrounding houses did not reveal that any of the bullets had struck them.

Shoe manufacturers are of the opinion that the explosion was caused by a damp cloth in a piece of dress metal thrown into the pot. In support of this contention it is pointed out that two men were killed at the Fore River shipyard when a condemnation shaft made for the U. S. S. "Blue Island" was put in the fire to be welded some years ago and had exploded under similar circumstances.

Walter Packard, the owner of the foundry believes that the explosion was that of a cartridge bomb. He says that cartridge shells are junked and that he believes several filled shells became wedged in a piece of pipe, forming a bomb. The burned men are improving rapidly.

BARBS SUSPECTED.
A general alarm has been sent out to capture a white bull dog which ran amuck in Quincy Point Saturday and which is thought to be suffering from the rabies. The dog overran the section and attacked several dogs in the vicinity of Broadway.

During his rampage the animal of Peter Hynes of Broadway was engaged in battle and badly chewed up. Monday afternoon the dog was shot and is now in the hands of the police. It was called and pronounced dead a victim of rabies. He shot it.

The police were notified to keep a lookout for the bull dog and the board of Health was requested to remove the remains of the dead dog.

ROBINS FLOWN AWAY.
If anyone in his travels happens to see two little robins, one lead and one follow, please, notify Miss Georgiana C. Lane, for they are probably her pets. Thursday Miss Lane decided to give freedom to the robins, which she had reared from their early days and with chirping they flew into the trees. That was the last seen of them.

Miss Lane thought perhaps the birds would remember where they had received their food and when they got hungry would fly back to her. The robins of the tree which she has set up in the house. Food has been left in the yard so that should they return and be unable to enter the house, they will find something to eat.

Miss Lane still has four bluejays, which she also has reared since they were very young.

SOUTH QUINCY

Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Holmes and Mrs. Holmes' sister Miss Dorothy Blake of Kendrick avenue are in camp at Bedford for two weeks.

Howard Canley of Kendrick avenue is at Bedford in camp for a fortnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Manning of 147 Liberty street are having congratulations of their friends on the birth Sunday of a little daughter.

Mrs. Abigail Hobart Carey, widow of William E. Carey and long a resident of Quincy, passed away Sunday at her home, 46 High street, in her 68th year. She is survived by a sister, Miss Hannah Hobart and by a brother, Eliza Hobart, who was also a sister of Benjamin Hobart who died a few months ago. The funeral was held Tuesday from her late home. The services in compliance with the request of the family were simple and were conducted by Rev. Stephen B. Laing of the Washington street Congregational church. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Residents of South Quincy are planning to make a strenuous protest against the granting of the application of J. Leonard to operating the horse near the Quincy Adams station. Leonard made application, as has been his custom for some years, to Acting Mayor Crane. Soon after objections were raised. A decision has been reserved by the acting Mayor.

SQUANTUM.
Dr. Oliver Tinkham of Allston is occupying the Bay Huntman bungalow on Bay street this season.

Dr. and Mrs. Littlefield of Roxbury have moved into their handsome new summer home on Ocean street.

Mrs. Chester Young of Squantum has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Grandberg of North Easton. Miss Anna Grandberg returned to Squantum with her to her guest for a few days.

BIG REAL ESTATE VENTURES.
Plans have been completed to launch three of the largest real estate ventures ever seen in Quincy. The Norfolk Downs section has been chosen as the scene of activities and inside of a year the large tract of land between the main street and the Norfolk Downs section will be a cozy village of 78 bungalows.

The ventures will represent an investment of nearly $250,000 and the three men interested are R. E. Jones and Temple A. Winslow of Quincy and Mr. Charles H. Crutcher of Boston. Each man will build 26 bungalows.

The bungalows are to be of the five and seven room type, adapted to the needs of families, and will be up to date in every particular. Each one will cost $1,000. The amount of the investment is $250,000.

Each of the three men decided to make the investments at about the same time. Messrs. Winslow and Jones are practically new men in the development of local real estate while Mr. Crutcher has been in the business for some time.

Mrs. D. L. Barber of Crescent street is registered at the Lancaster house, Lancaster, N. H.

Mrs. T. C. Martin of Roadville formerly of West Quincy, was in town Tuesday, renewing old acquaintances. On Wednesday she attended the Doane family reunion at Nantasket beach.

MILTON.
The Hoosick-Whiskie Camp Fire girls have returned to their homes after spending a very delightful week "camping" at Brant Rock.

Miss Marion of Huntington street returned to her home this week from Brant Rock where she spent three weeks with Miss Dorothy Holmes.

Kenneth D. Johnson and Edward G. Rogers, arrived Wednesday from Brant Rock, where they have been guests for a few days.

Bradford S. Field, the four boys with Mr. Field as guide, looked over the White Mountains, including Carter Dome, Mt. Hagish, Huntington's Ravine and Mt. Washington. They passed through several thrilling experiences on their climb up Huntington's Ravine, which is known to all persons acquainted with the White Mountains as a very steep and stiff climb.

Howard P. Knox and family are at their home on Brackett street.

Hugh Robertson has returned from Livermore, N. H., where he has played ball for two weeks with the Maine State league. His batting was the highest in the club.

"Reggie" Nash the High school coach is in charge of athletics at Knap Hook, Maine, for the season.

Miss Rena Eshard has returned to her home on Washington street after spending two weeks with friends in Clinton.

Crawford Hollidge returned to his home on Adams street this week from the Ragged Mountains, N. H.

PAPERS FOR GUY.
Nomination papers are in circulation for Charles W. Guy of Quincy who is seeking the Democratic, Republican and Progressive nomination as a member of the Governor's council in the second district. In a circular which he has issued Mr. Guy pays a tribute to Hon. Guy A. Ham who served last year, stating that he was a capable man.

Mr. Guy says that he is recommended by Governor Walsh, and that he is a friend of Wendell Phillips, Long, Lucy Stone, Governors Draper and Gould and that he is recommended by Hon. Alexander MacGregor. He closes his characteristic circular with this sentence:

"Will you act as agent and see that he is elected and thereby please the Governor and President Wilson."

QUINCY POINT

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson B. Crane and daughter Isabel and Mrs. Isabella Cameron motored to Worcester and were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wells of Benefit street.

Three children have been born to Mr. and Mrs. William Hastings at the Red Cross hospital at the Fore River shipyard since Mr. Hastings became the nurse at the institution. The third was born last week and has been named Ada Josephine. The family enjoys the best of health.

It must have been noised abroad that the Washington street Congregational society had planned for extensive repairs on its building this summer. It is said the Lord helps those who help themselves. To prove this saying a band of busy men arrived Tuesday and took to their abode, evidently prepared for business. The swarm was from the live of Wm. Pierson on Washington court but the bees liked the high places of the sanctuary so well that they have not yet been dislodged.

North street has the sympathy of her friends in the death of her daughter Dorothy, who passed away Thursday in her 19th year. Funeral services will be held from the home Sunday at 2 o'clock.

WEST QUINCY.
Misses Eudine and Margaret O'Brien of Florence Brook parkway are at Wollaston, N. H., for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson McCormick of Peoria, Ill., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. McCormick of Hall place.

Hartwell Piper of Centre street is at Silver View farm, near River, South Scituate, the guest of Dr. W. M. Parker of West Medford.

Miss Lena Schatzel of Long Island, City, N. Y., is spending her vacation as the guest of her aunt, the Misses Maclellan of Wollaston street.

Miss Mollie Connolly of Barry street and Miss Marion Pike of Cross street left Saturday for New Pound lake, Bridgeview, N. H., where they will spend their two weeks vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson of Mattapan are receiving congratulations on the birth of a nine pound boy July 16, Mrs. Nelson before her marriage was Miss Nellie Connors of Gardfield street.

The band report on the annual lawn party held by the parishioners of St. Mary's church was announced at St. Mary's church Sunday by the pastor, Rev. Father McCoy. The net receipts were $195.11. The amount realized was the largest for the history of the parish. Father McCoy spoke of the great work done by the young women who had charge of the affair and of the hearty support and cooperation given by the parishioners.

Miss Margaret Burke of Common street is at Old Orchard for a week. Peter Duff of Barry street has purchased the residence of A. Blauvelt on Hayden street. He will occupy it the first of August.

Mrs. D. J. Hoffmann of Miami, Florida, who before her marriage was Miss Lillian Lyons of Barry street, is renewing her acquaintances in this city.

Mrs. E. B. Jilbert of 6 West street left Wednesday for Pennsylvania to spend three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hubert of Worcester are spending a few days as the guests of Mrs. Mary D. Temple of Crescent street.

Frank Welsh, formerly janitor of the Willard school but now of Reading, was in town Tuesday renewing acquaintances.

Albert Thomas of Parker Hill avenue, a clerk at the Boston office of the Walworth Mfg. Company, is enjoying his vacation.

Lewis Hains of Roslindale is enjoying his vacation as the guest of his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Owens of Wollaston street.

Mrs. E. L. Barber of Crescent street is registered at the Lancaster house, Lancaster, N. H.

Mrs. T. C. Martin of Roadville formerly of West Quincy, was in town Tuesday, renewing old acquaintances. On Wednesday she attended the Doane family reunion at Nantasket beach.

PARK AND DOWNS.
Miss Annie Lowe of Norfolk Downs is at Vineyard Haven for a few weeks.

Miss Marie Poland of Buckingham road is at Auburn, N. H., for a few weeks.

Miss Mary Macdonnell of Winchester is the guest of Miss Marie Macdonnell of Warwick street Norfolk Downs.

The Sackham Camp Fire Girls met Tuesday afternoon with their leader, Mrs. James Christie, at 119 Broad street, Wollaston. After the ceremony of the camp, the girls, Miss M. J. McCormick and Miss Dorothy Holmes, and other wood workers. The remainder of the afternoon was passed in a pleasant manner with games, etc. The next ceremonial meeting will be held Aug. 17.

Norman L. Burchsted of Willett street is having a two weeks' rest from his duties as letter carrier on the Presidents hill route.

Mrs. Beth Crocker of Wollaston has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Keith of Bridgeview.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bailey of Norfolk Downs are on a motor trip through New York state.

Pleasant weather, an evening tide and a concert by the Eighth Regiment, were the three attractions which served to bring a crowd of upwards of five thousand to Wollaston beach Thursday evening. The concert was in the open air and the water was used as a platform for the band. The band was also thronged with people.

Wollaston women are preparing to circulate petitions to preserve the picturesque knoll on the shore and boulevard. The plans for the extension of the roadway call for the cutting away of the spot. The petitions will be widely circulated and will be presented to the Metropolitan Park Commission. The knoll is considered the prettiest spot on the shore and a good days is the mecca for hundreds of people.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

WOLLASTON

Mrs. W. Herman Waterman of Arlington street has returned from New York as the delegate from the Brooklyn, New York Y. W. C. A. Miss Parker of Lynn.

Miss Helen Griffin of Nashua, New Hampshire is the guest of Mrs. John R. Blinder of Farrington street.

Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor of Highland avenue are visiting her father-in-law, George, New York.

Mrs. George Dudley and Leon of Lee, New Hampshire who were guests for a month of her aunt Mrs. Mary True Taylor of Newport avenue have returned to their home.

Mrs. James D. Kent comes over from Garden City, New York today to stay until September first with the Frank Floods of Fayette street.

Mrs. George D. Rundlett of Safford street has returned from a three weeks' visit in Exeter, New Hampshire where she was the guest of Mrs. Sarah C. Chase.

Miss Margaret Sibley who has been teaching in Hamilton the past year is the guest of Mrs. Frederick W. Jennings of Highland avenue.

Miss L. Leah Hennigar of Safford street is returning the first of the week from an auto trip with Newton Cousins and Mrs. John F. Rogers of Norwich, Conn., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rogers of Olive street. They will take back with them in their auto, their son, Bruce, also Beatrice Rogers who will visit them for a few weeks.

Harriet Davis of Manchester, N. H., is the guest of Mrs. Inman of Conant road.

Mr. and Mrs. William Coulson of Atlantic Boulevard have gone to Buffalo where Mr. Coulson is to bowl with the Buffalo team. Later they expect to visit the Thousand Islands and Toronto for a few weeks.

Mrs. Kate Blaisdell of Hancock street has returned from a two weeks' visit to relatives in Maine.

Miss Marion Letteney of rnishings.

ARE d Varnishes
t Low Prices
ck Street,
Mass.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, JULY 31, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 31.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1837.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED.)
OFFICE, No. 143 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone: Quincy 435.
Quincy 1010.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1888.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE
BRAINTREE OBSERVER
Weekly. Established in 1858.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust
LAND FOR SALE
AT MERRYMOUNT
Mt. Wollaston Farm
Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
Tel. 847-W
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street
Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1849 by
W. PORTER
Insurance effected in reliable and safe
Stock and Mutual offices.
By W. PORTER & CO.
41 No. 70 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy

ETNA INSURANCE CO.

HARTFORD, CONN. Charter Perpetual
Incorporated 1819.
Losses Paid in 94 Years, $132,981,553.48

JANUARY 1, 1915.

Cash Capital	$5,000,000.00
Surplus	9,880,389.89
Reserve for Policyholders	$1,000,000.00
Reserve for Re-insurance	$9,000,000.00
Reserve for Liquidation	$2,288,000.00
Reserve for Other Claims	$28,833.74
Total Assets	$17,817,253.74

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.

INCORPORATED 1837
Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM MUTUAL FIRE INS. CO.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk	$9,581,725.10
Cash Assets	$10,000.00
Total Assets (including re-insurance)	$19,581,725.10
Amount of Cash Surplus	$10,000.00
Surplus for Policyholders	$1,000,000.00
Reserve for Re-insurance	$9,000,000.00
Reserve for Liquidation	$2,288,000.00
Reserve for Other Claims	$28,833.74
Total Assets	$17,817,253.74

JAMES Y. NOYES, President.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer.

DIRECTORS:—Preston R. Mansfield, Dedham; Frederick D. Ely, Dedham; Samuel H. Houghton, Milton; William M. Fawcett, Boston; James T. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Solinsky, Dedham; Franklin A. Fitch, Dedham; George L. Bates, Weymouth.

ROBERT H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

INCORPORATED 1825

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk	$28,000,917.57
Cash Assets	$44,229.62
Total Assets (including re-insurance)	$28,045,147.19
Amount of Cash Surplus	$10,000.00
Surplus for Policyholders	$1,000,000.00
Reserve for Re-insurance	$9,000,000.00
Reserve for Liquidation	$2,288,000.00
Reserve for Other Claims	$28,833.74
Total Assets	$17,817,253.74

JAMES Y. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary

DIRECTORS:—Samuel Gannett, Milton; Stephen M. Weld, Dedham; Thomas E. Draper, Chelsea; William M. Fawcett, Boston; James T. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Solinsky, Dedham; Franklin A. Fitch, Dedham; George L. Bates, Weymouth.

ROBERT H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

INCORPORATED 1825

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.
Incorporated 1855

HOME OFFICE, 22 CENTRAL STREET

Telephone, Main 1040.

William A. Muller, President
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
Edward C. Mason, Secretary
William A. Muller, Treasurer

DIRECTORS:

Paul R. Blackman, Attorney
Charles B. Burdick, Trusts Quincy Savings Bank
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
T. J. Falvey, Pres. Mass. Bonding and Ins. Co.
Henry Hornblower, Hornblower & Weeks
Louis K. Liggett, Pres. United Drug Company
Wm. J. McGaffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas G. Plant Co.
Edward C. Mason, Secretary and Treasurer
William A. Muller, William A. Muller & Company
Henry K. Nichols, Swift Interests
W. F. Sullivan, Pres. Bay State Street Railway Co.
John P. Squire, John P. Squire & Sons
Benjamin F. Wild, Pres. Wellington-Wild Coal Co.
Barrell J. Willis, Blue Hill National Bank
We reduce your Insurance Rate One-Fifth.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

Dr. J. C. Watson

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

900 DROPS

ALCOHOL 2 PER CENT.

Vegetable Preparation for Infants and Children.

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Narcotic.

NOT NARCOTIC.

Dr. J. C. Watson

Perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac-Simile Signature of Dr. J. C. Watson

45 months old

35 DROPS - 35 CENTS

Guaranteed under the Food and Drug Act

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE DAUGHTER.

Theodosia Garrison.

It's not myself I'm grieving for, it's not that I'm complaining, (he's a good man, is Michael, and I've never felt—)

There's a sorrow beating on me like a long day's rain.

For the little wrinkled face on her I left in Kerrydown.

It's just herself I'm longing for, herself and no other—

Do you mind the morrow we were walked to mass when all the fields were green?

'Twas I that planned your kerchief, oh, me mother, mother, mother.

The wide seas, the cruel seas, and half the world between.

It's the man's part to say the word, the wife's to up and follow—

(It's fair land we've come to, and there's plenty here for all.)

It's not the homesick longing that lures me like a swallow,

But the one voice across the world that draws me to its call.

It's just herself I'm longing for, herself and no other—

Do you mind the tales you told me when the turf was blazing bright?

Me head upon your shoulder, oh, me mother, mother, mother.

The broad seas, the cruel seas, and yourself alone tonight!

There's decent neighbors all about, there's coming and there's going:

It's kind souls will be about me when the little one is long.

But it's her word that I'm wanting, her comfort I'd be knowing.

And her blessing on the two of us to drive away the fear.

It's just herself I'm longing for, herself and no other—

Do you mind the soft spring mornings, when you stitched the wedding dress and lost of sleep?

The little, careful stitches, oh, me mother, mother, mother.

Myself behind the broad seas and you in Kerrydown.

A DEFAULTING PAUPER.

The ingratitude of human nature—even blind human nature—cries to heaven; and when Oliver Blinn was driven to the poorhouse there were not a few who inwardly cursed and openly condemned his son, John Blinn.

The matter stood thus: Oliver Blinn, at the age of sixty-five, having accumulated a competency of ten thousand dollars by hard work and economy, was induced to make over farm and fortune to his son John, with the understanding that John and his wife should provide a comfortable home for him as long as he lived, and care for him as son and daughter should, and supply the means for gratifying all his unreasoned needs and desires. Unfortunately, however, this understanding was not made a written condition of Oliver Blinn's transfer of the property to his son, simply because the trustful old man did not dream that it would be necessary. But when John Blinn came into full and secure possession of his father's farm and bank account the true nature of the man began to crop out. He felt toward his father like a homeward-bound, rather than an honored and loved benefactor. Every penny that went toward the old man's support or personal gratification was begrudged, and the food the father ate was watched by his son and meanly commented upon. John's wife was like him, and between them they made Oliver Blinn's life miserable. But it was too late, if not to repent, at least to repair his confiding generosity. He was too old to begin life over again, too old and wanted to leave the old homestead, with its hallowed associations of sainted wife and parents, and go out into the world to seek a new roof beneath which to end his days.

And then there was Beth—dear little Beth—his six-year-old granddaughter. Leave Beth? Why, you might as well ask a miser to desert his gold as to ask Oliver Blinn to go where he could see no more the shining of that little sunny head. No! Oliver Blinn would rather live in exiles, and be insulted and for taking them, than have his fortune and his farm back, and all the wealth and luxury of the world to boot, without darling Beth! And the child loved him as much as he loved her. It was a beautiful devotion, that between the old man and the little girl. How could Oliver Blinn, with all the tragedy that was to befall him, the bitterness of his fate beyond imagination, he knew that he could not leave Beth. But that Beth could be taken away from him? Impossible! And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John told him the whole scheme in a few heartless words. And yet so it fell out. John Blinn suddenly took a notion to go West and buy a ranch. He would take his family with him—all but father. The old man would be too much of a burden and expense, he said. If he could not shift for himself in his old haunts, the poor-house was comfortable enough.

John sold the farm, including the homestead, at auction. It brought him about half what it was worth. But when a man gets the Western fever he must have all the money he can scrape together, even at great sacrifice. The conclusion was brutally sprung at Oliver Blinn. He knew nothing about it until the day of the auction. Then John

SATURDAY, JULY 31, 1915

ANTI-VIVISECTIONISTS.

COAST DEFENSE.

BRYAN'S "ANGEL"

n the surface there is nothing to turb the friendly relations existing ween this country and Germany.
under the surface there are those narines.

Councilman McDonald said that he had no feeling because Beale street had been turned down. When the matter first came up he had favored the majority report but rather than see all the matter held up he would vote for the minority.

Councilman Thompson said he had

OPPOSE REMOVAL OF KNOLL.

Wollaston women are planning solid opposition to the proposed removal of the knoll on the Wollaston boulevard as contemplated by the Massachusetts Highway Commission. Petitions are being circulated throughout the district and are being generally signed.

When a sufficient number of names are secured the petitions will be presented to the commission. The plans call for the leveling of the knoll, the only elevation on the boulevard, and a favorite spot for bathers and picnickers.

Mrs. Homans has not disclosed what plans she has regarding the purchase, other than to increase her land area, although it is understood that she will build at some future time.

The Homans usually come to Quincy for a few weeks in the early spring and occupy the Adams Mansion on Sea street. They are now at The Glades, Cohasset.

Although a large part of the old homestead still remains intact it is understood that the taking of some of the estate bordering on Black's creek for the boulevard purposes, as well as the developing of what is known as "Merrymount Sub-division" has made the estate less desirable to the family.

	WARD 3
Red Sox	1	1	500
Senators	1	2	332
	WARD 2
	Won	Lost
Athletes	3	0	1000
Tigers	2	2	500
Cleveland	1	2	333
Red Sox	1	3	250

The Greater Quincy playground league will begin its schedule today when the Atlantic and Mass. Fields meet at M. F. and South Quincy will play Wollaston at Wollaston.

The Athlete events for tomorrow afternoon at Ward 3 will be the 50 yard dash and the Potato race.

Fr. Michael J. Owens has been appointed district chaplain for the American Federation of Catholic societies and parish by Cardinal O'Connell. His district includes, Quincy, Atlantic, West Quincy and Houghs Neck. An active program has been prepared for the fall and winter.

RECEIVES APPOINTMENT.

Wesley Williams son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams of Bigelow street, has been appointed a teacher of commercial subjects at the high school of Gardiner, Maine. He will assume his duties in September.

The City of Melrose announces its tax rate for the present year as $23.70, an increase of $2 over that of 1914. The total valuation is given as $18,941,380, of which $16,317,600 is real and $2,623,780 personal estate. The real estate shows a gain of $356,350, and the personal estate a gain of $17,700.

BITTEN BY DOG.

George Lyons of 32 Chestnut street was bitten by a dog belonging to George F. Blanchard of 130 Willow street, July 23. Lyons is an employee of the city. He was given medical treatment.

comb of the clerical force of the Quincy Post Office and Thomas Carey, Charles A. Gragg, Arthur H. Dunham, Norman L. Burchstead and John W. Cain, carriers, are enjoying their vacations. They will return to duty Aug. 6.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Dr. H. H. Fletcher

Kitchen Furnishings.

HARDWARE

Paints, Oils and Varnishes

Reliable Goods at Low Prices

1430 Hancock Street,
Quincy, Mass.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, AUGUST 7, 1915

MAYOR CAMPBELL'S TRIP.

Mayor Campbell who has been absent from the city for nearly a month on a trip to the California exposition and on the trip with the Rotary club arrived in Boston Wednesday evening and next morning made his appearance at City Hall where he was warmly greeted by the city officials. His honor looks well and says that he had a dandy time. Although he has travelled ten thousand miles since his absence, the trip has evidently not tired him any.

In answer to a question if he was glad to get back, His Honor gave a "Roosevelt smile" and replied: "Delighted."

"The trip has been one of the most interesting and instructive experiences imaginable," he continued, "and I feel with the information I have gathered by the opportunities given me by the directors of the two big Californian Expositions to study the intricate mechanism of the carrying on of such colossal enterprises, I should be able to bring before the committees appointed by the legislature, and also the committees from other organizations, valuable statistics and information as to the proposed celebration in New England in 1920."

"All through the trip, covering nearly 10,000 miles by rail, boat and auto, our party was met everywhere by the most cordial and hospitable and hearty welcomes tendered in nearly every city visited, and on top of Pike's Peak will be found at this time, a card fastened to the hand rail of the "Look-out," on which is written:—"Quincy, Mass., joins with all New England in inviting the world to the Tercentenary in 1920."

"Kansas City and Colorado Springs, Salt Lake City and Los Angeles, all heard something about New England in 1920. San Diego, nestled in the Southern part of that wonderful State of California, presents a most unique and picturesque exposition. While much smaller in size than the exposition at San Francisco, yet it has a style all its own, tending severely toward the Spanish form of architecture with buildings of white color. The floral display, artistically placed and grouped with the buildings and arboreta, pergolas, etc. form one magnificent scene after another even surpassing in this respect the larger exposition at San Francisco."

"In studying the conditions one wonders at the results obtained. Here in San Diego, a city of 75,000, in the extreme Southern part of California, within a dozen miles of the troubled Mexican border, the municipality drew over 250,000 inhabitants during the exposition. It is 125 miles distant, yet they have put on an exposition costing millions of dollars with comparative little financial aid from state and nation."

"It is a wonderful example of what a city can do, and when the President, G. Arthur Davidson of the exposition how they did it, he simply replied: 'We have citizens who believe in doing things. You people in the East raise good, brainy men. Then we take them and inject the enthusiasm and the result is what you see all through California. And so most all through the great West and Northwest. The enthusiastic booster of his section acknowledges he came from the East, but the air is filled with the great desire to do big things.'"

"The exposition at San Francisco is simply a marvel. To neglect the opportunity to inspect and study the same is a distinct loss to any citizen of the country. Here the resources of not only our own country, but many foreign cities are laid open for inspection. Buildings characteristic of the country or state they represent form a group too wonderful to grasp without days, yes, weeks of study. Here again the "plunging" spirit is shown, for this exposition represents a total outlay of over $50,000,000. The directors of admissions and concessions told me that at the first meeting at which subscriptions were taken, $4,998,000 was subscribed by the citizens of San Francisco at a second meeting another $2,500,000 was subscribed, while the City of San Francisco issued bonds for $5,000,000 and the State of California a like amount, making cash subscriptions by the citizens of California of $17,598,000. This vast sum augmented by national and foreign expenditures brings the total outlay for the exposition up to the amount first named. With all this expenditure starting them in the face they are optimistic as to the final outcome."

"On the way East our greetings at Victoria and Vancouver were most cordial, and at Banff we were met by a delegation from Calgary headed by the Mayor of that progressive Canadian city, who bore an invitation for us to stop over and receive the freedom of their city. As time forbade our accepting same, they took possession of our observation car and from eight in the morning until summer the train reached Calgary, the virtues of Calgary were expounded, mingled whenever possible with a yell for New England. This enthusiasm prevails all through the great Canadian Northwest. The mountains with their snow-capped peaks, the small farming interests, even the Scandinavian settlements sprinkled along the route of the Canadian railroads, all burst forth on the least provocation to boost their country and especially their immediate locality."

"The West has been made by the MEN and WOMEN of the EAST. Let us heed our men by giving them what the West offers—that progressive spirit of doing, which means RESULTS."

GYPSIES LEAVE.

Capt. McKay's Argument Was Effective.

Acting Chief McKay and Inspector Goodhue of the police department earned the gratitude of a hundred West Quincy residents Thursday by ordering Chief Peto and his band of 50 gypsies to pull their stakes and move on to some place where they would be more welcome.

The gypsies arrived Tuesday afternoon and took possession of the camp on Willard street, near West street, vacated on that day by Peter Amelo and a band of Micmac Indians. On Wednesday they studied the by of the band with the results that a score of complaints were made.

The police lost no time in taking action. They delivered their ultimatum to the chieftain who put up a short but sad argument. By midnight the band was over the local boards.

BRIEFS

Miss Louise Driscoll is spending her vacation at Centre Harbor, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Derby, ex-Curtis, are receiving congratulations on the birth Tuesday morning of a son.

Mrs. Rose A. Reid of Upland road, a well known resident of this city, is seriously ill at her home.

John Anderson of the sales force of the E. J. Murphy pharmacy returned Monday after a week in Maine.

John Hamilton of Allendale, N. J., was the week end guest of Mrs. John Stillwell.

Misses Helen and Catherine Griffin of Hancock street are the guests of relatives at Portland, Me.

James Morrison of Spear street has come to New York to enjoy cruising up the Hudson.

Charles Stewart of Cross street has gone to Andover, Maine, to spend the month of August with his grandfather.

Miss Esther Bergfors of 29 Pleasant street, is enjoying her annual vacation in New Hampshire.

Mrs. C. C. Hodgkinson is driving a Maxwell, purchased from her son who is proprietor of the Central Garage.

Mrs. B. Porterfield of Hancock street has returned from a month's stay in Maine, feeling much refreshed by the outing.

Katherine Leahy of Revere Road has left for two weeks vacation with friends at Sanford, Maine, and Cape Porpoise.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Johnson and Miss Olive Johnson of Germantown have on a two days automobile trip through the White Mountain region.

Mr. and Mrs. Elen W. Sheppard of Greenleaf street leave today for Dover, N. H., to visit their son Joel F. Sheppard 24 and Mrs. Sheppard.

Cards have been received from Miss Margaret S. Lyons, assistant city clerk, who is spending her vacation at Hampton Beach.

Henry A. Harding, a salesman of Quincy is a petitioner in bankruptcy. His liabilities are $2,171 and assets $60.

Quincy court No. 76, M. C. O. F., will hold its annual trolley ride to Nantasket on August 12th. Cars will leave Quincy square at 7 P. M.

Dr. Cyrus T. Sherman of Greenleaf street returned Wednesday from Northfield where he passed a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucien E. D. Gaudreau and son, Paul, have returned from a two weeks trip to Sherbrooke and Farnham, Quebec, Canada.

Miss May Stillwell of Staten Island, N. Y., is the guest of her brother, John Stillwell of Quincy avenue, for a few days.

Charles Buckley of the Granite Shoe Store returned to work Monday after a two weeks vacation at Goff's Falls, N. H.

Russell T. Sullivan, the popular clerk at the Granite Shoe store, is spending his vacation at Auburn, N. H.

James McDonald, assistant to Lawrence Lyons clerk of court, started his vacation Tuesday. John A. Duggan will be assistant until he returns.

Sec. Sadie Stevens of George L. Gil Rebekah lodge, I. O. O. F., left Tuesday for a Western trip. She will take in points of interest and will visit her brother in California.

Arthur P. Wentworth of 173 Granite street, manager of the W. L. Douglas Shoe Co. store at 120 Hanover street, Boston, is enjoying a two weeks vacation at home.

Daniel S. Flowers, formerly of Quincy, but late of Vallejo, Calif., reports a very pleasant trip from the Pacific coast to Portsmouth, Va., on the U. S. S. Kanawha.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Lofgren of Cottage street are enjoying a few days outing among the Vermont mountains. Post cards have been received by Quincy friends from Worcester and Montpelier.

Miss Eva M. Brown and Mrs. F. A. Skinner of Upland road went to Keams, N. H., Monday for two weeks. They will be at the Brookside Cottage where so many Quincy people have enjoyed a pleasant outing.

Miss Frances Burke of this city has been elected teacher at the Plain street school, Rockland for the coming year to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Maria Jenkins after 40 years of faithful service. Miss Jenkins was retired on a pension.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore F. Swayze of Washington, D. C., and son Robert of Torrington, Connecticut are guests of Mrs. George H. Wilson of 47 Revere road. They are en route from Boston to Dixville Notch and Bretton Woods.

Dr. Francis Abelo, Jr. and family who have been spending the early summer at their Post Island cottage returned Saturday to their home on Spear street. James F. Young and family of Adams street will occupy the cottage for the balance of the season.

Dr. and Mrs. Sidney Hardwick of Elm street entertained at Bridge at their home last Saturday evening. The guests had a most enjoyable affair. The guests had an opportunity to see how it would seem to be left hand for the dinner only the use of the left hand was allowed.

A band concert at Dobie's corner Saturday night drew nearly a crowd of 2000 men, women and children. The program included popular songs of the day and bits of high class compositions. The funds were contributed by the merchants of the vicinity who have planned for a series to be held weekly during August.

Mrs. William T. Askew, formerly of Quincy, gave a lawn party on the grounds at her home, 204 Hammond street, Montello, July 23 which was a very successful affair both financially and socially. Guests were present from Quincy, Randolph, Brockton, Cambridge, and Brookline. The proceeds will be given to St. Edward's church, Montello.

Miss Hattie Anderson of 181 Granite street and her son and daughter, Frank and Miss Clara, are the guests of Mrs. Anna Sutherland, another daughter of Mr. Anderson, at her summer home at Ocean Bluffs, Rev. A. G. Sporrang, pastor of the Swedish Evangelical church, and Mrs. Sporrang left Tuesday for Ocean Bluffs, where they will be the guests of Mrs. Sutherland for the month of August. During the absence of the pastor the services will be conducted by Rev. Anton Norberg of West Duxbury.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Anna E. wife of A. Frank Haskins of Glendale road, died Saturday.

Mrs. Harry Sullivan entertained a number of friends Tuesday at her summer home on Great Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sylvester and Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Welch left early Sunday morning on a two weeks auto tour to Deer Isle, Maine.

It was announced Thursday evening that the marriage of Miss Zayna Galvin and Thomas Connolly will take place early in September and that Rev. Pr. Michael J. Owens of St. John's church will officiate.

Mr. and Mrs. George Monk of Wollaston street Monday left for Ogunquit, Maine for a short vacation. Before returning Mr. Monk is to go into Maine woods on a fishing trip and his Quincy friends may expect to hear some big fish stories.

Nearly 100 men, women and children members of the Sunday school of the Calvary Baptist church held a picnic at Highland park Saturday. A series of sports were held under the direction of Lindsay Smith and Alfred Nell. Dinner was served on the grounds.

John R. Arnold of this city, who recently returned from the Philippines after six years government service, has received an appointment as statistician in the Department of Commerce at Washington. He will begin his duties next Thursday. Mr. Arnold is the son of Mrs. Zenas S. Arnold of Coddington street. He is a graduate of Harvard and has a reputation in the Philippines as a scholar of unusual attainments. His description of the Islands, published by the U. S. Government, is a standard in its line.

Miss Martha McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. McDonald of West Quincy, left Tuesday to enter the sisterhood of the Sisters of Charity at Halifax, N. S. Miss McDonald is a graduate of the Quincy schools.

Mrs. D. H. McNeill of Barry street spent the week end visiting relatives in Easton.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Doyle of Ballou street are receiving congratulations. A ten pound daughter was born to them on Sunday, Aug. 1st.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

WEST QUINCY

Mrs. Margaret Drohan, long a resident of West Quincy died suddenly at her home Friday, July 30. Death was probably due to heart failure.

Mrs. Drohan is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Patrick Carty and Mrs. James Dodge, of Wollaston.

George O'Brien of Chicago is spending a short vacation as the guest of his mother on Copeland street. Mr. O'Brien is well known in this city having been engaged here in the fish business for many years.

Miss Annie McGilvray of a Wollaston street left Saturday for two weeks vacation which she will spend with friends in Richmond, Va.

Miss Josie Grignon of Revere street returned Saturday from Chatham where she has spent the past month with her mother in enjoying her annual vacation at Wyndham, Conn.

Miss Susie Hayes of Cross street left Saturday for New York City where she will spend a two weeks vacation with relatives.

Charles Buckley of California avenue and Henry Donaher returned Saturday from Georges Mills, N. H., where they spent their vacation.

Misses Mildred and Alice Reinhalter of Hampton Beach have left for a visit to Hampton Beach. Miss Mildred is a popular teacher in the Cambridge schools, while Miss Alice teaches in Randolph.

Miss Martha McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. McDonald of West Quincy, left Tuesday to enter the sisterhood of the Sisters of Charity at Halifax, N. S. Miss McDonald is a graduate of the Quincy schools.

Mrs. D. H. McNeill of Barry street spent the week end visiting relatives in Easton.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Doyle of Ballou street are receiving congratulations. A ten pound daughter was born to them on Sunday, Aug. 1st.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

Misses Helen and Gertrude Burke of 57 Rodgers street, West Quincy, left Monday for Maine. They are registered at the Sebago Lake house, Sebago Lake, for three weeks.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Miss Ruth Davis of Rawson road is spending a week at Weymouth, the guest of relatives.

Misses Sabra and Nathalie Ryder of Willow street are spending a few weeks in Maine.

Miss James Dodge of Wollaston avenue is the guest of her niece Mrs. William Wannamaker of Wakefield.

Garnet Keith of Wollaston avenue is enjoying an outing in Berlin, Vermont.

Mrs. Charles G. Farwell and daughters Miss Marion and Miss Helen of Briggs street have returned from a pleasant outing spent at Camp Echo, South Hero, Vermont.

Word has been received that Charles Dill who left Wollaston last week for a two weeks cruise in the "Corlew" around the Cape, was obliged to put in at Salsotte on account of the storm and is still anchored there.

Miss Violet L. Shay of Beach street is spending two weeks in Beverly, the guest of Mrs. F. W. Prince.

Miss Helen Wiley of Portland, Maine, is spending a few days with her aunt, Mrs. C. J. Shay of Watkins street.

Mrs. William Mann and two sons of Freeman street have returned from a month's visit at Plymouth, New Hampshire.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Reinhalter of Schem street have returned from a visit at West Newton where they were the guests of relatives.

Miss Mildred Atwood of Taylor street who has been visiting in Lexington has returned and has with her as her guest Miss Althea Atwood of East Lexington.

Arthur Bowen of Athorp street is at Grand Falls, New Brunswick, where he will spend five weeks in one of the large lumber camps.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Bean Stokes of Taylor street, who have been visiting in Lexington, have returned and has with her as her guest Miss Althea Atwood of East Lexington.

Mrs. George Goham and sister Miss Beulah Mollins of Moncton, New Brunswick, are guests of their brother Harold Keith of Clay street.

John Shephard of Pembroke, who has been visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. Shephard of Taylor street returned the early part of the week.

Miss Ida Clifford of Safford street has returned from Wollaston, New Hampshire, where she was the guest of Miss Helen Parker of North Central avenue who is summing there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Bean Stokes of Taylor street, who have been visiting in Lexington, have returned and has with her as her guest Miss Althea Atwood of East Lexington.

Miss Laura M. Torrens of Philadelphia is the guest for a fortnight of Mrs. Joseph S. Thomas of Warren avenue.

Dr. William G. Curtis and Edwin A. Holmes of Standish avenue and Andrew S. Nelson of Billings road left Monday on the doctor's yacht "Thalia" for a two weeks cruise along the north shore.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Cole and daughter Dorothy left yesterday for a fortnight's stay at Rutland, Vermont.

Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan and son Henry of Standish avenue are leaving today for New London, New Hampshire.

Mrs. Almon Moody of East Elm avenue has guests Mrs. Robert Isaacson and daughters, the Misses Rachael and Alice of Andover for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald MacDonald, Miss Janet and Master George MacDonald of Hancock street, Wollaston are leaving today by automobile for New York. They will stop over en route in Albany to visit relatives of Mrs. MacDonald.

Miss Clara E. G. Thayer of Prospect avenue returns today from a two weeks stay at Greys Inn, Jackson, New Hampshire.

Mrs. Joseph Small of Saugus returned home Friday after a week's visit with her daughter Mrs. Daniel S. Handy of Standish avenue.

James S. Whyte of Standish avenue is to be the soloist Sunday morning at Pilgrim Congregational church.

Mrs. Robert Stains and son, Robbie, of Bridgeport, Conn., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Ela of Wollaston.

Miss Joseph Phil of Holyoke is spending her vacation at the home of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald R. Philip of Teale street, Wollaston.

Miss Mabel Cody of Old Colony avenue has returned from two weeks spent at Peaks Island and Old Orchard, Me.

Miss Gladys Leighton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Sydney Leighton of 20 Hersey place became the bride of Robert M. Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Hill of Roxbury, Wednesday morning at Holyoke in a large gathering of relatives and friends.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. C. Lang, pastor of the Washington street Congregational church at the home of the bride. Miss Edith L. Sawyer of Brookline was bridesmaid and Arthur Berry of Quincy was the best man.

A reception followed the ceremony at which the couple were assisted in receiving by the parents of the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Hill left on a honeymoon trip to Atlantic City, N. J. On their return they will live at Dix street, Dorchester.

The bride is well known in this city and has been a teacher at the Lincoln school. She is a graduate of the Pittsfield Maine Central Institute and of the University of Maine. The groom is a traveling salesman for a Boston house.

DION-BRYAN.

A preacher says the time will come when there will be no liars in the world. He'll have to abolish the income tax first.—Detroit Free Press.

Mrs. Currier's husband, Dr. Edward M. Currier of Boston, the driver of the car, was killed when the machine turned a complete somersault.

budget, which will probably be forwarded to the City Council at a special meeting to be called sometime the latter part of this month.

1478 Hancock Street
Quincy, : : : Massachusetts will only run for the City Council with the understanding that Councilman Nelson is going to resign.

son, Raymond Russell, a Boston paper man. Funeral services held today from the Church of the Holy Trinity.

news-will be of the

TO LET—Large pleasant wide verandas, shady trees if desired. Call or write avenue Wollaston.

FUNERAL DIR
Carriage and Ambula
1485 Hancock Street,

CTOR Service.
ancy Mass.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, AUGUST 14, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 33.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1827.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 1224 HAYCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Quincy 1910.
Telephone 425.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1888.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE

BRAINTREE OBSERVER

Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE

Adams Real Estate Trust

LAND FOR SALE

MERRYMOUNT

Mt. Wellfleet Farm

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance

QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.

BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street.

Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1819 by

W. PORTER

Insurance effected in reliable and safe

Sack and Mutual offices.

By W. PORTER & CO.

At No. 70 Kilby Street, Boston.

Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy

ETNA INSURANCE CO.

HARTFORD, CONN. Charter Perpetual

Incorporated 1819.

Losses Paid in 94 Years, $132,981,553.48

JANUARY 1, 1911.

Cash Capital, $5,000,000.00

Net Surplus, 6,900,381.87

Surplus for Policy Holders, $11,200,289.39

Reserve for Life Insurance, $9,056,727.17

Reserve for Unpaid Claims, 22,208.91

Reserve for Other Claims, 786,233.74

Total Assets, $25,481,250.31

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.

AGENTS FOR QUINCY.

Incorporated 1827

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $9,261,721.10

Cash Assets, $74,620.67

Total Liabilities (including re-insurance), 74,620.67

Amount of Cash Surplus, $1,910,946.98

Contingent Assets, $12,911.33

Total Available Assets, $2,922,859.29

Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies 40 per cent; on ten-year policies 40 per cent; on one-year policies 20 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, President.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer

DIRECTORS:—Preston R. Mansfield, Dedham; Frederick D. Ely, Dedham; Samuel Gannett, Milton; Charles M. Faxon, Boston; James Y. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Selsby, Dedham; Samuel H. Capen, Dedham; Andrew H. Hodgdon, Dedham; George L. Barnes, Weymouth.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

Incorporated 1823

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $7,402,937.77

Cash Assets, $44,750.67

Total Liabilities (including re-insurance), 206,680.61

Amount of Cash Surplus, $1,938,046.66

Contingent Assets, 28,497.25

Total Available Assets, $2,966,543.52

Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies 40 per cent; on ten-year policies 40 per cent; on one-year policies 20 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary

DIRECTORS:—Samuel Gannett, Dedham; Stephen M. Wood, Dedham; Thomas Draper, Canton; William E. Lincoln, Brockton; James Y. Noyes, Dedham; George W. Wiggins, Franklin; Asa P. French, Randolph; Edward C. Phillips, Norwood; Clifford P. Baker, Dedham.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.

INCORPORATED 1833

HOME OFFICE, 18 CENTRAL STREET

Telephone, Main 1040.

William A. Muller, President

W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President

Edward C. Mason, Secretary

William A. Muller, Treasurer

DIRECTORS:—Paul R. Blackmer, Attorney

Clarence Burghis, Treas. Quincy Savings Bank

W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President

T. J. Falvey, Pres. Mass. Bonding and

Ins. Co.

Henry Hornblower, Hornblower &

Weeks

Louis K. Jaggert, Pres. United Drug

Company

Wm. J. McCaffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas

G. Plant Co.

Edward C. Mason, Secretary and Solicitor.

William A. Muller, William A. Muller

Company

Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests

P. F. Sullivan, Pres. Bay State Street

Railway Co.

John P. Squire, John P. Squire & Sons

Benjamin F. Wild, Pres. Wellington-

Wild Coat Co.

Edward J. Willis, Blue Hill National

Bank

We reduce your Insurance Rate One-

Fifth.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of
Wm. D. W. Porter
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
ALCOHOL 3 PER CENT.
Vegetable Preparation for Stimulating the Bowels and Regulating the Stomach and Dietary Habits.
NOT NARCOTIC.
Promotes Digestion, Checks
Nausea and Vomiting, Relieves
Opium Morphia, and Nervousness and Headaches.
A Perfect Remedy for Constipation,
Sour Stomach, Flatulency,
Worms, Convulsions, Feverish
ness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Fac-Simile Signature of
Wm. D. W. Porter
NEW YORK.
46 months old
35 Doses—35 CENTS
Guaranteed under the Food and
Drug Act of 1906.
Exact Copy of Wrapper.

THE CHOSEN.

By Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

They stood before the Angel at the gate.
The Angel asked: "Why should you enter in?"
One said: "You earth my place was high and great."
And one: "I warned my fellowmen from sin."
Another: "I was teacher of the faith I scorned my life and lived in love with death."
And one stood silent. "Speak!" the Angel said:
"What earthly deed has sent you here today?"
"Alas, I did but follow where they led," he answered sadly: "I had lost my way."
So the new country, and so strange the light:
I only sought for guidance and for light."
"You have no passport?" "None," the answer came.
"I loved the earth, thy lowly was my lot.
I strove to keep my record free from blame,
And make a heaven about my humble cot."
A narrow life: I see it now, too late:
So, Angel, drive me from the heavenly gate."
The Angel, swung the portal wide and free.
And took the sorrowing stranger by the hand.
"Nay, you alone," he said, "shall come with me."
Of what God gave, you built your paradise.
Behold your mansion waiting in the skies.

THE CHOSEN.

To her horror it was not Buck Miles that was Philip Landon. It was Philip Landon. Placing both hands to her lips, Eve hallooed with piercing sweetness. Landon turned, blinking, and then swung about and came toward her. "You wished to speak to me?" he questioned gravely. "Oh, I am so sorry that I spoke in that way—you see, I didn't know it was you. I thought it was some one else," faltered Eve with drooping eyes and shamed cheeks. "Thank you for explaining," he said soberly, "but I shall not take it amiss if you prefer to be alone."

EVE'S DECISION WAS FINAL.

The morning sunshine streamed through the open windows of the ranch house, where Selma Winton and her daughter sat at breakfast. It strengthened the deep bronze of Selma's cheeks and brought out high lights in her copper-colored hair. "You look like you wasn't feeling up to the scratch, honey," said Selma solicitously. "I reckon all this dancing and highlighting entertainments ain't good for little girls."

"I'm all right, dad," said Eve listlessly, "only it's a little sore of wear, that's all, you know." She looked past him through the eastern window where the outline of the sun scorched hills melted into a sepiæ haze. "Let me see, honey. I most forgot how long you and Buck's been engaged," he said, with clumsily assumed carelessness. Eve resented from brow to chin, and the fork in her hand rattled to the floor. She laughed nervously—Eve who had never confessed to nerves in all her free young life—and still kept her eyes on the eastern hills. "Oh, I believe it's three years, dad. It's funny, but I've almost forgotten too!"

Selma Winton got upon her feet and paused behind her chair. "I don't want to lose you, Eve, but if you're keeping Buck waiting because of your sense of duty to me—why, you needn't mind. I only want you to be happy." She kissed the top of her head and hastily left the room.

When the Chinese servant had received his orders for the day Eve put on her riding things and went to the corral. "Jim, where is my father?" she asked of the lad who saddled the roan mare.

"He went to the gulch with Wade. There's some dispute over a critter with three brands, and Mr. Winton's gone over to see about it."

Jim watched Eve curiously as she mounted and rode away without her accustomed gay leave-taking. "If it's that skunk of a Buck Miles that's making her look that way I'll smash his head," muttered Jim, for Eve was adored by every member of the double X outfit.

The night before there had been a dance at the gulch schoolhouse, and the waiting swarms of the violins still haunted her ears with irritating persistence—irritating because the evening had been such an unhappy one for poor Eve.

She had gone to the dance with her father, as usual but Selma Winton had remained only long enough to deliver his daughter into her lover's care, and then he had departed for home and an early bed.

To Eve it seemed that the evening would never end. Buck had danced once with her, and after that had openly devoted himself to black-eyed Mattie Young, to the wonderment and disgust of the male guests. Eve, pale and frightened at what she knew not threatened to destroy her happiness, did not lack for partners. They swarmed about her like bees, and there were much laughter and merriment among them, for to a man they strove to eliminate the idea that Eve was being neglected by Buck Miles.

Eve remembered their efforts with warm gratitude, and she recollected that the new schoolteacher unbent from his dignity and danced with her several times. He talked to her in his pleasant, well modulated voice, but today Eve could not recall a word of their conversation. She only knew that she had felt a sense of protection in his tall, broad shouldered figure and in the warm kindness of his voice.

And when it was all over the schoolteacher had gone home with her. To Eve's consternation, Buck Miles had disappeared before the last dance with pretty Martha. She was quivering under this last insult when out of the chaos of the evening had come Philip Landon's deep voice, ringing clear and insistent above the chatter and movement of departure.

"I hope you have not forgotten your promise that I shall take you home, Miss Winton," he said, and every one heard him and was glad. Although no such promise had been asked or given, Eve smiled and taking his proffered arm and entered the waiting buggy.

And now, after a sleepless night, she was racing over the parched ground, riding away from Buckman Miles' property, which bordered her father's ranch on the south.

Over to the south, away from which she was now riding, lay the Lacy O ranch of which Miles was the owner.

Eve Winton and Buck Miles had grown up together, and every incident in Eve's happy, care free existence seemed to have been interwoven with that of her neighbor. It was quite natural that later they should fall desperately in love and become engaged. But there it paused for three years had passed since Buck had slipped a diamond ring upon Eve's slim finger, and Buck never mentioned their marriage, except in the most casual manner, as something very far ahead in the future.

Suddenly came the pounding thud of hoofs along the trail behind. She did not turn around even when the swift gallop broke into a trot and some one rode at her elbow.

Of course it was Buck Miles, eager and repentant after his insults of the evening before.

"You need not follow me," said Eve coldly and without turning her head, "I prefer to be quite alone."

With a startled ejaculation the unseen rider turned and galloped rapidly along the trail.

This action was so unlike Buckman Miles that Eve turned and looked after him.

To her horror it was not Buck Miles that was Philip Landon. It was Philip Landon. Placing both hands to her lips, Eve hallooed with piercing sweetness. Landon turned, blinking, and then swung about and came toward her. "You wished to speak to me?" he questioned gravely. "Oh, I am so sorry that I spoke in that way—you see, I didn't know it was you. I thought it was some one else," faltered Eve with drooping eyes and shamed cheeks. "Thank you for explaining," he said soberly, "but I shall not take it amiss if you prefer to be alone."

Eve's hand dropped, and he stared open mouthed. "Well," he said awkwardly, "it's well that ends well, I guess. Mattie made me come over and bring this ring back to you. She said I wasn't treating you fairly, but if you don't want it—if you really love Landon here—I guess there isn't any reason why I can't go back and marry Mattie."

"Have you seen Miss Young this morning?" asked Landon.

"No."

"Before I left the gulch, Postmaster Squires told me that his son had eloped with Miss Young early this morning, and that they left word to me to be married in Foster before noon."

"It's a lie!" shouted Buck and, throwing himself on his horse, dashed out of the canyon and disappeared.

Philip Landon turned his blue eyes on blushing Eve.

"I'm sure you saved my life. He was blind with rage and drink. Although I have loved you ever since we first met a year ago, I shall not hold you to that statement so rashly given to save my life."

"You love me?" whispered Eve incredulously.

"Yes."

"Then," said Eve, who had learned so much in the last few minutes—"then I shall not retract my statement!"

"And we are engaged?" Landon's arms went around her and his eyes looked down into hers.

"I hope so," answered Eve demurely. By Clarissa Mackie.

HOUGHES NECK PARISH CONCERT.

Quincy's first real sacred concert, held at the Kincaid theatre Sunday evening in aid of the parish of the Most Blessed Sacrament at Houghes Neck, was a grand success. The seating capacity of the house was sold and most of the seats were occupied. The program was one of rare excellence and the amount of money realized greatly exceeded the anticipations of the committee and Director John J. Cadden who proposed the concert.

Naturally, 90 per cent of the audience were from Houghes Neck. They utilized every kind of a vehicle in getting to the theatre, from trolleys and jitneys to autos and horses and carriages, and 14 extra cars were required in order to return the people to their homes.

The guests of honor were Fr. Mark E. Madden, pastor of the parish, who was appointed six weeks ago; Fr. Louis E. Kellher, his curate who was recently ordained at the American College at Rome; Fr. Michael J. Owens, pastor of St. Johns, the mother parish; and Fr. John P. Cuffe, pastor of the parish of the Sacred Heart at Atlantic and the dean of Catholic clergymen of the city. In the audience were shining lights in the theatrical profession who were ready to contribute their part to the program if there were any openings on the bill.

The services of all the artists were contributed gratuitously. Several of the orchestra could not be given because the regulations of the State police require that houses be closed on Sunday evening by 11 o'clock.

Lawrence R. O'Connor, one of the most accomplished pianists in theatrical circles and a well known composer, was the accompanist of the evening. The concert program closed with several numbers by Moore's band of 30 pieces, conducted by Alfred J. Moore.

Larry McCabe, Lauder's only rival, could not appear because of the sudden illness of his father, and the time prevented the appearance of McCabe, Mack and Shannon, the Irish song birds; Jennings and Evans, black face comedians; Miss Madeline Buckley, prima donna of the Hay Ward musical company; Joe Moore, musical comedian; Louis Brems, Hebrew impersonator; Ben Hill, monologist; Bill and Fred, musicians and singers; Sandy Chapman, the most versatile performer on the stage; McGowan and Cheney, two boys and a piano. But the rest of the artists brought down the house.

Colton and Miles, residents of the parish, created a thousand laughs. Colton entered, costume and singing "Popcorn," a local vander and made a decided hit. As a trained dog he put across his enough to keep his audience in raptures. His partner sang a snappy parody on "A Hundred Years From Now," written by Director Cadden, composer of the song.

Eddie Healey and Allie Bagley, who appeared two weeks ago with the Loring musical review, came all the way from Portland, Me. to fill a place on the bill. Their reception was like a welcome home.

Dan Hickey of Weymouth, familiarly known as "Tinkle Hickey," principal in the double act of Haley and Marlowe and the champion tambo performer in the country, made his old tambo ring. His specialty was given after he had sung two coon songs in an inimitable manner, and maybe he didn't make a hit.

Billy Chapman, with the aid of James Travers at the piano couldn't start until the applause subsided, and then he had to return in an encore number.

Rose Black defended the anti suffragette in a spicy monologue.

Billy Cotey, Boston's sweetest tenor and Chick Story, the song writer, featured in "The Golden Summer Time." Happy Budrow was to have been the singer but could not be present. They were tendered an ovation.

Paul Cheverly, the Frenchman with the lucky violin, was the center of a 12 minute scream. Dressed as a baker he played a violin, using kitchen utensils for his bow.

Charles E. Pelton, talked the motion picture, "Playthings of Fate," which was a sermon in itself.

Al Moore's band took the platform at 10:30. Boston's offering was Shadowland by Lawrence R. O'Connor and Jack Cadden's latest song success, "That's the Dream I Had Last Night." Henry Harding rendered a piccolo solo and it was so solo. The "Second Connecticut" and other patriotic airs were given, and the offering closed with the "Star Spangled Banner."

In all it was a program which would have been a credit to any of the Boston houses. Several of the performers spoke highly of Mr. Cadden and said they were glad to appear gratuitously at a benefit because they knew the money was going where it should be.

Father Madden, presented, he said, so he could thank all for the generous support, was roundly applauded. He spoke kindly of Mayor Campbell who approved the concert, of Col. Kincaid owner of the theatre, and Manager George Wardwell and Stage Manager Patrick Barry, of Father Owens, of the committee and especially of the artists. He said his gratitude was deep and that the occasion would always be a happy reminder of his early days as pastor.

John J. Cadden, chairman of the executive committee, was the announcer of the evening. Active as member of the committee were: Rev. Mark E. Madden, Treasurer, Mrs. Gertrude Farrell, Secretary, Mrs. Lydia Peterson, Mr. Francis Murphy, Mrs. Alfred F. Helfrich, Mrs. John Quigley, Mrs. Patrick Barry, Mrs. John Grundy, Mrs. Michael Walsh, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. J. A. Keating, Mrs. E. Galvin, Miss Bertha Farrell, Thomas J. Colton, Stephen Kiley, Patrick Cleary, P. E. Cleary, D. J. Maloney, John McGilvrey, Leo

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO
GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue,
Neponset. Telephone
15000 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

A New Floor "Adds A Lot" to The Home

Lay our 3/8 inch floor over your old one and see what an improvement it is. We have quartered oak, plain oak, birch, maple and hard pine.

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Offices: Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester

165 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester

165 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester

165 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester

165 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester

165 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester

165 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester

165 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester

165 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester

165 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester

165 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester

165 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester

165 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester

165 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester

165 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester

165 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester

165 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

THE BEST YET!

Enameled Steel Medicine Cabinets With Beveled Plate Mirror and Enamel Steel Shelves

A Real Necessity Can Be Attached By Anyone

To Recede into Wall With Plate Glass Shelves $10.50

To Screw onto Wall With Enamel Shelves $8.00

With Plate Glass Shelves $10.50

With Enamel Shelves $8.00

With Plate Glass Shelves $10.50

With Enamel Shelves $8.00

With Plate Glass Shelves $10.50

With Enamel Shelves $8.00

With Plate Glass Shelves $10.50

With Enamel Shelves $8.00

With Plate Glass Shelves $10.50

With Enamel Shelves $8.00

With Plate Glass Shelves $10.50

With Enamel Shelves $8.00

With Plate Glass Shelves $10.50

With Enamel Shelves $8.00

With Plate Glass Shelves $10.50

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, AUGUST 14, 1915

MONUMENT TALK.

Alfred R. Baxter formerly of Quincy and son of Mrs. James S. Baxter of Pleasant street is making good at Trenton, New Jersey as president of the Alexander McDonald Co. Mr. Baxter is known as the "monument" man and on Monday afternoon addressed the Round Table Club of Trenton on "Monuments," giving an interesting and instructive talk. Among the thoughts that he developed was the value of advertising, even in his business.

In beginning his address Mr. Baxter said: "If you will pardon personalities, I would like to see the large quarry sections of the East, in Massachusetts, where I spent my boyhood days running over the rock-filled hills and seeing the early methods of producing and finishing the memorial stones shipped all over the country."

"At an early age I held a position in the office of the largest cutting plant at that time in existence, manufacturing some of the finest monuments made at the time."

"After serving two years in this position I was placed on the road, covering United States and Canada, and selling both American and imported granite and marble memorials."

"Surprising as it may seem, I was once approached by an intelligent traveling man who was extremely surprised to learn that I was in this line of business, and innocently asked if there was an established business of this line warranting a man on the road to sell to business houses."

"This very clearly showed an extreme lack of proper educational advertising on the part of the average retail monument salesman in the local towns through which other traveling men pass."

"As an illustration of this I will cite an instance locally where a prospective customer came to our office some years ago from Lamberville, and purchased a monument to be placed in her cemetery at home."

"After the work was completed, and the bill paid, I asked her why she had come to our company to buy this work in preference to any other firm, and she told me she had seen our advertisement in the 'Trenton Times,' and had supposed that we were the only people in Trenton in the business."

"Very frequently we have people come to our office and make the statement that they are going to buy wherever they can 'do the best.' Sometimes this means that they are going to buy where they can get the best price for what they think, from the looks of it, is the biggest monument."

"An illustration in another line may serve to show the folly of this method of buying. We wanted a new set of office chairs some years ago, and decided to get something substantial and appropriate for office furniture, and with that end in view visited several of the furniture stores in Trenton. The first place we went we found we could buy chairs of the general style that we liked, for about $8 each, but that seemed at first thought to be a little higher than necessary."

"On looking around we found we could buy other chairs of very similar styles for $7, $8, $9, $10, $11, and then we commenced to look into the details. We were shown by the selling people the reasons why the higher priced chairs were worth more money, and why they cost more money, and were very easily convinced upon examination and education in this line that the $8 chair was the best 'buy,' and really the cheapest in the end."

"This is just exactly the case with our own line of goods. Very many people may see very inexpensive memorial stones which appear to them to be satisfactory, but which will not as the years go by, stand the acid test of time. The average buyer really wants to get something more than a 'pile of stone,' and is really willing to pay a fair price for a really good article."

MELAY-BARTON.

Miss Mary M. Barton, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Barton, 186 Phillips street, and John Melay, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Melay of Newcomb place, were married Thursday afternoon.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Clarence E. Campbell of the First Presbyterian church, at 1230 Elm street. The double ring service was used.

Miss Jennie Barton, sister of the bride, was her bridesmaid and Thomas Melay, brother of the groom was best man.

A dinner was served at the home of the bride after the ceremony. Members of the families of the contracting couple attended. The couple received many gifts from their numerous friends.

The bride was dressed in a beautiful blue tulle silk traveling suit with hat to match. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore a tulle silk dress, trimmed with satin brocade.

After a honeymoon the couple will reside at Bridgeport, Ct., where Mr. Melay was recently appointed to a position as draftsman with the Lake Torpedo Boat Co. He has been connected with the offices at the Fore River shipyard.

THE ACME OF VIRTUE.

Colonel Roosevelt says that the Progressives have gone back to the Republican party are "fine men; he himself will stick. It proves the extraordinary virtue of Progressive principles that whether you stick by them or abandon them you are all right."—New York Evening Post.

BRIEFS

A. G. Nelson has been elected class leader of the Swedish M. E. church.

Miss Jennie Harris is visiting Mrs. Susan Nelson of Abington.

George B. Nelson has been the guest of friends in Abington.

Walter Field, inspector of meats and provisions, is at Lake Sunapee, N. H.

Miss Elizabeth Dunbar of Granite street is visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. G. Spear in Pembroke.

George P. Mead, teller at the National Mount Wollaston bank is having a few weeks vacation.

Cards have been received from John Forrester who is at Tanworth, N. H., on a vacation.

Miss Ethel Cook of Adams street is the guest of friends at Southport, Me.

Miss Mary Faircloth of Schenectady, N. Y., is spending the week with Miss Alice Barry of Pearl street.

Miss Alice Barry leaves Monday for Well's Beach, Me., to stay until Labor Day.

The Swedish M. E. church plans to hold a big four day bazaar in the fall.

Mrs. Mabel P. Keene of Francis court, is at Winthrop, Me. for the balance of the month.

Miss Emily A. Gasset of the tax collectors office is at Hartford Conn. on her vacation.

A house is being built for Miss Mollie Parker on Upland road just south of the residence of William T. Donovan.

John H. Wilk, formerly of this city but now of Grand Island, Nebraska, is visiting his mother Mrs. E. Menikoff of 79 Elm street, for a few days.

John R. Arnold of Coddington street has left for Washington, D. C., where he will enter upon his duties in the government service.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Low of Presidents hill are on a few days cruise along the North shore in their yacht the San Toy.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Schulze and children of Park lane have returned from a few weeks visit to relatives in Cincinnati.

Louis French of Washington street and John Buzz of Bunker Hill avenue are at Monponsett for a week's vacation.

Mrs. Henry E. Hardwick, Charles H. Hardwick, and Mrs. Robert Hardwick and baby of Revere road are at Mont Vernon, N. H., for three weeks.

Rev. C. J. Wigren of Ansonia, Conn., formerly district superintendent of Swedish M. E. churches in this vicinity and a resident of Quincy, is very ill.

Mrs. Walter B. Holden of Paris who is spending several months with her mother Mrs. Edward Russell of Russell park is at Palmouth on the Cape for August.

Cards are out announcing the engagement of Miss Esther Lathrop Wetherell to Charles Edward Grasseck formerly of this city, now of Tucson, Arizona.

Col. Henry L. Kincaide was one of the committee having in charge the annual outing of the Home Furnishers association which was held at the Pemberton Inn, Wednesday.

The degree staff of Quincy lodge N. E. O. P. performed the work for Roxbury lodge of Roxbury, Thursday evening. Much praise was given for the excellent work.

The Women's Guild of Christ church held a regular meeting Thursday afternoon with Mrs. William L. Thomas of South street. Light refreshments were served by the hostesses during the afternoon.

City Clerk Crane will keep his office open today from 1 to 5 o'clock for the purpose of receiving nomination papers only. The time for filing nomination papers expires at that hour.

Miss Ethel Raymond of Upland road, the well known pianist, and organist, has accepted a position for the month of August with the orchestra at the Hotel Puritan, Commonwealth avenue, Boston.

The many friends of Mrs. Andrew Johnson of Garfield street will be pleased to hear she is improving after a serious operation at the Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital, Boston.

Mrs. William Brandau, who has been visiting her parents the past two months, returned to her home in New York, Aug. 6, accompanied by her mother Mrs. P. P. Low. Mr. Low will join his wife in September.

Mrs. Frank Marz of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., is visiting friends in Quincy. Mrs. Marz was formerly Miss Ruth Hanson, whose father was for a number of years pastor of the Swedish M. E. church on Fort Hill street.

Mrs. Zenas S. Arnold is to give up her home on Coddington street and join her son John Arnold in Washington, D. C. Mr. Arnold returned recently from six years service for the government in the Philippines and is now located in Washington.

Horace Ellison of Allston, employed as a job printer in the old office of 20 1/2 years ago, but for the last 22 years in the composing room of the Boston Transcript, paid a visit to Quincy Thursday and renewed old friendships. Mr. Ellison at present is a "makeup man" on the Transcript.

Among the Quincy visitors to the camp of the Machine Gun Co. at Sandwich Thursday were Maj. Frederick E. Jones of the 2d Infantry and his brother, Lieut. A. E. Jones, U. S. A. Commissioner of Public Works, L. B. Brown and Chief Engineer Faxon Billings.

A false alarm was sounded from Box 154 at 4:45 Saturday afternoon. When the department arrived at the box a woman informed the firemen that the box had been pulled by two children. The boys admitted their guilt, but as they are only 5 years of age they cannot be prosecuted. Their parents, however, can be made to pay the expenses of calling out the department.

The Many Quincy friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Newton of Cottage street will be sorry to learn of their removal from this city. Mr. and Mrs. Newton have joined the "back to the land" movement, and are located on a large farm at Russell, Mass. Their interest in Quincy for over twelve years, coming here from England during the Fore River boom in 1902.

BRIEFS

Osborne W. Rogers of 1072 Hancock street is at Marshfield on his vacation.

Arthur Felts of Mechanic street is rusticated at Manchester, Me., for two weeks.

Mrs. H. Prout of 109 Glendale road has gone on a three weeks trip to Atlantic City and Philadelphia.

Thomas Dunn, head salesman for Renick Bros., is enjoying his vacation at Hancock, New Hampshire.

Miss Bessie Powers of Bigelow street has returned from a two weeks outing in the White Mountains.

Miss Bertha Reed is entertaining friends from Maine, at her home on Upland road.

Miss Frances Cavanagh of Portland, Me., is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. D. Griffin of Hancock street.

Mayor Campbell spent the week end with his family at his summer camp on Lake Winnepesaukee.

It. J. Dickie a salesman for Nathan Ames the local hardware store is enjoying a two week's vacation.

Judge Avery and his daughter Susan are at Newport, R. I., the guests of relatives.

Arthur Bramhall, salesman at the Geo. W. Jones store, and Mrs. Bramhall are enjoying a vacation by a trip to New York city and other places.

Friends of Archie F. MacLeod will be sorry to learn that he is confined to his home on Spear street by sickness.

Councilman George A. Bolster, manager of the drug department of the Houghton & Dutton store is having his annual vacation.

Councilman John D. Smith, who has been confined to his home for several days with rheumatism, is very much improved.

Congratulations are being extended to Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Diehl of Hancock street a little daughter arriving last week.

Mrs. Sadie M. Walker of Whitwell street left August 6 for a three weeks visit with her husband who is employed at Bridgeport, Conn.

Charles Wilkes, associate counsel of Atty. J. J. McManney, appeared at court Monday after an absence of two weeks, passed at Brant Rock.

Mrs. Nettie Osburne of 19 Baxter street with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Stephenson and family of Wollaston are touring the Mountains. Cards have been received from them from Brattleboro, Vt.

Eliot C. Johnson, for several years connected with the plant department of the telephone exchange in Quincy, has resigned his position and has accepted a position in the store of Johnson Bros.

Burglars were thought to have attempted to raid the home of Mrs. Alice J. Edwards, 66 Greenleaf street, at eight o'clock Thursday evening, during the absence of the family. No trace of them was found when the premises were investigated, however.

On Sunday between the hours of 10:30 and 6 o'clock, 2896 autos, 15 trucks and 10 motorcycles, besides rickshaws and electric cars passed down Washington street between Foster street and Revere road. Among registration numbers observed were "1" and "90817."

GOLF TOURNAMENT.

Larry Paton of Danvers demonstrated Wednesday that he is one of the front rank golfers of the state. In the second round of the Boston Press club golf tournament at Wollaston he disposed of the so-called "dark horse," B. M. Combe of Victoria, B. C. Many were of the opinion he was the man to check the onward march of Jesse P. Guilford.

J. H. Sullivan, Jr., of Woodland was the low scorer of the day. He got a 73 in his match with F. G. Thayer of Wollaston, whom he eliminated six and five. Guilford was slightly off, but won easily from Fred Wright, junior state champion.

A partial summary:

CHAMPIONSHIP DIVISION
J. P. Guilford, Bellevue, defeated P. J. Wright Jr., Scarborough, 5 and 4.
L. B. Paton, Honesdale, defeated B. M. Combe, Victoria, B. C., 1 up.
J. H. Sullivan Jr., Commonwealth, defeated F. G. Thayer, Wollaston, 6 and 3.

SECOND DIVISION
H. W. Porter, Wollaston (15), defeated J. A. Campbell, Wollaston (12), 4 and 3.
R. J. Ouellet, Woodland (5), defeated J. J. Murphy, Wollaston (5), 5 and 3.
R. R. Freeman, Wollaston (4), defeated W. F. Kearns, Wollaston (10), 4 and 3.

THIRD DIVISION
L. B. Page, invited (9), defeated J. B. Brennan, Wollaston (14), 1 up.

FOURTH DIVISION
R. N. Hall, Wollaston (11), defeated G. W. Hann, Wollaston (16), 2 and 1.
D. T. O'Connell, Wollaston (12), defeated P. A. Goodale, Wollaston (10), 1 up.

FIFTH DIVISION
H. B. Driver, Wollaston (12), defeated W. L. Sargent, Wollaston (15), 6 and 4.
James Drophy, Wollaston (20), defeated J. Talbot, Framingham (20), 2 and 1.
P. P. Lincoln, Commonwealth (20), defeated G. H. Low Jr., Wollaston (24), by default.

SIXTH DIVISION
J. W. French, Wollaston (12), defeated W. G. Kendall, Wollaston, 4 and 3.

SEVENTH DIVISION
A. Nicholson, Albemarle (20), beat A. L. Fowler, Wollaston (24), 1 up.
C. B. Carberry, Wollaston (4), defeated J. B. Whelton, Scarborough (20), 2 up.

SOUTH QUINCY
Mrs. Bertha McDowell has returned to the Berkshire Hills after a pleasant visit with her sister Mrs. George Davey of 50 Gay street.

Cards have been received from Miss Anne Jones of Richie road who is staying with friends in Tanworth, N. H.

Mrs. Richard Howard of Elliot street and her sister, Miss Livia Bizzozzi of Bates avenue, are spending two weeks at Wollaston, N. H.

NORFOLK DOWNS

Mrs. John Cunningham and children of Green street are guests of her father in Vermont until September first.

Mrs. John Hicks and two grandchildren of Briggs street are in Moncton, New Brunswick, where they will remain until the reopening of school.

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson of Briggs street are touring the White Mountains by automobile for a few weeks. Mrs. William C. Crane and two children of Briggs street left Saturday for a five weeks visit at Sharon, where they will be the guests of Mrs. Crane's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. William Williams of Green street are in Connecticut until the middle of September.

Miss Mabel Crockett of Pierce street, Norfolk Downs, is spending two weeks with relatives at Bowdoinham, Me.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harvey and son Kenneth of Hampton Circle are at the White Mountains for a week's outing.

Miss Doris Oliver of Vassall street has returned from a visit with friends at Lynn and Nahant.

Miss Gladys Payne of Beach street is at home again after spending a week with friends in Cohasset.

Paul Morse of New Boston, New Hampshire, is the guest for a week of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Barstow of Rawson road.

Mrs. E. H. Oliver and daughter Miss Edna of Vassall street have returned from a few days spent at Byfield and Newburyport.

Miss Bertha Kennard of Norfolk Downs is at Point Allerton for a week's visit.

Mrs. Ervin Whitaker of Broadfield street has returned from Baboosick lake, Amherst, New Hampshire, where they spent the month of July.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodside of Brighton are guests for a fortnight of Mr. and Mrs. George V. White of Cummings avenue.

Miss Mildred Burke of Billings road has returned from Indian Head, Connecticut, where she spent three weeks as the guest of Miss Dorothy Drew.

J. W. Pinkham of Back Bay is occupying the Carle bungalow on Landers road for the remainder of August and the month of September.

Dr. and Mrs. Sad Taylor of Wollaston Beach have been entertaining Everett S. Washburn of Whitman.

Miss Helen Brown of Seabrook is the guest of her brother Commissioner Moses Brown of Willow street.

Many friends of Mrs. Frank Taylor of Commodore Taylor of the Wollaston Yacht Club are pleased to note that the operation which she underwent a short time ago was successful and that she is able to be out again, despite the bandaged arm.

A. C. Brown of Waterson avenue is seriously ill with typhoid pneumonia. Raymond Huntington of Willow street has recently purchased a new car.

Leon Besse of Kemper street has returned from a business trip to New York city.

MONTCLAIR

Miss Nettie Parlee and Miss Gladys Parlee of Division street, and Miss Marion Orr are at the Girls' Friendly Society holiday home in Montreal, New Hampshire.

Miss Edith Young of Eliot avenue, Bellevue Park has returned from a three week's stay in Bethlehem, New Hampshire.

Miss Inez Parlee of Division street, is visiting her grandmother in Chelmsford.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mossman of Montclair with their daughter and son, Phillis and Mildred, has returned from Lincolnville, Maine.

Walter Clarke of Bellevue Park has returned from a three weeks trip.

George Parlee of Division street, has returned from an automobile trip to New York and Philadelphia.

Mrs. Charles Bevis and Miss Hazel Grant of John street, have gone to Halifax, Nova Scotia for the rest of the summer.

Mrs. Theodore Parlee and daughter Lois of Montclair avenue are spending a week in Chelmsford.

Miss Julia Denmeke and Miss Margaret Denmeke of Squantum street, Montclair leave today on a trip to Montreal.

SQUANTUM

Miss Edith Olson and Miss Ethel Morse have been spending a week at Hamilton.

Mrs. Herbert Smith of Wedgwood street, has been entertaining her sister Mrs. J. Howard Dargie and niece Mrs. Ashley Steward of Gardner.

QUINCY POINT

Mrs. Sarah White of Newcomb place is the guest of her son at Hanover for a few weeks.

Mrs. L. C. Hewson and daughter Marion of Newcomb place left Saturday for a ten days' visit at Plantin island, Seatac.

RECKLESS DRIVING.

William H. Towle of Cambridge was before Judge Cook Thursday, charged with reckless driving in Milton. His case was continued for three months. His plea was not guilty.

The complaint brought by the Milton police, is the outcome of the attempt of Towle to drive his car through a part of Blue Hill avenue, under repairs and closed to traffic.

The police allege that Towle traveled at a high rate of speed and applied the brakes in trying to stop his car before getting into the restricted section. They say the car skidded along for 40 feet, then struck Stephen Hurdie, a 22 year old town employee who was spreading crushed stone, and carried him along under it for 11 feet.

The police say Hurdie was wedged in under the machine and that one of his legs caught under a mud guard so tightly it was necessary to use force in removing it. Hurdie is now unable to appear in court today but it is believed his injuries will not prove fatal.

FOR SUMMER SCHOOL.

Mrs. George T. Magee, Mrs. Osborne Rogers and Mrs. Walter E. Piper were the hostesses Thursday afternoon at a piazza which, given at the home of Mrs. Magee, 1079 Hancock street, in aid of the summer school, conducted under the auspices of the Quincy women's club. Five tables were in all, and the sum of $100 was raised. Mrs. Chapman of Wollaston. Light refreshments were served by the hostesses during the afternoon.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Mrs. William C. Bates of New York City is passing the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Damon of Kemper street.

Over fifty ladies, wives and daughters of members of the Wollaston Yacht club again enjoyed a pleasant afternoon at the clubhouse Wednesday. The freedom of the house has been granted to the ladies every Wednesday afternoon for the season. Following an enjoyable afternoon of cards and music, refreshments were served.

Miss J. E. Wilde assistant matron at Doctor Wialoff's sanatorium at Wellesley has been the recent guest of her sister Mrs. Alton Barstow of Rawson road.

Mrs. James F. Quency of Phillips street entertained at luncheon Wednesday. The table and dining room decorations were cleverly arranged with pink sweet peas as decoration. Following the luncheon the guests motored to Paragon park, Nantasket, where dancing was enjoyed.

Francis Donovan of Weymouth is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Quency of Phillips street.

Mrs. R. B. Hall of Davis street is spending a few days with her daughter Mrs. F. E. Davis of Wayland.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Thayer and family of Muirhead street are enjoying a ten days auto trip to the Cape.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sturtevant of Belmont street are touring the Cape by auto stopped at Sandwich. Before returning they are to spend a week at Bridgewater.

Miss May Knapp of Henry street is visiting friends in Manchester, New Hampshire.

Mr. and Mrs. Hersey and family of Dorchester are occupying the residence formerly owned and occupied by Frank Burgess on Beach street.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frost of Wollaston Boulevard are enjoying a pleasant auto tour through the various Maine resorts.

Mrs. Elsie Sprague of Hingham who is visiting Mrs. William C. Chase of Wollaston Boulevard, is being joined for the weekend by her two daughters Mrs. Ernest Whiting and Mrs. Edward Whiting also of Hingham.

Mrs. E. W. Sawyer of Toronto, Canada, and daughter Mrs. Volney Trout and two children of Springfield, Ohio, are guests for a month of Mrs. Sawyer's sister Mrs. Frank Danforth of Waterson avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Damon of Kemper street are week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Rogers of Wollaston Boulevard and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Whiting also of Hingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Reid and family of Cambridge are occupying their summer cottage at the corner of the Boulevard and West Elm avenue.

While Mr. and Mrs. Emil Reinhardt of Sachem street are visiting in New Weston for a month their house is being occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Harris Nelson and Mrs. Bowers of Dorchester.

John Joyce of Sachem park entertained at bridge whist Tuesday evening, three tables being in play. Prizes were won by Mrs. Rozelle, Mr. Eli, Chester Campbell and Mrs. Maria.

The evening and the next day refreshments.

Miss Arline Rozelle of Sachem street was hostess for a card party this week when three tables were in play.

Miss Bessie Cokeran of Rawson road, Arlington street is spending August at the Carroll cottage at Uca-nomaque Mountains. They are guests this week of Mayor Spaulding and Mrs. Spaulding of Manchester, N. H. Mayor Spaulding is the nephew of Mrs. Dickerson.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Richardson of Farrington street, left Saturday for a two weeks visit at South Port, Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Lynch and daughter Adelaide of 266 North Central avenue have left for a two weeks vacation in North Deering, Me.

Mrs. John Wares and daughter of New York city are registered at the Maple Inn for an extended stay.

Mrs. Sarah E. Thomas and daughter Evelyn of Pottdown, Penn., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earle M. Thomas of 75 South Central avenue for the month.

Vice Commodore Quincy A. Lathrop of the Wollaston Yacht club and family are occupying a cottage at Seatac for the remainder of the season.

Miss Katherine King principal of the Bryant school at Duluth, Minn., is the guest of Mrs. P. L. Low and Mr. Lawrence Loring of Willow street.

Clarence Ralph of Elm avenue is spending the summer at Gayville, Vermont.

Mrs. George D. Reimer of Billings road has been entertaining Mrs. J. E. Thorn and daughter Miss Dorothy for a fortnight.

Mrs. H. H. Rice of Broadfield street has gone to Farmington, Maine, for a month where she will be joined next week by Mr. Rice.

Mrs. John Sweeney of Winesap, Manitoba, who has been the guest of Mrs. Charles H. Quinn, Cummings avenue returned to Canada Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Kerrins of Davis street have returned from a two weeks auto trip through the White Mountains, and Bretton woods, stopping at the Mt. Pleasant hotel.

Mrs. C. A. Andrews and children, Constance and Leonard of Mahone, Nova Scotia, who have been recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor of Broadfield street returned home this week

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, AUGUST 14, 1915

WEEKLY	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thurs	Fri	Sat
ALMANAC	Rises	Sets	Rises	Sets	Rises	Sets	Rises
Sat Aug 14	4:45	6:15	4:45	6:15	4:45	6:15	4:45
Sun Aug 15	4:45	6:15	4:45	6:15	4:45	6:15	4:45
Mon Aug 16	4:45	6:15	4:45	6:15	4:45	6:15	4:45
Tue Aug 17	4:45	6:15	4:45	6:15	4:45	6:15	4:45
Wed Aug 18	4:45	6:15	4:45	6:15	4:45	6:15	4:45
Thurs Aug 19	4:45	6:15	4:45	6:15	4:45	6:15	4:45
Fri Aug 20	4:45	6:15	4:45	6:15	4:45	6:15	4:45
Sat Aug 21	4:45	6:15	4:45	6:15	4:45	6:15	4:45

First Quarter, Aug. 17, 9:17 P. M.

Chief Billings declares that he need more firemen. If this is a fact why don't we have them? Let us at least have adequate fire protection, even if we have to sacrifice a granite walk now and then. This is the sort of need which should not get a begging and its satisfaction should not be obliged to await some big fire loss.

FREDERICK H. FRENCH.

In the death Thursday of Frederick H. French at Everett there passed away one who all his life has been closely identified with Quincy, a town and a city. He was a son of Washington M. French, who during his time was perhaps one of the best known officials the town ever had. "Fred" as he was familiarly known, possessed the characteristics which made his father most popular and which were going to bring sorrow and grief to a large circle of friends. After he accepted a position with the Railway Mail Service it became necessary for him to make his home in Boston, yet for all that he never gave up Quincy as his legal residence and he was a frequent visitor to the city.

On election days, his state and national he always came here to vote. This he looked upon as a sacred duty and even at the time when he was recovering from a surgical operation he did not neglect it. He was the life of the Washington M. French Home association, whose membership was composed of those who had been members of the fire department. The annual reunions of this association in September were always the occasion for the bringing together of congenial spirits and his absence from these outings will be a source of regret. Owing to his illness the outing of last summer as well as the mid-winter chowder party last winter were omitted.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT.

The police department is to be commended for its campaign to stop the "cut-out nuisance." Eighteen arrests were obtained by the police in the district court Aug. 6 for cutting out their numbers on Adams street, the result of complaints by patrolman Dineen. A similar activity on the part of patrolmen in other parts of the city has been expected to be highly desirable. As we have contended in a previous editorial this "cut-out" business is usually unnecessary.

The police department is a long way from perfection but it appears to be making an effort to perform many difficult tasks which fall to it in conventional manner. Mayor Campbell has made it a point on many occasions when a police officer has handled some situation in a particularly able manner to write the officer an open letter of congratulation and commendation. We believe that this attitude on the part of his honor is wholly wise. The police of any city come in for a large share of abuse, some of it merited and some of it entirely unmerited. They receive much blue ink praise and even the stolid blue coat likes praise once in a while.

In the securing of the license and in the police department we believe the suggested course of instruction to Quincy patrolmen would be of assistance. Police officers, for example, are obliged to know quite a little law. Who would it not be advisable to have a series of lectures on the legal aspects of a police officer's work? The clerk of the district court and many local attorneys doubtless would be glad to give their services.

Another feature of a police officer's work which happily is seldom called into use is the ability to use his revolver. Nobody wants a patrolman blazing away at every provocation but the ability to shoot straight is sometimes of incalculable value. Frequent drills should be held in this important branch of the work so that neither the men nor their revolvers should get rusty. Every man on the force should be compelled to do a certain amount of target shooting at least once a week and under intelligent supervision.

Many feel that a police signal box on Hancock street, opposite Cottage street, would be of great value to the police and it might be advisable to look into it. If it is to be of any value the small appropriation required should be made.

CARRIAGE AND AUTO COLLIDE.

Michael McGrath, owner of a delivery stable in Wollaston, E. A. Houghton, a 60 year old resident of Milton, and an 11 year old girl, a relative of Mr. Houghton, were all more or less injured when an auto, driven by parties unknown, struck the depot carriage. The auto was instantly killed when it struck the carriage and the driver was killed when he was riding on Beale street at 10:15 Thursday evening.

The auto sped on toward Adams street without stopping and is thought to have gone across the boundary line into East Milton. No description of the car was obtained. The case is somewhat similar to one of two weeks ago when William Conway of Water street was instantly killed when an auto was driven over him on West Squantum street at about the same time in the evening and was driven away before the identity of the operator or the registry number of the car could be secured.

Houghton hired McGrath to drive him and the girl to East Milton. On Beale street, near Eaton street, the auto was seen travelling behind them at high speed. McGrath drove his carriage close to the side of the street to give the machine plenty of chance to pass. The auto struck the rear wheel, tore it off and upset the carriage.

McGrath was thrown to the street. Houghton and the little girl were riding in the rear seat were not thrown out because of the carriage top. They were badly shaken up, however.

McGrath struck on his face and received a deep scratch below the right eye and severe bruises about the body. He was practically unconscious when residents who live near by arrived on the scene.

Houghton and the girl were helped out of the carriage and physicians were summoned. All were taken to their homes in autos.

OFF FOR CAMP.

Corporal Thomas Coleman of Westmouth has been promoted to be a sergeant of the Machine Gun Co. of this city. The appointment was announced by Lieut. George M. Downes on August 6, while the company was preparing to go to camp. A successor to the vacancy caused by his promotion will not be appointed for several weeks.

The administering of the oath of allegiance to several new members took place in the presence of many of the enlisted men. Among those who joined was Sgt. John Sullivan, recently retired from active service because of ill health. Sgt. Sullivan saw 20 years service in the regular army and while in Panama suffered an attack of malaria. He is now practically recovered and should prove to be a valuable acquisition to the company.

Sgt. Hoover of the regular army who was transferred from Plattsburg, N. Y., to New England as instructor of machine guns was also present, and delivered another of his interesting lectures on the manipulation of the weapon.

Many of the members of the company were on hand to receive their final instructions for camp. They went to camp Sunday, entraining at the Quincy freight yard in the presence of nearly 100 relatives and friends of the members.

Lieut. George M. Downes, commander of the company, and the scene and the entraining was carried out under his direction, assisted by Sgt. Charles E. Starbird. The horses and mules were loaded into baggage cars, and promptly at 10:20 the six cars carried the company to the camp.

The members reported at the Alpha hall armory shortly after eight o'clock. All the preparations had been made during the week and by ten o'clock everything was aboard the former members of the fire department. The annual reunions of this association in September were always the occasion for the bringing together of congenial spirits and his absence from these outings will be a source of regret.

The eight mules and eight horses to be used for transport purposes and by the mounted scout detachment went aboard without even being coaxed. "Mother Jitney," one of the four trucks owned by Private Benjamin Sturges, which was taken along as a water carrier, quickly became the favorite of the crowd.

The animal until a few weeks ago was with the army of the Mexican army, Gen. Villa, and was stolen by a Mexican and brought to El Paso, Texas, where it was sold. A few weeks ago it was sold to a man who took it to Boston and was purchased by Private Sturges. Three weeks ago a little colt was born. The little Mexican, not old enough to participate in the mobilization, had to be left behind to be fed on a bottle until camp.

The horses went expeditiously to Sandwick where the company entrained and hiked five miles to Barnstable where the camp was pitched for the week. It was the first ordered tour of duty for the entire company. Just before leaving the armory Lieut. Downes announced that Private Talbot had been appointed corporal, to succeed Thomas Coleman who was appointed a sergeant last week.

TO STOP RECKLESS DRIVING.

The Massachusetts Highway Commission is determined to put a stop to reckless driving of automobiles. Wednesday the commission revoked the licenses of seven Massachusetts drivers. Five of the licenses were suspended for operating automobiles while under the influence of liquor. One was suspended for driving his car without a license and was also forbidden to drive a car in Massachusetts because he was convicted of driving while under the influence of liquor. The seventh man lost his license because he drove his car in a way to endanger the lives of passengers.

Chairman Sedgwick stated Wednesday that the commission will have no stone thrown to put a stop to the reckless driving which has been the cause of numerous accidents recently, and that it intends making a particular effort to apprehend any auto driver who after being involved in an accident, runs away and leaves the victim without assistance.

"You may say that this commission will do everything in its power to catch any driver who runs away after an accident, and if we catch one and can prove that he knowingly drove away after hitting a person, his license will be revoked for all time."

"Of course I can conceive of a driver hitting a person without knowing it, in fact we have had a case recently in which the car skidded and struck a man so lightly that the driver did not know it, but when they hit a person under such circumstances that they must have knowledge of the accident, you can bet that their days of driving in this state will end just as soon as we catch them."

CANDIDATE FOR OFFICE.

Michael T. Sullivan will be a candidate for the House of Representatives from the Fifth Norfolk District on the Democratic ticket, according to what appears to be authentic information.

Mr. Sullivan has served two years in the capacity of assistant clerk of the court and last year was defeated by Charles A. Fenton, who will be opposed this year for the Republican nomination by A. L. Whitman.

James O'Dowd, councilman from Ward Four, seeks the nomination on the Democratic ticket from the Sixth Norfolk District, comprising Wards 4, 5, and 6. He is unopposed.

Edward J. Sandberg, the present incumbent, is a candidate for re-election. Opposing him are John Nelson of Squantum and Frank Badger of Atlantic.

Charles W. Guy has filed, through his lawyer David Roche, "dealer in trees and shrubs," a dozen sets of papers. Mr. Guy wants to return to the councillor berth from which he was ousted last year by Guy Adams Ham who is out for the lieutenant governorship. Mr. Guy says the Guys have made the council a better body and there should be one Guy there each year. Therefore, since he is the only Guy running he should be elected.

The third term plank which will be the issue between Senator Langley and William P. Kelley has started considerable discussion in the Republican camp. Both mer are quite calm.

This year there has been quite a change in the numbers of voters in each ward through removals, new comers and deaths. Ward one has been the gainer through the addition of a large number, many of whom are Republicans who lived in this part of the city.

SPEAKS ON FIRE PROTECTION.

Chief Faxon Billings of the Quincy fire department spoke before the members of the Squantum Improvement association Tuesday night in Richard's Memorial hall on fire protection. He rather startled the Squantum residents and house owners when he said that at various times of the day there was but one man available at the Atlantic fire station to respond to an alarm with the big motor apparatus at that station. It is upon this apparatus that Squantum depends principally for its protection. President James H. Sumner presided and introduced Chief Billings.

Chief Billings explained that the crying need of the Quincy fire department was more men. He said that there were but three permanent men at the Atlantic station. One man has a day off in every five. This leaves two men on duty and only one man in the station when the second man goes to his meals three times a day.

The arrival of a piece of apparatus from the fire department was committed to him by the fire department. He said he hoped that at the next year of the City Council his recommendation for more men would be complied with.

He also explained that the present fire alarm system was antiquated, having been in service for 20 years. He said his recommendation for a $25,000 new fire alarm system had been turned down by the City Council and that there was nothing more he could do at this time.

The chief declared that Squantum would receive better fire protection by having more men at the Atlantic fire station than they would if a fire station was built at Squantum and a piece of fire apparatus located there.

It was voted on motion of James H. Houghton that the committee be authorized to see the councilmen of Ward 7 in favor of aiding Chief Billings in getting more permanent men for the fire department. Chief Billings was given a rising vote of thanks for attending the meeting.

The matter of year-round letter carrier service in Squantum came up for lively discussion. A letter from Congressman Richard Olney of Dedham was read stating that he had taken the matter up with First Assistant Postmaster General Frazier. The assistant postmaster general replied that year-round service was out of the question until Squantum residents provided their houses with mail boxes, numbers, street signs and better sidewalk conditions.

Mr. Hagan said the letter was a poor effort on the part of Congressman Olney and it was voted that a letter be sent the congressman urging him to get busy and do some real work toward getting additional mail service for Squantum.

Frank Anderson, chairman of the postoffice committee, reported that mail boxes must first be secured and numbered. He said that the city engineer was to make a trip to Squantum the coming week and see that the houses were properly numbered. Charles Bostwick passed among the members and said a number of letter boxes had been installed at the homes of various members.

William M. Kenyon, chairman of the mosquito committee, reported that so long as it rained every day it was useless to spray the stagnant pools with oil. He said that the large number of mosquitoes now prevalent was due to the excessive rainy weather. It was voted that $10 additional be used in using oil on the marsh lands about Squantum at the direction of the mosquito committee.

On motion of Mr. Kenyon the association went on record as highly commending the work of Health Officer Taylor of the Quincy health department for his work in spraying oil about Squantum. It was stated by Mr. Kenyon that through Mr. Taylor's work the mosquito nuisance in Squantum this year had been greatly relieved.

It was voted that the entertainment committee of the association get up a social evening and report its plans at the next meeting of the association in two weeks.

FORE RIVER OUTING.

Nearly 1000 employees of the Fore River shipyard, their families and friends, enjoyed a moonlight sail and outing Wednesday at the expense of the company. The small sum of 25 cents, charged those who attended, didn't begin to pay the expenses which were assumed by the company.

The steamer Old Colony of the line running between Boston and Nantasket was engaged for the occasion. The steamer was brought up the tortuous winding of Fore River to Power Point before dark. Capt. Joseph Kemp, of the Fire Prevention Commission, was in charge of the party. The ship docked at Nantasket at 11:15. Special cars were waiting to transport people to various points throughout the city.

A hundred or more children were included in the party and there were hundreds of young girls. The fun started with the departure of the steamer and continued until the last moment when the party was taken to the wharf. Several hundred participants, they furnished a concert and dancing was enjoyed by hundreds on the decks.

The ship docked at Nantasket at 11:15. Special cars were waiting to transport people to various points throughout the city. A hundred or more children were included in the party and there were hundreds of young girls. The fun started with the departure of the steamer and continued until the last moment when the party was taken to the wharf. Several hundred participants, they furnished a concert and dancing was enjoyed by hundreds on the decks.

The ship docked at Nantasket at 11:15. Special cars were waiting to transport people to various points throughout the city. A hundred or more children were included in the party and there were hundreds of young girls. The fun started with the departure of the steamer and continued until the last moment when the party was taken to the wharf. Several hundred participants, they furnished a concert and dancing was enjoyed by hundreds on the decks.

The ship docked at Nantasket at 11:15. Special cars were waiting to transport people to various points throughout the city. A hundred or more children were included in the party and there were hundreds of young girls. The fun started with the departure of the steamer and continued until the last moment when the party was taken to the wharf. Several hundred participants, they furnished a concert and dancing was enjoyed by hundreds on the decks.

The ship docked at Nantasket at 11:15. Special cars were waiting to transport people to various points throughout the city. A hundred or more children were included in the party and there were hundreds of young girls. The fun started with the departure of the steamer and continued until the last moment when the party was taken to the wharf. Several hundred participants, they furnished a concert and dancing was enjoyed by hundreds on the decks.

The ship docked at Nantasket at 11:15. Special cars were waiting to transport people to various points throughout the city. A hundred or more children were included in the party and there were hundreds of young girls. The fun started with the departure of the steamer and continued until the last moment when the party was taken to the wharf. Several hundred participants, they furnished a concert and dancing was enjoyed by hundreds on the decks.

The ship docked at Nantasket at 11:15. Special cars were waiting to transport people to various points throughout the city. A hundred or more children were included in the party and there were hundreds of young girls. The fun started with the departure of the steamer and continued until the last moment when the party was taken to the wharf. Several hundred participants, they furnished a concert and dancing was enjoyed by hundreds on the decks.

The ship docked at Nantasket at 11:15. Special cars were waiting to transport people to various points throughout the city. A hundred or more children were included in the party and there were hundreds of young girls. The fun started with the departure of the steamer and continued until the last moment when the party was taken to the wharf. Several hundred participants, they furnished a concert and dancing was enjoyed by hundreds on the decks.

RANSACKED BY BURGLARS.

The house at 51 Irving place owned by Miss Annie S. Marsh of Quincy street was ransacked by burglars probably on Wednesday and several articles of value taken. Indications point to a hurried flight on the part of the house-breakers and it is believed that they escaped down the back stairs and out the back door while Miss Marsh was ascending the front stairs. The police have been notified and are investigating.

The house has been vacant for a number of years. Recently Miss Marsh has been engaged in cleaning it. She has slept there on several occasions. She was not there between Monday and Wednesday afternoon and it is possible that the thieves entered at any time during that interval. The entrance was made in the attic that although unoccupied for many years the house has never been visited by burglars. It is believed that the general impression was that the house contained nothing of value and it is thought possible that the thieves were committed to the house by some person who had been told that the house was empty.

Entrance was gained through a rear window, from which a pane of glass had been removed. A thorough search was made in every room, even the attic being ransacked. Bureau drawers had been pulled out and in short every possible hiding place discovered except the one which would have been of greatest value to the burglars, namely the place where the silver was.

Articles of silverware of considerable value were left undisturbed, the indications being clear that the hiding place had not been discovered.

A valuable gold rope chain and a gold headed cane of value were taken. The burglars first took things easy, according to the indications, and made a meal of some cheese and crackers which they found in the pantry. The latter part of their search was evidently hurried because from a bureau they took several trunks and yet a man carrying a trunk wrapped in such a way as to resemble a jewel box, had not been touched. It is believed that at this point the house-breakers heard Miss Marsh enter the door and while she descended the front stairs they made their exit by the back door.

The total value of the goods taken is estimated at $825.645.

LARGE INCREASE.

One of the largest increases in taxes thus far this year is that of the town of Methuen where the increase is $3.66 over the rate of 1915. The 1915 rate as announced Monday by the advisory commission. Later on the advisory commission will meet and make a report to the Highway Commission embodying their observations. Then the commission will pass some regulation, which if approved by the Governor and Council, will become a law.

WATER RATES COMPARED.

Few acts by the city government in recent years have aroused such a storm of protest as the new water rates, which this paper has pointed out editorially are excessive and unjust.

Believing the matter one of great interest to the citizens of the city, the Patriot has made an investigation of the systems and rates in other cities and towns in the Metropolitan Water District and presents herewith some of the results of that investigation.

The rate in Quincy is a mile a charge of eight dollars a year for one faucet, $10 for one faucet and one closet, and $14 for all other single houses. The water allowance by the year for these rates is respectively: 3200, 4000 and 5000 cubic feet. It is contended that this allowance is too liberal in many cases. One of the features of the present system which arouses the greatest protest, however, is the rule that for all houses occupied by more than one tenant an additional minimum charge of four dollars a tenant shall be imposed. This has aroused energetic opposition.

A reader of this paper, for example, complains that he occupies the first floor of a two apartment house owned by him. He lets the second apartment to a man and his wife. There are three in the building, yet his bill is much greater than that of a neighbor who owns a house nearly which is occupied by ten persons.

Although it is difficult to present in tabular form the water rates of other cities and towns, because the systems differ widely and sometimes do not afford an exact basis for comparison, the following summary will give some of the reasons for the present system.

Life Guard Starr lost no time in going to the assistance of the girl, and with him was Benjamin Smith of Washington street, a member of the navy, who is on a furlough. She was brought to the shore. She was in a very weak condition and her restoratives were administered was able to go to her home.

GARAGE RULE ENFORCED.

Chief Billings says that he is being kept busy visiting garages to see that the garage rule is being lived up to. The rule is that of which the state fire prevention commission was in force enforced at the present time that which requires all garages to have a cement floor and a noncombustible roof. Chief Billings says that the law in regard to gasoline is also being enforced. This law or rule, hits owners of automobiles who have not been granted permits for private garages, for under the rule a dealer in gasoline can not sell the fluid in any quantity to an owner of an automobile who does not hold a gasoline or garage permit.

DAUGHTERS VIKING.

The sewing circle of the Daughters Viking C. F. of A. held an outing Thursday at the farm of Mrs. Gertrude Alving at Braintree with an attendance of 35. The outing, a musical affair, was most successful. For the first time in months the members did not sew, but devoted their time to carrying out a program of games, sports and "cats."

ODD FELLOWS HOLD SERVICES.

The funeral of James N. Hamilton was held Wednesday at 2 o'clock from his late residence 25 Belmont street. The services were conducted by Rev. Edward Norton, pastor emeritus of Bethany church. They were attended by the East Boston lodge of I. O. O. F. M. U., which he was affiliated. They escorted the body to Mt. Wollaston cemetery where they held their burial service.

MULLEN-CONDON.

Miss Theresa Condon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Condon, and John Mullen, Jr., of East Milton were united in marriage Tuesday evening. The ceremony took place at St. Gregory's church, with Father Dolan officiating. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Granite avenue.

Miss Mullen was an employee of the Tubular River and Stud Co. of Wollaston and the groom is a clerk at C. G. Mullen's store in East Milton square.

Mr. and Mrs. Mullen will reside in East Milton.

TESTING MOTOR HEADLIGHTS.

Mayor Campbell, manager of the automobile shows, with secretary Bieler acted as the starters for the committee in charge of the tests made Monday under the direction of the Massachusetts Highway Commission under a resolve passed by the last legislature. Bieler made a report on the question of regulating motor headlights. The tests were held in the vicinity of the Country club at Brookline. There was a dinner at the club at 6:30 and the tests began at 8 o'clock. The Highway Commission being represented by Col. Willard B. Scholer, James E. Synan, Frank Kemp, Sec. P. E. Bieler, Mr. Austin and Mr. Pillsbury.

There were some 40 cars on hand equipped with various devices. The drivers first took them out on the back of the Country club grounds and then they were stopped to see how far the rays shone, how they showed on the side and to see if they dazzled any one from a distance of 50 feet or more.

Then the cars were sent on a trip around some of the streets in the vicinity so that the committee could get some idea of how the devices worked under different conditions. This enabled the members of the advisory committee to get a very good idea of what the devices were worth.

The tests continued until about 10:30. Highway Commission and the members of the advisory committee. Later on the advisory committee will meet and make a report to the Highway Commission embodying their observations. Then the commission will pass some regulation, which if approved by the Governor and Council, will become a law.

Interest in the tests was shown by the attendance of men identified with various lamp and other concerns in Detroit, Chicago and even as far as Los Angeles, but the larger number of representatives of accessory houses in Boston.

REID CASE DECIDED.

The report of the committee on arbitration working under the Workingmen's Compensation Act in the case of John Reid, deceased, against Norcross Bros. and the Casualty Company of America, the insurer, is far reaching and as such is of interest to every granite manufacturer in this city. The case is one that has attracted much attention and has been followed closely.

Reid was a stone cutter and entered the employ of Norcross Bros. in July 1912, concluding his duties in Oct. 1913 on account of illness. He died April 26, 1914, the cause of his death being given as stone cutter's consumption.

The report of the committee comprises 54 pages and is a most interesting and the findings of the committee are the finding of the fact that the work of running a surfacing machine is attended with much dust and particles of silica. By inhaling the small particles of dust and stone the employee contracted fibroid tuberculosis, usually spoken of as stone cutters' lung. The committee found that as a result he died. This was an injury, which arose out of and in the course of his employment.

"We further find that Reid had not been living with his wife for some years on account of her misconduct, and had begun divorce proceedings against her, which he was unable to prosecute on account of his illness when the case was reached for trial. The whereabouts of his wife was unknown to him, and he had contemplated seeking a divorce for years, and we find that in no way was she a dependent."

"We further find that his two children were wholly dependent upon him for support, that they were living with him at the time of his death, and that he was entitled to the sum of $10 a week for a period of 500 weeks, shall be equally divided between them."

The important part of the case to granite manufacturers is that Reid contracted consumption by the use of a surfacing machine, such as are used in practically every granite yard in Quincy.

The inhaling of granite dust has long been looked upon as one of the most active contributing causes of consumption, and men in Quincy who run such machines usually wear a sponge over the nose and mouth so as to prevent inhaling the dust.

GARAGE ON PORTER ESTATE.

It is understood that the plans for the garage which is to be erected on the Col. Porter estate are about ready and that application for a permit to build the garage will be made to the City Council at an early date. Under the law it will be necessary for the City Council to give a public hearing, fourteen days notice of which must be given to the abutters. It is a foregone conclusion that considerable objection will be made at the hearing.

It was also announced that work would commence in a few days moving the Col. Porter house, which now sets near the apex of the triangular part of the lot, to a site adjoining the lot of Dr. E. H. Bushnell on Hancock street. The house is to be remodelled into an apartment house.

It is also rumored that a large apartment house will be erected this fall upon the lot on the opposite side of the street, on the corner of Hancock and Greenleaf streets, owned by Col. Henry L. Kineade.

NAVN CO. GETS CONTRACT.

The contracting firm of Hugh Navn & Co., of Boston has been awarded the contract for the bridge over Black's creek which will connect both ends of the Wollaston Island extension, now nearing completion.

The contract was awarded Tuesday by the Metropolitan Park commission. The company's bid was $24,900, for the work.

The firm of John Cashman & Sons Co. of Quincy and Boston, which is building the extension, submitted no bid.

The bridge will be of steel and the specifications call for an artistic structure. It will span the creek near its mouth and will connect the roadways and the Mt. Wollaston farms.

WILL SERVE LUNCHEON.

The Quincy Young Women's club Wednesday evening voted to undertake their first business venture to furnish and serve the luncheon on the day the Board of Trade makes its annual tour of the city. What proceeds are obtained will be added to the fund established to pay the expense of maintaining Adams Academy as a recreation centre.

Nearly 30 girls were present, many of the new members. It was also voted to hold a dance in September at which the men friends of members will be the invited guests.

Miss May Opie who has been at Rockport, Mass., for some time, where the summer camp of young women is conducted, told of her experiences. Dancing was enjoyed at the close of the meeting.

DANCE AT YACHT CLUB.

Fifty couples participated in the dance given at the Quincy Yacht club house Wednesday evening for the benefit of the Isles of Shoals Fund. The dance was in charge of Mrs. George E. Pfaffman. Miss Minnie Packard and Miss Beatrice Morrison. Miss Pinkham's orchestra furnished music for the dancing. Ice cream was served during a brief intermission.

MAKES ASSIGNMENT.

The Hanson Shoe Co. has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors. The company manufactured athletic shoes of all descriptions, and at one time had a factory on Baxter street. It has since done business in Brockton.

RECEIVE CERTIFICATES.

Mayor Campbell and Representative Sandberg paid a visit to Paul Reverend Post SS. G. A. R. Thursday evening at which time his honor presented to a number of the veterans the certificate of service issued by the state. This certificate was provided for by

Quincy Patriot

QUINCY PATRIOT ESTABLISHED 1837

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, AUGUST 21, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 34.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1837.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 142 HANCOCK STREET
Printed at Post Office, Boston, Mass., at Second Class Matter.

Telephone: Quincy 125.
Quincy 119-6.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established in 1887.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE
BRAINTREE OBSERVER
Weekly Established in 1858.

H. T. WHITMAN
AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust
LAND FOR SALE
—AT—
MERRYMOUNT
Mt. Wollaston Farm
Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street
Tel. 847-W
Tel. Fort Hill 691

INSURANCE AGENT
Established in Quincy in the year 1839 by
W. PORTER
Insurance effected in reliable and safe
Stock and Mutual offices
By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 20 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy

ATNA INSURANCE CO.
HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1819. Charter Perpetual
Losses Paid in 94 years, $132,981,553.48

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.
AGENTS FOR QUINCY.
Incorporated 1837
Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $5,000,000.00
Cash Assets, 150,000.00
Total Assets, $5,150,000.00
Total Liabilities, including re-insurance, 2,600,000.00
Amount of Cash Surplus, $2,550,000.00
Contingent Assets, $1,550,000.00
Total Available Assets, $4,100,000.00
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies 60 per cent; on three-year policies 50 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, President.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.
Amount at Risk, $25,000,000.00
Cash Assets, $400,000.00
Total Assets, $25,400,000.00
Total Liabilities, including re-insurance, 10,000,000.00
Amount of Cash Surplus, $15,400,000.00
Contingent Assets, $1,000,000.00
Total Available Assets, $16,400,000.00
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies 60 per cent; on three-year policies 50 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.

DORCHESTER
Mutual Fire Insurance Company
BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.
INCORPORATED 1855
HOME OFFICE, 11 CENTRAL STREET
Telephone, Main 1040.
William A. Muller, President
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
Edward C. Mason, Secretary
William A. Muller, Treasurer

DIRECTORS:
Paul R. Blackmar, Attorney
Clarence Burgh, Treas. Quincy Savings Bank
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
T. J. Falvey, Pres. Bank, Bonding and Ins. Co.
Henry Hornblower, Hornblower & Weeks
Louis K. Liggett, Pres. United Drug Company
Wm. J. McGaffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas G. Plant Co.
Edward C. Mason, Secretary and Treasurer
Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests
P. F. Sullivan, Pres. Bay State Street Railway Co.
John P. Squire, John P. Squire & Sons
Franklin F. Wild, Pres. Wellington Wild Coat Co.
Sarel J. Willis, Blue Hill National Bank
We reduce your Insurance Rate One-Fifth.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of and has been made under its personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhea. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CASTORIA COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO

GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

Lay our 3/8 inch floor over your old one and see what an improvement it is. We have quartered oak, plain oak, birch, maple and hard pine.

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester
165 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main
1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

When U Want

Plumbing and Heating

Work Done

in any part of your home, store or factory, and want it done in first class style.

SEND FOR US

The Wm. A. Bradford Co.

Sanitary Plumbing GAS FITTING
FURNACE & SHEET METAL WORK
No. 5 Maple St., Quincy, Massachusetts

ADVERTISED LETTERS

Week ending August 14, 1915.

Mrs. Emma J. Wellington, wife of Walter L. Wellington, died Sunday evening, at her home, Brook road, Milton.

She was born in Quincy in 1849. Mrs. Wellington was the daughter of the late Jacob F. and Anna J. Eaton and a sister of the late Hon. William N. Eaton of Quincy. She is survived by her husband, three daughters and a son.

ROCKLAND TAX $22.30

Rockland has a tax rate this year of $22.30 a reduction of 20 cents over the rate of 1914 and the lowest rate since 1907, when the rate was $22. The Assessors report an increase in valuation of $49,685.

THE BUNGALOW.

E. Irving Farrington.

There's one word I hear
Wherever I go
Tis a queer importation,
The word bungalow.

All over the land,
The North and the South
The bungalow theme is
In every one's mouth.

The master and mistress
Are grooming and the maid
Are studying plans
Where porches are broad.

One kind's built of plaster,
Another of logs,
But all are constructed
With queer little jogs.

There is one room in front—
Half a den combined;
The others are fastened
Somewhere on behind.

But, then, after all,
The most room is outside,
Where porches are broad,
And mosquitoes abide.

It's the funniest thing—
Whatever I do,
I've just got to have
A bungalow, too!

A SPELL BROKEN.

When I was a boy of seven my mother took me away from our home with her to live elsewhere. I did not know what it meant at the time but as I grew older I learned that my parents had had a misunderstanding and had separated. When I was 15, my mother drew me down beside her and, with her arms about me and her cheek against mine said to me:

"Frank dear, I am going to make a great sacrifice for you. Your father who is very rich, has made me a proposition that if I will give you up to him he will make you his heir. But our family misfortune—our separation—has made my father bitter against women. I shall not enter into the cause of our living apart, since I don't wish to prejudice you against him. I would rather have you think that the fault was all mine."

"However this may be, your father's repugnance for my sex has taken a singular form. I sometimes think that in this respect his brain has been affected. If you go to him and he makes a will in your favor your inheritance will depend upon your living, a single life."

"My dear mother," I replied, clinging to her, "I prefer to remain with you and let father leave his money to someone else. As for marrying, I only ask to be with you as long as you live. After that I care not whether I marry or remain single."

But my mother, who knew better than I the value of money, persuaded me to go, though I consented only on condition that I be permitted to visit her whenever I chose.

My father said to me never a word about our family trouble or the conditions under which I came to him, but he sent me to a lawyer, who showed me a copy of the will he had just made. In this I was made his sole heir on condition of my not being married at the time of his death, but in the event of my being afterward married I was required to turn over the property to a charitable institution which he had already endowed and which bore his name.

My father did not mention my mother except when it became necessary to refer to her in the ordinary course of conversation. He never mentioned her name. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

He was ill for several months, months as full of bliss mingled with bitterness for me as of suffering to him. He seemed much relieved at my return, but said that he had had every care, having been fortunate in his nurse. He had asked for a man, but his doctors had dissuaded him. "My nurse is a treasure," he said. "That's one thing women can do well: they can take care of sick people."

"And persons who are sick, too," I added. This remark did not seem to heed the remark, for he closed his eyes, and, knowing how weak he was I left him.

That's pleasant.

"For years I've been living under the expectation that you would disinherit me if I did."—Marjorie Clough.

FREDERICK H. FRENCH.

The funeral of Frederick H. French was held Saturday afternoon from the chapel of Bethany church, Rev. Edward Norton, pastor emeritus of the church, officiating. The services were simple but impressive. Rev. Mr. Norton spoke briefly of Mr. French, mentioning his long acquaintance with the family. He also referred to the many changes that had taken place in the family within his recollection.

The burial was in the family lot at Mt. Wollaston cemetery, a brief prayer being said at the grave by Rev. Mr. Norton.

There were many of the friends of Mr. French at the funeral including Capt. John Calwell, Capt. E. B. Wadsworth, Capt. C. B. Appleton and a number of the troops of Troop A of the National Lancers, of which Mr. French was at one time a member. Mayor Eugene R. Stone, ex-Chief Engineer Amos L. Litchfield, Assistant Engineer Frank C. Packard, ex-Engineer James H. Elcock, Postmaster Charles L. Hammond and a large delegation from the Washington M. French House Co. Associates headed by Jesse F. Curtis, who has served as secretary of the organization since its institution, also attended.

There were a number of floral tributes, which aside from those sent by the immediate family and personal friends included a wreath from the Washington M. French House Co. Associates, and a floral piece representing the insignia of the National Lancers.

NEW Y. M. C. A. DIRECTOR.

That the local Young Men's Christian association has secured the services of Willis B. Day of Utica, New York as its physical director for the coming year was announced after the meeting of the executive committee Sunday. Mr. Day has accepted the position and will take up his duties on September first.

The new director comes from the directorship of the association at Madison, New Jersey, where he has served for two years, having come there from Fort Collins, Colorado. He was educated in the Utica Free Academy, from which he graduated and served as the assistant director in the physical department of the association. Mr. Day has had training of exceptional value in technical association work and is a graduate of Silver Bay.

Recommendations of the director-elect are very high in his praise and a winter of success seems assured in the association's physical work. Mr. Day was one of about forty applicants and was chosen after very careful consideration of the committee in charge.

Mr. Day was the city Sunday getting acquainted with the city and his future associates.

SUMMER KINDERGARTEN SCHOOL.

The closing exercises of the summer kindergarten school, which has been held at the Lincoln school building during the past few weeks under the auspices of the educational committee of the Quincy Women's club, were held Monday. There was a large attendance of the parents of the pupils as well as Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham, president of the Quincy Women's club and a number of the members of the educational committee.

The exercises were held under the direction of Miss Frances Burke, the teacher of the school, and were of a very interesting nature. They consisted of songs and recitations by the members of the school, who numbered about eighty. The program, which was quite a lengthy one, opened with a Good Morning song and closed with the singing of America and the sentiment "We thank the Educational Committee of the Quincy Women's club for the privilege of holding this school."

At the close of the exercises Mrs. Pinkham introduced and spoke briefly to the children, and of the pleasure it gave her and the members of the committee to see what progress they had made. She also spoke of the excellent work of Miss Burke.

All of the members of the committee were greatly impressed with the work which Miss Burke has done, and individually expressed to her their thanks.

At the close of the exhibition there was a short social hour during which fancy crackers and punch were served.

ERECTING EIGHT ROOM HOUSE.

Frederick E. Tupper has commenced work erecting an eight room house on his estate on Spear street. He is building for his own occupancy. Mr. Tupper also contemplates the erection in the near future of several other houses on his Spear street property. Mr. Tupper, who was commissioner of public works under Mayor Stone, was married some months ago to Miss Ada M. Nightingale of the commissioner's office in City Hall.

BOSTON'S TAX RATE IS $18.

Boston's tax rate was announced Monday night as $18, an increase of 50 cents over 1914. There was a total of $24,595,999 in real estate valuations and $540,200 in personal valuations, a total increase of $25,046,000. There was a gain in the number of polls of 3,118, from 206,815 in 1914 to 209,933.

TO RECEIVE BIDS.

City Treasurer John Curtis advertised today for bids for slating the roof of the Woodward Institute. Bids will be received by the city treasurer up to 10 o'clock Aug. 24 at which time they will be opened.

DANCE AT HOGS NECK.

The members of M. C. O. F. who live at Hogs Neck held a dancing party in the bungalow at the beach Monday evening and the proceeds were given to the church. The pastor of the Church of the Most Blessed Sacrament and a member of St. Victoria's church of Roxbury. There was a large attendance. Father Madden and other clergymen of the diocese were the guests of the evening. The following committee were in charge of the affair:

Reception Committee: Mrs. Helena M. Galvin, Mr. Richard Ring, Miss Florence McDonald, Mrs. Phoebe O'Neill, Mrs. John Collins, Mrs. Dennis Driscoll, Mrs. Mary Fein.

Aids: Mrs. Margaret Thompson, Mrs. Annie Collins, Mrs. Richard Ring, Mrs. Margaret Countie, Mr. Donald Collins, Mr. Richard Ring, Mrs. Margaret Dever.

Hall Committee: Mrs. Isabel Whalen, Mrs. Catherine Berio, Mrs. Barbara Stupor, Mrs. Nellie Robison, Mrs. Margaret Countie, Secretary, Mrs. Helena M. Galvin, Mrs. Barbara Stupor, Mrs. Phoebe O'Neill, Mrs. Carrie Braun, Miss Margaret Dever, Mr. Richard Ring, Mr. John

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, AUGUST 21, 1915

NEERSES H. BAYLERIAN.

Nereses H. Baylerian of 95 Franklin street, Holbrook, who for the past ten years has conducted a photographic studio at 1567 Hancock street, this city, under the name of "Nereses," was found dead behind the large canvas in his gallery about nine o'clock Thursday morning.

The body was lying on the floor at the foot of a couch where he had probably been sitting when he collapsed. On a table nearby was a glass containing a small amount of liquid, the nature of which has not yet been determined.

Dr. Frederick E. Jones, medical examiner, who has taken charge of the case has expressed no opinion on the cause of death. It is believed that Nereses took an overdose of something to relieve a severe headache from which he suffered Tuesday.

Nereses was last seen alive Tuesday afternoon when he dismissed Miss Lillian Sleep, his assistant, 15 minutes earlier than usual. He was then suffering from the headache and remarked to her that probably he would not be in Friday.

Thursday she arrived to find the door locked and as she mounted the steps leading to the studio the telephone bell rang. On her way to the phone she noticed the hat and coat of her employer in its accustomed place and after hanging up the receiver she saw the body on the floor, face downward.

Believing that he had arrived early and had fainted she went over to him and in trying to turn him over she found that rigor mortis had set in.

She summoned Edward Keating, proprietor of a dry goods store under the studio, and both made another examination of the body. Dr. Jones was summoned and the body was removed to the undertaking rooms of John Hall.

Mrs. Baylerian, who before marriage was Susie Page and assistant at the studio is ill at her home suffering from the grip. The news of her husband's death she received as a severe shock and she is prostrated and under the care of physicians.

Whether or not Nereses was home over night is not yet known but it is thought that he stayed at the studio long enough to take medicine and to await what relief it would give him before starting for home.

A pool of blood, about as large as a five cent piece was on the floor, near where his head lay. His face was discolored, probably the result of bruises received when he fell to the floor and while he struggled as he died.

Nereses since coming to Quincy has been as popular as a man could be who devoted his days to business and evenings to his family. He took great delight in his two children, Maria seven years old, and Warren, six years old, and until three years ago when the boy became a sufferer from mastoiditis was a happy man.

Since then he has continually worried about the recovery of the boy and to assist in bringing it about called the best surgeons available in New England to study the case. A series of operations were necessary and in the last three years the little fellow has been under the surgeon's knife five times. He has not yet entirely recovered.

A few days ago his wife was attacked by the grip and Nereses was very much affected because of it. In conversation Tuesday he said it seemed as though hand luck always followed his household.

Nereses was 29 years of age. He was born in Constantinople of Armenian parents, and when but a mere boy became affiliated with the political party of the Young Turks who were attempting to secure the independence of the Turkish government. Unsuccessful in their early attempts Nereses and hundreds of others were obliged to flee the country. Without money or friends he worked his way across southern Europe and through hard work secured money enough to pay for his steamship passage to New York.

On landing there he secured a brief employment and then came to Boston. He started his life in that city as a bill passer. After following that work for some months he was given employment by Charles Szwarcwald, a well known Boston photographer, who was a cousin. From him he learned the photographic business.

Nereses through economical living managed to save his money and after he had been in Boston a few years went back to Europe intending to visit his parents and once again to sit out on what he said was one of the most beautiful harbors he had ever seen. In travelling across Europe a letter from his mother informed him that a rebellion was on in Turkey and that it would be dangerous for him to be seen anywhere within the limits of that country.

Feeling that the trouble would blow over and that in time he would have an opportunity of seeing his parents he spent months in travelling, during which he visited Egypt and other African countries but at last was obliged to return to Boston without having accomplished the purpose of his journey.

He returned to work with his cousin and ten years ago came to Quincy, opening a studio at 1567 Hancock street. From the start he was successful and in 1906 was unanimously chosen photographer for the class graduating from Quincy High school that year. Previous to that Boston photographers had always been given that business and because of the opening it afforded him Nereses was always grateful to the members of the committee and class.

Since then his business has been most successful and annually, in recognition of the High school support he has presented the school with enlarged photographs of the athletic teams and large group pictures. Several dozen of these are a conspicuous part of the decorations in the building.

He lived on Upland road, Quincy, until a year ago when he purchased a small farm in Holbrook, hoping that his little boy would stand more chance of recovering from the effects of his ailments in the open. He travelled back and forth from there every day. The temperance of Nereses was such that he found it difficult to conceal his emotions and those who knew him and enjoyed his friendship could always tell by his morning greetings whether or not his little boy had passed a good night.

The news of the sudden death came as a surprise to the friends and people of this city, particularly to his patrons, many of whom live in all parts of the North and South shores.

BRIEFS

Mrs. S. I. Wood is visiting her daughter in Princeton, New Jersey.

Miss Etta Sparro is spending her vacation with her sister at Milford, N. H.

James A. Doyle of the local N. E. T. & C. Co. office is enjoying his annual vacation.

There will be a meeting of the Christ church Woman's guild on Thursday, August 26.

Miss Ruth C. Talbot of Elm street is spending a vacation in taking short trips in this vicinity.

Miss Anna Dinneen of School street has been visiting Miss Anna Weston of Island Creek.

Mrs. Hattie A. Rogers and daughter Irene of Plymouth are renewing acquaintances in Quincy this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John McDonald welcomed another son Aug. 13. They now have three daughters and two sons.

Mrs. Thomas E. Connelly, Mrs. John P. Donovan and son John, Jr., left Monday for Altay, B. N. H.

Waldo Gallagher, one of the popular salesmen at Kincaide's furniture store is enjoying a two weeks' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Axel T. Ericson are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter.

Virginia Ellen, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Brown, who was born on July 29, died Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Dunn, and son Jack of Elm avenue are at Seaside Harbor for a two weeks' vacation.

Mrs. Clara Erickson, the popular matron of the Quincy Day Nursery, returned from Medford Friday after a protracted illness.

Mrs. Pauline Beach, one of the bookkeepers at Kincaide's furniture store, left Sunday for Ludlow, Vt., on a two weeks' vacation trip.

Miss Emily L. Wild has gone to Milford, N. H., to be the guest until the first of September of Mrs. Francis F. Brewer of Bigelow street.

Miss Katherine McGourty, County president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, A. A. H., was the guest of Auxiliary 23 at its meeting Thursday evening.

Miss Mabel G. Merigan of Chestnut street is spending a week's vacation with the home of her uncle at Orient Heights.

Marcel Visintin, formerly of Edwards street, but now with the Newport News Shipbuilding Company, Va., is in the city visiting old friends.

Mrs. J. F. Welch and Miss Marjorie Welch of 1662 Hancock street, who have been in Plymouth for the past three months, left Wednesday for Northfield, Mass.

Miss Marion Mathieson, one of the popular employees at Remick Bros. and Miss Josephine Bailey of School street, are at Dresden, Me., for two weeks.

Miss Gertrude Hughes, public stenographer at the Board of Trade rooms, and Miss Gertrude Carroll of the Granite Trust Co. have returned from a ten days visit to Greenfield, N. H.

Members of Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R., will learn with regret of the death of Gen. John C. Black a former Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, who died at his hotel in Chicago Tuesday.

Walter Deane, the well known Saturday Evening Post boy, is spending his vacation in Pennsylvania. Among places visited is the Curtis building in Philadelphia, which covers 40 acres in Independence square.

Miss Flora Underwood who has been in Salem since the fire and is there closing up the financial part of the relief work was a week end guest of Mrs. H. Gerrish Smith of Presidents Hill.

The many friends of Mrs. Matthew Morrissey of Euclid avenue will be pleased to hear that she returned Saturday from the Carney Hospital and is rapidly recovering from the effects of a surgical operation.

James Moorhead, Jr., the popular manager of the Granite Shoe Store is spending his annual vacation at his summer home on Glendale road, Quincy, accompanied by Mrs. Moorhead and the children.

Mrs. John H. Anderson who has been touring New Hampshire by automobile with Brookline friends has returned home and reports having a delightful trip. On Wednesday last the party were registered at Bretton Woods.

Mrs. John W. Sanborn of Washington street who is on a month's trip to California with the Unitarian party in her letters to Quincy friends tells of a most enjoyable trip in every way.

Mrs. Herbert Lawton of Presidents Hill who has been in California since only spring returned Saturday. She has been receiving a most cordial welcome home from neighbors and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Stetson are having many guests this summer at their West Harwich home with guests nearly every week end. This evening they are giving a dinner to friends in the nearby cottages when covers will be laid for eighteen.

There was a large attendance at the weekly meeting of the Young Women's club at the Adams Academy building Wednesday evening and a delightful time was enjoyed by all. Miss Corinne LaBrecque presided at the piano for those who wanted to dance.

Mrs. Forrest B. Royal is visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. Gerrish Smith of Presidents Hill until the first of September. She has been spending six weeks at Newport, R. I., where her son Edwin, formerly B. H. had been with the fleet on the flag ship U. S. S. Wyoming.

Mrs. Everett C. Bumpus of Presidents Hill entertained a few friends very informally at her home Thursday afternoon to meet her home guest Mrs. Bradford and Mrs. Herbert Lawton who has just returned from California. There were three tables of Auction Bridge.

A manufacturer of exterior and interior woodwork is seeking a factory location in Quincy, according to information furnished by the New Haven railroad. The company will require from 3000 to 5000 square feet of floor space and from a quarter to half an acre of land for storing lumber. Representatives of the manufacturer have been in the city several times and have viewed several locations. It is desirable that the property be on the line of the railroad.

BRIEFS

Assessor W. W. Mitchell has gone to Portland, for a brief business trip.

Horace F. Spear of the W. A. Bacon Co. is having his annual vacation.

Mrs. Edward Powers and daughter Alice of 119 Cranch street are spending several weeks at Loudon, N. H.

The Nowland syndicate is erecting a house on the property adjoining the Mackay property on Greenleaf street.

A new section of lots is being laid out at Mt. Wollaston cemetery, at the Greenleaf street entrance.

Mrs. L. J. Colgan of Augusta, Me., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Young of 53 Coddington street.

The Misses Katherine, Gertrude and Anna Larkin are spending a vacation at Rancely Lakes.

Miss Elizabeth Sargeant of Small Point, Maine, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Adams of Greenleaf street.

William L. Johnson of Milwaukee is visiting his mother, Mrs. Susanna Johnson, and his sister, Mrs. Frank P. Hill, at their home, 2 Goffland street.

Judge and Mrs. Everett Bumpus of Quincy attended the Plymouth old home day, held this week, and the Judge made the principal address of the day.

Granite Conclave, I. O. H., is preparing for its annual outing to be held at Elocks' grove on the 29th of the month. A large committee is completing the arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Wright and son Livingston Wright of Presidents Hill who spent the month of July in Westford, are now at Marshfield for the rest of the season.

Posts received from Quincy people who are summering in New Hampshire state that the worst thunder storm of the season visited that state Sunday.

Mrs. Eugene C. Hultman, president of the Quincy Day Nursery, will be in Quincy in September to make arrangements for the annual tag day of the Day Nursery to be held Saturday, Sept. 25.

Richard S. Pattee of School street returned Thursday from a vacation at I. I. Sound. He was recently admitted to the Massachusetts Bar and he will be sworn in, with other successful candidates, on Sept. 3.

Attorney Frank A. Tirrell of this city will go to Maine in September to witness the admission to the bar of the state of his son Frank Tirrell, Jr., who received his degree from the University of Maine Law School last June.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Hall nee Dorothy Frye, of Framingham are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son born Thursday. Mr. Hall is the son of Henry I. Hall, formerly of Goffe street, and Mrs. Hall is the sister of Mrs. Luther W. Glover of Dixwell avenue.

WEST QUINCY

Primo Franz of Willard street is enjoying a two weeks' vacation.

Miss Jennie Doble of Furnace Brook Parkway is enjoying her vacation at Auburn, Me.

Miss Lillian Donovan of Perkins street, a clerk in the office of Rice & Hutchins at Nantasket, is enjoying her vacation at Bantree.

Miss Mabel F. Phillips of Crescent street sailed from Boston Saturday for Lisbon Falls, Me., where she will spend her vacation.

Miss Corinne Foley of Hyde Park is the guest for the month of August of her aunt, Mrs. Michael McDonald of Willard street.

Misses Anna and Caroline Timmerman of Jamaica Plain are enjoying their annual vacation with their grandmother, Mrs. Caroline Schatzel of Willard street.

Lawrence Duncan, Jr., Mrs. E. Frank Mitchell and Miss Marion Mitchell are on an automobile trip to Squam Lake, N. H.

Miss Annie McGilvray of Willard street returned Tuesday from a two weeks' trip to Richmond, Va.

Mrs. Charles Johnson of Pilbury street, West Quincy, quietly observed her eightieth birthday Wednesday. Mrs. Johnson has for years made her home in West Quincy and is very well known there, especially among the older people.

David Thomas of Washington, D. C., is enjoying his annual vacation with his parents on Bunker Hill avenue.

James Graham of Willard street returned Wednesday from a week's vacation spent at Cosy Beach, New Haven, Conn.

John Connolly of Barry street, and John Faircloth of Quincy avenue are enjoying a motor trip to the White Mountains.

Mrs. James McCormick of Hall Place left Wednesday for Endon, Illinois, where she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John B. McCormick.

Mr. and Mrs. William Nickerson of Hall place have moved to Brockton where Mr. Nickerson has secured a position. Mrs. Nickerson's mother, Mrs. Powell of New Brunswick is visiting them.

Mr. and Mrs. James Carey of Hall place are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son Monday. Mr. Carey is a motorman for the Bay State Street Railway and is an officer in the Street Railway Union.

Miss Mary Schatzel of Willard street is visiting friends at Jamaica Plain.

KEEP THE BESS AT HOME.

A good flock of hens is a fine thing—anywhere but in a neighbor's lawn or in a neighbor's garden. When they get over where they do not belong, they immediately become not only a nuisance but a detriment. Many owners do not seem to realize the vast amount of damage they are doing in this way. If they did, immediate steps would be taken to stop the trespassing and the thieving. Perhaps the greatest sufferer from these feathered marauders is the city man who tries to maintain a small vegetable patch in his back yard. But even in the country there are those who let the chickens run as they please. The law allows the neighbor to confine birds caught pilfering and hold them until proper damages have been paid. But where is the pleasure in taking advantage of such law. It is really "up to the chickens" to see that their hens are kept in the yard. If they can't be trusted outside the wire, they should be confined the way other thieves are.—County League Adviser.

LAWN PARTY FOR CHURCH.

Over three hundred people were present Thursday evening at a most successful lawn party given on the grounds of the home of Mrs. Andrew Johnson, 7 Goffland street. The party was in aid of the new chapel of the Swedish Lutheran church. The grounds were prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns, and during the evening music was furnished by a large group of players on the piano. During the evening there was a brief address by Rev. Leander Hokanson, pastor of the church.

There were a number of tables arranged about the lawn all of which were laden with good things to eat and drink. These in charge of the party were as follows:

Ice cream, Miss Annie Cathelyn Broberg.

Lemonade, Miss Esther Elizabeth Broberg.

Coffee and cake, Mrs. C. Broberg.

Chicken-Omelette to see that his hens are kept in the yard. If they can't be trusted outside the wire, they should be confined the way other thieves are.—County League Adviser.

LOYAL LADIES.

The Loyal Ladies of Clan MacGregor O. S. C., held their annual meeting on Wednesday evening, the objective point being Nantasket Beach and Paragon Park. The party made the trip in two special cars of the Bay State Street Railway Co., in charge of Walter S. Hayes, train conductor. The special cars left City Square at 7 o'clock, arriving at Nantasket about an hour later. After arrival the party separated, each seeking out the form of amusement which pleased them best. Some had dinner at the Palm Garden, while others visited the show or enjoyed dancing. The party returned late in the evening.

CITY TREASURER JOHN CURTIS is at the Cape on his annual gung trip.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

SOUTH QUINCY

Miss Margaret Hillen of Brookline is the guest of Mrs. McNeill of Pleasant street for a short stay.

Misses Louise A. Alice E., and Ruth M. Pined of Franklin street, Miss Gladys G. Hunt of Bigelow street and Miss Mildred Maxine of Braintree with her mother Mrs. Maxin as chaperon left the first of the week for Old Orchard where they have a cottage.

Miss Mary Manhire of Albertina street left Sunday for a two weeks' vacation at Ocean Point, Me.

Miss Jennie Manhire of Albertina street has gone to Lowell to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Francis of Kendrick avenue are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, born Saturday afternoon.

Cards have been received from Miss Florence A. Smith of South Quincy who is visiting friends at Norwich, Vt.

QUINCY POINT

Mr. and Mrs. D. Vinton Pierce of Wilton, N. H., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Newcomb, of Winter street.

Peter M. Sullivan of Edison street, who covers the Federal building, Boston, for the Boston Herald, is enjoying his annual vacation at the Weirs, N. H.

Harry Schwartz of Massachusetts avenue has returned from a two weeks' vacation at Ipswich.

Miss Winnie Harris of Dorchester, is spending the remainder of the summer with her uncle, Bernard Fritz of Massachusetts avenue.

G. A. R. BUILDING.

A conference was held in the office of Mayor Campbell at City Hall Wednesday evening between the Mayor and a committee of Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R., headed by Commander Mark E. Hanson. The conference was held in a room in the hall for the use of the Grand Army, a resolve requesting the Mayor to provide money for the same in a supplement to the city budget having been passed by the City Council some weeks ago.

Since the resolve passed the Council the Mayor has had estimates made of the cost of building the hall, according to the plans sent to the Mayor by the resolve.

The amount which the city can appropriate for this purpose is something like $6,000 and it was estimated that it could be erected for $3,500 plus the cost of the land. The Mayor however submitted to the committee Wednesday evening the estimates which he had received. They varied somewhat but according to these estimates the building could not be erected inside of the amount available.

Nothing definite was decided at the conference as His Honor said that he would get other estimates. Much depends, of course, on the specifications. If they call for elaborate finishing the cost will advance and it may be possible to eliminate some of the finishes so that the amount can be brought down sufficiently to be within the amount available.

FUNERAL OF RUPERT McFARLANE

The funeral of Rupert W. McFarlane, the young man who lost his life by drowning in Black's creek last Sunday, was held Wednesday afternoon from the home of his mother, Mrs. Henry R. Askew, 224 Goffe street. The services which were very impressive were attended by many of the young man's friends, including the Rev. Fraternity of Bethany church with which he was affiliated and were conducted by Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott, former pastor of Bethany church, who came from Townsend, where he is passing the summer to officiate.

During the services a quartette composed of Charles Avery, C. Wesley Williams, Roland Avery, and Richard Wilson, sang "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Sleep of Beloved." Madam Ellen Beale Morey, a former choir leader at Bethany church, being the accompanist.

The bearers were companions of the young man, and were Charles Avery, Roland Avery, Harold England, Edwin Eaton, Alvah D. Innis and C. Wesley Williams.

The burial was at Mt. Wollaston where the burial service of the Makaria Fraternity was held under the direction of Rev. Mr. Willmott. The quartette also sang "Farewell, Brother, Farewell."

Many of the Quincy nobles of Aleppo temple, Mystic Shrine, are showing their friends handsome star silver pencils, as a result of their participation in the annual outing Thursday.

As this was the souvenir of the outing presented to the participants, the party left Boston Thursday morning in one of the Nantasket line boats for a two hours sail down the harbor. Later a landing was made at Nantasket for dinner which was served in the Palm Garden at Paragon Park. It was intended to have the dinner served at the home of Mrs. E. England, but the inn was unable to accommodate the 700 or more on the trip the dinner was served at the Palm Garden. It was under the same management.

After dinner a special train was taken for Pemberton Inn where a series of athletic events was held. None of the Quincy Shriners was fortunate enough to win any of the events. Some of the Quincy members returned to Boston by boat while others took the train to Nantasket and returned by trolley in the evening.

LAKE PARTY FOR CHURCH.

Over three hundred people were present Thursday evening at a most successful lawn party given on the grounds of the home of Mrs. Andrew Johnson, 7 Goffland street. The party was in aid of the new chapel of the Swedish Lutheran church. The grounds were prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns, and during the evening music was furnished by a large group of players on the piano. During the evening there was a brief address by Rev. Leander Hokanson, pastor of the church.

There were a number of tables arranged about the lawn all of which were laden with good things to eat and drink. These in charge of the party were as follows:

Ice cream, Miss Annie Cathelyn Broberg.

Lemonade, Miss Esther Elizabeth Broberg.

Coffee and cake, Mrs. C. Broberg.

Chicken-Omelette to see that his hens are kept in the yard. If they can't be trusted outside the wire, they should be confined the way other thieves are.—County League Adviser.

ALPHO TEMPLE OUTING.

Many of the Quincy nobles of Aleppo temple, Mystic Shrine, are showing their friends handsome star silver pencils, as a result of their participation in the annual outing Thursday.

As this was the souvenir of the outing presented to the participants, the party left Boston Thursday morning in one of the Nantasket line boats for a two hours sail down the harbor. Later a landing was made at Nantasket for dinner which was served in the Palm Garden at Paragon Park. It was intended to have the dinner served at the home of Mrs. E. England, but the inn was unable to accommodate the 700 or more on the trip the dinner was served at the Palm Garden. It was under the same management.

After dinner a special train was taken for Pemberton Inn where a series of athletic events was held. None of the Quincy Shriners was fortunate enough to win any of the events. Some of the Quincy members returned to Boston by boat while others took the train to Nantasket and returned by trolley in the evening.

LAKE PARTY FOR CHURCH.

Over three hundred people were present Thursday evening at a most successful lawn party given on the grounds of the home of Mrs. Andrew Johnson, 7 Goffland street. The party was in aid of the new chapel of the Swedish Lutheran church. The grounds were prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns, and during the evening music was furnished by a large group of players on the piano. During the evening there was a brief address by Rev. Leander Hokanson, pastor of the church.

There were a number of tables arranged about the lawn all of which were laden with good things to eat and drink. These in charge of the party were as follows:

Ice cream, Miss Annie Cathelyn Broberg.

Lemonade, Miss Esther Elizabeth Broberg.

Coffee and cake, Mrs. C. Broberg.

Chicken-Omelette to see that his hens are kept in the yard. If they can't be trusted outside the wire, they should be confined the way other thieves are.—County League Adviser.

ALPHO TEMPLE OUTING.

Many of the Quincy nobles of Aleppo temple, Mystic Shrine, are showing their friends handsome star silver pencils, as a result of their participation in the annual outing Thursday.

As this was the souvenir of the outing presented to the participants, the party left Boston Thursday morning in one of the Nantasket line boats for a two hours sail down the harbor. Later a landing was made at Nantasket for dinner which was served in the Palm Garden at Paragon Park. It was intended to have the dinner served at the home of Mrs. E. England, but the inn was unable to accommodate the 700 or more on the trip the dinner was served at the Palm Garden. It was under the same management.

After dinner a special train was taken for Pemberton Inn where a series of athletic events was held. None of the Quincy Shriners was fortunate enough to win any of the events. Some of the Quincy members returned to Boston by boat while others took the train to Nantasket and returned by trolley in the evening.

LAKE PARTY FOR CHURCH.

Over three hundred people were present Thursday evening at a most successful lawn party given on the grounds of the home of Mrs. Andrew Johnson, 7 Goffland street. The party was in aid of the new chapel of the Swedish Lutheran church. The grounds were prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns, and during the evening music was furnished by a large group of players on the piano. During the evening there was a brief address by Rev. Leander Hokanson, pastor of the church.

There were a number of tables arranged about the lawn all of which were laden with good things to eat and drink. These in charge of the party were as follows:

Ice cream, Miss Annie Cathelyn Broberg.

Lemonade, Miss Esther Elizabeth Broberg.

Coffee and cake, Mrs. C. Broberg.

Chicken-Omelette to see that his hens are kept in the yard. If they can't be trusted outside the wire, they should be confined the way other thieves are.—County League Adviser.

ALPHO TEMPLE OUTING.

Many of the Quincy nobles of Aleppo temple, Mystic Shrine, are showing their friends handsome star silver pencils, as a result of their participation in the annual outing Thursday.

As this was the souvenir of the outing presented to the participants, the party left Boston Thursday morning in one of the Nantasket line boats for a two hours sail down the harbor. Later a landing was made at Nantasket for dinner which was served in the Palm Garden at Paragon Park. It was intended to have the dinner served at the home of Mrs. E. England, but the inn was unable to accommodate the 700 or more on the trip the dinner was served at the Palm Garden. It was under the same management.

After dinner a special train was taken for Pemberton Inn where a series of athletic events was held. None of the Quincy Shriners was fortunate enough to win any of the events. Some of the Quincy members returned to Boston by boat while others took the train to Nantasket and returned by trolley in the evening.

LAKE PARTY FOR CHURCH.

Over three hundred people were present Thursday evening at a most successful lawn party given on the grounds of the home of Mrs. Andrew Johnson, 7 Goffland street. The party was in aid of the new chapel of the Swedish Lutheran church. The grounds were prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns, and during the evening music was furnished by a large group of players on the piano. During the evening there was a brief address by Rev. Leander Hokanson, pastor of the church.

There were a number of tables arranged about the lawn all of which were laden with good things to eat and drink. These in charge of the party were as follows:

Ice cream, Miss Annie Cathelyn Broberg.

Lemonade, Miss Esther Elizabeth Broberg.

Coffee and cake, Mrs. C. Broberg.

Chicken-Omelette to see that his hens are kept in the yard. If they can't be trusted outside the wire, they should be confined the way other thieves are.—County League Adviser.

ALPHO TEMPLE OUTING.

Many of the Quincy nobles of Aleppo temple, Mystic Shrine, are showing their friends handsome star silver pencils, as a result of their participation in the annual outing Thursday.

As this was the souvenir of the outing presented to the participants, the party left Boston Thursday morning in one of the Nantasket line boats for a two hours sail down the harbor. Later a landing was made at Nantasket for dinner which was served in the Palm Garden at Paragon Park. It was intended to have the dinner served at the home of Mrs. E. England, but the inn was unable to accommodate the 700 or more on the trip the dinner was served at the Palm Garden. It was under the same management.

After dinner a special train was taken for Pemberton Inn where a series of athletic events was held. None of the Quincy Shriners was fortunate enough to win any of the events. Some of the Quincy members returned to Boston by boat while others took the train to Nantasket and returned by trolley in the evening.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Mrs. S. Wild of Rawson road is visiting in Medford for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Barstow and son William of Rawson road are at New Boston, New Hampshire for two weeks.

Lawrence Loring of Willow street is spending the remainder of the month of August with relatives at Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard.

ORDER OF PILGRIM FATHERS.

Delegations from the Atlantic, North Weymouth and East Weymouth colonies of the United Order of Pilgrim Fathers were present Thursday afternoon and evening at the special initiation picnic held under the auspices of Onward colony of Houghs Neck in Lyceum hall.

At the afternoon session several candidates were initiated, and there was a short entertainment, which included readings by Mrs. Ethel Battling of Malden. The "boxers" who are on a round of visits to the colonies of the state, were present with large boxes of lunch and at the conclusion of the afternoon session this was served to those present.

Supreme Court. John D. Cooley presided at the evening session and there were several of the supreme officers present. The principal address of the evening was made by Supreme Governor George F. Bradstreet who spoke in part as follows:

"As the head of this grand old Order, embracing more than seven thousand members spread broadcast throughout the New England States, it seems fitting at this time, that I should make some mention of the great events which are now daily occurring, and which are literally changing the geographical formation of the earth's continents. Think of it! History is not only being outdone, but it is being outdone by the march of modern science, who in short years ago placed the greatest faith in the ability of nations to settle differences through arbitration are now at each others throats."

"It is not for us to discuss within the colony rooms of our organization the justice of the position of this or that nation, and this is one reason why I take occasion to mention the matter at this time. We have among our members and our officers, men and women who were born in each of the countries which are now at war, and thousands of others whose parents were born there. Notwithstanding that, however, we are all bound together by a common oath, which we as brothers, this, coupled with the great oath of American citizenship which all of us, whether native born or naturalized American citizens, have taken, makes it incumbent upon us with a double force to abstain from discussion of a subject which, to matter which side we may take, will make our remarks offensive to a certain portion of our members."

"I therefore request the members of the United Order of Pilgrim Fathers to abstain absolutely from discussing the war situation in their quarters. As to their attitude on this situation while in their homes I leave it entirely to their judgment as to what method they should pursue."

"President Wilson was severely criticised for his Mexican policy. Is it not possible that the entire Mexican situation was brought about, or for several years, by some of the European interests which feel that if the United States were to have Mexico it would be in a position to stand for its rights in other parts of the world."

"Europe is simply living up to its past reputation. Can the oldest of us remember when Europe, some part of her, was not at war? Think of the millions of lives which have been lost, and the millions of dollars which have been expended to build stockades and build fortifications. In the days of the Indians in this country, and even now with the missionaries and others who visit the jungles of the world, have been the custom to build stockades and build fortifications. But those were to guard against savages."

"While I do not ask the question seriously but rather as a sort of conundrum, I would like to know which is over abroad, for the Germans have had no difficulties to guard against the French, and the French are in fact, with all of these countries. The one fair question that might be asked is, 'Are they all savages?'"

"Contrast our United States American boundary line with our own civilization and the Great Lakes without a gunboat. The same has been true with regard to Mexico and will continue to be so, regardless of inept uprisings of a small number of the semi-civilized tribes, of the northwestern section of that country."

"Let us be pro-German, let us not be pro-Ally, let us not endeavor to solve the European situation in this country, for we cannot do it. Let us first of all be pro-American and in case our country needs us let it be said that the Pilgrim Fathers to the last man and the last woman did all in their power to uphold the integrity of this country."

"Stand behind the President who has thus far guided us through turbulent waters in safety and yet has caused no American to blush at being called an American citizen. There were men at the time of the Civil War who made millions of dollars because of the war, who started mammoth fortunes. Perhaps the men who are now crying war in this country are sons of those of 1860, or at least of the same ilk."

LOYAL LADIES.

The Loyal Ladies of Clan MacGregor O. S. C., held their annual meeting on Wednesday evening, the objective point being Nantasket Beach and Paragon Park. The party made the trip in two special cars of the Bay State Street

Quincy Patriot

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, AUGUST 28, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 35.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1837.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)

OFFICE, No. 1124 HANCOCK STREET.
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone: Quincy 125.
Quincy 1910.

Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1889.
Subscription Price, $5.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE
BRAINTREE OBSERVER
Weekly Established in 1858.

H. T. WHITMAN
AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust

LAND FOR SALE
—AT—
MERRYMOUNT
Mt. Williston Farm

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street.
Tel. Fort Hill 591.

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1840 by
W. PORTER

Insurance effected in reliable and safe
Sack and Mutual offices.

By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 10 City Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy.

AETNA INSURANCE CO.

HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1819. Quoted Perpetual

Losses Paid in 94 Years, $132,931,553.48

JANUARY 1, 1914.

Cash Capital	$5,000,000.00
Surplus	$2,000,000.00
Assets for Policy Holders	$1,500,000.00
Reserve for Reinsurance	$1,000,000.00
Reserve for Unpaid Losses	$250,000.00
Reserve for Other Claims	$750,000.00
Total Assets	$10,500,000.00

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.
AGENTS FOR QUINCY.

Incorporated 1837

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk	$2,000,000.00
Cash Assets	$1,000,000.00
Total Assets (including re-insurance)	$3,000,000.00
Amount of Cash Surplus	$1,000,000.00
Contingent Assets	$1,000,000.00
Total Available Assets	$2,000,000.00

Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies, 60 per cent; on three-year policies, 40 per cent; on one-year policies, 30 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, President.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer.

DIRECTORS:—Frederick D. Marsh, Daniel Gamett, Milton J. Bates, Edmund J. Bates, James V. Noyes, William E. Linnell, John H. Bates, William E. Linnell, George W. Bates, Herbert M. Plimpton, Norwalk; Clifford P. Baker, Dedham.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy.

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk	$2,000,000.00
Cash Assets	$1,000,000.00
Total Assets (including re-insurance)	$3,000,000.00
Amount of Cash Surplus	$1,000,000.00
Contingent Assets	$1,000,000.00
Total Available Assets	$2,000,000.00

Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies, 60 per cent; on three-year policies, 40 per cent; on one-year policies, 30 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary

DIRECTORS:—Samuel Gamett, William E. Linnell, John H. Bates, William E. Linnell, George W. Bates, Herbert M. Plimpton, Norwalk; Clifford P. Baker, Dedham.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy.

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.
INCORPORATED 1855

HOME OFFICE, 15 CENTRAL STREET

Telephone, Main 1040.

William A. Muller, President

W. D. Curtis, Vice-President

T. J. Falvey, Pres. Mass. Branch

Henry Hornblower, Hornblower & Weeks

Louis K. Lippert, Pres. United Drug Company

Wm. J. McGuffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas G. Plant Co.

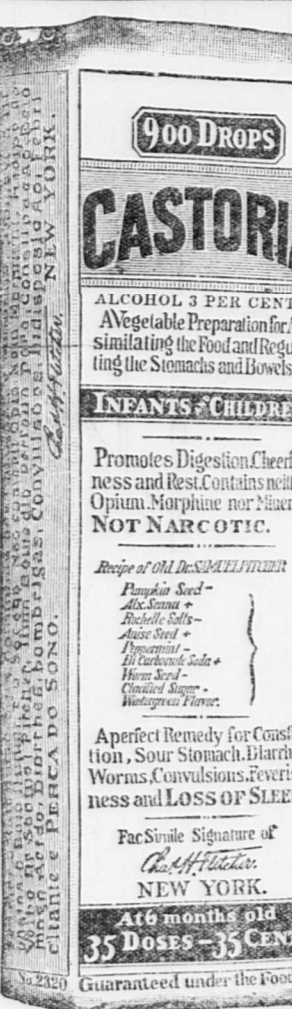

Edward C. Mason, Secretary and Treasurer

William A. Muller, William A. Muller Company

Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests

F. Sullivan, Pres. Bay State Street Railway Co.

John P. Spire, John P. Spire & Sons

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of

Wm. A. Muller

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO

GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

Lay our 3/4 inch floor over your old one and see what an improvement it is. We have quartered oak, plain oak, birch, maple and hard pine.

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Neponset, Boston. Tel. 1040 Dorchester

166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

When U Want Plumbing and Heating Work Done

in any part of your home, store or factory, and want it done in first class style.

SEND FOR US

The Wm. A. Bradford Co.

Sanitary Plumbing GAS FITTING FURNACE & SHEET METAL WORK

No. 5 Maple St., Quincy, Massachusetts

PLAN FIELD DAY.

The first field day of the parishioners of the Church of the Most Blessed Sacrament and a reunion of past and present Catholic residents of Houghs Neck will take place on the parish grounds on Labor Day.

A large committee is assisting Fr. Mark E. Madden, the pastor, in completing preparations for the event. Father Madden was recently appointed pastor after the district was set off from St. John's parish. The church until then was known as St. Francis-by-the-Sea and it is the hope of the committee that all those who ever attended mass at the church will be present during the afternoon and evening to meet Father Madden, whose popularity with all the residents since he was appointed has grown steadily.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

A MILE WITH ME.

Henry Van Dyke.

Oh, who will walk a mile with me Along life's merry way? A comrade lithe and full of glee, Who dares to laugh out loud and free.

And let his frolic fancy play, Like a happy child, through the flowers gay.

That fill the field and fringe the way Where he walks a mile with me.

And who will walk a mile with me Along life's weary way? A friend whose heart has eyes to see The stars shine out over the darkness of the day.

And the quiet rest at the end of the day— A friend who knows and dares to say: The brave, sweet words that clear the way Where he walks a mile with me.

With such a comrade, such a friend, I find would walk till journey's end, Through summer sunshine, winter rain, And then? Farewell, we shall meet again!

FATE OF THE OPAL RING.

Lorna Call turned from the window where she had been peering through the dusk at the little house across the garden.

"Mother," she said in a low voice, "it is the second-hand man; he never comes till it gets dark—I suppose Daddy tells him not to. And what do you think he has taken this time?"

"Little Mrs. Call threw up her hands with a gesture of distress."

"Not the new clock stove? Daddy was saying to me yesterday how it was an extravagance to have bought it, and he could do without it well enough. Land, we didn't have anything about the necessity of life being an extravagance till Billy's college bill began to mount up so. And it did use to make me ache to see the poor old man trying to get his dinner over that old stove that wouldn't heat up enough to make a cup of coffee inside of two or three hours."

Lorna had paused in frowning thoughtfulness on her way back to the window.

"If I thought Billy Gay realized what he was doing—making his grand father sell off his house furnishings to pay for college—Daddy! I never speak to him again. Anyway, I'll break off our engagement—yes, I would; I couldn't live with such a perfectly selfish—little beast—but it wasn't the cookstove the second-hand man took this time, though no doubt he'll come for it sooner or later. Tonight the prize he carried off was—Lorna stopped to laugh—"was the opal ring."

"The opal ring?" Mrs. Call laughed, too, till she had to sit down in the nearest chair. "Poor Aunt Bethia! masterpiece! How proud she was of it—it had as many colors in it as an opal—and what a screaming horror it was when she got it done! Mind what I say, Lorna; that second-hand man will bring it back! Nobody in the world could live with it, except for conscience's sake. And outsiders wouldn't have any conscience about it."

"Then she grew grave as she added: 'If Daddy Gay has brought himself to sell that ring, he must be in a harder place than we had any right to expect. He left it to me solemnly as a parting gift when she went to Australia.'"

"She ought to be ashamed of herself for not leaving him a good lump of her money instead of that frightful display of old rags," retorted Lorna. "He is the only brother she got and she cut him off with a braided rug—when she was making presents to everybody else too! I never thought Aunt Bethia Gay was anything more than eccentric, but I think now she is a villain, and married an Australian millionaire so he could take her away to the other side of the world, out of the consequences of her sins!"

"The two women laughed again, but they went to the window to peer out anxiously once more at the little house where Daddy's lamp was just lighted."

Ever since Billy's departure last fall for his senior year at the college, the clouds had been gathering furiously over that little house. Daddy, anybody called Adam Gay, had sent his grandson to college at a considerable sacrifice, and during the five years the boy had been modest in his demands for money.

At the end of the fourth year, Billy Gay began to live up to his name, so people said, and Lorna and her mother began to watch Daddy rather anxiously, though he seemed so happy when any doubt was cast upon Billy's "straightness" that they had to be careful what they said to him.

The old man pleaded some excuse now and then—for instance when he sold a lot of land at the end of the village which later would have been valuable for building sites. Billy wanted a piano in his room; he was president of the musical club and needed an instrument of his own. There was a chance to get one remarkably cheap for cash. When Billy wanted a motor boat—little one such as you could buy for a hundred and fifty—Daddy Gay discovered that he didn't need a horse, so he parted with the old one and went to the village. So it went on, from one thing to another. Daddy kept his own counsel, though he looked guilty sometimes when Lorna's soft eyes dwelt on his anxiously or Mrs. Call pursed her mouth and shook her head over some new news.

"Tain't nothing to fret about," Daddy would protest. "When you two young lads get to be my age, you'll find a sight of things you'll be glad to do without. A chance to camp down by the fire and smoke an old pipe is about all I want. But Billy's young and he's had to go pretty careful on expenses all his life in his last year and do the way other chaps do."

"Branch out!" echoed Mrs. Call indignantly as Daddy went away. Billy must have branches enough by this time to make him a walking timber lot.

"If he gets his grandfather in debt," rejoined Lorna, "I'll never forgive him. Daddy hates debt so I believe it would kill him."

It was not until spring that the second-hand man had begun to make his darkling visits to Daddy's little house. One thing after another had quietly disappeared, till the cozy rooms were almost dismantled. The opal ring was followed by the morris chair and the dining-room table.

"I've larked my shins on that chair long enough," explained Daddy. "I wanted a ten-acre lot to stand in. And the kitchen table is all I want. The smartest man going can't cut off more than one table at a time."

At last, at last, the new kitchen stove was carried out, shorn of its nickel glories and temporarily hidden in the second-hand man's store.

"The letter resulted in a broken engagement, for Lorna's remark was too severe to be borne and Billy had lost his temper."

"What business is it of yours how much I spend?" he asked, in effect, and Lorna's answer had gone back as straight as lightning.

"It is none of my business, Billy. Nothing you do is in my business any more (your ring is in this little way of paper), but do think of your grandfather. He has only you and he is growing old."

"What asks Lorna these days?" Daddy asked anxiously of Mrs. Call. "She and Billy act like two spring chickens about to go into a decline. The boy isn't written for three weeks and the girl's got eyes like holes burned in a blanket."

"You don't look just right yourself, Daddy," retorted the little woman. "Suppose you tell us first what's troubling you?"

For of late the old man's steadfast cheerfulness had faltered perceptibly. It was like a rampart that still towers in the face of the enemy but shows a break here and there.

Daddy turned the matter off with a feeble joke, but that evening Mrs. Call and Lorna, seeing no light shining through the windows of the little house, had a feeling of uneasiness which would not be put down.

"I can't rest till I've seen whether he's all right," said Mrs. Call, and Lorna was of the same mind.

It was a wild night of wind and rain, but they trudged across the garden and into the little house, where their knock, they stepped in.

The kitchen, Daddy's usual haunt, was dark, but there was a glimmer of light from the open door of the room which had been the best parlor when Adam Gay brought his young wife some thirty years ago.

In this room they found Daddy, his candle on the floor and clothes on the floor. Save the candle and the chair in which the best figure of the old man sat the room was bare of any pleasing whatever.

"There, there," Daddy greeted his visitors with a shaky laugh. "I never heard a sound of ye comin'! You've caught me sure enough—keepin' the anniversary of my wedding day. I was proud of this room—but she'd have done just the same if she'd been here. Why, 'tain't nothin' to fuss about, Mary Call."

Mrs. Call was wiping her eyes briskly. Daddy looked so lonely and old sitting there in that dismantled room with the memories of the past.

"You must tell us what's worrying you, Daddy," she said firmly.

"Well, I will," agreed the old man cheerfully. "I'll have to come out sooner or later, what kind of a fool I've been. I signed a note last spring with Jim Haskins, sellin' 'I hadn't any troubles of my own.' 'Twas only eight hundred dollars, but Jim's gone to smash and they've come on me for the money. It's kind of upset me, I guess."

"Oh, Daddy," little Mrs. Call's dismayed voice sounded mournfully in the empty room. "No wonder you were worried! Will you have to mortgage your house?"

"Well," Daddy pondered a moment, "I guess not. It ain't much of a house, you see, and I've raised one thousand five hundred dollars on it already."

"Then, Lorna's voice chimed in sharply in the half-darkness, 'That means you are ruined, Daddy Gay, just on account of—'"

Daddy lifted his hand warningly. "Now, don't go blaming the boy. He hadn't any idea what it meant to me to have to pay out so much. And he didn't know about the note. It was my own foolishness. I was so soft I couldn't bear to deny him of the money young folks enjoy. I see my mistake now, but I didn't expect so many misfortunes in a bunch."

Daddy spoke with a dignity that silenced the girl. For a moment no one spoke.

Then the outside door was flung open and a man came striding into the room. By the dim light they could see he was wet and mud-stained, in a fearful, slight agitation, besides being excited to the point of violence.

Mrs. Call, whose pet dream of horror always took the form of a large

BOSTON YACHT CLUB.

Although the Almirra was the first to cross the line in the open race under the auspices of the Boston Yacht Club off Hull, Saturday in Class D, she lost first position on time allowance to the Cleopatra, which had a lead of 21 seconds on elapsed time but corrected time gave the race to the Cleopatra by 15 seconds. The Dart finished in third position, the Dolly III, fourth, Grayling fifth and Iris last.

There were 58 yachts in the fifteen classes and the race was sailed in a light southerly air over the outside course, the larger classes having a course of eight miles and the smaller boats one of 6 to 4 miles.

At the close of the race the championship winners for the series was announced, among them being the Dory III, W. W. Atkinson, and the Dory III, W. W. Atkinson, in the 18-foot knockout class.

In Class K of the sloopers the Tern, the Quantum Y. C. challenger for the Quincy cup, won out and in the 18-foot class the Louise was the winner. The summary of Class D—

Name and Owner. Let time. Cor time.

Almirra, H. A. Jones. 1-36-12 1-35-16

Dartwell, L. M. Whittemore. 1-35-45 1-35-45

Dolly III, W. W. Atkinson. 1-36-16 1-36-36

Grayling, C. V. Nickerson. 1-41-43 1-37-17

Iris, F. F. Crane. 1-43-32 1-43-08

MILK STANDARDS.

The Public Health Reports of the U. S. Public Health Service for August 13, 1915, publishes an article by Prof. H. W. Conn of the Wesleyan University, Middletown, Connecticut, on the discrepancies in the reports of analyses of supposedly identical samples of milk.

This report, which is in considerable length, considers whether these discrepancies are due to the inevitable difficulties in bacteriological analyses, and the improvements which may be made in the method of technique of such analyses.

In October, 1914, four of the large laboratories in New York City determined upon a co-operative test by which some of these questions could, if possible, be answered. The planning and co-ordinating of the whole series was in the hands of a referee, and the tests lasted several months and involved some thirty separate analyses by a variety of methods.

The author concludes that the present standard methods of milk analysis are in need of revision; that individual analyses under the best condition are subject to considerable variation so that no single count can be properly relied upon. The article contains nineteen separate conclusions, and will doubtless prove of great value to those interested in the standardization of the purity of milk.

TO ENTER MERCHANT MARINE.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jepson opened their bungalow Monday evening to their friends, the occasion being in honor of John Jepson, Jr., who left Tuesday for New York City where he expected to sail for England.

The grounds and house were attractively decorated with Japanese lanterns. Refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Jepson were assisted in entertaining by their daughter Mrs. Esther Young and her husband Charles Young, and all proved delightful hosts.

Young Mr. Jepson is popular in Squantum and Quincy. He was graduated from the Quincy High school in the class of 1915 and took a prominent part in athletics being a member of the Quincy High school football team.

For a career in England's great training, he has been selected by his mother. He hopes some day to be the commanding officer of one of England's great ships. His hosts of friends wish him every success in his chosen career.

RESCUES LITTLE GIRL.

William Blanchard of Bay View road, a joiner at the New River road, was heartily congratulated by his fellow employees when he reported for work on August 29.

On the evening before he rescued six-year-old Elizabeth Coates, daughter of Alfred Coates of Bay View avenue, from drowning in Town River.

The little girl, able to swim a few strokes, entered the water about six o'clock. Half an hour later she was found by Blanchard. He hurried back and he saw the plight of the little girl. With out divesting himself of hat or clothing he plunged into the river, swam out to where the girl was struggling and caught her as she was going under for the second time. He brought her ashore, gave her first aid and then carried her home.

Little Betty as she is known to her playmates extended her personal thanks to him the next evening.

THE FOOL OF THE FAMILY.

It was in Malta Harbor, on a sultry day, that a four foot eight midshipman came to join his first sea-going ship, according to the Liverpool Post. Having just reported himself to the captain—an officer of some six feet two inches—the latter, literally looking down upon the boy, said: "Well, youngster, so you've come to join."

"Yes, if you please, sir," replied the midshipman. "What is it, same old yarn, sir? 'No, sir,' in genuinely replied the midshipman, 'oh, no, things have altered since your time, sir.' 'Go away!' roared the captain, and the midshipman fled as fast as his little legs would take him.

DEPARTURE OF MURDOCKS.

Confident that the separation which took place on the New York wharves Saturday would not be for long, the Murdock family took a fond farewell of each other. Helen, 19 years old daughter called at 10 o'clock on the Steamship Valparaíso for Buenos Aires where she will become the bride of Lieut. Francisco Caruso of the Argentine Navy on the 15th of September.

Mrs. Alice Murdock her mother, and three sisters, Mary, 21 years, Annie, 11 years and Alice, three years, and brother James, 15 years, called on the Cunard Lian Orduna for Liverpool, at 11:30. James Murdock, the father, a foreman in the machine shop at the Fore River shipyard, waved them farewell and then came back to his home at Farness, one of the towns which has been shelled several times by Zeppelins since the war began and the town where the mother and children are again to make their home. The family have been popular residents of this city and lived on Edison park, overlooking Town river.

Three years ago when Lieut. Francisco Caruso came to Quincy, an inspector on the Dreadnought Riva-davia, built for Argentina at the Fore River shipyard, he roomed with the Murdock. Before he returned to his country last March the engagement of Helen Murdock and the lieutenant was announced.

The marriage will take place at Buenos Aires on Sept. 15, the day after the Valparaíso arrives. The navy department has granted Lieut. Caruso a month's leave of absence for a honeymoon trip.

The Orduna, the ship on which the mother and other members of the family are now under the Cunard registry. Several voyages have been perilous since the war began and on the last trip from Liverpool the ship's commander sighted a torpedo in time to avoid it and through line seamanship escaped a German submarine.

Mrs. Murdock anticipates a pleasant passage and her children are as optimistic.

The prospects that James, the son, will be obliged to serve with the English army are considered certain by English born residents of the city since copies of the London Star newspaper published in that city, received here a short time ago contained a military decree ordering all males between the ages of 15 and 65 to report for duty. James doesn't look forward to service with a keen delight but is ready to fight for England and his country needs him.

The father resumed his duties at the shipyard Monday. He is thinking seriously of joining the manufacturing end of the army when he returns and expects to participate in the production of munitions of war.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Not until Aug. 29 did Stewart Foster, the 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Foster of Bay View street, know that the point of an anchor he struck while diving in Town river had penetrated the skull and had come within an ace of causing instant death. His physician, however, realized the situation and when the wound quickly responded to treatment he decided not to break the news until there was every indication of its properly closing.

Foster dove from the upright ladder on the raft at the foot of Edison street. His head struck a motor boat, stunned by the blow he paddled and reached the surface. Others on the raft saw his head coated with mud and pulled him from the water. They assisted him back to shore and he walked to his home where the wound was dressed by his mother.

An hour later he called on a surgeon and since then has been in his care. Foster in telling his folks how he was affected when he struck said that he realized but one thing and that was the necessity of getting to the surface without delay and that he had done so.

An hour later he called on a surgeon and since then has been in his care. Foster in telling his folks how he was affected when he struck said that he realized but one thing and that was the necessity of getting to the surface without delay and that he had done so.

An hour later he called on a surgeon and since then has been in his care. Foster in telling his folks how he was affected when he struck said that he realized but one thing and that was the necessity of getting to the surface without delay and that he had done so.

A TWELVE YEAR OLD HEROINE.

Margaret Dumfield, aged 12 years, who formerly resided at Quincy Point figured in the rescue of a six year old boy from drowning at Onset last week. Royal Bell of Boston, who was spending his summer at Onset got beyond his depth and sank.

Margaret, nothing daunted, jumped in and succeeded in rescuing the little fellow whom she brought ashore in an unconscious state. Physicians worked over him several hours before he was pronounced out of danger. The boys father presented Margaret with a five dollar gold piece and later she will be presented with a medal for her bravery. Her name probably will be sent to the Massachusetts Hum

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, AUGUST 28, 1915

SPONSOR FOR SUBMARINE:

Mrs. Alice L. Campbell, wife of May or Chester L. Campbell, of Quincy, is the sponsor for the submarine H-20, built at the Fore River shipyard for Great Britain and successfully launched Friday. Mrs. Campbell is the first wife of a Quincy mayor to be invited to officiate at a Fore River launching.

The event was private and was witnessed only by the mayor, Edna, the 12-year old daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Campbell and Mrs. Charles Campbell. On their arrival at the yard they were met by Pres. Joseph W. Powell and escorted to the launching stand. Mrs. Campbell was presented with a bouquet of Richmond roses which she carried in her arm as she swung the bottle of wine against the submarine as it slid away and at the luncheon which followed the ceremonies was presented with a handsome diamond brooch.

All of the ten boats, contracted for, are now in the water, the H-20 being the last one to slide over. No time will be lost in getting them ready for the trials which will take place in Massachusetts Bay in the immediate future. The diving tests will probably be made off Provincetown.

It is understood that the company has requested the navy department to send a naval man to accompany the boats during the trials and that the request has been granted. This is probably for the purpose of emphasizing the assurances given Sec. of the Navy Daniels when the contract was received that no boats would be delivered until after the war.

The fleet of submarines is now tied up in the Fore River, just off the yard, and are in plain view. Many pleasure craft carrying sightseers from Boston and other places have reviewed them.

There has been considerable speculation of late as to whether or not the United States could take the craft for their own purposes in case of need. It can be stated on authority that if such an occasion arose the United States would probably exercise that right, paying the actual cost to Great Britain if she were the friendly power, and reimbursing the builders for whatever loss they might sustain if the craft was owned by an unfriendly power.

HOUSE RANSACKED.

After failing admittance, forcing open a trunk, and stealing $50 in bills of all denominations at the home of Bernard Dauphine at 71 Billings road, Thursday, thieves in their hurry to escape dropped $25 just inside the front door. The presence of the money on the floor of the hall aroused the suspicions of Mr. Dauphine when he returned from work at nine o'clock Thursday evening and started the investigation which resulted in the discovery of the break.

Mrs. Dauphine left at 11 o'clock to visit relatives at North Weymouth. She carefully locked the house on her departure. It is thought the place was visited shortly after she left.

Mr. Dauphine found that all of the rooms occupied by his family had been ransacked and that the thieves had generally overturned articles of furniture and emptied drawers while searching for loot.

So far as is known nothing of value had the money was taken. In order to open the trunk it was necessary to force the lock. Most of the contents of the trunk were removed before the money was found.

The police were notified and an immediate investigation was made. It is thought the thieves got into the house by means of a false key.

MR. THOMPSON TO LEAVE.

Rev. A. M. Thompson of 188 Whitwell street will preach his last sermon at the United Presbyterian church Sunday. In the morning his subject will be "Christ's Treatment of a Fallen Disciple" and in the evening, "Spiritual Freedom."

Mr. Thompson who has made his home in this city for eight years, has accepted a call to the Presbyterian church of Houlton, Me., and will move there on Sept. 1. For six years Mr. Thompson was pastor of the United Presbyterian church here, and for the last two years he has preached at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Boston.

This summer, during the absence of the pastor, Rev. D. B. McLeod, Rev. Mr. Thompson has supplied the pulpit at the United Presbyterian.

LEASE AVIATION FIELD.

C. F. Gomez, a student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and C. Harn of Forest Hills have leased the Squantum aviation field and are preparing to conduct a series of experiments with air craft. They also plan to open a school of instruction.

Two machines have been delivered on the field: one a Curtis biplane, equipped with a two cycle engine and the other a monoplane, designed after the Blériot monoplane, and equipped with a Clement-Bayard engine. The machines were made by the young men.

Gomez, although a Fresh student, will conduct his experiments, independently of the school. The young men contemplate the building of machines and the organization of a company for that purpose.

LODGES FOR WOMEN.

Hephaestus lodges for women are to be organized throughout the country and preliminaries for a branch in Quincy have been under way for several days according to the announcement made at the meeting of Granite convales in Protection hall Thursday evening. The national council voted some months ago to admit women into the order.

The meeting was well attended and arrangements were completed for the annual convention to be held at Johnson's Lane, Randolph, on Sunday. The committee in charge is Joseph J. Mullen, Garrett Robertson, John Cahill, James Gilles and Peter Dackers.

BLINDING HEADLIGHTS.

The glaring headlights on automobiles ought to be a easier proposition to handle than it is. They are usually to enable drivers to keep up a high rate of speed at night and that high speed is responsible for a vast number of accidents.—Waltham Press-Tribune.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Henry P. Farnall of Newcomb street is visiting in Nova Scotia.

Miss Alice Sullivan has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Champion of Randolph.

Miss Gladys Weeks of Melrose is the guest of Mrs. W. A. Sieverts of Goffe street.

Mrs. Helen McGowan is entertaining her sister Mrs. Henrietta Black and son Albert of Pittsburgh.

Mildred Hersey is spending a three weeks vacation at Center Harbor, N. H.

Mrs. A. E. Holmes and daughter, Marion are the guests of Mrs. J. A. Matheson of 227 Washington street.

Mrs. Helen Hanley and daughter of Charlestown are guests of Mrs. Edward Finn of Wesson avenue.

Mrs. John R. Prouty and little daughter of Edgewater road, are visiting Mrs. Prouty's parents in Quincy Falls.

Mrs. Ralph L. Lovell and son Frederick, of Edgewater road are with Mrs. Lovell's father, Mr. Brackett of Lynn for a short visit.

Cards have been received from Misses Rose and Helen Morrissey of Euclid avenue, who are spending a few weeks in Albany, New York.

Miss Hazel Livingston and Miss Maria Schenckelberger of Presidents hill have returned from a month's stay in Vermont.

Mrs. William Moller and daughter Evelyn of Vallejo, Cal., formerly of Quincy, are spending the summer in this city renewing acquaintances.

Mrs. Jonathan Swingle and daughter Miss Maxine Swingle of Hancock street are visiting friends at Brownsville, Maine.

Miss Helen Galvin is at Ocean Bluff, Mass., for the rest of the summer, the guest of her friend Miss Ethel Sutherland, who formerly lived in Quincy.

John D. Mackay, chairman of the school committee and a well known attorney, was at his office Wednesday afternoon for a three weeks' vacation.

Miss Claudia R. Wilson, who has been travelling through California, is now at Waterville, Iowa, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Austin.

Mrs. Rand of Hotel Monadnock, Dorchester, who formerly engaged in business in Quincy, is visiting friends here.

William R. McDonald, a clerk at Berry's drug store, returned Monday from a two weeks vacation at Center Harbor, Maine.

Mayor Chester L. Campbell will again manage the Rockingham Fair which opens Sept. 28 and closes Oct. 1.

Mrs. E. F. Welsh, Miss Gertrude Welsh and Miss Helen Bishop of School street are at the Bayside Cottage, Nantasket for two weeks.

Carl J. Johnson, foreman of the Adams Market, is spending his vacation at St. John, N. B. He will return Sunday, accompanied by his wife.

Thomas L. Skinner and family of Whitwell street have gone on their annual vacation to Dover, N. H., and will spend a few days in Maine.

James Edward Connors of Milton and Miss Lillian Ruth Nelson of 357 Granite street, were married in Boston on Aug. 25 by James F. Latrobe, justice of the peace.

Mrs. Agnes Poole of New York city who was employed as a clerk in the office of the city auditor at City Hall for some time, is in town for a brief visit to friends.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Mead and daughter of Granite street have returned from a few weeks' stay at North Woodstock, and Mr. Mead is at his post again at the National Mount Wollaston Bank.

James McLean McDonald, assistant to Clerk of Courts Lawrence Lewis, resumed duties Monday after a two weeks' vacation at Weymouth, in connection of the building also returned.

Lieut. Albert Jones, U. S. A., has assumed his new duties at the army post a short distance from the Canadian border at Vancouver, B. C. Lieut. Jones left Quincy over a week ago. He has recently been at Panama.

Harold Cain of 23 Edwards street, assistant manager of the Ames Butter store at City Square, is to spend his vacation in the Berkshires. He will be accompanied by his father, William Cain of the water department of the city.

E. V. Fitts, a local wholesale grocer, has purchased a large tract of land on Federal avenue, adjoining the manufacturing plant of the Boston Ice Cream Co. Mr. Fitts will erect a large storage warehouse. At present he occupies a large building near the Quincy station.

Mr. and Mrs. William McNiff of Rickford street, Germantown, have sympathy of their friends in the death of Mary, a seven months old daughter, which occurred Sunday. The funeral was held Monday and burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Miss Rena Chamberlin of 690 Adams street is spending the summer at Winchester, N. H. where she has a girl's camp. Miss Amy Howland late supervisor of playground and public school work in Milton is a councillor at the camp.

Mayor Campbell announced last Saturday that the date of the visit of the Pilgrim Publicity Association to Quincy as his guests had been set for Wednesday Sept. 15. Plans for their entertainment in Quincy have not been completed as yet.

Forrest I. Neal, manager of the Old Colony Laundry left Sunday afternoon on an automobile trip through New Hampshire and Vermont and across the Canadian border. He was accompanied by his wife, children and brother.

The S. Y. S. girls, consisting of Misses Anna Irvine, Edna Milford, Evelyn Cahill, Mildred Robertson, Edith Nicol, and Cordelia McLennan, accompanied by the mothers of five of the girls, went to Boston Wednesday and enjoyed a performance of "The Birth of a Nation."

Among the particularly attractive exhibits at the Marshfield fair this week was the Wollaston Central Garage showing. The floral decorations of two large bunches of golden rods each over two feet in diameter with other floral settings of ferns, palms and pride of the meadow, gave the exhibit an especially pleasing appearance.

BRIEFS

Miss Ellen DeCoste left Saturday for a two weeks vacation in the Western part of Pennsylvania.

Miss Florence A. Smith has returned from a pleasant vacation spent at Norwich, Vt., and Hanover, N. H.

Misses Anna and Rose Dorian of Quincy have been visiting Mrs. Julia Connell of Whitman.

Miss Edith McCready of the Brown periodical store at City square is enjoying her annual vacation.

The next meeting of the School Committee will be held Tuesday evening, for the transaction of regular business.

Thomas Davenport who has been on a two weeks vacation at Maine will return to the C. F. Pettengill jewelry store Monday where he is employed.

The Quincy Woman's Christian Temperance Union is to hold its annual meeting at the home of Mrs. E.H. Burns, 113 Granite street, Friday, Sept. 3 at 2:30 P. M.

J. E. Wade, U. S. N., Mrs. Wade and little daughter Florence Lillian are auting through New Hampshire. They will spend the first part of the trip at Laurel lake, Fitzwilliam, N. H.

Dr. I. P. Ahlquist of Wilcox, Pa., a brother to Mrs. B. S. Wallin of Park street, has been visiting relatives and friends in this city and Boston this week.

William Gaudreau, youngest son of Mrs. Josephine P. Gaudreau, 46 Fountain street, South Braintree, left Thursday to enter the novitiate of the Reclusemists Fathers at Northeast, Pennsylvania.

Mrs. and Mrs. Huntington R. Hardwick, nee Stone, who were married at the Stone mansion in Marion last July, have returned from their trip to the Pacific coast and are with the bride's parents in Marion.

The Phoenix club met with Mrs. M. Baker at her home on Brockton avenue, where a shore dinner of clam chowder, steamed clams, baked fish, mashed potatoes, salad, corn, lobster, watermelon, cake and ice cream was served. Last week club met with Mrs. Charles Gilliat at her home in Wollaston Park. During the afternoon, piano selections were rendered by Miss Blanche Goodwin, after which the hostess served a dainty luncheon, which was enjoyed by all.

MAN WITH A LAWN.

The fellow that has got a lawn has certainly paid his way this summer if he has attempted to keep the grass cut. The wet weather has been very fine for the grass and it has made it grow with much rapidity. For the fellow who has had to mow the grass the wet weather has certainly made his work. Usually about this time of year the lawns are pretty well dried up from the heat but there has been no complaint on this score this year.

About once a week has been often enough in the past to get behind the lawn mower but this year, my oh my, it has needed a mowing machine. I wish that someone would invent a motor or something of the kind that you could hitch on the lawn mower and furnish the power to run it through the long grass.—Rockland Standard.

TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS.

Following are the subscribers connected with the Quincy Exchange for week ending August 25:

174-4-C. G. Johnson, 34 Gladstone street.
1101-R-Samuel La Rhetie, Ellington street.
1151-W-Herbert Jenkins, 203 Beale street.

896-M-The Salvation Army of Massachusetts, 450 Granite street.
1161-W-Edward Bryan, 43 Cross street.
1187-W-Fred P. Hatch, 98 Taylor street.

863-R-Mrs. Mary Hughes, 225 Newport avenue.
1711-R-H. A. Bourdage, 24 Granite street.

913-W-John J. Connor Co., Hancock street, corner Elm.
191-J-The Smart Shop, 78 Sagamore street.

TO ENJOY CONCERT.

The Dvorak Concert Co. of Waltham will entertain the members of Rural Lodge, A. F. & M., on the evening of Thursday, September 9, with musical selections and readings. The program consists of four: Ralph Rolins, bass-baritone; Miss Edith Roubin, violin and pianist; Miss Mary Warren, coloratura-soprano; and Miss Flora M. Haviland, reader, contralto.

CLAIMING THE WHOLE ROAD.

As the number of the automobiles on the highways is multiplied by the price reduction of the past year or two, the complaints become more than ever numerous of the people who "hog" the whole road. The owner of his own car, in the great majority of cases, is reasonably careful. It costs him good money, and he has no liking for repair bills.

With hired chauffeurs the case is frequently different. They are young fellows who have often acquired little prudence of their own. They would not have to pay for a new car if their machine was smashed.

Also they acquire a great deal of skill, so that they can turn out the least possible distance, and make the turn at the last possible moment before collision. They come tearing down the middle of the street. Their car goes away on the side. The speeder keeps rejoicing along in the center of the road, thus abandoned to his sole use, and congratulates himself that his daring operation saved him from losing two seconds by making a curve. Owners of a car that is operated in such a fashion should realize what a coarse and brutal appearance such manners make.—Framingham News.

ZEPPELIN RAIDS.

Those nine women and four children killed by a Zeppelin raid on the coast of England bear striking testimony to German valor and efficiency of war. Their deaths will of course, materially help the Kaiser on to victory. It is greatly to the credit of the Allies that though they could easily rain death and destruction on the populous territory lying along the Rhine, they have refrained from such aerial raids, except where they hoped to accomplish something of military importance, such as burning of factories, the wrecking of railroad stations, etc. Germany does her cause no good by the wanton killing of innocent non-combatants in unfortified towns.—Milford Gazette.

MILTON

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Costello of Milton, superintendent of the Metropolitan Park Police with their family of four sons and two daughters, who like their father are expert swimmers, are frequently noticed among the many bathers at Wollaston Beach.

Miss Marjorie Simonds, daughter of Dean Simonds of Knox College, Galesburg, Ill., was the house guest last week of Miss Eleanor Burbank of Washington street.

Tax Collector Josiah Babcock and family are enjoying a few days stay at Portland, Maine.

Miss Katherine Balch of Edge Hill road, who has been touring through California during the past three months, is expected home by Labor Day.

Patrolman Henry Patterson is enjoying his annual vacation.

Miss Ella G. Smith of Granite place and Miss Helen Jackson of Buntion place are the guests of Mrs. Frederick Livingston, nee Jackson of Peterboro, N. H.

The Misses Dorothy Dudley, Mary Farrington and Rachel Farrington, all of this town, left Monday, to spend the remainder of the season at Brewster.

Morton Whittemore of Cambridge is enjoying his annual vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Whittemore of Eaton street.

Selectman George Anthony returned to his home on Huntington road, Monday, after spending ten days at Edgartown, Martha's Vineyard. His wife and son, Richard, remained the rest of the week.

Will and Ben Esau of Grafton avenue, are now home after spending a few weeks at Prudence Island, R. I.

Miss Frances Gosselin of Buntion park is the guest of her aunt at Portsmouth, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Erhard of Washington street have had as their guests this week Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Griffin of Sacramento, California.

Miss Annie Johnston of Reservation road has been enjoying the past few weeks at Prudence Island, R. I. Assistant postmaster Edward Leach with of the East Milton office is enjoying his annual vacation. His place is held by Richard Pavlick of Dorchester.

Hugh Robertson and Kenneth D. Johnson, both of this town were the guests of Milton Tucker at Point Alorton today.

SOUTH QUINCY

Mrs. Sarah Spargo of Water street a resident for many years in the vicinity of Brevers corner is moving next month to Federal avenue into the house owned by Miss M. E. Prescott, who is at present in New Hampshire.

Mrs. Timothy J. O'Connell of Sagamore street, has just returned from three weeks' trip spent to Lewisville, Winthrop and Augusta, Maine.

Arthur Leslie formerly of South Quincy is at present on board the battleship Connecticut in Haitian waters.

APPETIZING RECIPES.

With apples, blueberries, and peaches in abundance, and as a result reasonable in price a few tried recipes with these commodities may prove of interest to the housewife.

BLUEBERRY CAKES.

1 this, butter and 1 cup sugar, creamed, 2 eggs, well beaten, 1 cup milk, 3 cups flour (scent), 2 cups cream of tartar, 1 teas. soda, 1 pint blueberries. Bake in muffin tins.

PEACH FLOAT.

1 pint boiling water, 1 cup sugar, 4 level this, of corn starch, 1 this, lemon juice, 2 cups mashed sliced peaches. Mix sugar and starch and cook in boiling water till clear. Add lemon juice and peaches, mold, chill, and serve with whipped cream.

APPLE SAUCE CAKE.

1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup stewed apple sauce, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup raisins, 2 cups flour, 1 teas. soda, 1 teas. cloves, 1 teas. cinnamon, 1 teas. allspice.

APPLE CAKE.

1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup grated apple, 1 teas. soda, 1 3/4 cups flour, 1 teas. cloves, 2 teas. cinnamon, 1 teas. nutmeg, 1/2 teas. lemon extract, 1/2 cup raisins, 1/2 cup nutmegs. Bake 45 minutes in moderate oven.

APPLE SNOW.

Peel and grate one large sour apple, sprinkling over it a small cup of powdered sugar to keep it from turning dark. Break into this the whites of 2 eggs and beat it all constantly for 1/2 hour, or until it is very stiff and light. Heap this in glass dish and serve with a smooth custard. Makes a delicious, and delicate dessert.

PEACH DELIGHT.

Dissolve a package of Lemon Jello in 1 cup boiling water, when dissolved add 1 cup mashed peaches, sweeten to taste, mold, chill, and serve with whipped cream.

BAKED PEACHES.

Peel, halve and stone six peaches. Place in shallow pan. Fill each cavity with 1 teas. sugar, small piece butter, few drops lemon juice, and sprinkle with a little nutmeg. Bake 20 minutes.

BLUEBERRY GRIDDLE-CAKES.

2 1/2 cups flour, 1 teas. soda, 1 teas. salt, 1 egg, 2 cups sour milk, 1 1/2 cups blueberries. Add blueberries after batter is all mixed. Merely stir in the berries, as the cakes are better if the berries are not broken. Serve with maple syrup or melted butter.

TEST FOR JELLY.

Here is a perfectly simple method for determining when fruit syrup has reached the "jelly point." It has been largely a matter of guess work with most cooks but here is a way chemists recommend as a sure test.—Make a thin, flat stick or a small paddle, about an inch broad, and whittle this down to a straight edge. Dip the paddle or stick into the jelly mixture and remove it. Hold the end down, and if the mixture has reached the jelling point it will be noticed that the liquid will not drip off in drops, but will flake off—that is, a strip of jelly will fall off from the paddle in one mass.

THAYER ACADEMY

Examinations for admission to the Junior and Preparatory Classes and for removal of conditions will be held Saturday, Sept. 11, at 8:45 A. M. Fall Term opens Monday, Sept. 13, at 9 A. M.

Head Master will be in his office all day Friday, Sept. 10, for consultation. WILLIAM GALAGHER, Head Master, 28-29 P & Q

WEST QUINCY

Miss Etienne Kirby of New York is spending two weeks as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Mary McDonough of Perkins street.

Mrs. Bessie Thayer and daughters of Crescent street are enjoying a three weeks sojourn in Maine their trip including Buckfield, West Port, Auburn, Woodford and Portland.

Misses Emma and Dorothy Deole of Purname Parkway have gone to Solon, Me., where they are the guests of their aunt, Mrs. M. P. Pollard.

Miss Susie Hayes of Cross street has been the guest of relatives in Brooklyn, N. Y., for three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. James McCormack of Hall place have gone to Central Illinois where they will spend a month.

Miss Mildred Holmes and Miss Ida Decker of Montpelier, Vermont, are enjoying a short vacation with the Misses Curley of West street.

Several members of the Copeland club enjoyed an automobile trip to Rocky point Sunday in Edward Ryan's machine. The party left West Quincy about nine o'clock in the morning and despite the rain report having had a good time. The party included Joseph Desmond, James Sullivan, Clement Patriarch, Charles Sullivan, Sylvester Reinhalter and Russell Sullivan.

John Palsi, the West Quincy fruit dealer who was injured in the automobile collision at Brook road, Milton, several weeks ago returned home Monday from the Quincy Hospital.

Miss Annie Sandison of Hill street returned this week from a month's visit with friends in Barre.

Will and Ben Esau of Grafton avenue has gone to Springfield for an indefinite stay with his sister.

Miss Ida DuTemple of Crescent street left Monday for South Carolina, where she will remain during the winter.

James A. Doyle of Cross street is enjoying his vacation at Center Harbor, N. H.

Miss Mary Murphy of Crescent street is spending a two weeks' vacation with relatives in Cambridge.

Miss Katherine McDermott of Willard street is confined to her home by a slight illness.

Jerry Ford, the West Quincy letter carrier, returned to his duties Tuesday after a two weeks' vacation. John Donahue of Cambridge is spending his vacation as the guest of Nicholas Murphy of Crescent street.

Edward Egan of Cross street is enjoying his vacation. He left Tuesday for a two weeks' trip to New York.

Miss Mary McNeill of Milford is spending a few weeks as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. John McNeill of Willard street.

Miss Alice McDonald of East Braintree is enjoying a short vacation with Miss Catherine O'Rourke of Crescent street.

Miss Ellen Pay of Bates avenue has returned to her duties in the office of Henry C. Smalley after a two weeks vacation spent in the White Mountains.

John Belanger of Willard street has purchased a touring car.

John Flaherty of the Boston Gear Works is enjoying his vacation.

Miss Annie Kelly of Willard street has returned from a two weeks vacation in the White Mountains.

William Smith, a clerk of the Walsh Drug Co., is enjoying his annual vacation in the Maine woods.

John Saville of Rogan avenue is enjoying his vacation at Hampton Beach, N. H.

James McDonald of Willard street is spending his vacation at the Harvard Lawn Cottage at Nantasket.

Richard Joyce of California avenue a freeman attached to the West Quincy station, is enjoying his vacation.

Miss Margaret Raab of West street is confined to her home by a slight illness.

Mrs. Bernard Hoffman and family of North Attleboro are the guests for the week of her sister, Miss Margaret Reinhalter of Bunker Hill lane.

Mrs. Hannah Reinhalter and daughter Mildred of Willard street are on a trip to Poughkeepsie, New York, where they will visit Donald Reinhalter, who is studying at college there.

Eugenia LeClair of Copeland street has returned to her duties in the office of the Boston Gear Works after a vacation of two weeks.

An exceptionally good concert by the 5th Regt. Band on the Purname beach Tuesday evening, near Reardon street, was well received by an unusually large gathering of people from all parts of the city. The program included well known songs and popular high class compositions.

Rev. and Mrs. Willis H. Germany of Hall place are renewing acquaintances in Rockport.

Misses Grace and Laura Lamb of Copeland street returned Monday from a two months trip to California. While on the coast they attended the two expositions and report having had a wonderful trip.

Miss Mary McDermott of Willard street returned Monday from a two weeks vacation spent at Oak Bluffs.

QUINCY POINT

Miss Jessie Towler of Watertown returned to her parents' home at Quincy after a pleasant visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bowler of Newark, New Jersey.

Mrs. Jesse Newcomb of Winter street is in Concord, N. H., spending a few weeks with her son, Davis W. Newcomb.

Miss Nettie Robertson of New York, has returned home after a pleasant visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson of 40 Winter street.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith of Weymouth and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Arnt and Mrs. Henry H. Moody of Quincy Point have returned from a three weeks' stay at Old Orchard, Me. The trip up and back was by auto. The day before they returned they motored to Richmond, Me. On running over a bad road they passed two auto-trucks stalled, one from Quincy and the other from Weymouth. They spent 13 hours on the homeward trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, B. Crane and daughter Isabel and Mrs. Isabel Cameron of Quincy street are touring the White Mountains by automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Farmer of 38 Baxter street and Mr. and Mrs. A. Hoy of Adams Shore spent Thursday at the Marshfield Fair, going down by automobile.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Croucher and daughter Miss Helen of Beach street leave today for four weeks visit to their sons in Minnesota.

Mrs. Daniel C. Miller of Rawson road entertained a party of ladies this week on board the Miller yacht "Basy" for a few days.

"Basy" for a few days. The party enjoyed an all day sail with luncheon served on board. The out of town guests

The Quincy Patriot
SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1915

SQUANTUM WOMEN'S CLUB.

The annual meeting of the Squantum Women's club was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. William Donovan, Bellevue road.

President Mrs. Hiram A. Morse presided and the reports of the last meeting were read and approved. Mrs. C. E. Carlson chairman of the "Trip to Japan" read her report and $40.00 was cleared from this affair which was held last Saturday night.

After other unfinished business was taken care of Mrs. William Donovan, chairman of the nominating committee, read the following names for officers: President, Mrs. Hiram A. Morse; vice-president, Mrs. S. H. Adams; secretary, Mrs. Frank Anderson; treasurer, Mrs. John Holmes; historian, Mrs. Sturgis Wood; executive committee, Mrs. C. S. Purcell, Mrs. J. McCarthy, Mrs. C. E. Carlson and Mrs. C. H. Ramsdell. Each person named was duly voted into office. Mrs. Chisholm and Mrs. Sturgis Wood were the other two members of the nominating committee.

The retiring officers are Mrs. Stanley Purcell vice-president; Mrs. Boswell, secretary; Mrs. William Reed, treasurer.

Among the events held by the club in the past year were Gypsy Camp, Sept. 5, 1914. Military whist, Oct. 3. Military whist, Oct. 10. Xmas sale, Dec. 12. Musical Feb. 24, 1915. Military whist, April 24. Guest, May 22. Military whist, May 15. Whist June 12.

One member Mrs. C. A. Reid passed away in the last year. The title of the land on the corner of Pratt road and Dorchester street that was exchanged for the Hucksins avenue site has been cleared up and the hanger the club owned has been sold.

Membership of the club is 45 members. The treasurer reported that the amount of cash on hand was $276.57. The day of the meetings will be changed from Wednesday to Thursday and will be in the evening until further notice.

SQUANTUM

The First Church of Squantum celebrates its first anniversary this month. Rev. John J. Walker who is associated with Dr. Enrich will meet with the church at its service Sunday Sept. 12. It is also expected that the church will become a part of the Suffolk South Association of Churches.

Mark L. Read, Jr., and family of Woodward avenue have returned from Meriden, N. H., where they spent the month of August.

Mrs. Sylvester Allen Miller, Allen and Miss Grace Miller of Bigelow street, have returned from their camp at Lake Umbagog.

Leonard T. Jones of Peabody is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Foy at their summer cottage at Post Island.

Miss Grace McCarthy has returned to her home in Holbrook after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. John E. Kiley of Quincy.

William B. Kemp, manager of Henry I. Kincaide's Annex, is enjoying a two weeks vacation down in Vezar, Me.

Mrs. John R. Prouty and little daughter of Edgemoor road left Monday for Niagara Falls where she will visit her father for a few weeks.

Miss Edna Thomas, stenographer at the district court, her mother, Mrs. George Thomas, and sister Miss Grace Thomas, have returned from Auburn, Me.

Peter M. Sullivan of the Boston Herald and his aunt, Miss Sarah Malone, a teacher at the Washington school, have returned from Maine, where they spent two weeks vacation.

Cards have been received from Frank W. Grant of the sales force of Nathan Ames, Hardware, who is enjoying a two weeks vacation in Leeds Junction, Maine.

Miss Marion Howe of Bigelow street spent the week end with her brother Fred in Lynn. Mr. Howe's little daughter, who has been visiting her grandparents, returned with Miss Howe.

Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, minister of the First Parish church, who has been spending the summer months in the White Mountain region, returned to Quincy Wednesday evening.

The whist party, which opened the regular Tuesday afternoon social to be held under the auspices of Maple Lodge, K. L. of H. in Eleeta hall, returned Miss L. Lizzie Farnald the winner and Mrs. Mary A. Jones eligible for the consolation prize.

A certificate was issued last week to the Dutch Food Co. Inc. of Quincy, a new corporation to do business in this city. It is capitalized for $2500.

The engagement of Miss Clara Belle Buzzell the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Buzzell of Everett, to Edward M. Graham of Bangor, Me., formerly of Quincy, has been announced. Mr. Graham is the son of the late John R. Graham and is manager of a street railway at Bangor.

The following donations have been gratefully received by the Visiting Nurse Committee during July and August—Infants' clothing, old linen, Mrs. N. S. Hunting; toys, Mrs. Clarence Carlisle; children's magazines, post cards, Mrs. William F. Hodgkinson, money, Mrs. Lyman Chapin.

Miss Doris Burnham, who has taught in the Quincy schools, became the bride of Edward C. Hall of Somerville Wednesday evening. The ceremony took place at the bride's home at Stoughton. Mr. and Mrs. Hall will live in New York where Mr. Hall is a teacher at the Washington School.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sturtevant of Adams street returned with their guests, Miss Dorothy Edwards, and Mrs. E. E. Davis, from a delightful three and a half week's cruise in their yacht "Grey Duck." They docked Monday. The trip included visits to Plymouth, Newport, West Point, and points on the Hudson. They returned the same way.

Miss Mary Haslan, nurse of the Prince County Hospital, at Summer Side, Prince Edward Island, who arrived in Boston, Saturday morning with a patient from the Summer Side Hospital, returned Tuesday. While in Quincy Miss Haslan was the guest of Mrs. Malcolm MacKenzie, 71 School street. During her short stay Miss Haslan visited the Quincy Hospital and spoke highly of its up-to-date methods.

Among the noticeably clever women swimmers at Wollaston beach who are keen devotees of the sport are Misses Harriet Raiche, Mabel Doran, Annie Stewart, Arline Rozelle, Mrs. J. Shay and Mrs. Spencer. Mrs. Shay is noted for her graceful diving, and Mrs. Spencer and Miss Stewart have covered the distance between Wollaston beach and Squantum. Miss Elizabeth Tobinohosky, a thirteen year old girl, is remarkably proficient in swimming and is very modest about the long distance record she holds of going from the raft to Hangman's Island.

BRIEFS

Miss Elizabeth Atwood of Edgemoor road has been visiting her aunt in Ipswich.

Fred Rasmussen of Greenleaf street has returned from two weeks vacation spent cruising along the coast.

Charles W. Hanson of Quincy will be the delegate of the local electrical workers to the national convention.

Miss Margaret Horan of New York has been the guest of Miss Nellie Horan of 141 Washington street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Hearn leave Sept. 11, for a trip to California, and a visit to the exposition.

Miss Gertrude Rogers of Hancock street is at Marshfield for a few weeks visit.

Mrs. Robert Stitt and Miss Mary Stitt are spending their vacation at Athens, Vt.

Miss Josephine Thompson has been visiting her aunt Miss Catherine Donovan of Whitman.

Miss Mabel Phillips of Quincy has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Earl Herck of East Bridgewater.

Seth Eldridge has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Spearwater of Waveland.

Mrs. Annie C. Wright is confined by illness to her home on Saville avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Welch formerly of Weymouth have moved to Cranich street, this city.

Carl Johnson of the Adams market has resumed his duties after his annual vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Simpson of Edgemoor road are enjoying a three weeks' vacation in Washington.

Misses Eleanor Whittemore, Edith Hyland and Dorothy Kingsbury left Monday for Yarmouth, where they are spending their vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. French and son, Berlin, returned Saturday from Rochester, N. Y., where they have been spending the summer.

Clarence D. Frazer of the sales staff of Geo. W. Jones is enjoying a few days vacation at Lake Winnepesaukee, N. H.

John E. Lennon of West Upton was the guest of his sister Mrs. Bridget Dunn of Washington street over the week end.

Mark L. Read, Jr., and family of Woodward avenue have returned from Meriden, N. H., where they spent the month of August.

Mrs. Sylvester Allen Miller, Allen and Miss Grace Miller of Bigelow street, have returned from their camp at Lake Umbagog.

Leonard T. Jones of Peabody is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Foy at their summer cottage at Post Island.

Miss Grace McCarthy has returned to her home in Holbrook after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. John E. Kiley of Quincy.

William B. Kemp, manager of Henry I. Kincaide's Annex, is enjoying a two weeks vacation down in Vezar, Me.

Mrs. John R. Prouty and little daughter of Edgemoor road left Monday for Niagara Falls where she will visit her father for a few weeks.

Miss Edna Thomas, stenographer at the district court, her mother, Mrs. George Thomas, and sister Miss Grace Thomas, have returned from Auburn, Me.

Peter M. Sullivan of the Boston Herald and his aunt, Miss Sarah Malone, a teacher at the Washington school, have returned from Maine, where they spent two weeks vacation.

Cards have been received from Frank W. Grant of the sales force of Nathan Ames, Hardware, who is enjoying a two weeks vacation in Leeds Junction, Maine.

Miss Marion Howe of Bigelow street spent the week end with her brother Fred in Lynn. Mr. Howe's little daughter, who has been visiting her grandparents, returned with Miss Howe.

Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, minister of the First Parish church, who has been spending the summer months in the White Mountain region, returned to Quincy Wednesday evening.

The whist party, which opened the regular Tuesday afternoon social to be held under the auspices of Maple Lodge, K. L. of H. in Eleeta hall, returned Miss L. Lizzie Farnald the winner and Mrs. Mary A. Jones eligible for the consolation prize.

A certificate was issued last week to the Dutch Food Co. Inc. of Quincy, a new corporation to do business in this city. It is capitalized for $2500.

The engagement of Miss Clara Belle Buzzell the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Buzzell of Everett, to Edward M. Graham of Bangor, Me., formerly of Quincy, has been announced. Mr. Graham is the son of the late John R. Graham and is manager of a street railway at Bangor.

BRIEFS

Miss Edith McCready of the Brown stationery store returned Monday after a two weeks vacation.

Mrs. Sadie M. Walker of Whitwell street has returned from a three weeks' visit to Bridgeport, Conn.

Miss Grace Stancome leaves today for Wintport, Maine, for a few weeks rest and recreation.

Mrs. Albert H. Wright of Saville avenue has returned from a few weeks visit to her sister in Williamstown, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ramsdell of Houghs Neck are taking a few days' trip to New York City and pleasure resorts in that vicinity.

Mrs. John E. Prouty and daughter Leone are at Niagara Falls, New York, visiting relatives for six weeks. Mr. Prouty will join his wife the first of October.

The Russell A. Sears of "The Larches" returned this week from Dennis on the Cape where they spent the month of August.

Mrs. Walter B. Holden of Paris, France, is at the home of her mother, Mrs. Edward Russell of Russell park after a month's stay at Falmouth on the Cape.

Mrs. Edward H. Dewson has come on from New York for a visit to her father George Harvey Field and the William S. Stones.

James A. Doyle of the local telephone company returned to work Monday after a two weeks vacation spent at Center Harbor, Me.

Miss Garfield and Lea Winthrop have been guests of Miss Kathryn Conley, and Aileen Dalton of Holbrook.

Mrs. M. A. Glover and sister Mrs. Jeanette Stone of Malden former residents of Quincy are guests of Mrs. Albert Keating and are calling on many of their old friends.

Mrs. Edward P. Livingston has returned to her home on Glendale road from an automobile tour to Vermont.

Mrs. Ernest Kelley and son and daughter and Mrs. Sarah J. McDonald of Spear street have returned from a three months' visit to Nova Scotia.

The James H. Stetsons of School street were welcomed home this week from West Warwick on the Cape, where they have been at their summer cottage since the late spring.

Frederick L. Zoller of the Granite Shoe Store leaves Sunday for Nova Scotia, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Mary J. Zoller of Standish avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Whaling of Dorchester.

Howard White of Weymouth who for the past two years has been a nurse in the Quincy hospital is spending his vacation at Hyannis. He expects to enter the Baltimore, Md., Medical school in the fall.

Miss M. E. Prescott who gave up her permanent home in Quincy and went to New Hampshire early in the summer has returned for a visit and is occupying a cozy suite of rooms on the third floor of her former home 155 Federal avenue.

Rev. and Mrs. A. G. Sporrang who have been spending a few weeks with Mrs. Anna B. Sutherland at Ocean Bluffs, returned to Quincy Thursday and Rev. Mr. Sporrang conducted the services Thursday evening and will preach Sunday. He spent his vacation in fishing and bathing.

Miss Doris Burnham and Edward C. Hall, of Somerville, were married at the home of the bride in Stoughton Wednesday evening. Friends from Boston, New York, Somerville, Newport, Brockton and Stoughton attended the reception. The bride, a native of Stoughton, studied at Wellesley and is a graduate of the Bridgewater Normal School. She has taught in Quincy since her graduation. Mr. and Mrs. Hall will live in New York, where Mr. Hall is in the woolen business.

Mrs. Higgins and Mrs. Taylor entertained the following house party over the week-end at their summer home on Landers Road; Mr. and Mrs. Chase of Walham, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carter of Weymouth, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Taylor of Crow's Point, Hingham, Mrs. Louis Waldner and Mrs. J. Boardman of Natick, Mrs. Robert Porters and Miss Helen Higgins of Cambridge, Mrs. Burns of Malden, Miss Estelle Drew of Weymouth, and Miriam Baker of Cambridge.

Miss Marcelle Little and Miss Nellie Myatt of Old Baxter street are spending two weeks in N. H.

Miss Frances Ward of Lowe street has just returned from a delightful camping trip at Marshfield where she has been the guest of Miss Helen Damon for two weeks.

Mrs. M. A. Yule of Quincy Point, accompanied by her son Archibald, also her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. K. Spencer, of Beverly, left Saturday evening on an auto tour to Niagara Falls, Buffalo, New York, and Canada which will cover about two weeks. They will motor at least 1800 miles and will sleep in the open.

Miss Mary Myatt of Baxter street and Miss Marcelle Little of Kendrick street are enjoying their annual vacation at Wollaston, N. H.

Miss Mabel E. Dorley of Quincy Point, left Thursday for New Haven, Conn., where she will be entertained for some time by her brother Frank and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Russell formerly of Wollaston.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hersey and Miss Ethel Hersey of Washington street and Miss Catherine Saville of Saville avenue, left Saturday for Raymond, N. H., for a few days' visit. The trip was made in Mr. Hersey's automobile.

The following donations have been gratefully received by the Visiting Nurse Committee during July and August—Infants' clothing, old linen, Mrs. N. S. Hunting; toys, Mrs. Clarence Carlisle; children's magazines, post cards, Mrs. William F. Hodgkinson, money, Mrs. Lyman Chapin.

Miss Doris Burnham, who has taught in the Quincy schools, became the bride of Edward C. Hall of Somerville Wednesday evening. The ceremony took place at the bride's home at Stoughton. Mr. and Mrs. Hall will live in New York where Mr. Hall is a teacher at the Washington School.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sturtevant of Adams street returned with their guests, Miss Dorothy Edwards, and Mrs. E. E. Davis, from a delightful three and a half week's cruise in their yacht "Grey Duck." They docked Monday. The trip included visits to Plymouth, Newport, West Point, and points on the Hudson. They returned the same way.

Miss Mary Haslan, nurse of the Prince County Hospital, at Summer Side, Prince Edward Island, who arrived in Boston, Saturday morning with a patient from the Summer Side Hospital, returned Tuesday. While in Quincy Miss Haslan was the guest of Mrs. Malcolm MacKenzie, 71 School street. During her short stay Miss Haslan visited the Quincy Hospital and spoke highly of its up-to-date methods.

Among the noticeably clever women swimmers at Wollaston beach who are keen devotees of the sport are Misses Harriet Raiche, Mabel Doran, Annie Stewart, Arline Rozelle, Mrs. J. Shay and Mrs. Spencer. Mrs. Shay is noted for her graceful diving, and Mrs. Spencer and Miss Stewart have covered the distance between Wollaston beach and Squantum. Miss Elizabeth Tobinohosky, a thirteen year old girl, is remarkably proficient in swimming and is very modest about the long distance record she holds of going from the raft to Hangman's Island.

SOUTH QUINCY

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sylvester and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Welsh have returned from a three weeks auto trip to Maine, where they spent much of their time in the vicinity of Deer Isle.

Mrs. Walter P. Pinel of Franklin street has returned from a week's visit to Mrs. Thomas Dean of Middleboro. Sunday will be Epworth League Rally day at the Hall Place M. E. church. The League will hold a rally service at 6 P. M., in the vestry which will be of special interest and importance to Epworthians and their friends. The president Arthur Jordan will have charge of the service.

At the Sunday evening service at the Hall Place M. E. church the pastor Rev. W. H. Germany will speak on "Labor and the Church." A cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested in the Epworth League. Sunday will be Epworth League Rally day at the Hall Place M. E. church. The League will hold a rally service at 6 P. M., in the vestry which will be of special interest and importance to Epworthians and their friends. The president Arthur Jordan will have charge of the service.

The Misses Margaret and Isabelle K. Michael of South Quincy, returned Sunday from a pleasant vacation spent in Framingham, N. H.

Miss Lucy W. Oakes of Fitchburg were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Spargo.

MILTON

Miss Orintha Baxter who has been on a month's trip to the Pacific coast and the Panama Exposition is returning by way of the Canadian Rockies and is expected at her home on Adams street, East Milton today.

Miss Mildred Adams of Holliston street has been the guest of her uncle, Winfred Beddes at Ocean Bluffs.

Mrs. Caleb Cunningham has returned to her home on Adams street from Peterboro, N. H.

Dr. and Mrs. Carlton A. Rowe of Adams street are enjoying their annual vacation.

Edward Leadwith and family of Brook road left town Monday, to enjoy the remainder of the season at their summer home in Monponset.

Bracket Parsons, Albert Parsons, Leonard Parsons, and Eliot Johnson returned home Saturday from Camp Burdell, Friendship, Maine.

Samuel Rodgers of Adams street returned Saturday after spending eight weeks at the Boy Scout camp in Bourneville.

James W. Kent and family who have resided here on Granite place the past three years, are about to remove to Providence, R. I.

Irwin W. Hollis and family of Granite place, who came to this town from Braintree last year, moved back there Monday.

Winifred Goring and family returned to their home on Holborn street Tuesday from Ocean Bluffs where they have been enjoying the past few weeks.

Mrs. William Ronnie and daughter Euphemia of Adams street have returned from their vacation at Princeton, Rhode Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Wiley of Washington street returned Monday after a tour through Nova Scotia.

Miss C. L. Lewis, formerly a teacher in the High school, was in town Monday renewing old acquaintances. Samuel Blackly of Adams street is enjoying his annual vacation.

Officer James Travis, the popular traffic handler in East Milton square is enjoying his annual vacation. Officer Frank Doherty is taking his place.

Michael Dunnican, who for several years has carried on a newspaper business in East Milton square, has sold out his business to John Welch of Pierce street, East Milton. Mr. Welch is a younger man and plans to carry on the work in a very businesslike manner.

TOWN MEETING.

Charles Rackemann sprung a big surprise at the special town meeting held Wednesday evening in the Milton Town hall when he attempted to postpone the meeting for two weeks. His reason for doing so was because so many of the voters are away at the present time. His motion did not prevail.

About 450 voters were present at the special meeting, which was the fourth to be called within the history of the town. The important question was contained in article one: "To see what sum of money the town will vote to appropriate and raise for the street department." The warrant committee recommended an appropriation of $10,000. James Russell of the selectmen, immediately made an amendment providing for an appropriation of $20,000. This amendment was put to a vote and the selectmen lost. The final vote was: 187 in favor and 122 against the amendment. Since a two-thirds vote was necessary to carry the motion, Mr. Russell's amendment did not prevail.

Upon a motion made by Robert L. Raymond, chairman of the Warrant committee, in favor of the $20,000 appropriation that sum was agreed upon.

Article 2: "To see what action the town will take in regard to the appropriation made at the annual meeting, March 1915, for street watering and lighting," in accordance with the recommendation of the warrant committee that the town authorize the selectmen to use for the general expenses of the street department any unexpended balance from the appropriation of $10,000 made at the annual meeting for street watering and lighting, was put to a vote and carried without opposition.

Article 3: "To see what sum of money the town will appropriate for miscellaneous expenses the present year." The warrant committee recommended that this article be indefinitely postponed. Mr. Russell moved that $2,000 be appropriated. His motion was carried.

An additional amount of $2,800 was appropriated for more equipment for the fire department. With the sum appropriated at the annual March meeting, two pieces of apparatus can now be procured.

The sum of $1,000 was appropriated for the improvement of the cemetery. At this time the hall was practically deserted as the most important articles had been acted upon. Articles 6 and 7, which concerned laws in regard to housecleaning were quickly passed and the meeting adjourned at 9.35 P. M.

NEW PUBLIC HALL.

A permit was issued by Inspector of Buildings Thomas Friday to erect a public hall on Cottage street, Ward One. The building according to the permit is to be a one story affair with basement, the dimensions being 32 by 56 feet. In the basement there will be a ladies' parlor and a gentlemen's smoking room, and the street floor will be given up entirely to public hall purposes.

WOLLASTON

Jeane I. Litchfield and daughter, Sylvia are returning Monday from a three weeks' stay at Milot, North Scituate.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Oldham and daughters Elizabeth and Barbara of Safford street are returning the first of the week from North Scituate where they have been since the middle of August.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Giddes and Miss Mildred E. Giddes of Standish avenue are returning Monday from Milot, North Scituate beach where they have been for three weeks.

Mrs. Harry Billings of South Deerfield is the guest of the Misses Pfaffman of Clay street for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bradford Badger are receiving many congratulations on the birth of a son born August 29th. Mrs. Badger was Margaret Mills and lived in Wollaston for several years when her father Rev. Carlton Putnam Mills was rector of St. Chrysostom's church. The baby's wedding was a largely attended affair in the Church of the Epiphany, Winchester, the sixteenth of last September.

Miss Jean I. Gorham of Beale street is at New Braintree visiting her relatives the Josephs.

Mrs. Forest R. Mills of Arlington street returned this week from Wollaston. Her guests were called on by the hosts of relatives for three weeks.

Rev. Morris H. Turk and Mrs. Turk of Kansas City, Missouri, have been recent guests of the John Morgans of Standish avenue.

Rev. and Mrs. Carl G. Horst and daughter Gretchen and son Carl of Grand View avenue returned this week from West Ossipee, New Hampshire where they have been since early summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Long Bramhall of Fayette street have returned from a six weeks' stay at Meriden, New Hampshire.

Mrs. Mary True Taylor of Newport avenue has returned from Lee, New Hampshire where she was called on account of the illness and death of her sister Mrs. J. C. Bartlett.

The Eugene F. De Normandie of Park street has returned to Wollaston after spending the summer at Chatham on the Cape.

Mrs. George W. Stone of Grand View avenue has returned after spending two weeks with Mrs. George Fleming of Grand View avenue at Thousand Islands. Mrs. Fleming has been in Canada most of the summer.

Mrs. Charles S. Adams and daughter Frances of Brook street returned today from Hillsboro, New Hampshire.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus W. Poole of Prospect avenue who have been away from Wollaston since May have returned from Bristol, Maine.

Mrs. Edward R. Freeman and Miss Elizabeth Freeman of Grand View avenue returned this week from Wellfleet on the Cape.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Gordon Nicholson, Jr., and daughter Phyllis of Dedham returned this week from "The Pinkham Farm," Wollboro, New Hampshire, for three weeks. George L. Anderson formerly of Oakland avenue, Wollaston and Mrs. Anderson of Middle street, Braintree are at the same place for two weeks.

Miss Eliza Miner of Old Colony avenue, Wollaston has been entertaining her uncle Frank A. Miner of Philadelphia and Misses Naomi and Estelle Caldwell of Roxbury.

The Charles E. Daileys have moved to Fayette street, Wollaston from Washington street, Quincy.

Miss Flora B. Wright of Lincoln avenue is visiting friends in Springfield for two weeks.

Mrs. Gertrude M. Barlow of Wollaston and Miss Joy Young of Dedham are at the Bachelor house, Raymond, N. H. for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dorman and Miss Benah Mollins of Moncton, New Brunswick, who have been spending the month of August with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Keith of Clay street returned home this week.

Mrs. Harry Laveland and Master Joseph Lavton of Brunswick, Maine are guests of her brother Daniel N. Hardy and Mrs. Hardy of Standish avenue. Mr. Lavton came down for the week end.

Rev. and Mrs. Isaiah W. Sneath of Marion street have been occupying Dr. Johnson's "Camp Hilly" for a month returned to Wollaston this week.

Miss May Rice of Standish avenue has been spending a week with her cousin Miss Matilda Major of Newton.

Mrs. Mary E. Goodwin of Haverhill has returned to her home after a two weeks' stay with Mrs. Elmer E. Gray of Newton street.

Mrs. James S. Whyte and daughter Alice Elizabeth of Standish avenue returned Thursday from Middleboro where they have been guests of Mrs. Thelma H. Laveland.

The first Women's Guild meeting of the season will be held Wednesday at 2.30 o'clock in the guild room of St. Chrysostom's parish house.

Miss Miriam A. Rhodes of Safford street goes to Lyndonville, Vermont today, where she is instructor in the Lyndonville Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Kimball and Master Richard of Standish avenue have returned from a three weeks' stay at Chatham on the Cape.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carter, Miss Cecilia and Master Harold Carter of Haverhill are week end and holiday guests of the Elmer E. Grays of Newton street.

Miss Beulah G. Church and Master Ervin V. Church of Arlington street are spending a week with Mrs. Elmer F. Hill of Foxboro. Last week they visited relatives at North Andover.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. McIntire and daughter Miss Gertrude McIntire of Billings road have returned from a most enjoyable fourteen day auto trip covering 1391 miles, averaging nearly one hundred miles to a day. Places visited included New Rochelle, Utica, Watertown and Clayton, N. Y., taking the boat down to St. Lawrence river, the Thousand Islands, and returning through Manchester, Vt. Peru Mountain, Bonville, Vt. Saratoga Springs, Brattleboro, Keene, Concord and Franklin, N. H. The trip was made especially enjoyable by the fact that it rained on only one day and on the whole trip there were no unpleasant auto experiences.

Miss Helen Farwell of Briggs street leaves Monday to take up her duties as teacher of English and French in the High school at Sterling, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Salinder of Rawson road have returned from a two weeks' outing at Auburn, New Hampshire.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Saunders of Beach street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son.

Mrs. F. C. Schindler of Dorchester has been the guest for a week of her daughter Mrs. William Bear of Rawson road.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barden of Culmet street have returned from a three weeks' visit in Maine.

Miss Helen Richardson of Landers road is visiting her aunt in Exeter, New Hampshire.

Mrs. William C. Crane and Mrs. Hill entertained a number of ladies Friday afternoon at a thimble porch party at Mrs. Hill's home on Elm avenue.

Miss Oscar Brown of Athorp street has had as guests her mother, Mrs. Esther Newton, Mrs. J. Newton, Miss Mildred Newton and Miss Olive Webster of Providence, R. I.

Fred Phillips of Warwick street is in New Hampshire for over the holiday.

Mrs. William Thompson of Athorp street and granddaughter Miss Olive Thompson are at home after an enjoyable outing at Auburn, Maine.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1915

Single Copies 5 Cents.
For Sale at
The Patriot Office,
Brown & Co., Quincy,
H. P. Kildredge, City Square,
J. P. O'Brien, 38 Hancock St.,
C. F. Carlson, near Quincy Depot,
L. A. Cook, Quincy Point,
H. H. I. Smith, Quincy Point,
Sprague & Hobart, Quincy Point,
Shank's Periodical Store, Wollaston,
Thomas Gurney, Atlantic,
Branscheid & Martens, Atlantic,
Branscheid & Martens Norfolk Downs,
Peter L. Litchfield, Quincy Adams,
E. H. Doble & Co., West Quincy,
Edward F. Drohan, West Quincy,
Mrs. Lark's Store, Broadway Corner,
J. J. Hammers, East Milton,
South Terminal Station, Boston.

WOLLASTON BUILDING ACTIVE.

Unless all signs fail there will be something doing in the building line in the Wollaston district in the very near future for the Wollaston Land Co. is about to put upon the market several acres of its land at Wollaston. The company recently has laid out a large tract of land between Beale street and North Central avenue and between Highland avenue and the Milton line. Streets have been laid out through the property, which has been approved by the Board of Survey and the land has been laid out into lots. There are something like 500 lots in the tract and they will be put on the market immediately by Edward T. Harrington. Mr. Gleason will have direct charge of the land and is about to open an office in Wollaston.

Plans are also under way by another syndicate to develop the land on Adams street, near the Milton line, known as the Robertson estate and it is expected that twenty-five houses will be erected on the property in the immediate future.

This land was put on the market a few years ago and quite a number of lots were sold, but building has not been very active, as the lots were not purchased evidently did so for investment and are still holding the property.

The building permits issued during the past week have been as follows:
Miss Annie Hobart, dwelling, Pearl street.

Mrs. Minna Thompson, dwelling, Balcony street.

Joseph C. Morse, garage, Fairmount way.

Charles V. Douse, dwelling, Freeman street.

Charles V. Douse, dwelling, Billings street.

Neclario Bros. garage, Centre street.

James J. Curry, garage, Bigelow street.

Edith Serberg, dwelling, Kendrick avenue.

Isabel S. McIntire, garage, Dixwell avenue.

David Lavery, garage, Gloucester place.

Annie C. Coffin, dwelling, Scamwell street.

NEW DIRECTOR.
Charles H. Booth, new boys work director at the Y. M. C. A., has taken his duties with a snap and go. In the two weeks he has been here he has rearranged the upper hall so that it is a veritable recreation room for the boys.

With a hammer, chisel, about 100 feet of lumber and half a dozen new windows he has fashioned a new office at the head of the stairs and has taken down the partitions which were on both sides so that unobstructed space is now at the disposal of the boys. The pool table is to be removed and new games are to be added. From his office Mr. Booth will have full command of the floor while sitting at his desk.

Mr. Booth came to Quincy from Cambridge. He has had excellent training in Y. M. C. A. work and is in the handling of boys, and should prove a valuable man in building up the boys' department of the Quincy Association. He was a student and officer of the Herman school in Northfield, Mass. from 1907 to 1911. He then took a course in Y. M. C. A. work at Buffalo, N. Y. under A. H. Whitford, who nearly 25 years ago was performing work for the Cambridge association similar to what Mr. Booth is now doing in Quincy.

Last summer Mr. Booth was associated as director with Camp Wyold, a summer camp for boys in the Berkshire Hills. At the close of the camp he was offered his present position.

He is a vigorous young man of a pleasing personality, and he undoubtedly will become a general favorite not only in the association circles but throughout the city.

X-RAYS AND CRIME.
It has been found possible to determine by means of X-rays whether a picture is an original, a restoration, or a fraud. Thus the dodges of swindlers who touch up canvases to give them the appearance of "old masters" can be found out. When a doubtful painting is photographed with the X-rays every layer of color is revealed, for just as a bone appears distinctly in an X-ray photograph, despite its covering of flesh, so heavy pigment can be seen beneath a light surface color. The painting of a white drapery and the substitution of a dark form, the correction of a badly drawn hand, the addition of a new figure to enhance the effect of a picture are all disclosed by the X-rays and the swindler's tricks clearly revealed.

Another scientific method of routing the art swindler has been discovered by an Edinburgh professor. He has devised a method of analyzing paint so that he can tell by removing from a canvas a speck of pigment whether it is of modern production or dates from ancient times. The professor knows exactly what paints were available for eleven centuries, and the forger who endeavors to pass a modern painting after aging it by artificial means is quickly discovered when the professor gets to work with his retorts and test-tubes. By this means many so-called sixteenth-century portraits have been found to contain modern Prussian blue, dabbed on the canvas by careless forgers.—Pearson's.

As a part of the plan for conserving all kinds of metal throughout the empire, the Kaiser has issued an order forbidding the sale of spoils and eyes. Unhappily there is no such relief in sight for distracted American husbands.—Barre Times.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING.

A special meeting of the City Council was held Monday evening having been called by the Mayor to act on several matters. In the absence of President Whittier the meeting was called to order by Councilman Prescott, the oldest member.

A roll call showed eighteen members present. On motion of Councilman Smith it was voted to proceed to elect a president pro tem by roll call.

Quite a spirited contest took place over the election of a temporary president, nine of the councilmen receiving from one to five votes. Councilman Ross received the largest vote and was declared elected.

The call for the meeting was read. The first matter was the drawing of jurors and the Mayor, City Clerk and Councilman Beaman drew the following according to law: Joseph A. Delory, Edward J. Dunn, Edwin M. Dunn, Edward E. Jameson, William T. Laing, Benjamin F. Hodgkinson.

The Mayor in a communication named the following election officers the appointment being confirmed.

WARD ONE.
Precinct One.
Warden—Edward L. Goodridge.

Deputy Warden—Charles H. Johnson. Clerk—Philip D. Cook.

Deputy Clerk—Henry F. McGee. Inspectors—Arthur W. Stetson, Arthur E. Baxter, Edward J. Dunn, William J. Walsh.

Deputy Inspectors—John A. Olsen, Andrew Johnson, Edward Powers, Robert G. Dean.

Precinct Two.
Warden—Victor E. Silberg.

Deputy Warden—Walter E. Pagan. Clerk—George T. Westland.

Deputy Clerk—Alfred H. Gilson. Inspectors—Henry C. Halliwell, Thomas B. Davenport, Leo P. Noonan, John J. Murphy.

Deputy Inspectors—Ernest R. McConn, Joseph E. Thomas, H. Fallon, Edmund M. Faircloth.

WARD TWO.
Precinct One.
Warden—Andrew J. Fahy.

Deputy Warden—Walter C. McEwan. Clerk—Charles C. Mueller.

Deputy Clerk—Elijah P. Barrows. Inspectors—James M. Sullivan, Frank J. Wade, George Sargent, Walter B. Burrill.

Deputy Inspectors—Adam T. Slavin, Telephone J. Valley, Daniel Scouler, Jr., Charles B. Burt.

Precinct Two.
Warden—Edwin W. Newcomb.

Deputy Warden—Thomas E. Farnald. Clerk—Dennis S. Sweeney.

Deputy Clerk—Paul E. Avery. Inspectors—David F. Frazier, George C. Costello, Jacob Peterson, Leonard C. Hewson.

Deputy Inspectors—John H. Hart, John W. Sullivan, Mark J. Myette, John B. Bass.

WARD THREE.
Precinct One.
Warden—Dennis P. Donahue.

Deputy Warden—Michael Donahue. Clerk—Richard Prout.

Deputy Clerk—Alexander W. Osborne. Inspectors—Charles A. Shorne, Angus Barr, Edward N. McGinty, David M. Warren.

Deputy Inspectors—John S. Johnson, Elisha Hobart, George D. Cahill, George H. Ferguson.

Precinct Two.
Warden—Murdoch A. Campbell.

Deputy Warden—William Pratt. Clerk—James F. Morrison, Jr.

Deputy Clerk—John J. Daley. Inspectors—Eben F. Mitchell, Malcolm McLeod, James P. Dougherty, Francis Clinton.

Deputy Inspectors—John H. Collins, John H. Gillis, John J. Donahue, Daniel Donahue.

WARD FOUR.
Precinct One.
Warden—Cornelius Crowley.

Deputy Warden—James P. Donovan. Clerk—James R. McCormick.

Deputy Clerk—John W. Kapples. Inspectors—Bartholomew Flaherty, Martin A. King, Albert G. Farnham, Louis K. Badger.

Deputy Inspectors—George A. McDonald, Aloys Burkard, William A. Beattie, T. Willard Burke.

Precinct Two.
Warden—Victor E. Silberg.

Deputy Warden—Frederick H. Dunst. Clerk—Alphonse E. LeClair.

Deputy Clerk—Thomas J. Shortle. Inspectors—John G. Dackers, John J. Walters, Charles C. McCue, Dennis F. Falvey.

Deputy Inspectors—John J. Verne, James S. Dunn, William C. Martell, James M. Flaherty.

WARD FIVE.
Precinct One.
Warden—Arthur W. Ryder.

Deputy Warden—Warren J. Barlow. Clerk—Bernard P. Manning.

Deputy Clerk—Michael F. King. Inspectors—Albert G. Olney, Lysander W. Nash, Joseph L. Heaney, John C. Faircloth.

Deputy Inspectors—George S. Baker, Joseph A. Mitchell, Thomas R. Pendergast, Eugene Bonner.

Precinct Two.
Warden—Thomas J. Dunphy.

Deputy Warden—John T. Cain. Clerk—John E. Simmons.

Deputy Clerk—Chester F. Barlow. Inspectors—John T. Meany, Frank Murphy, Charles E. Decker, Henry J. Langelier.

Deputy Inspectors—Henry G. Lavelle, Alexander W. Russell, Waldo B. Fay, Knox S. Ruggles.

WARD SIX.
Precinct One.
Warden—Edward J. Gallagher.

Deputy Warden—Edward F. Rhines. Clerk—William R. Cole.

Deputy Clerk—George C. Stenzel. Inspectors—Cornelius M. Dugan, Edward A. Walsh, Frank Jenkins, George H. Sherwin.

Deputy Inspectors—James A. Fay, Thomas H. Hayes, Arthur W. Priest, George R. Bennett.

Precinct Two.
Warden—John E. Poland.

Deputy Warden—Clarence H. Erickson. Clerk—Mark B. Gill.

Deputy Clerk—Edward F. McMahers. Inspectors—Edmund A. Stetson, Philip R. Guinan, Albion R. McKay, Cornelius O'Connell.

Deputy Inspectors—Hugh Gilman, William T. Morgan, Daniel J. Brievogel, Edward R. Pope.

A communication was received from the Mayor requesting a supplementary budget for water for the several city departments Councilman Craig offered the following order, making appropriations for water as follows:
City Hall $25.
Police station $25.
Fire Dept. Stations $25.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

In the presence of over 1000 mothers, brothers and sisters, 400 children who have enjoyed and supervised playgrounds maintained by the city contributed a series of entertaining exercises, at the Merrymount hotel Tuesday afternoon, to demonstrate the nature of the work conducted the past season. The affair was a grand success and a fitting close to weeks of "directed fun" which the children of all school ages have enjoyed.

Mayor Campbell, the guest of honor, presented the season trophies and personally complimented the winners and those in charge of the playgrounds. Over 60 boys and girls participated in the award in the season. Before which were watches, ball gloves and ribbons and strings of beads to the girls.

Among those who witnessed the exercises were City Clerk Emory L. Crane, Councilman Smith, McGrath, Beaman and Acting Chief of Police Daniel R. McKay.

The playgrounds have been conducted by Louis F. LaRose. He was assisted by Miss Ruth Bass and Wesley Williams at Ward Two grounds; Miss Alice Lakin, Miss Agnes Readon and Fred H. Kirkell, Jr. at Ward Three grounds; Miss Helena O'Toole and Russell Bates at Ward Six grounds.

Assisting them during the afternoon were George E. Pfaffmann, Jr. M. Whittemore and John L. Hamilton, park commissioners.

The oval which stood in a natural amphitheatre just to the south of Merrymount park, on Hancock street, was an ideal spot for the exercises. Rows of settees were set on the grassy slopes commencing at the Hancock street sidewalk and stopping at the end of the oval. A large American flag flew from a flag staff in the centre of the field and banners were carried by the children.

Some of the preliminary games were held during the morning but the most of the children went to the oval in the afternoon in special busses. The arrival papers and horns were distributed and at 2.30 they formed in line and paraded around the grounds. They were reviewed by the Mayor, the Councilmen and the Park Commissioners. All of the girls wore white dresses and the boys were dressed in no particular style but looked neat and active.

The close of the parade signalled the start of the athletic and dancing program. Hurdyurdy and victrola furnished the music for dancing.

Eight members of the police department were present in the afternoon, but they were none too successful. At times they were powerless to restrain the children, who in their enthusiasm forgot all about limits while crowding around the finish mark of the various races.

In case hall the boys of Ward Three beat the boys of Ward Two 2 to 1, and the girls of Ward Three beat the girls of Ward Two 7 to 4. The boys of Ward Three won the flag relay race with the Ward Two boys second and the Ward Six boys third. The Ward Two girls were second of the girls relay race, with Ward Three girls second and Ward Six girls third. The Ward One lap race for boys returned Ward Two in first place, and resulted in a tie between the Wards Three and Six boys.

The Ward Two representatives were the winners of the most points during the afternoon and were given the championship banner.

The names of the children who participated in the sports and dances are as follows:

WARD TWO BOYS.
Class A. 35 yards, E. Vallee and J. Riley.
Class B. 50 yards, F. McDonald and W. Ryan.
Class C. 100 yards, J. Gallagher and R. Williams.

In addition to the prizes for work done in Tuesday's events, prizes were awarded for points won during the season. The prize winners on this basis were:

WARD TWO GIRLS.
Class A. 1. Anna Barr, 34 points.
Class B. 1. Edith Alden, 24 points.
Class C. 1. Margaret Smith, 12 points.

Class B. 1. Hildur Wester, 22 points.
Class C. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class D. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class E. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class F. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class G. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class H. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class I. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class J. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class K. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class L. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class M. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class N. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class O. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class P. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class Q. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class R. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class S. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class T. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class U. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class V. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class W. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class X. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class Y. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class Z. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class AA. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class AB. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class AC. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class AD. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class AE. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class AF. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class AG. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class AH. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class AI. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class AJ. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class AK. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class AL. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class AM. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class AN. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class AO. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class AP. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class AQ. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class AR. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class AS. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class AT. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class AU. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class AV. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class AW. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class AX. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class AY. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class AZ. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class BA. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class BB. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class BC. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class BD. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class BE. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class BF. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class BG. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class BH. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class BI. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class BJ. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class BK. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class BL. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class BM. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class BN. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class BO. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class BP. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class BQ. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class BR. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class BS. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class BT. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class BU. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class BV. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class BW. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class BX. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class BY. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class BZ. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class CA. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class CB. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class CC. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class CD. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class CE. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class CF. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class CG. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class CH. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class CI. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class CJ. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class CK. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class CL. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class CM. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class CN. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class CO. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class CP. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class CQ. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class CR. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class CS. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class CT. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class CU. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class CV. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class CW. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class CX. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class CY. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class CZ. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class DA. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class DB. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class DC. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class DD. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class DE. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class DF. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class DG. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class DH. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class DI. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class DJ. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class DK. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class DL. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class DM. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class DN. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class DO. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class DP. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class DQ. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class DR. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class DS. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class DT. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class DU. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class DV. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class DW. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class DX. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class DY. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class DZ. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class EA. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class EB. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class EC. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class ED. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class EE. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class EF. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class EG. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class EH. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class EI. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class EJ. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class EK. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class EL. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class EM. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class EN. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class EO. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class EP. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class EQ. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class ER. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class ES. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class ET. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class EU. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class EV. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class EW. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class EX. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class EY. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class EZ. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class FA. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class FB. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class FC. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class FD. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class FE. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class FF. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class FG. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class FH. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class FI. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class FJ. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class FK. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class FL. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class FM. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class FN. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class FO. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class FP. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class FQ. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class FR. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class FS. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.

Class FT. 1. Lauretta McArthur, 22 points.
Class FU. 1. Lauretta Mc

Quincy Patriot

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1915. VOL. 79. NO. 37. FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot
Established in 1827.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 142 1/2 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone, Quincy 427.
Quincy 19.6.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established in 1888.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE BRAINTEEN OBSERVER
Weekly Established in 1858.

H. T. WHITMAN
AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust
LAND FOR SALE
—AT—
MERRYMOUNT
Mt. Wellfleet Farm
Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
Tel. 847-W
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street.
Tel. Fort Hill 391

INSURANCE AGENCY
Established in Quincy in the year 1840 by
W. PORTER
Insurance offered in reliable and safe
Sole and Mutual offices
By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 20 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy

ETNA INSURANCE CO.
HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1851. Charter Perpetual
Losses Paid in 94 Years, $132,981,553.48

JANUARY 1, 1914.
Cash Capital, $5,000,000.
Net Surplus, $2,000,000.
Surplus for Policy Holders, $1,000,000.
Reserve for Re-insurance, $1,000,000.
Reserve for Unpaid Losses, $225,000.
Reserve for Other Claims, $28,000.
Total Assets, $12,481,000.04

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.
AGENTS FOR QUINCY.

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.
Amount at Risk, $9,200,721.18.
Cash Assets, $44,229.07.
Total Liabilities (including re-insurance), $26,050.63.
Amount of Cash Surplus, $101,846.08.
Contingent Assets, $101,846.08.
Total Available Assets, $261,075.23.
Incidents are now being paid on five-year policies, 60 per cent; on three-year policies, 60 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, President.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer.
DIRECTORS:—Frederick B. Mansfield, Dedham; Frederick B. Mansfield, Dedham; Samuel Gannett, Milton; Charles M. Farnes, Boston; James V. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Sullivan, Dedham; Samuel L. Capen, Dedham; Andrew H. Hodgson, Dedham; George L. Barnes, Weymouth.
GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.
Amount at Risk, $28,051,917.57.
Cash Assets, $44,229.07.
Total Liabilities (including re-insurance), $26,050.63.
Amount of Cash Surplus, $101,846.08.
Contingent Assets, $101,846.08.
Total Available Assets, $261,075.23.
Incidents are now being paid on five-year policies, 60 per cent; on three-year policies, 60 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer.
DIRECTORS:—Samuel Gannett, Milton; Stephen M. Weld, Dedham; Thomas B. Farnes, Boston; William E. Brooks, Boston; James V. Noyes, Dedham; George W. Higgins, Franklin; Asa F. French, Randolph; Herbert M. Phipps, Norwood; Clifford F. Barnes, Dedham.
GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

DORCHESTER
Mutual Fire Insurance Company
BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.
INCORPORATED 1855
HOME OFFICE, 15 CENTRAL STREET
Telephone, Main 1040.
William A. Muller, President
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
Edward C. Mason, Secretary
William A. Muller, Treasurer
DIRECTORS:
Paul R. Blackburn, Attorney
Clarence Burgin, Treas. Quincy Savings Bank
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
T. J. Falvey, Pres. Mass. Bonding and
Ins. Co.
Henry Hornblower, Hornblower &
Sons
Louis K. Lippett, Pres. United Drug
Company
W. J. McGaffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas
G. Plant Co.
Edward C. Mason, Secretary and Solicitor
William A. Muller, William A. Muller
& Company
Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests
P. F. Sullivan, Pres. Bay State Street
Railway Co.
John P. Squire, John P. Squire & Sons
Franklin F. Wild, Pres. Wellington
Whit Coat Co.
Sarel J. Willis, Blue Hill National Bank
We reduce your Insurance Rate One
Fifth.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of
Dr. J. C. Ayer
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
ALCOHOL 3 PER CENT.
Vegetable Preparation for Simulating the Food and Regulating the Stomach and Bowels of INFANTS & CHILDREN.
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other
NARCOTIC.
Beware of cheap imitations.
Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Prepared by J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Guaranteed under the Food and
Drug Act of 1906.
Exact Copy of Wrapper.

Frost Coal Co.
SUCCESSION TO
GEORGE E. FROST & CO.
428 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

A New Floor "Adds A Lot" to The Home
Lay our 3/8 inch floor over your old one and see what an improvement it is. We have quartered oak, plain oak, birch, maple and hard pine.

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company
Offices:
Neponset, Boston, Tel. 1040 Dorchester
166 Devonshire St., " " 3164 Main
1 Sudbury St., " " 578 Haymarket

When You Want Plumbing and Heating Work Done in any part of your home, store or factory, and want it done in first class style,
SEND FOR US

The Wm. A. Bradford Co.
Sanitary Plumbing GAS FITTING
FURNACE & SHEET METAL WORK
No. 5 Maple St., Quincy, Massachusetts

HARDWICK-McCAUL
William Stoddard Hardwick, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Frank Hardwick of 62 Spear street and a popular member of the Quincy Yacht club, was united in marriage September 3d to Miss Myrtle McCaul of West Newton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McCaul. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride at 8 o'clock. Rev. Edward Norton, pastor emeritus of Bethany church, officiating.
Miss Marion McCaul, a twin sister of the bride was the bridesmaid and George L. Tupper of Quincy was the best man. The wedding was a very quiet affair and was attended by the immediate families only.
After a brief wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Hardwick will live on Adams avenue, West Newton, where they will be at home after October 1.

WOLLASTON W. C. T. U.
The Wollaston W. C. T. U. held its first monthly meeting of the season September 3d at 3 o'clock in the Park and Downs church. The second vice president, Mrs. Isaac W. Sneath, presided. After a short business session the time was given to Mrs. George P. Turner who read an "interesting paper on Sabbath Observance."
The Union will hold its meeting this year in the Wollaston churches instead of the homes of members. Meetings in October will be in the Park and Downs church. November and December in the Congregational, January and February in the Methodist March and April in the Unitarian and May and June in the Baptist church. A most cordial invitation is extended to the women of Wollaston to join this society.

GOOD-BY.
Grace Dennis Littlefield.
We say it for an hour or for years:
We say it smiling, say it choked with tears:
We say it coldly, say it with a hiss,
And yet we have no other word than this—
"Good-by."
We have no dearer word for our best friend,
For him who journeys to the world's far end
And scours our souls with going; thus he says:
As unto him who steps but o'er the way—
"Good-by."
Alike to those we love and those we hate,
We say no more in parting. At life's gate,
To him who passes out beyond earth's night,
We cry, as to the wanderer for a night—
"Good-by."

RE-JUDGMENT OF PORTIA.
Portia clutched the slipping old buffalo robe, and tried to sit on its edge, as she had tried many times before. She was tossed up and down, endeavoring to cling to the side of the open stage, and feeling for some secure brace for her slipping feet.
Was it only yesterday that she had left the railroad and civilization behind her? Yesterday, after she had ended her eighty-two miles' ride from the city by train, and had taken an open-sided but covered stage, it had begun to rain. The stage driver had stopped, flung his oilcloth coat and trousers down to the muddy road, and, descending, proceeded to dress for the weather. Farther on, the stage had stopped in the woods to let one passenger alight. She was a half-breed Indian girl, about sixteen, dressed in a red waist and a blue skirt. On the train, Portia's head had gone out to the girl, who was searching for her Indian mother, who had married a white man. At the beginning of the stage ride it had been ascertained that the mother and her husband were working at a certain dairy. So the last that Portia saw of the Indian girl was through the heavy rain, as the girl, following the stage driver's directions, and carrying a heavy telescope basket, turned into a desolate road, the rain pelting on her. "I hope the poor child will find her mother," Portia had thought.
Staging on, after a number of hours, Portia had had to stay over night at a bare-floored country hotel, where the big fireplace with its logs had been a welcome sight. Today's sleighing had been by a narrow road among the mountains, through which the staging was done by daylight only. There was only one other passenger besides Portia, a girl.
Whirling around curves, looking down at gulches and precipices, Portia's eyes were entranced by far views of purple mountains and wide valleys, of craggy rocks and tree trunks clothed in the thick deep-oiled or golden-green moss peculiar to the region, making the velvet outlines of tree branches a beautiful contrast to light-green foliage. The stage carried the mail, so had the right of way, but the driver stopped sometimes when the bells of approaching teams were heard. With barely room on the narrow road, two or three heavily laden wagons would file by, the sets of bells of the leading mules or horses jangling loudly in Portia's ears.
Portia, who had never before been in this region, would have liked to make friends with the girl in the stage, but the girl seemed shy. Once when Portia and she were tossed high from their seats, Portia had turned to the girl with a laugh, and she had been surprised to see no answer but a frightened look at the back of the stage, where some trunks and boxes were carried. Yet the girl must be used to this region, for the driver evidently knew her.
After awhile the driver stopped abruptly.
"There's no use," he said, climbing down. "I've got to dump some."
He went to the rear of the stage and began to haul off some of the boxes, depositing them beside the road under some tankard oaks.
The girl eyed him anxiously. The stage-driver laid hands on one big box, and had it half out.
"Oh, don't! Don't!" cried the girl. "You mustn't leave that!"
"Can't help it, Nannie Kemp," returned the driver. "I've got to light on this driver."
"Can't you leave something else?" begged the girl.
"Not unless it's your trunk," grinned the driver. "You can't ask this lady to leave her suit-case. She ain't used to these parts."
Nannie looked distressed. Then, as the driver gave another pull at the box, she cried out hastily: "Take off my trunk then! That box must go on with us!"
"All right," returned the driver.
He added Nannie's trunk to the pile beside the road, covered it with an old oilcloth, and climbing in, sent the stage flying on its seeming reckless way.
Portia, somewhat agitated, yet relieved that she had not been required to leave her heavy suit-case in these wild parts, wondered what that unseen box contained to make Nannie Kemp choose to leave her trunk beside the trail. Portia had not seen the box to know whether its contents were marked. But Nannie was looking silently ahead as they swept around curves, past flaming crimson bushes of poison-oak on the cliffs, past buckeyes laden with green fruit, past fir and spruce, black oaks and laurel, and the wonderful velvet of the olive moss. So far were these scenes apart, and so long had it been since any one appeared in this solitude, that Portia was rather startled when an old man with a white beard stood beside the road. The stage halted and the driver handed out a newspaper.

"You got my two bits worth of sugar?" queried the old man, and the stage-driver produced the package.
On flew the stage.
"The old man lives away up the trail over that mountain," the driver called to Portia's questioning. "Yes, he's got a wife."
Portia gazed at the far blue mountain. "What a place for a woman!"
Flying on, here and there, without stopping, the stage driver flung a little mail bag into some open wood box. There were miles between houses.
Portia leaned forward, determined to make Nannie talk.
"What will become of your trunk and the boxes we left by the road?" screamed Portia above the stage's uproar.
"What's some one take them?" Nannie shook her head.
"Maybe some freight wagon that comes this way will pick them up some day, if they ain't too full," she answered. "No'm, there won't anything happen to my trunk, I guess. That's the way we leave things, some day."
"Good-by,"

Portia lifted her face, smiling with tremulous lips.
"You're doing beautifully!" she said. "Beautifully!"—Mary E. Bamford.
JOHN ADAMS AERIE.
John Adams Aerie of Eagles held an all day picnic Monday at the Squantum Aviation field, it being estimated that there were fully four hundred present. During the day there was a series of scrub sports. There was also a tug of war between the All-Americans and All-Provinces, the former winning.
Two ball games were played during the day, the first being between the Eagles and Quincy Point Social club. This is the second season that the repeated trick this year, though it required ten innings to settle the game, the score being 5 to 4 in favor of the social club. The second game was between the married and single men of the aerie and was won by the single men by a score of 7 to 2.
As an additional feature the picnicers listened to an address on Women Suffrage by Miss Howard of Boston. The feature of the outing, however, was the grand clam bake served shortly after noon.
A TOY YACHT.
The one yacht which has attracted attention among the thousands that have visited Marblehead harbor, the past season is the little knockabout "The Limit" which flies the pennant of the Squantum yacht club. Although hardly more than a toy, it is practically perfect in all that goes to make up a yacht.
Smaller than the dories, so common of Marblehead, the Limit is only 15 feet over all with a water line of 10 feet 6 inches. Although boats of this size are usually open craft, the Limit has a cabin trunk of 3 feet 4 inches high. At the front is a large cockpit, large enough to accommodate the two boys who make up the crew. Two dead eyes, one on each side of the trunk, make the cabin complete.
She carries 107.34 square feet of sail, the main sail with a hoist of about 7 feet has 91.23 square feet of area and the jib 16.11 square feet.
The Limit is about six years old and was built at Cohasset, where it was purchased by Clinton Noble of Wollaston for his son, Clinton Noble, Jr., her owner and he with Harry Waldron, also of Wollaston composed the crew.
DR. HUNTING RETURNS.
Dr. Nathaniel S. Hunting who has been serving in the base hospital of the Allies, somewhere in France, with the Harvard Unit, arrived home September 3. Dr. Hunting came on the steamship St. Paul which docked in New York September 2.
He sailed with the Harvard Unit from New York June 25. Dr. Daniel B. Reardon, who also sailed at the same time is still at the base hospital, and will remain about six weeks longer. Dr. Hunting said that he expected that Dr. Reardon would return to Quincy about the first of October. He refused to comment on his trip, other than to say that he had enjoyed the work and was feeling in the best of health.
WITHDRAWS INVITATION.
Owing to a ruling of the United States Government the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation has been obliged to withdraw its invitation to Mayor Campbell to have the Pilgrim Publicity association visit the plant on the occasion of the visit to Quincy next week. This ruling is because a government boat is under construction at the shipyard.

James? Very carefully she set it on the floor.
She was almost as pleased as the old man, when the pane was at length set in that window. He went on to the others. His loud tapping broke in sometimes on the monotonous of committee in the little Association; to Portia the sound of the tapping was no interruption. She watched the look on the old man's face as pane after pane went into place and the cold drafts stopped. Portia was remembering the girl's trunk beside the trail, beside the road. "Shiftless!" These people!
Portia lingered after the morning session to congratulate the old man on the window-pane being in.
"Yes," he said, joyfully; "but did you see mother's tablecloth? You come right up front! I want you to be the girls' stuffer! I don't care anybody but ma would have thought how to cover up that old table where the clerk sits to take the Association minutes! Just you see ma's stitches!"
The old man went up front with Portia, and turned over an edge of the tablecloth to show the fine hemming.
"Ma sat up nights doing it," he said. "It's better than any tablecloth we've got! I told ma maybe the clerk'd get ink on it, but she was determined folks sh'd see we tried to fix up for the Association! She hemmed it real well for an old lady, didn't she? You know ma's hands are so crippled she can't sew with more'n one-four or five fingers."
"Yes," said Portia.
She knew. She had seen the hands. She bent over the table, noting the tiny stitches through eyes that grew misty. What people were these whom she had called "shiftless"! An old lady hemming her best white tablecloth; an old man sending again and again for glass; a girl leaving her trunk beside the trail so that the box of glass might come, though she also a tug of war between the All-Americans and All-Provinces, the former winning.
"We wanted to get ready the best we could for the Association," he said.
Portia lifted her face, smiling with tremulous lips.
"You're doing beautifully!" she said. "Beautifully!"—Mary E. Bamford.

CATHOLIC CLUB WHIST.
The first dance and whist party given by the Catholic club of Squantum was held Saturday evening at the new Nelson hall, Squantum. The affair was a grand success. The manner in which it was handled was a credit to the committee who had charge.
The president of the club, J. Loughan, Sr., made a few remarks of welcome and then introduced the Rev. E. C. Landry, who expressed his pleasure in seeing such a large and enthusiastic gathering. He gave an interesting talk and read a letter from Bishop Anderson, who congratulated Mrs. Charles Westlake, a member of his parish upon being the founder of the club. He wished the Catholic people of Squantum every success in their endeavor to build a church there.
Those who didn't care to dance played whist and the lucky holders of the high scores won pretty souvenirs which were donated by various members of the club. Portia was first, a box of cigars, second, Mrs. J. B. Kavanaugh, ice tea glasses; third, Eleanor McManus, tobacco jar; fourth, John Holmes, tea set; fifth, Miss N. Gellibrand, cut glass vase; sixth, B. Collinson, military brushes; seventh, E. C. Landry, silver clasp. Music for dancing was furnished by Lynch's orchestra.
The officers of the club are honorary president, Rev. John P. Cuffe; president, director, Rev. James McNair; president, John H. Loughan; vice-president, Charles Westlake; treasurer, Timothy F. Callahan; chief of directors, Harry Tobin, James F. Flaherty, George T. Curley; board of directors, James J. Loughan, assistant, Timothy F. Callahan, chief of aids, Mrs. Charles Westlake; aids, George Curley, Harry Tobin, Edward Kirby, Helen J. Loughan, Joseph E. James, Elizabeth Zottoli, William Stack, Patrick Brophy, James McCarron, Ann H. Allen, Letitia McCarthy, Mrs. F. C. Creswell. Directress of whist, Frances E. Allen, assistant Mrs. George Hersey.

DAVID K. GAGE.
David K. Gage, a veteran of the Grand Army died at his home, 177 Willard street, Sunday, aged 79 years. Mr. Gage was a granite blacksmith for many years, until a few years ago when he retired from active business pursuits.
During the Civil War he served in Co. B, 45th Mass. Infantry, receiving an honorable discharge. He was a member of Paul Revere Post, 88, G. A. R. Mr. Gage was a widower, his wife having died some years ago. He is survived by a son, John L. Gage, who resides in Salem.
AT G. O. P. LOVE FEAST.
Among those present Saturday at the grand Republican love feast at Villa Massapog, the estate of C. E. Osgood at Sharon, were the following from Quincy: Mayor Chester I. Campbell, Col. Henry L. Kincaid, Senator Louis F. R. Langelier, Mayor Eugene R. Stone, ex-Representative William R. Thomas, James L. Thomas and Ira M. Whittemore, president of the Republican City Committee.

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT.
Ernest White and Robert Craig, two well known South Quincy men lost their lives Sunday, when the rowboat, in which they with two others were going from Squantum to Neponset caped. White was 28 years of age, married and resided at 1 Brooks avenue. Craig was 33 years of age and resided at 181 Liberty street. Their bodies were recovered Monday by the Boston police boat Guardian and later removed to Quincy.
With the two unfortunate men at the time were David Brown, aged 38 years, of 26 Taber street, Quincy, and William Forbes of Walnut street, Neponset, who owe their lives to the quick work of Gertrude Meedy a 13 year old Neponset girl.
The party had been at a picnic at Squantum, held by the Granite lodge, I. O. O. F. M. U. Brown, Forbes, White and Craig decided to return home by way of Neponset. They hired a row boat and started to row across. When about 150 yards from shore it is said that Brown stood up in the boat and shouted to someone in another boat. They were the children of Mr. Forbes who was in the boat with Brown. Realizing the danger he ordered Brown to sit down. Before he could do so, however, the boat was capsized.
The little Forbes girl who was in the boat with Moleody girl threw out an oar, and shouted to the nearest man to catch it. It happened to be her father. He was able to swim and taking hold of the oar he was pulled to the side of the other boat. Resting a minute he looked about to see where the other men were. He saw Brown and although hindered by his clothing he swam to him and succeeded in swimming back to the boat with him. No trace could be seen of the other two men.
In the meantime a call had been sent to Station 11, and officers were sent with the pulmotor which was used on Brown by Dr. O'Brien. Brown was later removed to his home in Quincy. He thought at first that White and Craig might have remained shore, but it became evident later that they had been drowned.
Ernest White was a stone cutter by trade and was employed at South Quincy. He was a member of Granite Lodge, Order Sons of St. George. He had one child who lives in Quincy.
Robert Craig was also a stone cutter and at one time was a member of the Fore River Soccer team. He was employed by Forbes, Craig & Co. His wife died about a year ago in Aberdeen, Scotland. He is survived by one child who lives in Quincy.
The children are given much credit for the part they played in the rescue of the two men, little Mildred Forbes showing rare presence of mind.

CLAN MACGREGOR.
Clan MacGregor was well represented at the Scottish picnic at Caledonian Grove Monday. The picnic was one of the most successful and largely attended ever held by the Order of Scottish Clans in this state. Royal Chief Findlay was there, having come from the West for the purpose of attending. The royal treasurer came from New York.
The usual games were on the program, with unusually valuable prizes offered. Thomas Johnston of this city was ring-master and his vigilance and impartiality in enforcing the rules proved that he was the right man for the place. Mayor Curley was a visitor to the grounds and made a brief address in which he paid a tribute to the Scottish race and expressed the hope that peace with justice would soon end the European war.
FALLS FROM TRAIN.
James Taber of 1737 Main street, Brockton, fell from a train at the Wollaston station at 8:35 Monday evening and was taken to the Quincy City Hospital in the police ambulance. Internal injuries, thought to have been suffered, did not develop and it was stated at the hospital Tuesday, that Taber was suffering only from a few abrasions about the head and face and was resting comfortably.
The train started from the Wollaston station Taber thought it was Brockton. He hurried to the platform and in stepping off, he fell, striking on his head. The train was not moving very fast. A physician was summoned. He ordered Taber's removal to the hospital.
LARGEST SUBMARINE.
The United States submarine M-1, under construction at the Fore River shipyard and which when put in commission will be the largest undersea fighter of the navy, is to be launched at two o'clock on the afternoon of Sept. 14.
Miss Sarah Deane Roberts, daughter of Congressman Ernest W. Roberts of Chelsea, is to be the sponsor. The launching party will include only a few invited guests.
The M-1 is a larger boat than the L boats now being made ready for trials, and one of which has been delivered. She will be capable of making a speed on 14 nautical miles on the surface and eight while submerged. Her cruising radius is understood to be about 3000 miles.
SCHOOLS OPEN.
The public schools of the city opened Tuesday after the long summer vacation. As usual it was found that some of the buildings were in need of repairs. The worst situation is at the High school. This building was intended to accommodate 900 pupils but Tuesday's attendance, including the post graduates, totaled 1100. For the present it will be necessary to use the assembly hall for some of the classes.
Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.
By Q. W. C. T. U.
OUR PLEDGE.
I hereby promise, God helping me, to abstain from all distilled, fermented and malt liquors, including wine, beer, and cider as a beverage and to employ all proper means to discourage the use of and traffic of the same.

NOT WORTH WHILE OR SAFE.
In the Saturday Evening Post, Samuel Blythe, who after 20 years of tipping decided to get on the wagon and in his book, "Cutting It Out," tells us why he did so, recently wrote upon the question, "Is it worth while to drink moderately or is it not?" Basing the answer upon his own experience he says emphatically that it is not.
"It is my unalterable conviction," states Mr. Blythe, "that alcohol in any form as a beverage never did anything for any man that he would not have been better without." Contrary to the old game with the new, the physical gain, he says, "is so obvious that even those who have not experienced it admit it, and those who have experienced it comment on it as some miracle of health that has been attained, and he goes on to describe in detail some of the remarkable physical gains.
"Mentally," he continues, "I have a clearer, saner, wider view of life. I am afflicted by none of the despondencies superinduced by alcohol. I do not need a brace to get me going or a looker to keep me under way. I find, now that I know the other side of it, that the chief mental effect of alcohol, taken as I took it, is to induce a certain scattering and casualness of mind. Also it induces a lack of definiteness of view and a notable failure of intensive effort. A man ceases and ceases to be a man, and makes those statements when he drinks.
"Taken as I took it," Mr. Blythe, he remembered, was never what is known as an "alcoholic." He was a "moderate drinker." When we think of the number of men among our nation's leaders and lawmakers in whom the moderate use of alcohol induces a scattering and casualness of mind, a lack of definiteness of view and failure of intensive effort, we do not wonder that so many national problems remained unsolved. If any one needs to "cut out" alcohol, it is our government officials, national, state, municipal. For any person holding a position of trust, moderate drinking is not only not worth while, but it is not safe.

NEW BUILDING.
Considerable amaze was expressed, by those in the Board of Trade district, early Sept. 1, when they visited the yard of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation and gazed at the foundation posts of the new $400,000 ship tool house which the company is to erect near the East Howard street side, and directly back of the big office building. The Mayor also called attention to the building in his address after the dinner at Houghs Neck.
There were many guesses made as to the size of the building, some of which were fairly accurate. As a matter of fact the new building is to be 77 feet long and 185 feet wide and will be constructed of steel and concrete, and is to cost $400,000. In addition to this it is estimated that another $200,000 will be necessary to furnish the building. It is certainly some building. The lower floor will be used as a ship tool house and on the upper floor will be the offices where the lines of the big vessels will be laid down.
The Patriot has frequently called attention to the large amount of building that has been going on in Quincy this year and which is at present under way. In connection with this it might be interesting to know that from the first of January to the first of September the building inspector's department at City Hall has issued 663 building permits of various kinds. Last year during the same period the department issued 550 permits, showing an increase of 113 over last year. Of the total number of permits issued this year in comparison with last year:

Month	1915	1914
January	15	10
February	22	8
March	42	31
April	36	28
May	31	33
June	29	24
July	15	41
August	38	18
September	228	193

The building permits issued last week since Monday, were as follows:
Henry Edwards, dwelling, St. Germain street.
L. M. Hill, dwelling, Eustis street.
L. M. Hill, dwelling, Eustis street.
John Campbell, dwelling Bradford street.
Leonard H. Payne, dwelling, Kemper street.
Catherine J. Yule, hall, cottage street.

NOT WORTH WHILE.
A little, dignified-looking man was almost knocked down by a horse at Thirty-fourth street and Broadway the other evening, says the Auto Era, and while brushing off his clothing let forth a stream of abuse.
"You ought to have the driver arrested," said a passer-by.
"That's not what makes me mad," said the man, straightening up. "It's the idea of being run down by a horse when there are so many millionaires' automobiles in town!"

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1915

HEARING ON NEW BANK.

The Board of Bank Incorporation will give a public hearing on Sept. 15 to business men of this city who have petitioned for a charter to organize a new bank in Quincy to be known as the Quincy Trust Co. The hearing will be held at 11 o'clock in room 124 at the State House before Augustus J. Thordike, bank commissioner Charles D. Burrill, treasurer and receiver general, and William D. T. Treby, commissioner of corporations.

The organization of another bank in Quincy was proposed by Herbert E. Curtis, now connected with the Federal Trust Co. of Boston, for ten years was associated with the Nat. Mt. Wollaston Bank. Supporting him are prominent men of Quincy and Braintree, headed by Mayor Chester L. Campbell.

The petitioners purpose to make the institution primarily a Quincy affair, to have local men on its board of directors, and to meet the demands for additional bank facilities which they believe is not met because of the rapid growth of the city in the past ten years.

The petitioners are Herbert E. Curtis, Chester L. Campbell, Robert E. Foy, Percy E. Barbour, John J. Gallagher, Edward J. Sandberg, Fred L. Zoller, Henry C. Smalley, Clyde T. Cox, John Robble, John A. Clark, Charles L. Gilliat, John Curtis, George Prout, Amos W. S. Anderson, George Taylor, Francis J. Coughlin, Charles E. Sweet, Jonathan S. Swingle, Alfred B. Renick, Luther O. Crocker, Arthur H. L. Smith, J. Fagan, William J. Connell. They represent various business fields of the city.

It is understood that in addition to the petitioners, others will appear at the hearing and favor the issuance of a charter. Whether or not the bank will have any opposition is not known.

Mayor Campbell when interviewed on the proposed bank said that such an institution would aid in promoting the industrial growth of the city. He said this can result only from ample banking facilities and that another bank would tend to accomplish this.

Mr. Curtis says that he has seen Quincy grow the last few years in every way except in its banking facilities and that the general business health of the community would be greatly promoted by such an institution.

Fred L. Zoller, owner of the Granite Shoe Store expressed practically the same views. He stated his belief in the future of Quincy as based on the remarkable growth industrially and numerically during the past ten years.

Edward J. Sandberg said a third bank gave a man still another choice and those who were unable to secure accommodations at one bank could interview the directors of another. He felt that Quincy's business has shown such a decided increase another bank is necessary.

POWER BOAT BURNED.

Chief Billings was busy for a few minutes about 3:30 A. M. Thursday trying to locate a fire, whose illumination was lighting up the sky. The fire was first discovered by the police officer of the Quincy Point. He saw the illumination but could not locate the source. However, he telephoned the police station that there appeared to be a fire over Germantown way. The police telephoned Chief Billings who in turn called the Hough Neck station to see if the fire was there. The fireman on duty at the Hough Neck station said all was quiet, but there seemed to be a fire in the direction of Town river as the sky was illuminated. Just about this time 722 sounded for the fire.

It proved to be in a 18-foot power boat moored off Sprague's Landing on the Town river. The boat was owned by Kasper McLaughlin of Boston Light. Mr. McLaughlin is shortly to relinquish his duties as a light house keeper and is planning to make his home in Quincy. He sent his power boat to Quincy some days ago, since which time it has been moored off the landing. Power living in the vicinity say that men have been seen about the beach and the impression is that it has been used as a sleeping place by some knights of the road. It is not known how the fire started.

JAMES DUFFY. James Duffy, husband of Mary Nelson Duffy, who until a few years ago was one of the most promising baseball players in Eastern Massachusetts died at the Lakeville Sanatorium Wednesday after a long illness. He was in his 32d year.

James Duffy was the son of John and the late Julia Duffy, besides his wife and child he leaves his father, one sister, Mrs. Mary Gerrior and several brothers, among them ex-Councilman Frank J. Duffy and John Duffy, all of Quincy.

As a young man he played baseball so well he was eagerly sought by managers of the various teams of a district and while the national game flourished to the south of Boston a few years ago he was a familiar figure on many diamonds. He umpired on many occasions, especially for the Old Colony league.

He was taken sick about ten years ago. Since then he has made a brave uphill fight, during which he was a patient at various hospitals. At times there were good indications that he would recover but his sickness became acute and he was sent to the Lakeville Sanatorium some months ago.

James Duffy was a most popular young man and had a wide circle of friends. Through his sunny, quiet disposition he was able to retain their friendship. He was one of the few young men who participated in athletics to the south of Boston who was as good a loser as a winner, and very often the victory was the result of his playing.

Knappe Lodge, K & L of H. is to hold a whist party Tuesday afternoon in Protection Hall.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Mary Forsythe of Hanover has moved to Quincy to be near her daughter Mrs. A. C. Emery.

Joseph H. McTiernan, the well known Park officer has moved into his new home on Rogers street.

Miss Marion White and Miss Ella Whitehead spent the week end and holiday with friends at Nantasket.

Mrs. L. J. Toole of Hancock street has returned from a two weeks visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Hearn of Hancock street have left this afternoon with a party on their tour of California and the Panama-Pacific exposition.

Mrs. Mary Walsh nee Shea and daughter of Worcester, formerly of Quincy were guests last week of Mrs. Julia Coffey of Merrymount road.

Mrs. George Monk of Washington street and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander King of Dorchester left Sept. 2, by boat for Prince Edwards Island for a few weeks stay.

The many friends of Mrs. William J. Tilley, will regret to learn that she has sold her residence at Hough Neck and will make her home in the future at Providence, R. I.

Miss Ethel E. Roach of Miller Stille road, employed in the office of the Quincy Electric Light & Power Co., will enjoy a ten day vacation at Vineyard Haven.

Miss Dorothy Packard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Packard of Hancock street, is at Lake Winnepesaukee, the guest of the Misses Juana and Jane McFarrell of Wollaston.

Misses Mary Crenshaw and Elizabeth Craig of Quincy and Miss Elmer Connelly of Somerville are expected home this week after three weeks spent in camp.

"Track" Hardwick, the great Crimson football star, who is to drill the Annapolis foot ball squad for the fall games, took up his duties Saturday. The squad of new men numbers sixty-five.

Miss Claudia Wilson and Miss Florence Howe of Bigelow street who have been in California for several weeks have returned. During their stay in California they visited the Exposition at San Francisco.

George A. McKay one of the pensioners at the Saliers Shug Harbor, Germantown, died at the home, Wednesday, in his 75th year. He has been a resident at the home for some years.

Miss Anna McElmott of 141 Elm street who is visiting friends in Brookline, Stone Point and Newburgh-on-the-Hudson, New York, expects to go as far as Philadelphia before her return.

Charles H. Humphrey, who gave up his duties as boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in August, left Saturday for Pittsburg, Pa., where he has accepted a position as associate boys' secretary in the large and flourishing Y. M. C. A. of Pittsburg.

Mrs. Sarah M., widow of Carl Peterson, passed away Thursday at her home 80 Cranich street, in her 85th year. Mrs. Peterson has been in poor health for a year or more. She is survived by a number of children all of whom are grown and married.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Buckingham, nee Von Cram who were recently married in New York are settled in their new home, a most attractive bungalow, at 31 Edgemore road. They took possession last Saturday and are now at home to their friends.

Dr. George B. O'Connell and Fred C. O'Connell of Lewiston, Maine, who have been guests of the under the O'Connell's of Summer street leave today for the exposition in San Francisco. They will return by way of Panama.

M. A. Hathaway and children of Washington, D. C. and Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Hathaway of Melrose, were guests of Mrs. Rosella Wardwell of Miller Stille road the past week. M. A. Hathaway came on from Washington by auto and is touring Maine and Massachusetts.

Mrs. Olga Lindholm, wife of Charles Lindholm, whose death on Saturday followed a long illness, was well known in Quincy. She is survived by her husband, daughter and one brother, C. Carlson of East Braintree. Her funeral was Monday and burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

One of the many attractions and an unusual one to be presented on "Community Day," Oct. 2, will be an exhibition of household pets. The feature is in the hands of people well known for their love of animals and for their interest and knowledge of domestic pets and all that pertains to them.

Walter F. Carman, dictator of the Quincy Lodge of Moose, who was inducted into office a month ago to succeed William Noway, who resigned because of ill health, conducted his first initiation Tuesday evening when two candidates presented themselves for the honors at the regular meeting in Electa hall. Four applications for membership were also received.

Two new officers were installed by Deputy Deputy Miss Margaret E. Trainor and suite at the regular meeting of Roxbury at the regular meeting of Quincy lodge, N. E. O. P., in Protection hall, Friday evening. Albert Spaulding was installed as sentinel and Mrs. Mary L. Spaulding as guardian. A collation was served at the close of the meeting.

Rev. Dr. M. D. Gillies of Glace Bay, Nova Scotia is visiting his daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Andrew G. Johnson of Hillside street, Wollaston. Mr. Johnson is principal of the Montclair and Griddle Bryant grammar schools and developed the base ball teams of both schools which played in the finals for the all-city championships. The Griddleys took the pennant.

Cavalry officers of the United States are now supplied with wrist watches. One of the officers of the 1st Cavalry, who was sent to the Philippines to play a wrist watch he would be only a matter of custom and prejudice, however, and now that Uncle Sam approves, it may be a more common sight.

The Trade School begins its year with an attendance of about 70 and the same corps of teachers as last year. The new steel metal department is fully equipped for work and has eighteen boys in attendance. One of the teachers at the school is a licensed journeyman and another is a licensed electrician. No teacher can be employed in any of these trade schools if the state to give shop instruction who is not experienced in that trade.

BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. William Martin were at Nantasket over the holiday.

Mrs. Dame and daughter Marjorie returned from Maine.

Henry M. Faxon is in Maine for a few days outing trip.

Mrs. Charles Edgren of Whitwell street is in Webster, Vt., where she expects to remain several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Eben W. Shepard of Greenleaf street are at Greys Inn Jackson, N. H.

The Moreton T. Swallows of Presidents hill have returned from a month's stay in Maine.

Henry C. Low of Brooklyn, New York is the guest of his son Russell C. Low of Presidents hill for a week.

Miss Mary McNeil of Forest Hills spent the holidays with relatives in this city.

Miss Mary Crimmins of Garfield street has returned from a two weeks' vacation in New Hampshire.

Among the patients listed last week was one to Charles G. Curtis of Quincy for a marine propulsion device.

Miss Hildegarde O'Brien is at Hamilton, Mass., the guest of her cousin, Miss Helen Leonard.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Brown and daughter are home after an auto tour of the White Mountains.

C. P. Pettengill left Wednesday for Kennebec Falls, Me., for a short visit.

Miss Ruth Keating has returned from Oak Grove Hotel, Boudley, Me., where she has had charge of the orchestra.

W. H. Young, building superintendent of the Y. M. C. A. and wife are visiting relatives in Portland, Brunswick and Augusta, Maine.

Miss Margaret Hunt of Bigelow street returned Monday to the Bridge-water Normal school to resume her studies as a senior.

Friends of Mrs. Benjamin Sargent of Landover road are receiving cards this week from Ware, N. H., where she is spending a few weeks.

Mrs. Robert T. Johnson and children of Maple street returned Sunday from a few weeks' visit with her parents in Ashland, N. H.

Misses Rose and Helen Morrissey of Euclid avenue have returned from a two weeks' trip through the state of New York.

Mrs. B. Mullarkey and family returned Saturday from a two months vacation spent with friends in West Hartford.

President Joseph L. Whitton of the City Council, and his family who have been at Chatham for the month of August, returned Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Sturtevant of Adams street have taken the Hough house on Second Street, Belmont, for the month of September.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Curtis motored over from Hartford and spent the week end holiday with Mrs. James Forrest of Hancock street.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Munroe Faxon of Adams street have returned from Squirrel Island, Maine, where they spent July and August.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Nickerson are guests of Mrs. Nickerson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bunney of School street, Whitman.

Miss Marjorie Fay, a well known teacher of the Quincy High school, left this city Monday for Tucson, Arizona, where she will teach English in the High school in that city.

Mayor Campbell made a flying trip to Rockingham, N. H. Wednesday to see about some arrangements for the fair which he is managing this year.

Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann of Goffe street accompanied by Miss Mary A. Pfaffmann of Clay street motored to Cambridge on the Cape where they spent the week end holiday.

Joseph W. Poyell of Presidents hill, president of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation, and Mrs. Poyell left last week for Canada to spend ten days in the woods in the vicinity of Quebec.

Mrs. L. A. Goding who has been visiting her daughter Mrs. Rosella Wardwell for a month has returned to her home at New Meadows river to close it for the season and is to return to Quincy to spend the winter with her daughter.

A delegation of over fifty members of Quincy branch No. 694 of the Irish National Foresters attended the annual field day of the Irish National Foresters Monday at Russell field, North Cambridge. The local delegation was in charge of Thomas Ragan the president of the Quincy order.

William W. Nichols of Merrymount road, salesman for the Packard Automobile Co. has been awarded the prize offered by the company to the salesman who made the greatest number of sales of cars this season. It is understood that Mr. Nichols sold about 200 and that the prize was a substantial sum of money.

Miss Julia E. Underwood of Codding street who is the guest of her niece at Taconic hall, North Adams visited Quincy friends and is enjoying a most delightful visit and beautiful mountain scenery. The trip out was also enjoyable as the trees had turned, the gorgeous red maples contrasting with the yellow, brown and green foliage.

Ivory M. Love of the street department at Manchester, N. H., was the guest of relatives in Quincy over the holiday. Mr. Love was for several years connected with the City Engineers' department at Quincy, resigning to accept a position as superintendent of streets at Weymouth. From Weymouth he went to Milton where he has charge of the street department for several years.

Enrico Baraja, well known in musical circles in this city, left Tuesday for an extended concert tour. He will be associated with Madame Carolina White of the Chicago-Philadelphia Opera company. The tour will last about six months, covering nearly all the western states, San Francisco and San Diego in California and the Exposition, where several concerts will be given.

Martin W. Proulud a former well known resident of Quincy, who has been a resident of Ohio for the past 17 years is in town on a brief visit having made the trip by automobile. Mr. Proulud was in the building business while in Quincy and is in the same business in Ohio. He says played in any of these trade schools if the state to give shop instruction who is not experienced in that trade.

BRIEFS

Mrs. S. Fornell of Cranch street is spending the month of September in New York City, visiting her sons, Rudolph and Dr. Carl Fornell.

The many friends of John Jepson, Sr., will be grieved to learn of his serious illness. Mr. Jepson is at the Brockton hospital where he will be operated on as soon as his strength permits.

Several members of the Waldorf club visited Nantasket Thursday evening and presented J. Edwin Glover with a stick pin. The presentation speech was made by Arthur L. McGilvray.

Lincoln auxiliary to Frihet lodge, I. O. G. T., held a dancing party Thursday night in Electa hall. Despite the warm weather the attendance was good. Richardson's orchestra furnished the music.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Hearn leave Saturday noon for California where they will visit among other places, the exposition at San Francisco. They expect to be gone a month. They expect to be gone a month. They expect to be gone a month.

Among the patients listed last week was one to Charles G. Curtis of Quincy for a marine propulsion device.

Miss Hildegarde O'Brien is at Hamilton, Mass., the guest of her cousin, Miss Helen Leonard.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Brown and daughter are home after an auto tour of the White Mountains.

C. P. Pettengill left Wednesday for Kennebec Falls, Me., for a short visit.

Miss Ruth Keating has returned from Oak Grove Hotel, Boudley, Me., where she has had charge of the orchestra.

W. H. Young, building superintendent of the Y. M. C. A. and wife are visiting relatives in Portland, Brunswick and Augusta, Maine.

Miss Margaret Hunt of Bigelow street returned Monday to the Bridge-water Normal school to resume her studies as a senior.

Friends of Mrs. Benjamin Sargent of Landover road are receiving cards this week from Ware, N. H., where she is spending a few weeks.

Mrs. Robert T. Johnson and children of Maple street returned Sunday from a few weeks' visit with her parents in Ashland, N. H.

Misses Rose and Helen Morrissey of Euclid avenue have returned from a two weeks' trip through the state of New York.

Mrs. B. Mullarkey and family returned Saturday from a two months vacation spent with friends in West Hartford.

President Joseph L. Whitton of the City Council, and his family who have been at Chatham for the month of August, returned Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Sturtevant of Adams street have taken the Hough house on Second Street, Belmont, for the month of September.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Curtis motored over from Hartford and spent the week end holiday with Mrs. James Forrest of Hancock street.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Munroe Faxon of Adams street have returned from Squirrel Island, Maine, where they spent July and August.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Nickerson are guests of Mrs. Nickerson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bunney of School street, Whitman.

Miss Marjorie Fay, a well known teacher of the Quincy High school, left this city Monday for Tucson, Arizona, where she will teach English in the High school in that city.

Mayor Campbell made a flying trip to Rockingham, N. H. Wednesday to see about some arrangements for the fair which he is managing this year.

Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann of Goffe street accompanied by Miss Mary A. Pfaffmann of Clay street motored to Cambridge on the Cape where they spent the week end holiday.

Joseph W. Poyell of Presidents hill, president of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation, and Mrs. Poyell left last week for Canada to spend ten days in the woods in the vicinity of Quebec.

Mrs. L. A. Goding who has been visiting her daughter Mrs. Rosella Wardwell for a month has returned to her home at New Meadows river to close it for the season and is to return to Quincy to spend the winter with her daughter.

A delegation of over fifty members of Quincy branch No. 694 of the Irish National Foresters attended the annual field day of the Irish National Foresters Monday at Russell field, North Cambridge. The local delegation was in charge of Thomas Ragan the president of the Quincy order.

William W. Nichols of Merrymount road, salesman for the Packard Automobile Co. has been awarded the prize offered by the company to the salesman who made the greatest number of sales of cars this season. It is understood that Mr. Nichols sold about 200 and that the prize was a substantial sum of money.

Miss Julia E. Underwood of Codding street who is the guest of her niece at Taconic hall, North Adams visited Quincy friends and is enjoying a most delightful visit and beautiful mountain scenery. The trip out was also enjoyable as the trees had turned, the gorgeous red maples contrasting with the yellow, brown and green foliage.

Ivory M. Love of the street department at Manchester, N. H., was the guest of relatives in Quincy over the holiday. Mr. Love was for several years connected with the City Engineers' department at Quincy, resigning to accept a position as superintendent of streets at Weymouth. From Weymouth he went to Milton where he has charge of the street department for several years.

Enrico Baraja, well known in musical circles in this city, left Tuesday for an extended concert tour. He will be associated with Madame Carolina White of the Chicago-Philadelphia Opera company. The tour will last about six months, covering nearly all the western states, San Francisco and San Diego in California and the Exposition, where several concerts will be given.

Martin W. Proulud a former well known resident of Quincy, who has been a resident of Ohio for the past 17 years is in town on a brief visit having made the trip by automobile. Mr. Proulud was in the building business while in Quincy and is in the same business in Ohio. He says played in any of these trade schools if the state to give shop instruction who is not experienced in that trade.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Jameson of Beach street have returned from an automobile trip to Holyoke and Springfield, Mass., and Hartford, Conn.

Miss Gladys Payne of Beach street returned this week from a three weeks' stay in Arlington.

Misses Georgia and Florence Todd of Rawson road are at Bay View, North Weymouth for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Van Barnevelt of New York are guests of Mrs. Daniel C. Miller of Miller street for a fortnight.

Mr. and Mrs. MacComack and daughter Miss Myra of East Elm avenue returned on Saturday from an outing at Hamilton.

Mrs. L. Shields of East Elm avenue has recently returned from an enjoyable visit at Somerville where she was the guest of Mrs. J. H. Smalley.

Miss Bertha Kenmarie of Brooks street, Norfolk Downs, who has been spending the summer with her parents left this week to resume her studies at a Canadian convent.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frost and Mr. and Mrs. William M. Chase of Wollaston Boulevard enjoyed an auto trip through the Berkshires over the holiday.

Mrs. and Mrs. T. L. Roberts of Beach street, who are at Vineyard Haven, Maine, are expected to return shortly.

WEST QUINCY

Alex Davidson of Forest avenue is visiting his father and mother in Augusta, Maine.

Miss Ethel Willis of Hallowell, Me., is visiting Mrs. F. L. Badger of Crescent street.

Miss Minnie Holland of Somerville, Mass., is spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Newcomb of Hall place.

Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Germany of Hall place have had their first parishioners during the past week, a former parishioner, Miss Ruth Davis of Rockland.

Mrs. Joseph Barry and family of Providence, R. I., spent the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Theodor Carroll of three weeks.

Miss Florence Shepard of Hall place and Miss Annie Hagerty of Hall place spent the week-end with friends in Lowell.

Andrew J. Dinegan of Crescent street the popular minstrel has returned the summer in Wollaston in the White Mountains.

Miss Patricia Bremen of Pittsburg, Pa., is spending a two weeks' vacation as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Belle Kilham of Willard street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bigley of Providence, R. I., spent the holidays with Mrs. Bigley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Rogers of Cross street.

Master Harry McIntosh, who has been visiting his grandmother, Mrs. John McCormick of West Quincy, returned to his home in Provincetown, Massachusetts.

Miss Margaret and Esther Knight of Quarry street returned Tuesday from a two months vacation spent at York Harbor, Maine.

Miss Agnes Mullarkey of Quarry street who has been spending the summer at York Harbor returned Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hyland and son Willard of Grand View avenue are enjoying a ten days' outing at Ipswich.

Miss Dorothy Kingsbury of Newton street and Miss Edith L. Hyland of Grand View avenue returned Saturday from a ten days' stay at Yarmouth of the Cape.

It is reported that Temple A. Winslow is about to commence the erection of a number of dwellings on the John Faxon estate between Woodbine street and Greenwood avenue, Wollaston. Just how many will be erected has not been definitely determined but work will commence immediately on two dwellings.

Wollaston Masonic lodge commenced its regular monthly communications Tuesday evening. This was probably the last time that a communication will be held in its old hall on Newport avenue, as the new temple on Beale street is about ready for occupancy. All that now remains to be done is to install the furnishings and it is expected they will be in position by the next week. The dedication of the new temple will take place Oct. 19.

The funeral of Miss Clara A. Lovell was held Wednesday afternoon from the home of her sister, Mrs. Sampson, wife of Capt. William H. Sampson, 344 Beale street. The services were conducted by Rev. W. M. Bailey of the Wollaston, M. E. church. Following the services the body was taken to Rockland, Me. for burial.

A meeting of the Wollaston guild of St. Andrews church was held Wednesday afternoon in the guild room at the parish house. It was the first meeting of the season and there was a good attendance. Plans for the coming season were discussed. The next meeting will be held in two weeks and will be an all day sewing meeting.

The funeral of James Duffy, whose death at the Lakeville Sanatorium followed a long illness, is to be held this morning from his home on Hall place, a high mass of requiem will be celebrated at St. Mary's church at nine o'clock.

The Harmony Club will close a most successful season at its cottage at Nantasket Sunday with an open house. A fine musical program has been arranged and all the other club cottages have been invited to the closing. Good weather is expected during the past summer the members report having had the best time of any of their seasons at the beach.

QUANTUM

Dr. and Mrs. Rund opened their summer home to their friends and neighbors Monday evening. Dancing, cards and an entertainment contributed to a most enjoyable time.

Friends were present from Boston, Jamaica Plain and Roxbury.

Mrs. Helen McGowan and her guest, Mrs. L. Stearn of New York and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Smith have returned from an automobile trip to Plover where they spent the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Spargo were guests in Fitchburg over Labor Day making the trip in their car.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Wallace of New York city who have been visiting at the home of their aunt, Mrs. Helen McGowan, left for their home Tuesday.

The Quantum Catholic club will hold a whist party Monday evening at the home of Mrs. T. P. Callahan, Bellevue avenue.

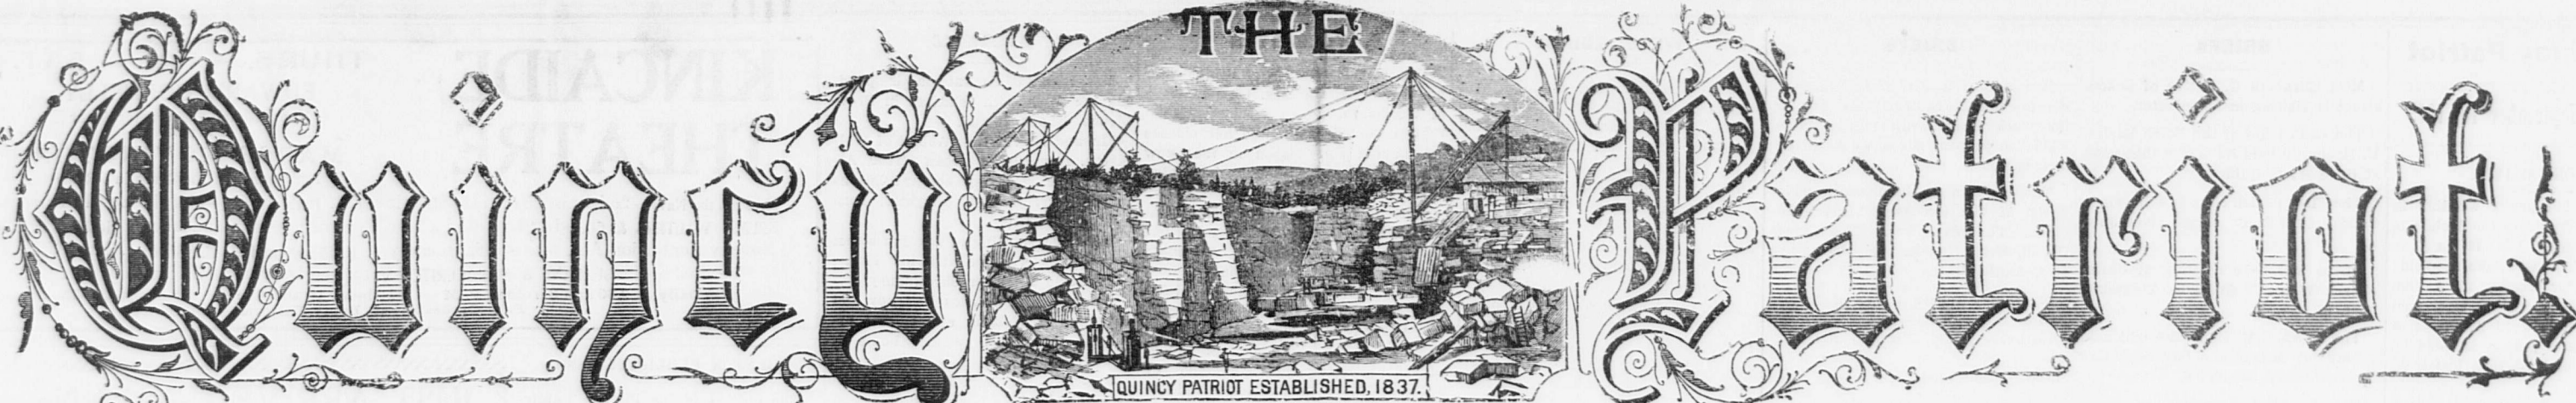

Mrs. Eldridge Cross and family are now settled in the apartment recently rented by them on Woodward avenue, near Greenleaf street.

WOLLASTON

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. White and Miss Winifred E. White of Wollaston, Mass., and Mrs. Edward W. Bowler of Highland avenue and Mrs. Albert H. Sayward of Belmont street are leaving today for the White Mountains. They are to register at the Macpherson, Bethlehem, N. H.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Steenstra of the rectory Hancock street, with their sons Edward F. and Walter H., have returned from Robinson, Maine where they have been since the middle of July.

A quiet wedding attended by the immediate families took place at St. Chrysostom's Episcopal church, Wollaston Monday morning at 7:30 o'clock when Miss Pearl H. Belyea of Grand View avenue and Raymond L. Fowler of Phillips street were united in marriage by the rector Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra. The bride was gowned in embroidered white voile and wore a large white hat

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 38.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1837.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED.)

OFFICE, No. 1124 HANCOCK STREET

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.

Telephone: Quincy 425.
Quincy 1910.

Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.

A reduction of fifty cents will be made if paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1880.

Subscription Price, $8.00 per year.

A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE

BRAINTREE OBSERVER

Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE

Adams Real Estate Trust

LAND FOR SALE

—AT—

MERRYMOUNT

Mt. Wollaston Farm

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance

QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.

BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street.

Tel. 847-W.

Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1849 by

W. PORTER

Insurance effected in reliable and safe

stock and Mutual offices

By W. PORTER & CO.

At No. 50 Kilby Street, Boston.

Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy.

ATETNA INSURANCE CO.

HARTFORD, CONN.

Incorporated 1819. Charter Perpetual

Losses Paid in 94 Years, $132,981,553.48

JANUARY 1, 1911.

Cash Capital, $5,000,000.00

Net Surplus, 6,000,280.83

Surplus for Policy Holders, $11,200,389.89

Reserve for Re-insurance, 2,000,727.27

Reserve for Liquidation, 2,250,000.00

Reserve for Other Claims, 786,523.74

Total Assets, $27,481,550.94

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.

AGENTS FOR QUINCY.

Incorporated 1837

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $9,281,722.10

Total Liabilities (including re-insurance), 2,480,485

Amount of Cash Surplus, $6,801,236.98

Contingent Assets, 141,931.33

Total Available Assets, 7,043,168.31

Dividends are now being paid on five-year

policies, 60 per cent; on three-year policies,

50 per cent; on one-year policies 30 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, President.

THOMAS T. MARSH,

Secretary and Treasurer

DIRECTORS:—Frederick D. Ely, Dedham; Samuel

Gannett, Milton; Charles M. Palmer, Boston;

James V. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Sullivan,

Dedham; Samuel H. Soper, Dedham; Andrew

W. Hodgdon, Dedham; George L. Barnes,

Quincy.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

Incorporated 1825

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $28,000,000.00

Total Liabilities (including re-insurance), 644,729.67

Amount of Cash Surplus, 26,355,270.33

Contingent Assets, 1,089,047.42

Total Available Assets, 27,444,317.75

Dividends are now being paid on five-year

policies, 60 per cent; on three-year policies,

50 per cent; on one-year policies 30 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.

THOMAS T. MARSH, Secretary

DIRECTORS:—Samuel Gannett, Milton;

Frederick D. Ely, Dedham; Samuel

Gannett, Milton; Charles M. Palmer, Boston;

James V. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Sullivan,

Dedham; Samuel H. Soper, Dedham; Andrew

W. Hodgdon, Dedham; George L. Barnes,

Quincy.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA
Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulence, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and all Bowel Complaints. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Dr. J. C. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CASTORIA COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset.

Telephone 1500 Dorchester

SUCCESSOR TO

GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

ORDER YOUR KINDLING WOOD
NOW

We have it now: we shall be out of it very soon

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Offices:

Neponset, Boston, Tel. 1040 Dorchester

166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

When U Want
Plumbing and Heating
Work Done

In any part of your home, store or factory, and want it done in first class style.

SEND FOR US

The Wm. A. Bradford Co.

Sanitary Plumbing

GAS FITTING

FURNACE & SHEET METAL WORK

No. 5 Maple St., Quincy, Massachusetts

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Helen A. Baker to Roy C. Baker, Granger street, Everett street.

Michael W. Barry to Carl J. Landin, Webster street.

Ida S. Brown to Minnie M. Kempton, Farrington street, Elmwood avenue.

John A. Clark et al to M. C. M. Garage Inc., Independence avenue.

Martin Gerety to Anthony G. Richardson, Dunbar on road.

Bert Hilliard et ux to Robert H. Brodick et ux, Adams street.

Garold L. Horn to Charles W. Sullivan et ux, Houghs Neck.

Florence E. Jackson to Wilton A. Dunham, Houghs Neck.

Cherline T. King to Carl E. Hendrickson et al, Smith street, Prospect Hill street.

John E. Lindgren to Hala I. Keene, Rawson road.

John L. McTiernan et al to Ercolo Parola et ux, Common street.

Andrew Milne et al to Florence R. Faxon, Monroe road.

Michael J. Mitchell to Josie B. Lockwood, Sea street.

James R. Murphy to Vera J. Bergford, Butler road.

Horace W. Richmond to Anthony Arno, Greenwood avenue, Woodbine street.

Amelia Spargo et al to Nellie A. Spargo, Bradford street.

Thomas M. Taylor to Thomas M. Taylor Co., Sea street, Fensmere avenue.

John Veader to John W. Veader, Sixth avenue.

William C. Ward to William E. Cahill et al, Adams street.

Fred W. Wood, et al to John W. Matthey, Calumet street.

MY MOTHER'S CLOCK

(By James H. French)

I am sitting in my den, 'tis a cloudless Sabbath morn'g, and I am writing at my desk to drive dull care away. Alone am I and musing deep upon my little clock.

While loud and clear, upon the wall, slow ticks my mother's clock.

Three score years upon my head have many traces left. And when I look back on the years that have wrought and many a friend bereft, but time goes on relentlessly, nor stays for gate or lock.

Yet every moment time records is marked by mother's clock.

I sit and gaze upon the clock, and lost in reverie dream of days long past and gone to their eternal sleep.

And memory summons from her depths sweet thoughts, at slightest knock. Of hours that were so happy spent, all measured by that clock.

And where is now the mother so faithful and true; she has gone to the mansions above.

I think of her oft and her tireless care and I think of her tender love. And I think of the father, her partner in life, his faith as firm as rock.

How vivid the scenes that come to my mind by the tick of my mother's clock.

When the last day comes of my life on earth and the shadows begin to fall, And I bid adieu to the dear ones here and turn my face to the wall, May I meet that hour in faith and hope, with never a fear or shak, And note the fleeting moments pass by the tick of my mother's clock.

PATENT CLOTHES WRINGERS.

"If I could only persuade you to marry, Tom, it would make everything straight," said Mrs. Dalley, plaintively.

"I've heard of that undertaking making everything crooked," said Tom, stretching himself lazily in his chair. "I really, really, could not think of it, mother."

"But, why not? I am sure Jack was happy till poor Besie died."

"There it is, you see. She died, and there is Jack with three babies, and Fan torn in two between her love for John Truitt and her reluctance to leave her brother's darlings to servants. Now, if Jack had remained a bachelor, how much trouble might have been saved."

"And if you get married how much trouble may yet be saved. Then I can go to New York, get Fan's trousseau, attend to the wedding, and stay with Jack until Minnie can keep house for him."

"Minnie? Why Minnie's the baby—not two years old."

"You don't expect Fred or Willie to grow up to be housekeepers, do you? No, Minnie is to be educated for that position. Do be reasonable, Tom. Ever since your uncle died you seem to distrust everybody."

"Have I not good cause? When did invitations ever pour upon me as they have since Uncle William's fortune came to me? He should have divided it."

"Well, perhaps. But he never forgot that you nursed him through the smallpox at the risk of your health and beauty. I knew after he recovered, how it would be. He almost told me. But there is Clara Meredith. Surely you cannot suspect her of mercenary motives, with her own ample income? And old Mr. Moore has surely sufficient to keep Daisy from the necessity of marrying a wealthy husband. And—"

"said Mrs. Dalley—"I thought you really cared for Laura Reynolds."

Tom's face clouded.

"Laura Reynolds never lets pass an opportunity to tell me that money is her idol, and she will never marry any man who cannot give her wealth."

"That doesn't sound like Laura."

"Not like the Laura you know, but the Laura who appeared after Uncle Will died."

"If only it could be settled before I come home from New York. I must go, if only for a week or two, and how much of that new china will be left when I come back. I shudder to think."

"Make up your mind it will all be smashed, and then it will be a pleasant surprise if you find a plate or two left. Go in good spirits, mammy. I'll do my best. I'll be home in a day and surely with three servants I can get a breakfast."

But Mrs. Dalley departed with dire misgivings. She looked up the new china and various other treasures of her household, and she implored Tom to seek a wife every hour when they conversed.

But Tom was not easy on the subject. A man not unduly modest, good-looking and popular, he was shrewd enough to see how much his money influenced his society friends. There were three ladies to whom he had paid some attention, and who had plainly let him see that they were not indifferent to him. But the one to whom his heart went out, Laura Reynolds, his playmate in childhood, his friend always, had driven him away from her by strange caprices. Never before had he suspected her of mercenary motives, but her own frankness on the subject repelled and mortified him.

Mrs. Dalley had been in New York a week, when reading the newspaper one morning, she suddenly cried:

"Jack! Fan! Listen! Oh, poor Tom!" And she read aloud:

"We have it from good authority that the failure of the G— Bank has so heavily involved the estate of the late William Hollis that his heir, Mr. Thomas Dalley, will not only lose his supposed fortune, but be compelled to use his patrimony to cover his liabilities."

Exclamations of surprise and sympathy followed this announcement, which was first published in Tom's native city, not only from his affectionate relatives, but from a large circle of friends. The surprise in most cases rather exceeded the sym-

JITNEY-TROLLEY COLLISION.

Miss Ada F. Hinckley, who has been at her home on Beale street since she was thrown and seriously injured when a jitney bus and trolley car collided at the corner of Hancock and Beale streets Saturday afternoon, regained consciousness Sunday morning and has been resting comfortably and it is believed she will recover.

Miss Hinckley was a passenger in the bus operated by Leon Coupal of 178 Highland avenue, Wollaston, and was riding in the rear seat. Beside her was W. R. Brigham, 19 years old of 32 Windup street, Roxbury, and on front with the driver was Loyal R. Safford, 17 years, of 156 Brook street.

The bus was crossing Hancock street, from Beach to Beale street, when a Newport bound Nantasket car came into collision with a rear wheel. Miss Hinckley was thrown out. Her head struck on the curb on the southern side of the street. Loyal Safford jumped. Brigham, who had seized the door of the bus when he realized a crash was impending, managed to retain his seat and Coupal stuck to the wheel and was badly shaken up.

Several ran to the scene of the accident. Miss Hinckley was unconscious when picked up and was carried to the Norfolk Downs pharmacy, across the street. She was treated by Dr. E. J. Johnson of Wollaston, who found her suffering from concussion of the brain and probably internal injuries. She was taken to her home in an ambulance and is now under the care of a trained nurse.

Loyal Safford said the motor bus was not travelling at a high rate of speed when the collision occurred. Coupal sounded his horn as he slowly drove out of Beach street and the car which was swiftly approaching her down upon them before they crossed the tracks.

Loyal Safford has entirely recovered from the slight shock he suffered. The accident was the third he has experienced in five years.

ALL RECORDS SHATTERED.

All records for automobile traffic in Quincy were shattered on Sunday, the number of machines far exceeding all previous totals. From early morning until after ten o'clock at night thousands of autos passed through the city square, up and down Washington and Adams streets.

Extra police officers directed the traffic in City square and through their efforts none of the thousands who travelled by trolley were struck or injured while crossing City square from one car to another. The street car service between Neponset and Dedham, suspended Tuesday was resumed and several thousands visited the beach.

The only accident occurred in the afternoon when a motorcycle and an automobile collided at Washington and Mill streets. The auto was owned and operated by Jeremiah A. Pitts of 15 Mollet street, Boston, and 189 Bridge street, North Weymouth. The motorcycle was driven by Daniel Winfield of 585 Washington street, Quincy, and carried Dan Donnelly as a passenger.

Pitts was coasting down Washington street, in the direction of City square when the motorcycle was driven out of Mill street. He swung out in an effort to avoid a collision but the motorcycle struck the axle of the forward wheel which was in a half circle and when it struck the curb on the southern side of Washington street he was headed in the opposite direction.

Donnelly was thrown to the street but Winfield remained in the saddle although the front wheel was wrecked. No one was injured.

The auto was damaged considerably. One of the front and one of the rear wheels being smashed. An investigation of the collision was made by Patrolman O'Connell.

STATEMENT BY CHAIRMAN.

Referring to the resolution of Councilman Griffin calling on the School Committee to make haste with the school plans John D. Mackay, chairman of the Board, made the following statement Tuesday morning:

"The School Committee may safely be trusted to discharge the functions allotted to it by law without any urging by any other branch of the city government to which it is not answerable. If the Council desire to help us in expediting the consideration of the plans, they can do so, not by invading our province as this resolution attempts to do, but by returning a prompt answer to our official communication of last Friday. If they cannot do so, let them return a negative to look into the merits of the new system of ventilation, let them say so and we will resume consideration of the plans before us. If the Council intend to look into the new system, however, we feel that further consideration of those plans should be deferred; for the new system of ventilation which we advocate cannot be adopted in a building erected in accordance with those plans."

Mrs. John W. Van Blarcom, who has been the guest of four of her sisters who live in Norfolk Downs, was tendered a farewell reception at the home of Mrs. A. E. Austin at 57 Hollis road, Tuesday evening.

The reception on the eve of her departure to her New York home after a three weeks visit, was a family gathering in the parlors of the home. The program was informal and was featured by vocal and instrumental solos by Edwin Wallace and vocal solos by Miss Gertrude Adams. A collation was served.

A TRIPLE ALLIANCE.

"What is a triple alliance, Tom?"

"It's when pa an' ma an' the school-teacher agree that I ought to have a lickin'!"—New York Times.

FOR SECOND TERM.

Mayor Campbell set the municipal caucus at 8 p.m. Saturday night, when he will be a representative of the city.

"You may simply say that I shall be a candidate for re-nomination and re-election to the office of Mayor."

His honor pressed for a further statement said: "I propose to conduct a clean campaign and will meet any candidate that comes up for the Republican nomination and election on that ground."

The announcement of the Mayor cannot be said to be exactly a surprise for it has been the general belief that he would again seek election. The members of the press who cover City hall have frequently asked him if he intended to be a candidate again the coming fall and have always been met with the reply "I have nothing to say at the present time. When the proper time comes I will let you know."

Mayor Campbell's reputation as a public man is well known and the prediction made at the time he took office was that the city would set more legitimate advertising during his administration than ever before. This statement has been borne out by the facts for he has never neglected an opportunity to speak of the many advantages of his home city. Even while he was in California the past summer, he never made an address in which he did not make some reference to the City of Quincy.

Admission to the Board of Trade at its recent outing to "get busy" on the proposed 1920 celebration was along the same line.

TO WORCESTER ACADEMY.

Paul Larkin and Ralph Frost of this city have enrolled as students at Worcester Academy and have commenced study at that institution. Both boys should be valuable additions to athletics at the school.

Larkin, who graduated from Quincy High school last June, was one of the stars of school history. He was captain of the base ball and foot ball teams. He was best in the latter department and last fall was the unanimous choice of Boston sporting writers as the all-inter-school star. Although he has never been developed as a runner his performances always indicated that he could be coached to the point where he would be first in the country and 220 dashes.

Front graduated from Quincy High school in 1913. While there he played basketball and was a member of the track team. Since leaving school he has continued running and at present is affiliated with the Irish American A. A. of South Boston. He has competed in many events since graduation and has been a frequent first division finisher.

MISS MAE ELEANOR WILLIAMS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Williams of 25 Lincoln street, North Weymouth, was united in marriage Saturday evening to Alton Winfield Jones of 69 Auburn street, Campello, a son of William H. Jones. The ceremony took place at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride, Rev. Charles Clarke, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church officiating.

The bride was attended by Miss R. Clarke, daughter of North Weymouth and the bridesmaid by the daughter of Campello. The ushers were Norman A. Walker and Carleton Litchfield of East Weymouth, both of whom are cousins of the bride.

The bride wore an embroidered French voile, with a tulle veil and carried a bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor wore a pale blue chiffon tulle and carried a bouquet of Killarney roses on her arm.

Miss Bertha Estes played the wedding march and at the reception which followed the ceremony there was music by an orchestra.

The reception was from 8 to 10 o'clock, the bride couple being assisted in receiving by their parents and attendants. The decorations of the home were palms and cut flowers. Guests were present from Winthrop, Quincy, Brockton, Boston, New London, Ct., Arlington, N. J., and the Weymouths.

QUINCY BRANCH ADV. LETTERS, Sept. 11, 1915.

B. Akar, Chris Barry, Miss Edith Boyd, Bertha Brynner, Henry C. Bush, Miss Catherine Campbell, Jess F. Centero, Paul Charlton, Kenneth Chisholm, Miss Em. Day, Miss Frances M. Day, Mrs. Agnes Doyle, Miss Alice Earhart, Tepukucy Ebequeucary, Harry G. Fay, F. Fellinger, Albert L. Harriman, Thomas Hayes, Anti Hecker, Mrs. Helen Helmer, Frank E. Humes, Mrs. E. W. Lamb, Mrs. Frank B. Lawler, Helga Larson, Giuseppe Lenore, Roscoe E. Luce, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Marsh, Miss M. A. McNabb, Giuseppe Maria, Mr. Milten, Chas. L. Parson, (Special Delivery), Mrs. Peterson, Francesco Poluzzi, Giuseppe Ranco, Frank Rodway, Miss M. M. Key, Mrs. D. Roth, (2), Miss

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, September 18, 1915

WOODS-SEAVEY

At a simple but pretty wedding in the Wollaston Congregational church, Wednesday evening, Miss Helen Seavey of Wollaston became the bride of Stanley Taylor Woods of Albion, New York. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward A. Chase of Beverly, a former pastor, assisted by the present incumbent, Rev. Isaiah W. Smith, Ph. D.

The bride party entered the church to the wedding march played by Miss Laura Archambault. Following the ushers came the two bridesmaids, the maid of honor and the bride with her father.

The bride was given away by her father, Charles L. Seavey of Highland avenue, and the best man was David S. Woods of Philadelphia, brother of the groom. The double ring service was used. A pretty feature of the service was the singing of "O Perfect Love" by Mrs. Herbert V. Follett.

The bride was charmingly attired in white satin, en train and trimmings of cloth of silver and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor was Miss Carolyn Huntley Lewis of Wollaston, wore an attractive costume of green chiffon and carried pink roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Elizabeth LeMay of Newark and Miss Janet Sutton of Albion, New York, were in white lace, with green tulle sashes. They carried pink roses.

The ushers were Harold V. Seavey of Wollaston brother of the bride, and Howard Woods, brother of the groom, Kenneth Ryder and Francis Blake, all of Albion, New York. The decorations were of palms and gladioli. These and the service were as simple as convention permitted.

Following the ceremony the couple, assisted by the bride's father, received the congratulations of their many friends in the rear of the church. Mr. and Mrs. Woods have left on a month's automobile tour.

The bride was, up to the time of her mother's death, a member of the class of 1916 of Mt. Holyoke College. She is also a graduate of Thayer Academy and of the Wollaston school. During her long residence in Wollaston she has made many friends, especially among the younger set, of which she was an active member.

The groom is a graduate of Hamilton College, Ufa, New York, Class of 1911, where he was prominent in athletics and won special favor on the baseball and tennis teams. He is the son of A. W. Woods, of Wollaston, who holds extensive milling interests and is a leader in the civic affairs of that city.

Upon completion of their new home, Mr. and Mrs. Woods will reside in Albion, N. Y., where the groom is in business. They will be at home to their friends after December 1st.

The bride party came on from Albion, N. Y., in automobiles, the trip consuming three days.

O'NEIL-LANDERS

A marriage of much interest to Quincy friends of the contracting parties took place Wednesday evening in Boston when Miss Mary H. Landers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Landers of Curve street, Boston, became the bride of Edward A. O'Neil son of Metropolitan Park Officer Bernard M. O'Neil of Quincy and a permanent member of the Quincy fire department.

The ceremony was performed at the St. James parish house by Rev. Fr. William Fitzgerald. A reception immediately followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, at which nearly 200 guests were present.

The bride was charmingly attired in a gown of white pique with tulle, with a long court train of chiffon, with pearl parure, with a becoming veil of tulle, which was caught up at the collar with a shower bouquet.

The bridesmaid, a cousin of the bride, Miss Katherine Lane, wore a pale blue tulle and lace gown. The best man was John Rooney of Quincy, cousin of the groom.

The couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Landers and Bernard M. O'Neil, parents of the couple.

The ushers were James P. Landers of Dorchester and James O'Neil of Quincy.

The house was prettily decorated with cut roses and ferns and during the reception music was furnished by Miss Mary Stevens, organist at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Atlantic, and Miss Alice O'Neil, one of the soloists at St. Mary's church, West Quincy.

Late in the evening the couple left on a wedding trip to New York and on their return are to take up their residence on Francis court, Quincy.

Among those present at the reception were Rev. Maurice O'Connor of Boston, Dr. Leary, medical examiner of Suffolk County, Miss Lucy Neill, D. D., of Bealton, Ex-Representative and Mrs. Michael T. Sullivan of Quincy. Other guests were present from New York, Bedford, Lynn, Quincy and Bealton. The couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts which the guests awarded themselves the opportunity of inspecting during the reception.

Mrs. O'Neil before marriage was a clerk in the medical examiner's office in Suffolk County.

The groom is a brother of John O'Neil of the fire department and John O'Neil is assigned to duty at the Quincy Point fire house and rode on the Ward Two apparatus and participated in the exhibition drill given for the Pilgrims in City square Wednesday afternoon.

COMINS-TODD

Robert Eastman Comins of 92 Elmwood avenue, Wollaston, was married Thursday afternoon in Milton, Mass. to Miss Alma Todd of 27 Blake street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Todd. The ceremony was performed at two o'clock by Rev. Carl G. Horst of the Wollaston Unitarian church at the pastor's home.

Mr. Comins is a local roofing contractor, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Comins.

Mr. and Mrs. Comins are to live at 265 Farrington street.

BRIEFS

Miss Elizabeth G. Pattee of School street is visiting in Leominster.

The Ladies Aid of the North Easton M. E. church held its outing this week at Little Rock, Quincy.

The First Parish church will reopen Sunday after being closed since June 27.

There will be a meeting of Christ church Woman's Guild on Thursday, Sept. 23.

The Swedish M. E. church will hold a four day bazaar and fair beginning on Wednesday, October 6.

Mrs. Joseph A. Prescott of Goff street, left this week for California to visit relatives.

Miss Mabel Folk of Woodland, Me., arrived in Quincy Saturday. She will make her home on Cherry avenue.

Miss Alma Nelson of Coddington street left Saturday for Woodland, Me., where she will spend her vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin T. Dyer of Edwards street left Saturday for a month's visit in Oakland, Maine.

Miss Etta M. Prescott of Presidents hill is at East Gloucester for a few days, a guest at The Lockway.

James Threthow is moving this week from the John Nash house on Washington street into the Mitchell house on School street.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Taylor of Taylor street, Braintree, have returned to their home after spending a vacation of two weeks at Lake Sunapee, N. H.

Miss Edeline and Master Murray Paige of Spear street returned Sunday from Canada, where they spent the summer.

Councilman-at-Large Thomas J. McGrath has announced that he will be a candidate for re-nomination at the city primary next fall.

Miss Edna Crockett of Norfolk Downs and Miss Georgie Michael of South Quincy are enjoying two weeks vacation in Bowdoinham, Maine.

Miss Edith Hyland of Wollaston has returned from the Lake Umbagog where she has been enjoying her vacation, and is back at the library.

Maple Lodge, Knights and Ladies of Honor, held a white party Tuesday afternoon. There was a good attendance in spite of the warm weather.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Ryder of Elm street left last week for Buzzards Bay where they will spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Merrill of Wollaston and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Sedgwick of Presidents hill leave today for the Panama exposition.

Rev. Merrill C. Ward and family returned this week from Boston, Maine, where they spent the summer and are living at 35 Orchard street, Jamaica Plain.

Mr. and Mrs. Quimby Abbott of Washington street, Whitman, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Eva C. Abbott, to James Smith of Quincy.

Mr. and Mrs. Archer M. Nickerson and family have returned to their home on Putnam street after visiting Mrs. Nickerson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bonney of Whitman.

Mrs. W. G. A. Pattee and daughter Miss Elizabeth of School street returned Monday from a trip to the Cape Cod coast. The return was made through the Canadian Rockies.

Mrs. Clarence B. Underwood and Miss Josephine Underwood have returned from Nantucket where they had a cottage for the season and are at their home on Cherry avenue.

According to Miss M. Lizzie Farnall of Washington street a total of 3256 automobiles and 151 motorcycles passed on Washington street Sunday between 10:30 A. M. and 5:30 P. M.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Frank Merrill are moving this week from the Faxon cottage on Washington street into the John Nash house also on Washington street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kenney have returned from Cleveland, Ohio, where they were guests of relatives for a month. Returning with them was Mrs. Clara Goldrick who will be the bride of Mr. Kenney.

R. J. Charles, Boys' Work Director of the Y. M. C. A. in Tampa, Florida, formerly of this city, was visiting friends over the week end and has returned to New York to attend a conference.

An informal dancing party was given Saturday evening by Mrs. Alice J. Edwards of Greenleaf street in honor of the twenty-first birthday of her daughter, Miss Dorothy. The affair was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Sturtevant, Adams street.

Miss Ruth and Master Robert Faxon, the little daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Faxon of Adams street have sent out invitations to a party to be held at their home on Tuesday afternoon from three until five o'clock in observance of their birthdays.

Dr. W. O. Faxon, Republican candidate for councilor from the Second district, was in Quincy Tuesday morning with C. M. Miller of Braintree, his campaign manager, calling upon his adherents in West Quincy. He feels very confident of receiving hearty support from his many friends in Quincy.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Nash of Bigelow street, Miss Agnes L. Deane of Whitwell street, Charles L. Parker also of Whitwell street and Miss Louise Abercrombie of Elm street, Braintree left Monday for the White Mountains where they will be registered at The Highlands, Bethlehem.

Miss Maude MacFarlane of Merry-mount road, Miss Georgiana C. Lane of Presidents hill, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur K. Tyler and Mrs. Kilham of Butler road motored to the Cape Wednesday, Truro being the objective point where the small party first spent a week and the others a few days.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah M., widow of Capt. Peterson, who died Thursday at her home 80 Cranich street, in her 85th year was held Sunday afternoon from St. Paul's Swedish M. E. church. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Sundstrom, pastor of the church. There were many beautiful floral tributes. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The members of Maple Lodge, Knights and Ladies of Honor, listened last evening to a sufrage address by Mrs. David L. Johnson of Roxbury who spoke of the inadequate protection given to women and children by the laws of the various states. Too much attention has been given, she said, to protecting property; too little to protecting life. She gave many specific instances.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Arthur R. Pitt and children of Bigelow street returned the first of the week from Waterville, Maine, where they spent a few weeks of the late summer.

The winners at the matinee whist party at the George L. Gill Associates, Thursday, were Miss Jennie Clardi, Mrs. Isabelle Davidson and Mrs. Annie Pratt.

Mrs. Mary Rogers, widow of the late Arthur Rogers who was a well known local barber, died Thursday at Maplewood, N. H. She was employed at the Hotel Maplewood. Her body will probably be brought here for burial.

The fall meeting of the Norfolk Association of Congregational churches of Massachusetts, which will be the 97th meeting, is to be held Tuesday, Sept. 23 at the First Congregational church in Braintree. Rev. Harry Grimes, pastor and Rev. John C. Prince, moderator. Each church is entitled to representation by its pastor and four delegates.

An armored car, a duplicate of the one used by the warrenting Bureau, toured the city Thursday evening, advertising ex-Congressman Frederick S. Dietrich, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, and at eight o'clock became the platform of the candidate while he held an open air rally in Library square, Coddington and Washington streets.

SQUANTUM

The Rev. Walker secretary of the Home Missionary society of Boston occupied the pulpit at the First church of Christ, Squantum, Sunday, Oct. 11.

Miss Vinal May of Dorchester, accompanied by Ethel Jones Bowditch were greatly enjoyed.

Thomas Currie, who has been to New Brunswick on a vacation, has returned home. Mr. Currie was accompanied by his son Malcolm who returned this week.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Donovan have closed their summer home on Bellevue road and returned to South Quincy where they have their town house.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Harper, who have returned to their winter home in Dorchester came to Squantum for the week end.

Mrs. Hiram A. Morse attended the funeral of his sister-in-law Mrs. Charles Arnold, 22 Williams street, Stoneham on Tuesday. Mrs. Arnold succumbed to an operation for appendicitis.

John Jepson, Sr., whose condition is very serious has been moved from the Brockton hospital, where he underwent an operation, to the home of his sister in North Easton. Mr. Jepson was too weak to stand the operation. George A. Schiller who plays the part of Mr. Tarleton in "She's In Again" which opened at the Hollis Monday is occupying his summer home in Squantum. Mr. Schiller has been a summer resident of Squantum for over twenty years.

Mrs. Harry Beal of Ocean street is home from the New England Hospital for Women feeling much stronger after her recent illness.

Madam Martenz of Boston will sing Sunday afternoon at the First church of Squantum.

COMMENCEMENT

Notwithstanding the extremely hot weather Thursday evening the M. E. Swedish church drew a large audience at the commencement concert of the Swedish M. E. school children.

They were grouped on the platform colorfully banded by flowers, interwoven with golden rod, making a very pretty setting.

The little ones numbered 20 in all. The girls were dressed in white and the children all did so well, it would be hard to specify, but the song "Merrily we go to school" was very grandly rendered, the children going through the pantomimes, and ending with a dance. Also the dialogue "The Sunshine and the Rain" which was recited by two little girls, each dressed to carry out her part.

Great credit must be given to Rev. and Mrs. Sundstrom for their work in training the children.

The pastor and his wife were each presented with a large and beautiful bouquet of flowers, for which they returned many thanks. Take it all in all everybody present pronounced it a grand and well worth their patronage. The program follows:

Invocation Rev. Newton F. Sundstrom

Responsive Reading Hymn No. 55

Corinne Gelotte, accompanist

Address of Welcome, Elsa Johnson

Recitation, "Going to School" Anna Ohman

Solo, "The Child and the Lamb" Elinor Hill

Recitation, "The Worthy Ornament" Harry Johnson

Hymn No. 22

Beryl Johnson, accompanist

Recitation, "God is love" Ebba Johnson

Recitation, "Little Ebba" Eleanor Anderson

Recitation, "My Mother" Song, "Merrily we go to school" Doris and Phyllis Johnson, Eleanor Anderson, Anna Gelotte, Elinor Hill, Anna Ohman.

Public Examination in Catechism by the pastor.

Recitation, "Little Pet" Russell Johnson

Recitations, "Lizzie's Party" Martha Anderson

Recitation, "Little Hannah" Anna Gelotte

Solo, "My Childhood Home" Elsa Carlson

Recitation, "The Soldier Boy" George Martenson

23d Psalm Eleanor Lindquist

Hymn No. 18

Martha Anderson, accompanist

Recitation, "The Uses of the Storm" Alice Anderson

Motion Songs, "Getting ready for School" Sigurd Johnson

Dialogue, "The Sunshine and the Rain" Beryl Johnson, Elsa Johnson

Recitation, "What God has given me" Carl Sakerson

Hymn No. 3

Closing remarks by the pastor.

TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS

Following are the subscribers connected with the Quincy Exchange for week ending Sept. 15.

112-J—Scott, C. W., 22 Blake street

528-M—Buckingham, J. D., 31 Edgemoor road

598-W—Greene, W. O., 79 West Elm avenue

657-W—Orcutt, George S., Mrs., 53 Marlboro street

WEST QUINCY

While running after a ball with which she and other children were playing, Doris Hennigan, six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hennigan of 48 Hilda street, West Quincy, was struck by an automobile operated by Mrs. Sanford Thompson of 109 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, last week. She received a severe shaking up and numerous cuts and bruises.

Over three hundred members of St. Mary's Holy Mass society attended Holy Communion Sunday morning at the eight o'clock mass. In the afternoon the regular meeting of the society was held at four o'clock. This meeting was the first held by the society since June and there was a large attendance.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase in membership before the next meeting. After the meeting the services were closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Mooney.

Miss Patricia Deane, who has been to the Holy Mass society, will be bringing in a large increase

Quincy

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 39.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1827.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBL. CO.
(INCORPORATED).
OFFICE, No. 1424 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter, July 1, 1879.
Telephone: Quincy 435.
Quincy 1010.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1889.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE
BRAINTREE OBSERVER
Weekly. Established in 1858.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE

Adams Real Estate Trust

LAND FOR SALE

MERRYMOUNT

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance

QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.

BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street

Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1819 by

W. PORTER

Insurance effected in reliable and safe

Stock and Mutual offices.

By W. PORTER & CO.

At No. 70 Kilby Street, Boston.

Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy

ETNA INSURANCE CO.

HARTFORD, CONN.

Incorporated 1819. Charter Perpetual

Losses Paid in 94 Years, $132,981,553.48

JANUARY 1, 1915.

Cash Capital, $2,000,000.00

Net Surplus, $295,283.92

Reserve for Policy Holders, $11,200,289.89

Reserve for Unpaid Losses, $2,228,268.91

Reserve for Other Claims, $28,655.74

Total Assets, $32,811,250.54

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.

AGENTS FOR QUINCY.

Incorporated 1837

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $9,501,721.10

Cash Assets, $20,052,912.57

Total Liabilities (including re-insurance), $44,739,667.95

Amount of Cash Surplus, $439,942.98

Contingent Assets, $11,211.10

Total Available Assets, $45,182,521.06

Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies, 40 per cent; on three-year policies, 40 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary

DIRECTORS:—Samuel Gannett, Dedham; Frederick H. Bly, Dedham; Thomas Draper, Canton; William E. Lincoln, Brockton; James V. Noyes, Dedham; George W. Baker, Franklin; Asa F. French, Randolph; Herbert M. Plimpton, Needham; Clifford W. Wagon, Dedham.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.

INCORPORATED 1855

HOME OFFICE, 15 ISLAND STREET

Telephone, Main 1040.

William A. Miller, President

W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President

Edward C. Mason, Secretary

William A. Miller, Treasurer

DIRECTORS:—Paul R. Blackman, Attorney; Clarence Burgh, Treas. Quincy Savings Bank; W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President; T. J. Puley, Pres. Mass. Bonding and Life Co.; Henry Hornblower, Hornblower & Weeks; Louis K. Liggett, Pres. United Drug Company; Wm. J. McGaffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas G. Plant Co.; Edward C. Mason, Secretary and Solicitor; William A. Miller, William A. Miller Company; Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests; F. F. Sullivan, Pres. Day State Street Railway Co.; John P. Squire, John P. Squire & Sons; William F. Wild, Pres. Wellington-Wild Coal Co.; Sarah J. Willis, Blue Hill National Bank.

ORDER YOUR KINDLING WOOD NOW

We have it now: we shall be out of it very soon

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Offices:

Neponset, Boston, Tel. 1040 Dorchester

166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

When U Want Plumbing and Heating Work Done

In any part of your home, store or factory, and want it done in first class style.

SEND FOR US

The Wm. A. Bradford Co.

Sanitary Plumbing GAS FITTING

FURNACE & SHEET METAL WORK

No. 5 Maple St., Quincy, Massachusetts

STEAM and HOT WATER

Losses Paid in 94 Years, $132,981,553.48

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO

GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset.

Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

FIRST MEETING

ANNUAL BANQUET

The C. H. society a club composed of eighteen women living in Norfolk

Douglas and Wollaston held their first meeting of the season last week at the home of Mrs. Collier on Cummings avenue. The meeting opened with a business session, followed by a social hour, after which dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. While Thursday's meeting was practically only a get-together gathering the club was considered to be a success. The mission is "to give and to do good where needed" are formulating plans for the continuance of much good work this winter. Many worthy causes were helped by the members last winter and they plan to do even more with the opening of this winter. After a making of little gifts at the Christmas season the club enabled a home of two hundred girls to enjoy a merry Christmas.

STURGIS HUNT APPOINTED

Sturgis Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs.

John F. Hunt of Bigelow street and one of the best known young men of the city has been appointed boy's secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Nashua

N. H. He left Quincy Monday.

Mr. Hunt's interest in Y. M. C. A.

work began when as a boy, he joined the Quincy organization. He has sub-

EMER SHADOWS.

George Herriott.

Where the firelight flashes gleam,

Shine a face—that's like a dream—

Ruth! my love of by-gone days.

Tell me, whither tend thy ways?

And the answer—faint, yet clear—

"I am waiting, waiting, dear,

When we parted long ago.

Where you loved me—even so.

In the firelight's fitful glow

Fancies flit—fancies flit—

Scenes of yore, incident back,

Press on recognition's track:

O the heartstone, etched in flame,

Recall the letters of her name.

Bank the embers' ashes strew!

"You were false, but I was true."

And the night-winds, moaning now,

Whisper of that broken vow—

Tell misfortunes' tale anew—

Tell that I was false to you,

And the bloom that's o'er your dust

Mark its punishment as just—

"Dears a mess!"—bound in rue,

"You were false, but I was true."

THE BISHOP'S REVELATION.

Once there was a good old Mormon

Bishop, who had only one wife.

That at first may not appear to be a startling statement, but it must be remembered that this particular Bishop lived in Utah at a time when plural marriage was the rule and not the exception, especially with bishops, who were expected in this respect, at least, to set a bright example to the church members in their several wards. Most bishops had several wives, and any one of the episcopal rank who limited himself to one was looked upon as a freak. Indeed, this good old Bishop was even more severely criticized. It was openly alleged that his shameful neglect of his matrimonial opportunities was a serious stumbling block to some of the weaker brethren. When the doctrine of polygamy was first taught in Zion many of the best Mormons, while accepting the theory were slow to indulge in its practice, making various excuses. In our Bishop's ward the excuse generally ran thus: "Look at our Bishop. He has only one wife."

And it came to pass that one day the Bishop's two counselors came to see him and said they desired to "take counsel" with him.

"Come into the front room," said the Bishop's wife, "and I will call him."

But the first counselor said that he could see the Bishop at work near the barn, and they preferred to go out there and talk with him. After the usual salutation, the Bishop and his counselors sat down on a log behind

the barn, and whittled at the log while the following proceedings were had:

"Bishop," said the first counselor,

"We have come to talk with you on a matter of grave concern to the Church."

"Yes," said the Bishop, "and I will call him."

But the first counselor said that he could see the Bishop at work near the barn, and they preferred to go out there and talk with him. After the usual salutation, the Bishop and his counselors sat down on a log behind

the barn, and whittled at the log while the following proceedings were

had:

"Bishop," said the first counselor,

"We have come to talk with you on a matter of grave concern to the Church."

"Yes," said the Bishop, "and I will call him."

But the first counselor said that he could see the Bishop at work near the barn, and they preferred to go out there and talk with him. After the usual salutation, the Bishop and his counselors sat down on a log behind

the barn, and whittled at the log while the following proceedings were

had:

"Bishop," said the first counselor,

"We have come to talk with you on a matter of grave concern to the Church."

"Yes," said the Bishop, "and I will call him."

But the first counselor said that he could see the Bishop at work near the barn, and they preferred to go out there and talk with him. After the usual salutation, the Bishop and his counselors sat down on a log behind

the barn, and whittled at the log while the following proceedings were

had:

"Bishop," said the first counselor,

"We have come to talk with you on a matter of grave concern to the Church."

"Yes," said the Bishop, "and I will call him."

But the first counselor said that he could see the Bishop at work near the barn, and they preferred to go out there and talk with him. After the usual salutation, the Bishop and his counselors sat down on a log behind

the barn, and whittled at the log while the following proceedings were

had:

"Bishop," said the first counselor,

"We have come to talk with you on a matter of grave concern to the Church."

"Yes," said the Bishop, "and I will call him."

But the first counselor said that he could see the Bishop at work near the barn, and they preferred to go out

THE FIRST PARISH CHURCH

A large congregation greeted Rev.

Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, Sunday morning at the First Parish church, where regular services were resumed, the church having been closed during the summer months. The music was under the direction of John D.

Blackman, who succeeds William E.

Weston as organist. The quartette was composed of Mrs. James H. Slade, soprano, Miss Angela C. McCarthy, contralto, Paul Blackman tenor and Tracy R. Engle, bass. Mr. Blackman takes the place of Herbert

Kearnes, who resigned. It was Mr.

Blackman's first appearance in the quartette, and the congregation had an exceptionally fine opportunity to judge of his voice as he sang two solos, "I will give you rain in due season" and "The Lord is my Shepherd."

In the course of his sermon Mr.

Hudson said that there are no quite different Quinicians—one of them is a city of which people complain that its streets are dirty, its taxes high, its affairs mismanaged, its merchants selfish and everything more or less wrong. The other

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, September 25, 1915

HALE—WARD

A very pretty wedding was held at the home of William C. Ward, of 577 Adams street, Tuesday evening, when his daughter Sarah D. Ward, became the bride of Dr. Robert C. Hale of Providence, R. I. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Carl G. Horst, of the West Abington church. Miss Helen P. Duncan of Milton was the maid of honor and the groom was attended by Frank C. Hale, of Tufts college. The flower girls were Miss Bertha Lewis and Miss Eleanor Dwy of Fairhaven. The ushers were Kenneth O. Ward, Herbert T. Glassure and Paul W. Noyes.

The house was very prettily decorated with cut flowers the color scheme being white and yellow. The grounds about the house were illumined by many Japanese lanterns, hung by electric lights.

A reception followed the ceremony from 7.30 to 9 o'clock and was attended by upwards of 400 guests being present from Providence, R. I., New Bedford, Fairhaven and Brockton.

The groom is a graduate of Tufts college '01, and has been a practicing physician of Providence for a number of years. Dr. Hale received many handsome and costly gifts. They will make their home in Providence, R. I.

TO SHOW THEIR PETS

Many entries are being received for the Pet Stock Show to be held on the Adams Academy grounds on Oct. 2 under the auspices of the Philanthropic Committee of the Quincy Woman's Club and in aid of the Associated Charities of Quincy.

The entries are being received by Mrs. W. Pinkham, president of the club, Dr. Francis Able, Jr., and Helen Talbot, who are in personal charge of the affair.

Although the exhibition is principally for animals of all kinds, that are pets of children, considerable blooded stock will be shown and a cup has been offered by Mayor Campbell for the best dog exhibited. George Elcock has advised the committee that his foxhounds which have cleaned up at the Newport, New York and Panama exhibition shows will be shown.

The day promises to be a big event for the children. White mice, rabbits, cats, pigeons, hens, birds of all description, wild fowl held in captivity, guinea pigs, and pets in general are to be exhibited and the committee is now preparing the order in which the pets will be judged. Well known animal fanciers have offered their services as judges.

EVENING SCHOOLS

Posters and flyers have been printed advertising the opening of the city's evening schools as well as the trade classes. The opening is set for the first Monday evening in October. The city classes will all meet three evenings a week, while each trade class will have two meetings a week.

The city classes will include the usual schools for foreigners who wish to acquire the rudiments of the English language, which classes will be held at the Adams and Willard hotels. It would not be surprising if the attendance at these classes were considerably smaller this year than in years past as the number of illiterate minors in the city is less than a year ago owing to conditions in Europe.

The classes at the high school will include instruction in free hand and mechanical drawing, civil service preparation and elementary and advanced instruction in commercial subjects except typewriting.

The trade classes will be designed to help machinists, electricians, plumbers, sheet metal workers, mold and stone cutters, and carpenters. There are men employed in all these trades who feel the need of a knowledge of the drawing, estimating and mathematics of their trade to enable them to advance. These classes are designed for just such men and do not admit men who are not already in the trade.

All of these classes with the exception of the class in stonemasonry and roof-framing for carpenters will be held at the Industrial school on Phillips street. The class for carpenters at last year will be held at the high school.

For women, there have been advanced classes in dressmaking, both elementary and advanced. A class in millinery to cover the making of winter hats and a class in cooking. One of the classes in dressmaking will be held in the afternoon if it is desired.

In order to join any of these classes, it is necessary to register in advance on cards prepared for that purpose and this registration must be made some time next week, either with the superintendent of schools or at the Industrial school on the evenings of Sept. 20 to 24.

The registration for the first three days of the week has been very satisfactory in the trade classes for men but lighter than usual in the home-making classes. Those who register for the first three days will be given places in case of a registration in excess of the number allowed in each class, while in case the registration is insufficient to form a class at the close of registration no further effort will be made to do anything with that class. No class may have over 15 pupils nor will a class be formed for less than 12.

SCHOOL NOTES

The Industrial School has its complete complement of seventy-nine boys and a waiting list of about fifty.

The Sheet Metal Department opened this fall and have started on the project of building thirty-six lockers. This department is in a position to take in any commercial work in forming up stove pipes, furnace pipes, manufacture of garbage pails, cans, galvanized tanks, etc.

The Electric Plating Department is in a position to take in commercial work of nickel, copper, brass and the oxidized finishes.

The Electrical Department is in a position to do work in bell wiring, annunciator wiring and light wiring. The Woodworking Department is completing orders for quartered oak furniture for the School Department and is in a position to take in a small amount of cabinet making, and pattern making.

All these departments are in a position to turn out work of first quality and guarantee satisfaction. The school would be pleased to receive orders for work to be done by any of the above departments to enable it to give its pupils a practical experience on Commercial work.

BRIEFS

Miss Pearl Hayden of Elm street is the guest of friends in Fitchburg.

Professor Herbert Arnold formerly of Elm street, was in the city this week visiting friends.

Bernard Fritz the tailor has purchased the estate at 11 Foster street, for occupancy.

Miss Annie Heinz of Brooks confectionery store is enjoying a two weeks vacation.

Miss Hazel Livingstone of Presidents hill entered Wellesley college this week, leaving home on Thursday.

Francis P. Lound of Washington street has joined Mrs. Lound in New York for a few weeks stay with their daughter Mrs. William A. Brandeau.

L. C. Hewson left the first of the week on a business trip of six or eight weeks to Seattle, Wash., California and Mexico.

Miss C. M. Chase of Upland road has returned home from the City Hospital where she underwent a surgical operation.

Mrs. Herman L. Keene of Francis court and children are at Winthrop, Me. for a few weeks visit.

A call will be sent out by Mayor Campbell for a special meeting of the council next Monday evening to draw jurors.

William G. Nash of Bigelow street, returned Monday from an automobile trip through the White Mountain region.

Mrs. Arthur C. Merritt and daughter, Mrs. Benjamin French of Elm street are spending a few days with friends at North Scituate.

Faxon Billings, Jr., son of Chief Billings, who sustained a fracture of the right elbow as a result of a fall a week ago is much improved.

Miss Helen L. Givin clerk in the office of the overseer of the poor at City Hall, leaves today on a visit to friends in Buffalo, N. Y.

Miss Elizabeth Ross, sister of Councilman Ross, who was operated on at the City Hospital for appendicitis is reported as convalescent.

Word has been received of the death at Belknap Falls, Vt. Monday of Isabelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Hay, formerly of Quincy.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Farmer of Baxter street have as their guest Mrs. Farmer's aunt, Mrs. Frances White of Forest Hills for the week end.

Miss Isabelle Laing of 53 Bedford street leaves Monday for Swisshole, Pa., where she is to spend the winter with her sister Mrs. D. C. Davis.

Commissioner Brown will open bids Sept. 28, for building the granite retaining wall along the beach at Houghs Neck, for which the City Council appropriated $3,000.

The Quincy Young Women's Club met Wednesday evening at the Adams Academy with a good attendance. The meeting was in charge of Miss Gertrude Hughes.

Russell Sullivan, cashier at the Quincy office of the Day State Street railway and his brother James Sullivan have returned from a weeks trip through the White Mountains.

Joseph Barber, a Boston advertising man, has written Mayor Campbell "put down in black and white" how he enjoyed himself on the outing given by the Pilgrim Publicity Association Sept. 15.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick of Chestnut street left Thursday in their limousine on a ten days tour through the White Mountains. Mrs. Edwin T. Baldwin and Mrs. William E. Alden are with them.

Souvenir postals have been received from Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Hearn, who are on a trip to the exposition at California. Last week they climbed the Cathedral stairs, on the Hermit Trail at Grand Canyon, Arizona.

Edward L. Mitchell, Jr., of Glendale road, Presidents hill is at the White Mountains this week for fishing and camp life. Mrs. Mitchell is also away being the guest of relatives in Connecticut.

Secretary Hall of the Board of Trade reports that entries for the gold medal contest on the merchant marine have been received from the Quincy High school as well as from high schools at Brockton, Fall River, Framingham and Milbury.

Miss Selma Gustafson who is on an extended visit with relatives in Chicago is confined at St. Elizabeth's hospital where she underwent an operation for her throat. Her many friends will be pleased to learn that she is speedily recovering.

BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Denning are on an automobile trip to Marblehead.

The Clarence Burgins have returned from Rose Cliff, Weymouth and are at their home on Presidents hill.

Mrs. George A. Irwin of Gilmore street and daughter Beatrice, are on a visit to Truro, Nova Scotia.

Miss Mildred Gray Huston, the over-see of the poor returned Friday from a vacation trip to North Dearing, Me.

Inspector of Buildings Thomas returned Friday from Nova Scotia where he has been spending his vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Bixby and family of Spear street spent the week end at their bungalow on the Cape.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Hall of Woodward avenue are registered for a week at The Rockaway in East Gloucester.

Dr. George H. Ryder and family of 1073 Hancock street has returned from New Hampshire where they have been since the first of August.

The Pneumatic Scale Co. of Wollaston has been awarded a gold medal in the food products exhibit at the Pan-American exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard C. Hewson have moved from Newcomb place to Glenwood way, Quincy Point.

John W. Raleigh and Miss Nellie J. Nightingale were married Sept. 21 by Rev. Edward Norton. The couple are residents of Quincy and will make their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Haven Belcher of Putnam street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, born Thursday.

Mrs. Annie Arnold, formerly of this city, who has been the guest of Miss Minnie L. Cobb of Elm street, left this week for Concord, N. H., to join her son Herbert Arnold who is an instructor at St. Paul's school.

MacNEIL—Abbott

Miss Eva C. Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Quincy A. Abbott, of Whitman and James MacNeil of Quincy, were united in marriage Wednesday evening at the home of the bride, Rev. Frank S. Jones of the First Baptist church officiating. The ceremony took place under a bridal arch and bell, the single ring service being used.

The bride was attended by Miss Katherine MacKenzie of Quincy and Nellie MacDonald of Quincy was the bridesmaid. The groom was attended by Miss Boris Abbott of North Abington, a cousin of the bride, and her brother Charles Abbott was the ring bearer.

The bride's dress was of white silk crepe lace with oversleeves of oriental lace, her bridal veil was caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a large white bouquet. The bridesmaid was attired in a dress of pink crepe de chine with shadow lace; she carried pink carnations. The bride party entered the parlors, which were handsomely decorated, to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Clifford Richards of North Abington.

At the reception of the ushers were Frank Abbott of Quincy, Austin Clapp of North Abington, William Allen of Lowell and Alice Richards of North Abington. During the reception music was furnished by a quartet composed of Misses Ardis, Gaffney and Winifred Richards of North Abington and Messrs. Austin Clapp and James Durant. Miss Geraldine Squarrey of North Abington rendered several violin selections.

After the reception a supper was given at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. MacNeil will reside at 14 Quincy street.

JOHN JEPSON

Word has been received of the death at North Easton Wednesday of John Jepson, a well known resident of Squantum. Mr. Jepson has been ill for a year or more and has been about to be about only recently. Some weeks ago he was taken to the Brockton City Hospital for an operation but owing to the advanced stage of his trouble an operation was not performed.

Mr. Jepson was born in Sweden. He came to this country as a student of education in the schools of his native town. Coming to America he settled in North Easton where he resided until some years ago since which time he has made his home in Squantum. He was an artist by profession. He is survived by a wife and a son and daughter. His son, John Jepson, Jr., a well known high school athlete is now in Europe, where he holds a position as assistant coach superintendent. His daughter is Mrs. Chester Young. The funeral was at North Easton Friday and was private.

NEW FIRE APPARATUS

One of the two new pieces of auto fire apparatus, authorized by the City Council early in the year, and built by White company was delivered Friday morning and is now at the Central Fire station. It will be given a try out early in the week after which it will be placed in commission. The auto chemical came over the road by its own power from Lawrence and was met at the Quincy-Milton line by the fire engine, escorted by the City Square. A short stop was made in front of City Hall for Mayor Campbell.

It is probable that the three horse combination wagon now at the central station will be located at Wollaston or West Quincy, both of which stations are in need of new apparatus. The old hook and ladder truck will be taken by the White company in part payment for the new apparatus.

ATLANTIC MEMORIAL CHURCH

The Advisory Council of Memorial church at its first meeting last Monday evening advised that the church committee plan for a series of special meetings sometime this fall or winter in order to create a larger spiritual interest in the work of the church.

The church committee met Thursday evening after the prayer meeting and planned a week of meetings beginning November seventh. Instead of using a professional evangelist the committee propose to engage the services of the most successful ministers of Boston.

The plan advised is that there will be a different speaker each evening, and for the last service to have a pastor evangelist.

The advisory council also appointed a committee to see if a course of lectures and entertainments could be planned semi-monthly for the winter to help in the social good of the community. This committee is to meet with the pastor and report at a meeting on Monday, October 4.

WEST QUINCY

The Misses Margaret and Annie Stewart of Bath, Me. are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Stewart of Cross street.

Miss Marguerite Raab of West street was taken to the Quincy hospital last week and operated on for appendicitis. Thomas and Stephen, sons of Wesson avenue returned Saturday from a short vacation spent at Bangor, Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Reinhalter of Sachem street who have been making an extended visit with relatives in West Newton returned home on Sunday.

George Stewart of Bath, Me., who has been visiting his brother Alexander Stewart of Cross street, returned Monday to Wesleyan University, Middlebury, Vermont.

Letter Carrier and Mrs. John S. Parrell of 177 Willard street, left Monday for Worcester, O., to visit their son William.

Mrs. Hilma O'Brien of Garfield street and daughter Lillian are on a visit to friends at Manville, R. I.

Joseph Roulston of Filbert street who has been employed during the summer as chauffeur at the Rockland House, Nantasket, has returned home for the winter.

A suffrage rally was held Wednesday at West Quincy, near the corner of Cross and Copeland streets. The meeting was opened by Mrs. Lynch, the cornetist, and a speech followed by Miss Miriam Marsh. The audience was large and very attentive. At the close of the speech several questions were asked by the audience.

Miss Marguerite Raab of West street who is at the Quincy Hospital where she recently underwent a serious operation is reported as convalescent.

Thomas Rogan of West Quincy has purchased the grocery store of S. E. Ames. Mr. Rogan is well known in that section of the city having held the office of business agent of the Granite Cutters' Union for several years. Mr. Ames the former proprietor will be the manager of the Pore River Co-operative store when it is opened in the Silberstein block on Hancock street.

Mrs. Mary J. Fuller wishes to thank the many kind friends who remembered her on her seventy-eighth birthday.

A GERMAN SUPPER

The first of a series of international suppers to be held by the Woman's Guild in the Park and Downs church attracted a large number on Wednesday evening. Supper served was of German variety. The menu included a German salad, the true delicacies of the Fatherland.

On the menu were pickled beef, German red cabbage, potato dumplings, German salad, punpnerickel, Swiss cheese, German bread, breast chicken and coffee. Those present enjoyed the supper. The program was rendered following the supper. These contributing were: Ernest Plaisch, Cecelia Arenberg, Nestor Arnsperg, and Michael Arenberg. The opening number was an instrumental melody by the quartet and was followed by a violin solo by Miss Arnsperg.

A cornet solo "Evening star" by Mr. Plaisch was enjoyed and the German song "Volkslied" by Nestor Arnsperg was followed by a waltz selection by the orchestra. A violin solo "Barcarole" from "Les contes d'Hoffman," a cornet solo and a number by the orchestra closed the evening's entertainment.

In charge of the supper was a committee consisting of Mrs. W. K. Brown, Mrs. F. A. Arenberg, Mrs. E. A. Maxwell, Mrs. Jaycox, Mrs. O'Neill, Mrs. L. H. Payne, Mrs. Beaulieu, Mrs. William Brown and Mrs. Nason. Other supporters to be served will probably include the women of French, Italian and English origin.

LIBRARY NOTES

A collection of pictures by American artists is on exhibition now in the art gallery of the library. These copies of paintings from the Boston Museum of Fine Arts are of exceptional interest. The collection includes the best examples of American art. Included in the exhibit is the work of artists who were born in America, as well as those who later made this country their home. Two well-known Boston artists, Copley and Sargent, are represented, the former with a portrait of John Hancock, the latter with "An artist in his studio." There are copies of pictures from the brush of the impressionists, Hunt and Picknell; and of portraits from the brushes of Stewart, Allston and Page.

Frederick H. H. "Pog" Wainwright, the American fisherman; George Innes, with his "Rising Storm," shows his ability to find in American scenery his inspiration.

The most peculiar portrait is the "Head of a Boy," which is a typical example of the artist's work on foggy canals. Picknell's "Isabella" is dramatically impressive; the lights of Sully's "Torn Hat" are exquisite in effect—in fact, the whole collection of pictures seems to bring before the eye a power that has brought fame to these American artists.

SOUTH QUINCY

Mr. and Mrs. John McVay of 12 Eliot street are enjoying a trip to New York, Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

Mrs. Joseph W. Parrio of Kendrick avenue has been spending the week at Kingston, New Hampshire the guest of Mrs. Albert E. Cornhill. Mr. Parrio went up Friday for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Talbot who were married early in the week are making their home at 3 Lavery street, at the corner of Federal avenue.

Mrs. Henry Talbot of Lavery street is out of the city for a few weeks visiting her mother, Mrs. Talbot, who is married to Miss M. Frances Talbot, a well known teacher at the Gridley Bryant school.

James Mattie of Penn's Hill has returned from a visit to Nova Scotia. Grace Elizabeth McChesney and John J. Bollen, both of 85 Quincy street, were married at West Acot, Sept. 20.

Unmindful of danger to himself and with only the thought of preventing injury to some of the hundreds of people of summer resort, Boston on Thursday morning, John Ivers Little of 148 Kendrick avenue, Quincy, jumped into the path of a runaway horse headed towards a crowd of people, grabbed the bridle of the animal and brought it to a stop after being carried 25 feet.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Miss Ethel Thomas of Billings road has returned from a pleasant outing at Marblehead.

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Short of Everett who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. John McCormack of East Elm avenue have returned home.

Miss Ruth Caldwell of Elmwood avenue has returned from a visit to Miss Emily White of Plymouth.

Mrs. Frank Palmer of Wollaston on boulevard was hostess on Sunday of an old acquaintance luncheon, when she entertained a number of schoolmates who attended school with her in Halifax, Nova Scotia. Covers were laid for seven, the guests including, Mrs. Emma Cappen of Stoughton, Mrs. Lucy Patterson of Medford, Miss Clara Davies of Framingham, Mrs. Katherine Bretton and Mrs. Bessie Tirrell of Weymouth and Mrs. William Dimock of Wollaston.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Rich and family of Wollaston boulevard closed their summer home and returned to Roxbury.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Cassler closed their summer cottage at Wollaston beach this week and returned to Cambridge.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Saunders and son of Rawson road returned this week from a visit to Nova Scotia.

Mrs. Edward J. Thompson of Phillips street entertained her brother Doctor Wallace Macculum and two sisters Misses Jeanette and Althea Macculum of Dorchester over the week end morning and to the Cape.

Miss and Mrs. W. A. Anderson and family of Vassall street are en route on outing in New Hampshire.

A lawn party is to be held this evening on the grounds about the residence of James A. Boon on Muirhead street, for the benefit of the St. Christopher's Episcopal church, and St. Charles Sunday school.

Mr. and Mrs. William McCannet and family have closed their summer cottage on Aptior street and returned to their winter residence in Newton.

The C. H. society meets Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Stuart Sanford on Rawson road.

Dr. and Mrs. Daves came down from Boston and opened their cottage at Wollaston beach to enjoy the week end and entertain a party on board their yacht.

Mrs. Hattie of Auburn, Maine, who formerly lived on Beach street, has been visiting Mrs. Wilson of Hamilton street, and renewing old acquaintances while in town.

Mrs. Isaac R. Alden of Bridgewater is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sturtevant of Belmont street for a week.

Mrs. and Mrs. F. W. Roberts of Strand avenue have closed their cottage and returned to their winter home in Dorchester.

Mrs. C. J. Shay of Watkins street entertained Mrs. Fred Page of Lynn and Mrs. Mason of Cambridge a few days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Knowlton, and children Virginia, Paul and Barbara and Madame Knowlton of Beach street are leaving Wollaston next week for Montreal, where they will spend the winter.

Miss Helen Croucher and daughter are returning Tuesday from Cass Lake, Minnesota where they enjoyed a month with his sons Ralph and Fred S. Croucher. Mrs. Croucher is to remain another month.

The many attractive flower gardens in the vicinity of Wollaston are of especial beauty because of its many unusual and beautiful varieties belonging to Arthur E. Holland of Oxborough Road. Creating considerable attention among the collectors of flowers is a beautiful pink flower whose bloom lasts for twenty-four hours, yet whose fragrance and novelty is extraordinary. The flower is about four inches in diameter, and there is clearly depicted the nails by which Christ was driven to the cross, two in the hands and two in the feet. The flower represents that by which the evangelists have a fringe of blue stamens represents the crown of thorns, and ten petals the Apostles, Judas Iscariot, the betrayer, and Peter being missing. This is the story of the Passion Flower.

Cards have been received by friends of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Rawson road, announcing their arrival at the Pacific Exposition.

James Donahue and daughter Miss Ruth who have been spending the summer at Wollaston Beach have returned to their home in Somerville.

A new dredger has arrived to complete the work of dredging the channel in front of the Wollaston Yacht Club. The dredger became disabled shortly after its arrival but it is expected that the work will start today.

Dancing parties will continue through October. The announcement made by the entertainment committee at the Wollaston Yacht Club Saturday evening. This summer the parties have been well attended and the announcement was well received by those who patronized the party Saturday evening.

Miss Mildred Fleming of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. G. Keyes of Beach street.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Lound, of Gould street, have returned from their vacation in Sandwich, N. H., where they had a most fruitful three weeks' outing.

George Ferguson of Kemper street has returned from a trip through Maine.

Arthur Bowen of Apthorp street has enrolled as a student of Amherst Agricultural College.

WOLLASTON

Mrs. Levi H. Turner has returned from a month's stay in Philadelphia and is now the guest of friends at 78 Hutchings street, Roxbury.

A wedding of interest to Wollaston people took place recently in Seattle, Washington, when Miss Frieda May Hirtle daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hirtle who moved from South Central avenue ten years ago, was united to Leon G. Loons, Rev. George W. Frame of the Ansbury M. E. church officiating. The young couple are to reside in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan J. Walker of Chester street were given a tin shower Tuesday evening in observance of the tenth anniversary of their marriage. It was a surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Walker. Dancing was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Miss Corlew's dancing classes this season in the new masonic building at Wollaston are to be patronized by Mrs. William E. Rowe, Mrs. Frederick Cheever, Mrs. Wymann Streeter, Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, Mrs. George Taylor, Mrs. Harry B. Wells, Mrs. Albert H. Hall, Mrs. Ronald Macdonald and Mrs. Walter G. Crowell.

The kindergarten class during the Sunday morning service is to be re-opened Sunday at St. Christopher's church, and the regular Sunday school service at twelve noon.

George Cath of 290 Highland avenue Wollaston has grown this summer an extraordinary apple, which compares favorably with the large specimens grown in the west. The apple of Mr. Cath weighs 15 1/2 ounces and is a fair representative of eight or more bushels from the same tree. The apple measures 13 3/4 inches around its circumference. It has been placed on exhibition in one of the railroad offices in the town about side of specimens from Oregon and Washington, which are considerably smaller in size.

Miss Maud E. Anderson and Robert E. Tate both of Carruth street, Wollaston were married at the rectory of St. Christopher's Episcopal church, Sept. 14th by the Rev. Frederick H. Stenstra.

Mrs. E. Mabel Haynes of Auburn, Maine returned home Saturday after a week's visit with her father Samuel N. Corthell of Newton street.

Miss Marie J. Gahan has been the guest of friends in Roxbury and Wollaston.

Dr. Charles S. Adams Tuesday at the Quincy City Hospital operated upon Carl G. Horst, Jr., son of Rev. Carl G. Horst, pastor of the Wollaston Baptist church, removing adenoids and tonsils.

Hon. Eugene H. Sprague and family have returned from their summer home in Orleans. While there a bear weighing 500 pounds, which had done considerable damage in the vicinity of Sandwich, was shot.

Miss Louise Churchill and Miss Lydia Keyes of Wollaston have entered Holyoke college.

The Charles T. Kelleys of Standish avenue have bought the estate at 277 Newport avenue and are moving to their new residence next week.

Rev. Thomas C. Seymour of Arlington street have bought the estate at 283 Highland avenue of Eugene F. DeNormande and will occupy soon.

Many members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Wollaston M. E. church gathered at the home of Mrs. W. E. Robinson at 188 Highland avenue Wednesday for a Thanksgiving. Refreshments brought a working program to a close.

Annie C. Carlton and David C. Blackmore, both of Weymouth were married Sept. 20 at Wollaston. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George M. Bailey.

Arthur Favreau of Wollaston who last year won the title of Massachusetts junior tennis champion, defeated J. B. Feno, Jr., of Boston, nephew of Boston's famed woman player, Miss Marion Feno, and retained his title in the finals on the Chestnut Hill grounds.

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, September 25, 1915

WEEKLY	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thurs	Fri	Sat
ALMANAC	Rises	Sets	Morn	Eve	Rises	Sets	Morn
Sat.	Sept. 25, 5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30
Sun.	25, 5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30
Monday	25, 5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30
Tuesday	25, 5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30
Wednesday	25, 5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30
Thursday	25, 5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30
Friday	25, 5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30
Sat.	25, 5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30
Full Moon	Oct. 22, 7:15	P. M.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC.

of the Quincy Patriot, published weekly at Quincy, Massachusetts, required by the Act of August 24, 1912.

Editor A. J. Prescott, Quincy, Mass.

Publishers: George W. Prescott Publishing Co., Quincy, Mass.

Owners: Eben Prescott, Brintree, Mass.; Etta M. Prescott, Quincy, Mass.; Annie L. Prescott, Quincy, Mass.; Alice K. P. Low, Quincy, Mass.

George W. Prescott Publishing Co., by A. L. PRISCOTT, Treasurer.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 22d day of September 1915.

FRANK PERSENDER CRANE, (Seal) Justice of the Peace.

My commission expires Jan. 19, 1917.

Mayor Campbell promises to give the members of the City Council the best fair affords on the occasion of their visit to Rockingham.

Be careful where you throw away your old straw hat. A Boston man was pinched and fined for throwing his old hat in the street.

An unsought for honor came to John D. Mackay, chairman of the School Board at the primaries. Some kind voter handed him one vote for the Progressive nomination for representative in the fifth district.

Councilman O'Dowd, who received the Democratic nomination for representative in the fifth district, says that he will give "Ed" Sandberg a good run for his money.

"Col." Whitman may be looked for to explode a few fireworks between now and the election. "Whit" is a live wire and is sure to make things hum.

A Rhode Island man has just been sentenced to six months in the House of Correction for refusing to support his mother. In the meantime $3 a week of his earnings while in jail will be paid to his mother.

BLUE HILL DRIVES

The announcement that the Metropolitan Park Commissioners have voted to open four of the most beautiful drives through the Blue Hills reservation, to the use of automobiles, will be heartily welcomed by the drivers in particular, and by the citizens of Quincy, for the reason that the opening of these roads now gives an outlet to the Furnace Brook Parkway. Starting in from Adams street the drive over the Furnace Brook Parkway is a most beautiful one but it stopped short at the entrance to the Blue Hills.

Eventually the Quincy Shore reservation will be connected with the Furnace Brook Parkway. When this is completed there will be a continuous drive from Hancock street, Atlantic, along the shore front at Wollaston beach, through the bridge across Black's creek to Hancock street. At the present time the link between the boulevard at Feno street and Hancock street is under construction, but the link between Hancock street and the entrance to the Furnace Brook Parkway at Adams street, will not be undertaken until the grade crossing problem in Quincy is settled and the four tracks built.

HOLD CLAMBAKE

The summer colonists who made their home on Rogers street, Hough Neck, held their second annual clam bake at the beach Wednesday afternoon. Many Boston friends of the colonists were guests at the bake served at the foot of Turner street. The bake was prepared by the men and contained all it should, and enough to go round.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hart of Hyde Park, Mr. and Mrs. Moore of Roxbury, Mr. and Mrs. Colgate of Dorchester, Miss Margaret Leary, Miss Mary Leary, Miss Annie Leary, of Dorchester, Miss Katherine McDonough, Henry Magee, Mr. and Mrs. Monahan of Hyde Park, Dr. Moore of Roxbury, Thomas McCormack, Mrs. P. Fitzgerald, John Morrison Joseph Hart, Miss Margaret Moore, Miss Margaret Fitzgerald.

TO HAVE CLUBHOUSE

Title to a choice parcel of land on Grafton street has been acquired by the Quincy Women's Riverside club and will be used for a clubhouse site as soon as the building fund is large enough to undertake its erection.

The needs to the property were passed last week. The land is nearly opposite the home of Adelman Ward and in a section of the Point which is growing rapidly.

A fair, the proceeds of which will be added to the building fund, was proposed at the regular meeting Wednesday afternoon. It will probably be held at the home of Mrs. George F. Spence of Revere road, president of the club. She has appointed the following executive committee, to complete arrangements. Mrs. George Sprague, Mrs. Thompson B. Crane, Mrs. Frank Hobart, Mrs. Mary Morrison, Mrs. Gilbert Arnold and Mrs. Barbara Milligan.

HARVEST FESTIVAL

The annual harvest festival at the Swedish Lutheran church was held Thursday evening in the new chapel. The affair was largely attended and many of the articles on sale were disposed of. The interior of the chapel was prettily decorated with flowers and vegetables and arranged about the room were numerous tables for the sale of useful and fancy articles, vegetables and ice cream.

In the rooms on the second floor of the chapel there was an exhibition of fancy work not only of the present period but of olden times, affording an opportunity to see how the styles have changed.

The evenings program included a selection by the choir, piano solo by Miss Hannah Sandberg, and an address by Rev. O. Morn of Woburn.

AT THE PRIMARIES

Returns from the primaries throughout the state show that Samuel W. McCall was nominated for Governor by the Republicans by a plurality of 14,590. His total vote in the state was 68,220 as against 52,570 for Cushing and 8,000 for Foss. David L. Walsh the Democratic candidate received a total vote of 52,528 as against 1,971 for Dietrick a plurality of 50,557 for Walsh.

For Lieut. Governor Calvin Coolidge won out over Guy Ham by a plurality of 21,165. The vote for Coolidge throughout the state was 70,590 and 49,425 for Ham.

The result of the vote for Republican for Councillor in the second district is somewhat in doubt, but from the returns received it looks as though Dr. Faxon would win out.

The Democratic nomination for Councillor, Charles W. Guy the Quincy candidate was defeated by William Murray.

The primaries in Quincy were conducted in a very quiet manner. One thing is certain however, in the future, larger bodies will have to be provided for the vote, it is desired that the ballot shall be a secret one. The ballot used Tuesday was so large that a voter was obliged to stand away from the booth to open it up and one standing outside of the rail could readily see how he marked his ballot.

Election Notes

Candidates whose names were written on the ballot will not be nominated unless they secure as many votes as would be required in order to have the name put on in the regular way.

Philip D. Cook's name was written in on the Democratic ballot once. In Ward Three, 265, Ward Three, 384; Ward Four, 225; Ward Five, 523; Ward Six, 448.

The total Progressive vote of the city was 13, of which number Ward One cast 5, Ward Five 4, Ward Six 3 and Ward Three one.

Acting Chief McKay of the police department made several tours of the city, calling at every voting place for a conference with his officers.

Only 55 votes were turned up although nearly 2,500 voters went to the polls. Indications are that the Democrats did not go into the Republican caucus.

The total vote of the city was 2,499. The vote by wards was Ward One, 545; Ward Two, 265; Ward Three, 384; Ward Four, 225; Ward Five, 523; Ward Six, 448.

The total Progressive vote of the city was 13, of which number Ward One cast 5, Ward Five 4, Ward Six 3 and Ward Three one.

REPUBLICAN TICKET

There were several contests on the Republican ticket which resulted in bringing out a large vote. Local interest centered largely in the nomination for representatives both in the fifth and sixth districts.

In the fifth district Representative Charles A. Erickson was seeking renomination and opposing him was Albert T. Whitman. A year ago in a three cornered fight Erickson won out over Whitman by 14 votes. This year the "Col" turned the tables and won out by 67 votes the total vote of the district for Erickson being Whitman 527, Erickson 468.

In the sixth district, which includes Wards Four, Five and Six there was a three cornered fight, Representative Edward J. Sandberg being opposed for renomination by ex-Councilman Frank E. Badger and Councilman John R. Nelson. Sandberg won out with a plurality of 52 votes. He carried Wards Four and Five while Ward Six was carried by Nelson by three votes over Badger.

There was a spirited contest for the senatorial nomination between Senator Langelier who was seeking renomination for a third term, and William P. Kelley of Brintree. Senator Langelier was an easy winner in Quincy however carrying every ward in the city and receiving a total vote of 1624 to 344 for Kelley. He also carried the entire district.

On the head of the ticket Cushing carried the city for the nomination for Governor by a plurality of 360, Ham for Lieut. Governor by 621.

Dr. Faxon also carried the city for the nomination as Councillor from the second district.

The state delegates and ward committees elected were as follows:

STATE DELEGATES

Ward One—Clarence Burgh, Eben W. Sheppard, Francis Ambler Welch, Fred E. Jones, Herbert S. Barker, John R. Ross, Henry P. Kittredge, Ward Two—Eugene Hutton, Daniel Scouler, Jr., Charles B. Yule, Ward Three—F. Charles Barnicoat, Amos L. Litchfield, Joseph B. Grossman, John Q. A. Field, Alexander P. Palmer.

Ward Four—Louis K. Badger, Thomas A. P. Burke.

Ward Six—Herbert G. Beeman, Charles E. Cherrington, John J. Burke.

WARD COMMITTEE

Ward One—Ira M. Whittemore, Ross W. Lang, William A. Weston, William A. Weston, Alfred H. Gilson, Eugene R. Stone, William C. Edwards, John D. Mackay, Henry P. Kittredge.

Ward Two—Albert I. Whitman, Daniel Scouler, Jr., Charles B. Yule, Joseph W. Pinel, William R. French, Eugene C. Hutton, Isadore Abrams, Frank H. Stoddard, Charles C. Foster.

Ward Three—Arthur H. Sylvester, F. Charles Barnicoat, William A. Smith, Joseph B. Grossman, Robert R. Craig, Charles A. Ross, George S. Williams, John R. Richards, Joseph E. Collins.

Ward Four—John C. Kaples, Louis K. Badger, Albert J. Daley, William H. Teasdale, William A. Beattie, Albert G. Farnham, Neil A. McDonald, Edward J. Sandberg, Victor E. Seerberg.

Ward Five—Edward O. Woodward, Russell T. Anthony, Clarence Hutton, Ward Six—Frank E. Badger, Herbert G. Beeman, Charles E. Cherrington, John J. Burke, James Thomas, John Holmes, Sam Wood, Jr., Louis F. R. Langelier, Charles W. Mosman.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

The only local contest of interest on the Democratic ticket was for the nomination of Councillor for the second district and for this office Charles W. Guy easily carried the city receiving a total of 145 to 90 for Murray.

There were no nominations for several of the offices, but names were written in for some of these offices, but as the names cover several towns and

WARD COMMITTEES

Ward one—Michael T. Sullivan, William T. Donovan, John J. Reardon, Philip D. Cook, Edward J. Parker.

Ward two—Andrew J. Fahy, Thomas G. Griffin, Edward P. Histen, John H. Hart, James M. Sullivan, Frank J. Wade, Dennis S. Sweeney, Timothy W. Stack, John W. Sullivan.

Ward three—Michael Donahue, Edward H. McGinty, George H. Ferguson, Dennis P. Donahue, James P. Dougherty, Daniel Donahue, George D. Cahill, William J. Sullivan, David M. Warner, Daniel J. Donahue, James F. Morrissey, John J. Daly, James M. Faircloth, Francis Clinton.

Ward four—James O'Dowd, Charles C. McCue, Joseph A. Barry, John D. Smith, Bartholomew Flaherty, Joseph H. Fitzgerald, Bernard J. Griffin, Michael C. Tracy, John H. Ash, Americo D. Bona, Daniel F. Corcoran, William C. Martell, Peter J. Bertrand, John J. Farrell, James P. Donovan, John Carrella, James A. Sweeney, Joseph H. McPherson, Christopher T. Daley, John Smith.

Ward six—Peter F. Flynn.

THE REPUBLICAN VOTE

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Ward One	130	136	237	100	426	286	1540
Ward Two	120	100	89	127	68	104	608

GOVERNOR

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Cushing	250	136	237	79	246	201	1120
Foss	26	25	14	18	36	17	136
McCall	180	44	84	95	203	146	752
Blanks	19	31	35	35	9	26	140

LIUTENANT GOVERNOR

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Coolidge	149	52	78	46	193	125	643
Ham	292	146	213	101	286	226	1264
Blanks	34	28	20	80	15	39	241

SECRETARY

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Langtry	399	160	263	113	441	302	1678
Blanks	76	76	63	114	53	88	470

TREASURER

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Burrill	388	153	254	111	438	299	1645
Blanks	87	83	72	116	56	91	505

AUDITOR

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Bagley	109	48	45	51	98	93	444
Cook	229	123	183	67	283	182	1067
George	67	14	48	13	76	49	267
Blanks	70	51	50	96	37	66	370

ATTORNEY-GENERAL

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Attwill	355	136	237	100	426	286	1540
Blanks	120	100	89	127	68	104	608

COUNCILLOR

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Andrews	161	68	101	60	153	143	686
Barnes	50	23	58	21	72	55	279
Faxon	193	81	122	49	200	114	759
Blanks	17	64	45	97	69	80	426

SENATOR

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Kelley	87	39	45	65	55	53	344
Langelier	361	167	255	112	426	302	1623
Blanks	27	20	26	15	13	34	145

REPRESENTATIVE FIFTH DISTRICT

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Erickson	256	46	157				459
Whitman	198	178	151				527
Blanks	19	12	18				49

REPRESENTATIVE SIXTH DISTRICT

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Badger	69	136	147				352
Nelson	13	117	150				280
Sandberg	99	223	82				404
Blanks	46	18	11				75

COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Richardson	382	143	253	105	428	294	1605
Blanks	93	73	122	66	96	96	546

COUNTY TREASURER

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Humphrey	373	149	240	99	420	290	1571
Blanks	102	87	86	128	74	100	577

COUNTY SHERIFF

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Capen	369	151	242	104	427	293	1587
Blanks	106	85	83	123	67	97	561

STATE COMMITTEE

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Baxter	365	150	235	101	421	283	1555
Blanks	110	86	91	126	73	107	593

THE DEMOCRATIC VOTE

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Ward One	130	136	237	100	426	286	1540
Ward Two	120	100	89	127	68	104	608

GOVERNOR

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Delrick	2	0	2	8	1	1	14
Walsh	62	20	40	69	21	41	243
Blanks	5	2	3	4	0	2	16

LIUTENANT GOVERNOR

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Barry	49	18	38	69	20	40	234
Blanks	10	4	7	12	2	4	39

SECRETARY

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Grover	39	16	34	64	21	38	212
Blanks	20	6	11	17	1	6	61

TREASURER

Ward	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Total
Bowles	38	16	33	64	20	37	208
Blanks	21	6	12	17	2	7	65

